V. KEY CONCEPT for the Week – “OVERCOMING FEAR”

(In life coaching, Key Concepts are the basic building blocks for personal growth and overall success. Some people use only a few key concepts; some people learn and practice all of them.)

The Key Concept I'd like you to practice this week is the concept of overcoming fear.

Here's the definition we'll use for fear: “Any emotional response that causes us to stop, hold back, or avoid something we believe could harm us.”

First, we will review the perceptions of fear that you have right now. All you have to do is answer each of these questions (Remember, this is not therapy or counseling.):

1. Would you rate yourself as: a) Seldom afraid, b) Occasionally afraid, or c) Often afraid?
____ Why?

2. How do you typically react to something you fear? (Examples – avoid, confront, ignore, etc.)

3. In what ways do you feel fear works for you?

4. In what ways do you feel fear works against you?

5. What is one thing you could do, more often, to overcome fears that keep you from doing something you should do, or from dealing with something you should deal with?

6. If you wrote one goal about fear, what would you say?

VI. THIS WEEK: To practice the concept of overcoming fear this week, I'd like you to make a list of three unnecessary fears you experience most, and a short action statement for dealing with each of them.

VII. AFFIRMATION FRAME MP3's

This week I'd like you to listen to: _____

VIII. CLOSING

On the same scale of 1 - 10, how do you choose to make this week work for you? _____

What will you do to make that happen?

You can do it! I believe in you, _____. I'll talk to you next week.
