

Leading with Cultural Humility:

A Coaching Journey for White Leaders

Move from cultural competency toward cultural humility so you can lead exceptionally.

Ask hard questions about diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging (DEIB) that you are afraid to ask in your workplace for fear being of labeled.

Live into your values of equity and justice.

Authentic Leadership:

Thriving as Underrepresented Leaders in Predominantly White Spaces

Learn how to lean into your identities so that you can lead exceptionally.

A space for you to talk about things* that you may not be able to talk to others about.

(* imposter syndrome, code-switching, stereotype threat, and microaggressions.)

See your identities as strengths and not weaknesses in the way you lead.

apoyocoaching.com

/joelperezdp

/apoyocoaching01

Leading with Confidence:

Mastering Job Transitions in Higher Education

Prepare for that job transition so that you can lay the foundation for a successful transition.

Develop a plan that will create a strong sense of self-awareness so that you can be confident about how you lead from day one in the new role.

Learn how to communicate who you are as a leader to your new teams and supervisors to build the trust you will need to be successful.

