Financial Markets

Financial markets are physical or virtual spaces in which financial assets are bought and sold between economic agents.

There are two main types of financial markets

Money market

Exchange of short-term assets.

Capital markets

Exchange of long-term assets, such as stocks, bonds, cryptocurrencies and derivatives.

Our focus is on
Capital Markets:

- Forex
 - Stocks
 - Cryptocurrencies

Forex, Stocks and Cryptocurrencies

Forex

Also known as the foreign exchange or FX market, it is the largest financial market in the world. It buys and sells currencies from different countries.

More than $7.5 trillion is traded daily, far exceeding the volume of stock exchanges. Forex is very liquid and volatile, which attracts day traders looking for short-term profits. Unlike stocks, it does not depend on specific exchanges, but operates through a global network of banks.

The foreign exchange market is a market in which investors speculate on price movements between different currencies to make profits.

Forex, Stocks and Cryptocurrencies

Stocks

Market where shares of companies listed on a stock exchange are issued, bought and sold. Its main purpose is to provide capital to companies to finance and expand their businesses.

Some publicly traded companies include:

- AMZN (Amazon)
- BBVA (Bank Bilbao Vizcaya Argentaria)
- Alphabet (Google)
- Meta Platforms (Facebook)

Remember that these values can change rapidly due to market conditions.

Forex, Stocks and Cryptocurrencies

Cryptocurrencies

Global marketplace where various cryptocurrencies are bought, sold and exchanged. Some of the top cryptocurrencies are:

- Bitcoin (BTC)
- Ethereum (ETH)
- Binance Coin (BNB)
- Ripple XRP (XRP)

These values can change quickly due to the volatility of the cryptocurrency market.

Earn with our EAs
