

SAFETY Reminders

Put Down the Phone

We often don't realize we're distracted until it's too late.

Always know where your child is and who is around him/her

Be Aware of Surroundings

There's Safety in Numbers

Having extra eyes at a playground are great if you aren't distracted by the conversation.

Placing child in a cart or holding their hand in public keeps them safely at your side.

Keep Children Close

Practice Stall Safety

Never leave child outside the stall door while you go inside.

Every child should learn their home address and phone number, etc.

Learn Important Info

Have a Password

Having a family password keeps kids safe from adults who do not have permission to transport your child.

These forms keep all the needed information in one place for when it's needed most.

Use Babysitter Forms

Protect Child's Phone

Grooming is a very real threat and one that is preventable.

Smart doorbells, cameras and dogs are great deterrents.
