things they see, whether they be outdoors, in the home and even on their own bodies. This is why we place on emphasis on this type of education for the age we teach. It never ceases to amaze us how much your children learn from using all of their senses-they are fascinated by touch, smell, sight, sound, and taste. We also don't forget the other essentials to well rounded education by providing letter tracing, singing, dancing, science, math, social development games and exercises, as well as, the needed "free play" time, every child needs, to learn on their own.

Your children are making great choices everyday and we know you are able to see just how happy and smart your children are here at Learn & Grow Play House Pre-School/Childcare. Now here are some highlights and facts about our teachers; who are the reasons for our educational success:
