

"Understand that a living donor can give a kidney since most healthy donors can live with one kidney if both kidneys are fully functional. Slightly different requirements apply to kidney than liver donors; kidney donors must be at least 18."

- from Living Organ Transplant

Eat with the seasons for all the right reasons. By eating seasonal produce, you get a double benefit: nutritional variety and cost savings from sales."

- from Easy Healthy Tips for Busy People

"Realize that certain proven technologies make sense as effective high-productivity "enablers" in your cleaning production system. Some examples are backpack vacuums, and spray-and-vac machines for restrooms. These tools clean better and save time versus older methods."

- from Process Cleaning for Healthy Schools

"Look for a web developer who is focused on your goals for your site. You should expect them to discuss with you questions like your target audience, why people visit your site, competitors, and measuring your success."

- from Great Tips for Choosing a Website Developer

Share observations, not conclusions. Providing feedback immediately as an unproven "observation" instead of building your case until you are ready to prove your "conclusion" eliminates conflict and leads to honest and effective communication. By speaking without judgment, the other person can receive it without feeling the need to defend themselves."

-from Tips for Putting People First

scxz

- from Selling a Business; Tips, Tricks, and Traps