

Terms and Conditions

Loneliness and Health: A Free Mini Course

This “Loneliness and Health: A Free Mini Course” is provided by Listen for Loneliness, LLC as an educational resource.

By participating in or accessing this course, you agree to the following terms and conditions:

1. Free Access

- This course is offered at no cost to participants.
- Accessing the course does not require payment, subscription, or purchase of any services.

2. Educational Purpose Only

- The content provided in this course is intended solely for educational and informational purposes.
- It is not a substitute for clinical, medical, psychological, or psychiatric diagnosis, treatment, or care.

3. No Clinical Relationship

- Participation in this course does not create a therapeutic, clinical, or medical provider–patient relationship.
- If you are experiencing symptoms of loneliness, distress, mental health concerns, or medical issues, you should seek support from a licensed professional.

4. Limitation of Liability

- Listen for Loneliness, LLC is not responsible for any adverse outcomes, decisions, or actions participants may take based on the course content.
- Participants are responsible for their own emotional and health-related decisions.

5. Intellectual Property

- All course materials, including videos, text, handouts, and graphics, are the property of Listen for Loneliness, LLC.
- Materials may not be copied, distributed, or sold without express written permission.

6. Participant Conduct

- Participants agree not to misuse, misrepresent, or disrupt the delivery of the course.
- Participants may not use course content to provide professional advice without appropriate credentials.

7. Modifications

- Listen for Loneliness, LLC reserves the right to update or revise these terms at any time.

By accessing the course, you acknowledge and agree to these Terms and Conditions.