V. KEY CONCEPT for the Week – “HAVING COURAGE”

(In life coaching, Key Concepts are the basic building blocks for personal growth and overall success. Some people use only a few key concepts; some people learn and practice all of them.)

The Key Concept I'd like you to practice this week is the concept of courage.

Here's the definition we'll use for courage: “The choice you make to move forward, whether you're afraid or not.”

First, we will review the perceptions of courage that you have right now. All you have to do is answer each of these questions:

1. Overall, how would you rate your own level of courage?: a)High, b)Medium, or c)Not as much courage as you'd like to have. (Why?)

2. Do you see “courage” as something that is important to you in your own life? (Why?)

3. Do you typically feel equal to, or not equal to people you hear about who show a lot of courage? (Why do you feel that way?)

4. Name one time or one incident in your life, that you can remember, that you had to have courage. (How did it make you feel?)

5. Do you feel that having courage is a choice you make, or do you believe that some people just have it, and it comes naturally?

6. If there is one area of your life right now in which you would like to have more courage, what would it be?

VI. THIS WEEK: To practice the concept of courage this week, I’d like you to choose one thing you’re afraid to do – and do it! – this week! Write it down in your Success Journal ahead of time, plan it, and do it. After you do it, write down in your Success Journal what happened, and how it made you feel.

VII. AFFIRMATION FRAME MP3’s

This week I’d like you to listen to: _____

VIII. CLOSING

On the same scale of 1 - 10, how do you choose to make this week work for you? _____

What will you do to make that happen?

You can do it! I believe in you, _____. I'll talk to you next week.
