

Speak Honest Journal Prompts

What beliefs are you holding that make certain family topics feel personal?

What's one way you could acknowledge a family member's opinion without debating it?

How can you use "just not around me" to set a boundary with a challenging family member?

Preparing for Difficult Holiday Conversations