

Jes Marcy

Clutter Boss
Speaker & Presenter

Jes Marcy has built a career helping clients deal with clutter in all its forms. She began as a professional organizer working with clients in their homes, then added in-person workshops and has spent the last five years building comprehensive online decluttering programs, better known as Clutter Boss. Her clients find tremendous success working in the Clutter Boss framework, where simple strategies, realistic expectations, and a judgment-free community are the secrets to ongoing success.

Jes shares these secrets for success in her ever-popular "Basics of Home Organization" workshops, delivered in-person and remotely throughout the United States. She is also available for keynotes, conferences, podcasts, and news shows.
