

The Problem Identified

Hi!

My name is Jeff Calhoun, and I am very pleased to welcome you to this new way of life called Tactical Civics™. I'm so glad you're here.

We've all heard and complained for years about the problems plaguing America. The list is long. And varied. And the constant recital of it these days on mainstream and social media outlets is nauseating and fear-inducing; in a word: depressing.

But We've done Our homework, and We've concluded that every single ailment of today's American Republic is traceable to two things:

- First, We The People have turned Our collective back on the living and true God. What We're experiencing today is what happens when God, at Our insistence, stands aside and says: Okay. Do it your own way.
- Second, in Our turning from Him, We have abdicated the responsibility of enforcing Our Constitution.

So, in the following series of brief videos, I will lay out for you the unique and comprehensive blueprint called Tactical Civics™. It's the blueprint for making the enforcement of the Constitution of the United States a reality once and for all. Although often misread, ignored, or even defied by both the citizenry and Our elected servants, that Constitution is the highest human law in America.

Over the years, many organizations and movements have sought to address America's troubles, but NONE began with a turning by God's people from the sins of laziness and sloth. While We should have been learning and knowing and doing the civic chores required to KEEP Our constitutional Republic, We were at ease, soundly sleeping, waiting "for someone else to do it."

Tactical Civics™ was born out of a need for a full-spectrum, peaceful, permanent Solution by which just a small percentage of Americans can rehabilitate, reinvigorate, and begin superintending Our God-given Republic.

So, stay with me here, and I'll show you the broad strokes of just how this will be accomplished.
