This Privacy Policy describes how Listen for Loneliness, LLC collects, uses, stores, and protects information related to participants of the “Loneliness and Health: A Free Mini Course.”

1. Information Collection

- This mini course may collect basic information such as your name, email address, or survey responses when voluntarily provided by you.
- No medical, psychological, diagnostic, or protected health information (PHI) is collected or stored as part of this course.

2. Use of Information

- Information may be used to deliver course materials, improve course offerings, or communicate with participants.
- Information is never sold or shared with third parties for marketing purposes.

3. Data Protection

- Listen for Loneliness, LLC takes reasonable measures to safeguard participant information from unauthorized access.
- However, no digital system is completely secure, and we cannot guarantee absolute security of transmitted data.

4. Third-Party Services

- Course materials may be delivered through third-party platforms (e.g., email services, learning systems).
- These platforms maintain their own privacy policies, which participants should review.

5. Your Rights

- You may request deletion of your provided information at any time by contacting Listen for Loneliness, LLC.
- You may unsubscribe from communications at any time.

6. Updates to Privacy Policy

- This Privacy Policy may be revised periodically. Continued participation indicates acceptance of updated terms.

If you have questions about this Privacy Policy, please contact Listen for Loneliness, LLC directly.
