Road conditions and infrastructure:

Many times, the roads in the South-Africa and Eswatini are in a poor condition. This puts a lot of strain on our vehicles. We have confidence in the quality of our vehicles and ensure that we do everything we can to plan for every situation, but unfortunately, we cannot prevent all unplanned situations. Many of the roads we drive are full of potholes and not the most comfortable routes.

Medical Information:

Travellers, young and old, are requested to be in a good health condition to fully participate in the tour. We expect all tour members to read through the program thoroughly and decide for themselves if they can participate in all the activities mentioned in the program. If at any point our tour guide and manager believe that any of our tour members can no longer participate in an activity, we reserve the right to excuse you from the activity and/or the remainder of the tour without refund. The necessary documents will be provided by our office in case you want to claim from travel insurance.

We also request that if you are over the age of 75, to consult a medical consultant or doctor about your trip to the specific area. We also suggest that each tour member pack his/her own first aid kit with the necessary supplies such as Rehydrate, extra reading glasses, cardigan, and diarrhoea medication.

Drinking water:

As a rule, we consider all tap unfit for human consumption. It may contain minerals and bacteria that your immune system is not used to. This can cause severe malaise and lead to illness. Without a doubt, it can ruin your entire tour. Just about all the facilities we make use of provide safe drinking water for our guests daily. Make sure you have a BPA free bottle at your disposal throughout the tour.

What happens if Namakwa Tours cancel the tour?

- The tour is subject to a minimum booking of 10 persons before the tour will take place.
- Namakwa Tours undertake to cancel no tour unnecessarily as far as possible. Should this tour not be able to take place due to circumstances beyond our control, we are prepared to refund all your money (excluding the non-refundable deposit and bank fees) or change your booking to a subsequent date.

How do I book a tour at Namakwa Tours?

- When you have decided to book one of our tours, you can book one of two ways:
 1. Feel free to contact us by email or by phone. We'll call you back and do a phone discussion.
 2. Fill out the reservation form and email the form to our office: info@namakwatoere.com
- The necessary will then be done by us (hotel and flight reservations if you have so indicated). You will receive a tour reference number and Namaqua Tours bank details. This tour reference number must be shown on your deposit slip. This tour reference number should also be used on all correspondence for the tour you booked.
- We do not provide bank details without a booking form. The only reason for this is that in the past, tour members deposit money without receiving a tour reference number, and they have not made a reservation by email or by phone. It had already happened that prospective tour members paid in money, but that particular tour was already fully booked.

We begin each morning before we ride a prayer, trusting in the Lord for a safe and soul-enriching tour.

Best regards
