

You Were Born Perfect

December 15, 2024

As we said, you were born perfect. We also said we had given you everything you needed and that we had given it to you in sequential order. You evolve in your consciousness, and we wanted to help you move beyond your fear and doubt as you use linear time, and we do not. We wanted you to fulfill more of your potential today.

We also said nothing in your life or world happens accidentally, but it takes time for you, the individual, and your world collectively to accept your significance. We have given you an ascension guide for your life and world. You are the only one who can follow yours.

December 15, 2008

Living your life in the now means that you understand that the most powerful thing you possess is your present moment thought.

December 15, 2009

You live in a physical world based on linear time. Because you believe in this concept, any physical manifestation in your now reality results from your previously held thoughts and beliefs.

December 15, 2010

All that exists is energy, and you possess the ability to direct that energy in any manner you desire.

December 15, 2011

A contribution is what you decided to make when you came onto the physical plane.

December 15, 2012

Every event or situation during your physical life experience holds the same potential.

December 15, 2013

There is a continuation of everything, including you and your world as you know it.

December 15, 2014

Your mental attitude is the most powerful tool you possess. You continually use it to create your personal reality and, therefore, your physical life experience.

December 15, 2015

This, too, shall pass. While you have heard and thought about that saying, there are indeed certain times in your own life experience where it is helpful to hold it and attempt to believe it.

December 15, 2016

Create time. Those words are indeed meant as a directive for you. For you to accomplish this, you also must become willing to change.

December 15, 2017

You have indeed uncovered the path to empowerment as you desired, and your life has caused you to do just that.

(Today, I was guided by Wilhelm to share one of his earlier messages given to me that I resisted for decades in the hope that you are motivated to live as the person you always thought you should be.)

April 13, 1989

"As you refer to them, your creative blocks are merely challenges you have set up to allow you to get in touch with your creative trust. Trust, again, is an issue here and a predominant one in all of your endeavors. You can choose to look at this as a hindrance or as an opportunity for you to rediscover your true self.

Some suggestions as to how this might be accomplished would be to acknowledge your resistances and then move through them, even if the movement to you seems insignificant. Then, also, to constantly focus on what has been accomplished rather than what hasn't. Then, finally, share your own fears, insecurities, and progress with others honestly, and you will find more compassion and understanding for them as well as yourself.

Try to imagine yourself expressing your creative ideas fully as often as you can. This is where your "daydreaming," as it was referred to in your early life, will play an important part in your development and awareness. Accept that you are making progress."

Prepare, connect, activate. Some of you may find this message a bit strange; however, many more of you will find great solace. We awakened Roger at 3:30 AM, for as you know, that is when we can better capture his attention, especially when we are about to give him something of enormous value.

December 15, 2020

The world will heal when you do. We must say that it took a while before we could "push" Roger enough to receive the information, for he's employed that behavior for years, just as you have. You pretend you can't hear your guidance.

December 15, 2021

You will believe in yourself more now.

December 15, 2022

You fulfill your life purpose when you become yourself.

December 15, 2023

You have yet to fulfill your potential.

We had our messenger compile this right before our live full moon conversation to demonstrate to him and you that nothing is accidental.

Additionally, to foster more belief in you all, we told our messenger we had provided guidance for the rest of this year that will aid you now and throughout December.

In a previous live conversation, we asked you to search our site for the word chaos so you might better understand the recent events in your world and how they would impact your life.
