Don't miss the opportunity to create a memorable and impactful experience

About Me

"I've lived through the kind of change that cracks you open"

and I know what it takes to rise from it. Guiding women to reconnect with their truth, reclaim their identity, and step boldly into their next chapter is not just my passion—it's my purpose. Every story I share is an invitation for others to remember who they really are and lead with heart.

Hope Restored

My mission is to inspire women to live the life they are meant to live. I provide a proven system for those emerging from events like divorce, job transition, or major change - rebuild their identity, reclaim their power bravely, boldly, and beautifully.

At Lango Living, we see you—standing at the edge of what was, ready to rise into what's next.

My vision is to walk beside women who've weathered life's storms—divorce, burnout, loss, reinvention—and help them reconnect with their light. I dream of a world where you move with clarity, stand in your strength, and live with unshakable purpose. Through my transformational system, I support your journey from survival to sovereignty.

Because you're not starting over. You're rising into who you were always meant to be.

"Listening to Leann Rose felt like being part of her journey. Her storytelling is so vivid and relatable, I learned invaluable lessons from her experiences that I apply daily in my personal and professional life."
— Olivia H.

Why Event Planners Love Working with Leann Rose

Leann Rose is not just a speaker; she's a catalyst for transformation—guiding women to reclaim their identity, own their brilliance, and rise into their next chapter with clarity and power.

Event planners love working with Leann Rose because she brings more than professionalism—she brings heart. Hearing Leann Rose speak was a turning point for me. Her words lit something inside—clarity, courage, and the permission to finally move forward. I didn't just leave inspired—I left changed.

Expertise and Certification: Over 40 years of experience as a Red Seal Hair Stylist, Certified Coach, and retired Safety Professional, giving her a unique blend of expertise supporting real, lasting transformation. From salons to the oilfields of Iraq, her path reflects a deep understanding of reinvention and resilience. She now offers a powerful system to help women rebuild, reclaim, and rise—bravely, boldly, and beautifully.

Inspiring Personal Journey: As a single mother of three, Leann Rose has demonstrated high impeccability in raising her children to be healthy, happy contributors to the world. Her personal story of resilience and dedication resonates deeply with those striving for balance and success.

Dynamic Personality: Leann Rose is known for her can-do attitude, strong will, and action-oriented approach. Her personality is a blend of being results-oriented, self-aware, and charismatic, making her both approachable and inspiring. She's a visionary who sees the big picture and focuses on achieving key goals.

Core Values: Leann Rose holds values such as stability, connection, tenacity, and purpose at the highest level. These values are not just ideals—they are woven into every stage, story, and strategy she shares, creating a grounded and transformative experience for every audience.

Proven Track Record: Leann Rose's leadership has created lasting impact across industries—from coaching trailblazing women in the Iraqi desert to transforming the lives of women navigating major life change. Her ability to foster trust, growth, and meaningful connection has left a legacy of empowered individuals and purpose-driven teams.

Inspiring Influence: Leann Rose's influence guides women through the powerful arc of transformation—from recognizing the shift to reclaiming their light and giving back with purpose. Her presence inspires clarity, movement, and emotional resilience, helping others rise with strength, stability, and heart.

"Desert Rose in Iraq" is a captivating 45-minute keynote that brings audiences into the heart of Leann Rose's most transformational journey—five years coaching men and trailblazing women in the deserts of Iraq. With raw honesty and vivid storytelling, she reveals the profound power of connection, resilience, and purpose in the most unlikely places. Audiences walk away inspired to lead with authenticity, break through fear, and embrace their own path of reinvention. This keynote isn't just a story—it's a spark for anyone ready to rise, no matter where they've been.

Reclaim Your Voice, Rise Stronger Than Ever

'Desert Rose in Iraq'

How the Desert Taught Me to Bloom

Audience will walk away with:

From Disruption to Clarity

Identifying the Shift & Taking Responsibility

In the stark reality of the Iraqi desert, Leann Rose faced her own identity disintegration—far from home, comfort, and certainty. Her story models how to recognize when life demands a shift and how taking responsibility becomes the first act of power in reclaiming one's direction.

Finding Strength in the Unseen

Identifying Your Light & Moving Forward

Through coaching the first Iraqi women stationed at remote gas facilities, Leann Rose discovered the fierce resilience buried within both herself and others. Her journey teaches audiences to uncover their inner light, even in the darkest places, and move forward with conviction.

Rooted in Purpose, Ready to Give Back

Finding Stability & Giving Back

Leann Rose's years in Iraq weren't just about her growth—they were about building bridges, fostering leadership, and creating sustainable change. This keynote inspires audiences to ground into stability and use their transformation to uplift others with heart, purpose, and integrity.

Ideal Audiences for Leann Rose

Aspiring Leaders/Entrepreneurs/Community Builders/Connectors/Individuals Seeking Personal Growth

Leann Rose's speeches are tailored to inspire, empower, and transform audiences by fostering authentic connections, promoting personal growth, and igniting passion for more. Her insights resonate deeply with individuals who are ready to embrace change and unlock their full potential.

Someone like...

- A woman emerging from divorce, burnout, or a career upheaval, unsure who she is now or where to begin again. Leann Rose's system guides her to reconnect with her truth, rebuild her identity, and rise with clarity and confidence into the next chapter of her life.
- An aspiring entrepreneur ready to lead from purpose but overwhelmed by self-doubt or uncertainty. Through Leann Rose's insight, she gains the structure, support, and mindset to step into her vision with grounded leadership and unwavering trust in herself.
- A heart-centered woman who's always supported others but now longs to build something of her own. Leann Rose helps her move from emotional depletion to empowered direction—so she can lead, give, and grow without losing herself in the process.

Times are changing...

“In a time of constant change,
the most powerful thing you can do is take ownership of who you are. When you lead yourself with clarity and purpose, your life becomes your legacy—and your impact lasts far beyond the moment.”

What Leann Rose needs to be at her best

Audio & Visual

- In-Person Events: A comfortable, well-lit speaking area is essential. A wireless headset is ideal if needed. Leann Rose requires a table or podium for her laptop, which should remain in her line of sight. Access to a backup laptop is helpful in case of technical issues. Leann Rose needs time before the event to test all equipment and sound levels.
- Virtual Events: Leann Rose is happy to join 15-30 minutes in advance for technical testing.

Assistant

- Please provide a dedicated point of contact for coordination (event organizer or manager). Leann Rose may travel with a personal assistant who will assist with setup and post-presentation duties. Any accommodations made for Leann Rose should also be extended to her assistant.

Post-Stage Time Break

- For non-virtual events, a scheduled 20-minute break after Leann Rose's presentation is important, along with a table area at the back of the room. This allows Leann Rose to engage with participants, adding value and answering questions.

Speaker's Fee

- Live Speaking Fees: Range from $2000 - $6000 depending on the event and level of customization desired.
- Virtual Speaking Fees: Range from $1000 - $3000 depending on the event type, level of customization, and whether there is an opportunity to make an offer or promote Lango Living Services.
- Non-Profit Organizations: Leann Rose offers a sliding scale to ensure accessibility while maintaining a high-quality experience.

Travel & Accommodation

- The event organizer will cover the cost of flights, transportation, and hotel accommodation for the night before and the night of the event, depending on flight schedules. Flights over 5 hours require business class.

Ownership of Content

- Any videos, audio, pictures, etc., taken of Leann Rose, at the event, must have her express approval before any form of distribution to ensure effective editing, format, and brand alignment.

Pre-Talk Preparation Space

- Leann Rose appreciates a quiet space to prepare before the event. This prep time ensures she brings her best energy to the presentation.

Booking

- To confirm your booking, a deposit of one-third of the total speaking fee is required. This secures the date and ensures alignment and commitment to the event. The remaining balance is due on the day of the event. Any additional expenses will be invoiced separately and are due upon receipt.
