

HOW TO FIND YOUR SUPPORTIVE PHYSICIAN

---

TERRI FOX, MD

THE MEDICAL DETECTIVE™

WHAT ARE YOU LOOKING FOR IN A SUPPORTIVE PHYSICIAN?

---

You want to find a physician, PA or NP that believes that mold toxicity exists and is willing to help you treat it. You will likely only need this provider for a few prescriptions. If they are open to a shorter visit just for support with your mold protocol, that is ideal.

You are looking for a provider that is holistically oriented or integrative or who practices functional medicine. The biotoxin community, mold and Lyme are great options too. Your primary care provider will unlikely write these scripts unless they are holistically oriented and familiar with mold illness.

ILADS

THE INTERNATIONAL LYME AND ASSOCIATED DISEASE SYMPOSIUM

This is a list of Lyme literate physicians; they are well versed in biotoxin illness but they may not know how to treat mold. Most of these providers will likely be open to helping you treat mold.

ISEAI

INTERNATIONAL SOCIETY OF ENVIRONMENTALLY ACQUIRED ILLNESS

This is a list of providers that know about mold illness and biotoxin illness. You can tell them that you are doing my mold eradication course and you need a few scripts called in, would they be willing to work with you in this way? They can reach out to me if they have questions.

IFM

THE INSTITUTE OF FUNCTIONAL MEDICINE

These are providers that are trained in functional medicine. They are likely open to biotoxin illness but may not know how to treat it. Let them know you are looking for a supportive physician to help with a few prescriptions for the mold treatment. Tell them you are doing a mold treatment course with Dr. Terri Fox.

AIHM

THE ACADEMY OF INTEGRATIVE HEALTH AND MEDICINE

These are providers that are trained in holistic and integrative medicine. They may or may not know anything about mold illness. Most of these providers are open minded regarding biotoxin illness.

DR AMY REIDHEAD

DC, FNP, BSN-RN, FIAMA

Dr. Reidhead is an NP who trained under me and who specializes in mold treatment. She can do shorter visits to support your healing from mold toxicity.
