Links To and From Our Site

We are very particular about the sites we link to and those that link to our Site, <https://shermanandhemstreet.com/>. If you would like to link to our Site, then you must obtain our permission by writing to us info@shermanandhemstreet.com.

Please understand, before you contact us that, we will not allow you to link to our Site if your business or your site portrays that you may be involved in promoting pornography, adult-themes, hate, terrorism or crimes of any kind including but not limited to hacking, spam, or other software, internet or email crimes. This also includes crimes against children.

Our Site may contain links to other sites. In no way do we accept liability or responsibility for them, their employees, their actions, any third parties associated or employed/contracted by them, or their products, services or materials.

Posting To Our Site

Any information that you post to our Site, belongs to us as soon as it's posted. Posting information includes but is not limited to completing one of our Site's form pages - like requesting a contact, joining our mailing list, or just sending an email to us.

You agree not to post any information that pertains to pornography, adult-themes, hate, terrorism or crimes of any kind including but not limited to hacking, spam, or other software, internet or email crimes. This also includes crimes against children.

Cookies, Adware & Spyware

We do not, at this time, use "Cookies" to gather any information about you or to track your activities. We do not participate in any spyware activities, nor do we use any adware or spyware-type software.

SPAM

We are an anti-spam company and we do not tolerate it - either through postings to our Site or through our mailing/email notifications to you. All mailings sent to you in response to your submission of information are one-time mailings, or they include removal instructions to remove yourself from our mailing list.

If you should receive email that you believe is "SPAM" we ask that you forward a copy of that email message directly to our Administration Department at info@shermanandhemstreet.com immediately upon your receipt, in order that we may determine where and how such email is being sent.

Termination

Either party, Sherman & Hemstreet, or you, may terminate this Agreement at any time with written notification. To terminate your Agreement with our Site's Terms and Conditions, simply email us: info@shermanandhemstreet.com or send us notification via U.S. Mail to the address included within the section "Contact Information" below.

Even after termination, this Agreement remains in effect. This means that you are still bound by the Terms. This means that you are still unable to violate any of these Terms including but not limited to our copyright notices, posts made to our Site, links to our Site, etc.

Terminating our Website's Terms of Use will not affect or terminate any Agreement for Services that you may have entered into with us for services that we provide. Such services are governed by agreements separate and apart from this Agreement of Terms and Conditions.

Disputes

You should send any disputes to our Administration Department by email: info@shermanandhemstreet.com or by U.S. Mail to the address included within the section "Contact Information" below. You may also reach us by phone at the numbers listed below or on our "Contact Us" page.

Should any legal action be required, such action will take place in the State of Georgia in the United States of America. Such action will be taken in a court of law that has jurisdiction to arbitrate the action.

Other Specifications

We realize that you may not be a citizen of the United States of America. However, you are still bound by these Terms and Conditions as they are stated here.

Occasionally, we may make changes to these Terms. When we do make changes, we'll update this page, so be sure to check back regularly, so that you're familiar with them.
