The University of Texas is one of 53 universities having Naval ROTC Units, and is one of the 12 NROTC Units which offers a Supply Corps Option as well as a Marine Corps Option, adding those two career opportunities to the Navy Line which encompasses Naval Aviation, Submarines, and Surface Ships.

The Naval ROTC Unit is the oldest Reserve Officers Training Corps present on the University of Texas campus. Since the UT NROTC Unit first opened its doors in September of 1940, thousands of graduating students have received commissions in the United States Navy or Naval Reserve or commissions in the United States Marine Corps or Marine Corps Reserve, along with their bachelor's degrees.

The distinction between those graduates receiving commissions in the regular Navy or Marine Corps as opposed to their reserve components, depends upon whether the student was a Regular or Contract Midshipman.

The Regular Program: Regular Midshipmen are selected on the basis of a nationwide competitive examination, a physical examination, and interviews. The application deadline is mid-November. An appointment to an NROTC Unit as a Regular Midshipman covers the cost of tuition, lab and instructional fees, books for all college courses including Naval Science courses, required uniforms, and a retainer pay of $50 a month which goes toward room and board.

The Contract Program: Contract Midshipmen are locally selected by the Professor of Naval Science on the basis of a written test, a physical examination, and a series of interviews conducted when the applicant arrives on campus to register as a freshman. Contract Midshipmen receive Naval Science textbooks and uniforms all four years, and during their junior and senior years they receive a $40 per month retainer pay. The Contract Program was designed to procure Reserve Officers who would serve on active duty for a limited time. There are provisions, however, to permit Contract Midshipmen to transfer to the Regular Program, and for Reserve Officers to transfer to the Regular Navy or Marine Corps.

The Two Year Contract Plan: With the increasing number of men transferring into major universities at the upper division level, a new NROTC program was created to permit men to enter the Unit at the beginning of their Junior year. The application deadline is mid-April. Selection is based on the college transcript, a physical examination, and a series of interviews. Selectees are sent to Summer School to make up freshman and sophomore Naval Science courses so they can enter the Junior Class on an equal footing with other Contract Midshipmen.

Staff

COL Max H. LaGrone, USMC
Professor of Naval Science

Colonel LaGrone is a native Texan and a graduate of Rice University. Before assuming command of the UT NROTC Unit in September, 1963, Colonel LaGrone served for two years as the Fleet Marine Officer on the staff of Commander Second Fleet. He has also served on the staff of the Commander-in-Chief, all Allied Forces, Northern Europe. The Colonel's combat record includes Guadalcanal, Bougainville, Saipan, and Okinawa in World War II; and the Korean War.

Commander Wood is also a native Texan, and is a graduate of East Texas State Teachers College. A naval aviator, Commander Wood received the Distinguished Flying Cross in World War II. His military record includes command of Utility Squadron Six. Commander Wood was the Executive Officer of NAAS Kingsville before coming to UT.

This was Colonel LaGrone's third year as the Professor of Naval Science and Commanding Officer of the University of Texas Naval ROTC Unit. Chief Redman reported aboard during the summer, and by September the new Marine Option Instructors, Major Strain and Gunnery Sergeant Burtzell, had joined the staff and Commander Wood had assumed the duties of Executive Officer.

When Mr. Blake left the unit in November to become a flight instructor at NAAS Kingsville, Commander Wood finished the freshman's Fall Semester course, and Mr. Chris taught them in the Spring Semester. Mr. Sommer was promoted to Lieutenant Commander, de la Rosa made chief, and Chief Gober retired during the Spring Semester. LT McCann, the new Weapons Instructor, arrived from Vietnam in May.

CDR Thomas J. Wood
Executive Officer

Faculty

LT W. D. McCANN, USN
Weapons Instructor

Mr. McCann graduated with honors from UT with a BA in Government in June, 1961. He spent his first 3 years of active duty on the USS WALKER (DD-517) as ASW Officer, then was transferred to Yale University as Weapons Instructor. After less than a year at Yale, LT McCann received emergency orders to Vietnam where he served as a Shiprider/Advisor in the Vietnamese Navy Sea Force for 12 months before joining the UT faculty in May.

LT H. J. CHRIS, USN
Sophomore Instructor

Mr. Chris graduated from Tulane University in 1961 with a degree in Architecture. He came to the University of Texas from the USS YORKTOWN during which he had two, nine month deployments in the Pacific. Mr. Chris is the Social Committee Advisor and taught the Freshmen as well as the Sophomores after Mr. Blake left.

LT R. G. BLAKE, USN
Freshman Instructor

Mr. Blake graduated from the University of Utah with a business degree. He joined the University of Texas faculty in the fall of 1964 and was beginning his second year as Freshman Instructor when the increasing need for Naval Aviators in Southeast Asia started a chain reaction that included LT Blake's transfer to NAAS Kingsville where he is now a flight instructor.

LCDR G. M. DEMPSEY, USN
Senior Line Instructor

Mr. Dempsey is a graduate of the University of Santa Clara who received a commission as a Naval Aviator through the NavCad program. An experienced carrier pilot, Mr. Dempsey has served as a Flight Instructor, Hangar Deck Officer, and Assistant Flight Deck Officer. He flew Crusaders in Utility Squadron 7 before joining the UT faculty in September of 1964.

LT J. B. MAYO, JR., USN
Junior Line Instructor

Mr. Mayo completed the Regular NROTC Program at the University of North Carolina in 1960 with a Bachelor of Arts in Radio/Television. He was Operations Officer of the USS SABINE before coming to UT where he has completed a Master of Arts in Journalism. In June he will be transferred to New London, Conn., to be the Public Affairs Officer on the staff of Rear Admiral Joseph Williams, the deputy commander of the Submarine Force, Atlantic.

LCDR M. R. SOMMER, USN(SC)
Supply Option Instructor

Mr. Sommer graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in 1957 with a bachelors degree in business and he is now working toward a Master of Business Administration at UT. He came to the University of Texas from the Pacific Fleet ammunition ship USS MAUNA KEA.

MAJOR D. H. STRAIN, USMC
Marine Option Instructor

Major Strain graduated from the University of Virginia and received a commission through the Platoon Leaders Class program in 1953. He came to UT this fall from the 2nd Field Artillery Group, Force Troops Atlantic, Camp LeJeune, North Carolina.

Battalion Commanders

Midshipman 1/c Jerome L. Powell, from Ft. Walton Beach, Florida, was Midshipman Battalion Commander during the Fall semester. Mr. Powell is a member of Scabbard and Blade, the Honorary Military Society. He has served the battalion as a platoon leader and captured the platoon drill competition. A member of the Buccaneer Drill Team for three years, Mr. Powell served from billets of squad leader to executive officer. Last year he received the General Dynamics Award for the highest G.P.A. in the NROTC Unit. Mr. Powell also received the Douglas Aircraft Scholarship. An Aero-Space Engineering major, Mr. Powell is a member of Tau Beta Pi, the honorary society of the College of Engineering, Sigma Gamma Tau, the aero-space engineering honorary society, and Engineering Fellows, which includes only engineers in the top 2.8% of their class. Mr. Powell has been on the Deans Honor Roll many times and will graduate in January of 1967.

MIDN 1/c JEROME L. POWELL
Battalion Commander, Fall Semester

Midshipman 1/c Jesse L. Thompson, from Mission, Texas, was Midshipman Battalion Commander during the Spring semester. Mr. Thompson is a member of Scabbard and Blade, and last year was selected the outstanding line option in the junior class. As an active member of the intermural sports program Mr. Thompson played water ball, football, track, volley ball, baseball, and swam for the swimming team. Mr. Thompson was also a member of the social committee for two years, and served very ably as its chairman one year. Mr. Thompson will graduate in June and will receive a Bachelor of Arts degree in Chemistry. Upon commissioning Mr. Thompson will report to Pensacola, Florida, for Naval Flight Officer training.

Intramural Sports

Navy Midshipmen participate in almost every phase of intramural sports. The competition is always keen and the Navy teams are often ranked high in League and University standings. The continued winning of the Club Division overall championship trophy is symbolic of this standing.

Navy Athletics Are Varied

El Senoussi, Shanks, Kuch,
Brotherton, Tenret, Anderson,
Reass.

One reason for the fine
two-two record: close pursuit.

That's using your head, Jim.

Waterball---Close!

University runnerups: standing (L) Hill, McCoy, Burns, Baldwin, Banks, Thompson; kneeling - Darby, Huber, Broadbent, Moore, Beeler, Ruckman.

Rugged play characterizes the middle team.

Social Committee

Left to Right: Ray, Gish, Fanning, Ott, Stubblefield, Reinauer, Ruckmann, Wigder; seated: Dale Miller, Chairman.

The midshipmen pictured above serve a most important function in the unit. The events pictured on the preceding pages were all run so smoothly that you probably never stopped to realize that weeks, sometimes months, of planning and preparation went into each one. Midn Miller and his Battalion Social Committee spend many hours performing the many mundane little tasks that combine to produce an exceptional event such as the K.C. Party or the Ring Dance. Organized at the first of each semester, they work throughout the year, providing University of Texas midshipmen with fine entertainment.

Navy Sweethearts

One of the functions of the sweethearts is attending drill on Tuesdays, adding their grace and poise to the scene.

Toni, Vicki, and Laura pose for a quick picture at the K.C. beer bust.

The sweethearts and their escorts are presented at the K.C. beer bust. It's easy to distinguish the sweethearts.

Miss Pat Vincent, a product of San Antonio, is a senior in elementary education, concentrating in Spanish. Miss Vincent is a member of Delta Gama Sorority, and at the present time is assistant social chairman. Pat also acts as a dorm advisor and is active on Union Committees. Pat lists modeling, water-skiing, sewing, and Midshipman George Root as her favorite activities.

Miss Vicki Hudson, a resident of Austin, is a sophomore majoring in business. Vicki is currently the reigning Miss Austin Aqua Festival. Tennis, music, art, modeling, scuba diving, and cooking are among Vicki's favorite activities.

Miss Kathy Reichart, hailing from New Baden, Texas, is a senior in home economics education. Miss Reichart is a member of the Gamma Beta Phi Society, Home Economics Chapter. In addition Kathy enjoys such activities as experimental cooking, music, tennis, swimming, sailing, and Midshipman Jerry Powell.

Miss Pam Harker, our sweetheart from Denton, Texas, is a senior majoring in history and english. Miss Harker lists as her favorite activities horseback riding, tennis, water skiing, reading, and Marine Corps 2nd Lt. John Montford. Pam also holds down a job as a secretary in the psychology department.

Miss Laura Polasek, a Fort Worth girl, is a freshman plan II major. Miss Polasek lists among her interests swimming, tennis, collecting various types of liquor bottles. Laura (nature girl) Polasek holds as her main interest at the moment Midshipman Ken Davis.

Miss Toni Wright, a resident of Austin, is a freshman business major. Along with her sweetheart activities Toni spends most of her time putting herself through school by working as a telephone operator. Toni lists swimming, tennis, and modeling as her leisure time activities.

When Christmas came, the Nest rose to the occasion. Activities started with an ø3øø tree decorating party. Here president Dick Wauson adds a little serious thought to an otherwise joyful time (?) for the freshmen.

Good spirits abounded as can be seen from this view of Santa. No wonder he is always so jolly. Santa is seen with a poor child whose head is filled with wild dreams. Now we all know what Bob wants for Christmas.

Once all the big children were taken care of, Santa directed his efforts to the kids from the Pan American Home. With the help of his two favorite fairies, he convinced the children that there really was a Santa.

IN MEMORIUM

FLEET ADMIRAL CHESTER W. NIMITZ, USN
1885-1966
Commander-in-Chief Pacific Fleet 1941-45
Chief of Naval Operations 1945-47

Today it's Viet Nam, yesterday it was Korea, and the day before, Japan and World War II. The Pacific has seen many battles, many great naval engagements, and the man who saw the United States Navy through her greatest hours in the Pacific was one of the founders of the NROTC program. With the passing of Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, of Fredericksburg, Texas, the Navy lost a leader of legendary proportions.
