Virtual intensive treatment
for binge eating

The Emily Program's CARE IOP is uniquely designed for adults with binge eating disorder or OSFED with a pattern of binge eating.

Individuals who struggle with binge eating often face unique challenges in eating disorder treatment. Food and body judgment, discomfort at meals and snacks, and social stigma are exacerbated in settings that don't adequately address their needs.

At The Emily Program, adults affected by binge eating and compulsive overeating can find structure and support in a safe, weight-inclusive space created exclusively for them. CARE IOP is an intensive virtual program that honors clients' identities and experiences in informed, intersectional care.

Uniquely Tailored Treatment for Binge Eating

CARE IOP takes place four days per week, three hours per day, and includes two groups and one therapeutic supported meal daily. The program's virtual format encourages self-accountability as clients practice eating, preparing food, and coping from the comfort of home.

Multidisciplinary teams respond to clients' intersecting identities with programming related to self-compassion, exposure and response prevention, health-promoting behaviors, and counteracting internalized weight stigma.

Program Components

- Therapy groups
- Therapeutic supported meals
- Individual therapy & nutrition sessions
- Involvement of loved ones
