The 1983 Longhorn Log
Centennial Edition
The University of Texas at Austin
Naval Reserve Officer's Training Corps
Volume XVI

“The more you
sweat in peace,
the less you
bleed in war.”

— An old Chinese proverb

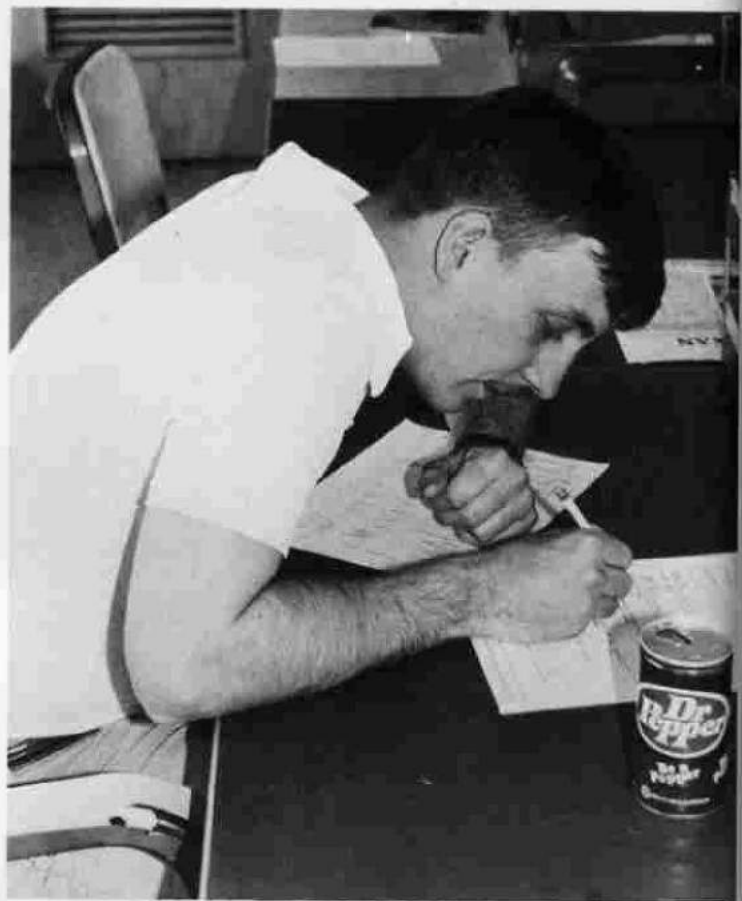

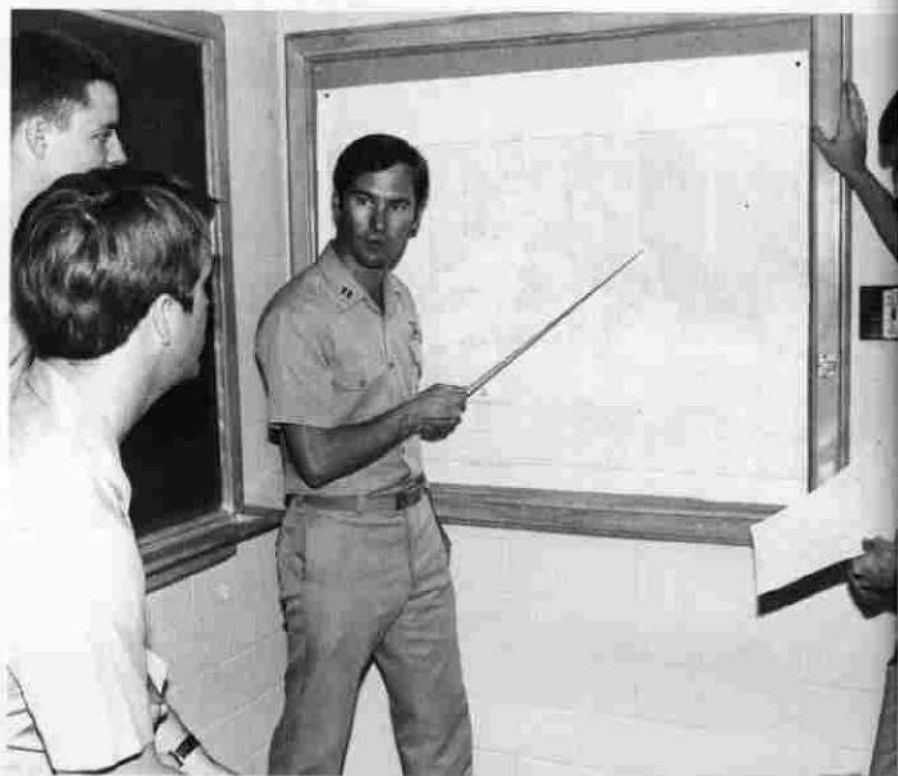

The motto of the Centennial at the University of Texas is "One hundred years of growth." The same idea applies to the battalion of midshipmen at U.T. — "Forty-three years of growth." The University of Texas was created in 1883. The NROTC unit at U.T. was created in 1940, and while U.T. was expanding, so was the NROTC. At the end of the 1982-83 school year, the UTNROTC unit boasted 163 members. The NROTC unit is currently the largest ROTC unit on campus.

Left: Spring Battalion Commander Midn. 1/c Lisa Tester salutes the Texas flag as SSgt John Kenney raises it during the Centennial celebration in February. Below: One of the most prominent symbols of the University of Texas, the Tower, was completed in 1937 after the old Main Building was torn down. Inset: The campus at U.T. has undergone many changes in its 100-year existence. We no longer see dirt roads and Model T's, but we still see the tower from most any vantage point on campus.

Reading, 'Riting, 'Rithmetic

Although Battalion activities require large amounts of time, academics are by far the major concern of a midshipman of the University of Texas. Studying is an art which all new midshipmen must master but the mere mention of the word sends some into shock. Many fall victim to the "D's" and "F's" and are brought before the review board or drop from the program. This year, however, the battalion launched an all-out campaign to improve the academic record. Study Halls became mandatory for freshmen in an attempt to get them in the habit of studying earlier. The success of this program, however, can be debated. Other programs included RASSL presentations and lectures stressing the importance of academics. To further enhance academic achievement, the Captain's list was instituted for recognition of the academic achievers.

It is often difficult to understand that academics will have a strong effect on our future, but its importance will soon be apparent to all of us.

Captain's Inspection

The results for the spring were:
Bravo first, Charlie second,
Alpha third.

Batt Comm chooses Charlie, Bravo

Rain failed to dampen the Battalion Commander's inspection as midshipmen filled the rifle range to display their squared-away uniforms. Checking every item, the battalion commander and three detail inspectors reviewed and questioned each midshipman. When the results were calculated, Charlie Company began the fall semester with first place and Alpha Company took second place. During the spring, midshipmen again competed for top honors in the Battalion Commander's inspection. The results differed, however, as Bravo Company achieved victory and Charlie Company won second place.

Drill, and More Drill

Months of preparation went into the fall drill competition. Judges from the Marine Corps Reserve Inspector and Instructor Staff graded and scrutinized every detail. Then, platoon and platoon commander scores were calculated giving Charlie company the fall drill victory. Bravo company marched to second and Alpha placed third. In the spring, the results were similar as Charlie again took first. Second place, however, went to Alpha and third to Bravo.

Presidential pass in review attracts distinguished visitors

Each year the three ROTC units at the University of Texas hold a presidential pass in review to honor the university president and distinguished graduates. Captain Vandewater, Dr. Ronald Brown, Mayor Pro Tem Trevino, and other distinguished guests were present at the ceremony this year. An award for the outstanding graduating member of the ROTC was given to SSgt John Kenney by Mayor Pro Tem Trevino on behalf of the city of Austin. Midn. 1/c Sam Smith received an award from General Dynamics Corp. for being the outstanding midshipman of the year.

Fitness Fair

During the Fall, Gov. Clements proclaimed October as physical fitness month. Among the activities scheduled was the fitness fair. This consisted of teams competing in 14 events from swimming and running to tests of strength. Many teams around the Austin area competed and the U.T. NROTC team finished first in both the Men's and Women's divisions. The men won by 119 points over the second place finisher and the women won by 83 points.

Far right: 2/c Chris Grace gets encouragement from Maj Armstrong during the bench press. Right: 2/c Craig Turner leads the pack in one of the running events. Below: 2/c Gary Thomas and 1/c Lisa Tester hold the feet for 2/c Glenn Jones and SSgt Sandy Winget while they do sit-ups.

Fall PFT

The Fall PFT was fun as usual. The cold October morning surely woke up anyone who was still sleeping. A fine performance by many midshipmen showed what working out can do. Those people scoring over a 290 were: 3/c Gonzales, SSgt Snyder, Sgt Londrie, 2/c Hankins, and Sgt Fearn who took top honors with a perfect score of 300.

Spring PFT

The huffs and puffs and moans and groans of everybody told the story of the grueling three-mile run. The course traversed up and down hills as it wound its way around the jogging course around Town Lake. Although times were slightly slower than usual everyone did exceptionally well as 32 people scored over 270 and 3/c Mike McLaughlin grabbed top honors with a 299. In the platoon competition, Bravo I averaged 241 and Alpha II averaged 233. In the companies, Bravo came in first with a 228, Alpha came in second with a 226, and Charlie came in third with a 217.

Ironman Competition

October 17, the Marines of U.T. sponsored an Ironman Competition. It wasn't designed to prove athletic prowess but it proved physical endurance. The Pentathlon consisted of pull ups, sit ups, a 22 KM bike hike, canoeing and a 6 mile run. Only four people entered the competition: Sgt Bill Fearn, Sgt Rick Londrie, Marine reservists Cpl Tom Adams and Sgt Steve Ellis. Many problems were encountered such as canoes tipping and tire blow outs but it was very successful. The winner was Sgt Ellis followed by Cpl Adams. Ellis received a Marine Corps knife inscribed with his name and the words "Mission accomplished."

Fall Field Meet

Bravo company squeaked by Alpha by winning the tug-of-war thus securing first place. The competition was fierce but friendly. All three companies won at least one first place in the different events. Charlie took the push up/sit-up relay, Bravo kept their heads in the dizzy izzy, and Alpha showed great style in winning the pyramid.

Spring Field Meet

Almost identical as the Fall field meet, the tug-o-war decided whether Alpha or Bravo got first. The competition was neck and neck as all three companies traded top honors in individual events. Alpha and Bravo were tied with three first places apiece. Alpha prevailed and edged out Bravo by two points to avenge the Fall defeat.

Top right: Alpha company pulls hard but not as hard as Bravo. Above: The Alpha Company pyramid — Top to bottom: 4/c Pat Butler, 4/c Britt Kelley, 4/c Brennan Peterson, 3/c Scot Sauer, 3/c Kyle Westbrook, 4/c Julian Smythe, 4/c Mitchell Wilson, 3/c Dave Poirier, 3/c Dave Mills, Sgt Tony Anderegg. Right: Lt. Tyler stands over 4/c Dana Payne while she attempts to do the dizzy izzy.

Sailing

The acquisition of the sailboats has provided a means for all qualified midshipmen and officers to enjoy some afternoons on the lake. Also the CNET has ordered that beginning with the sophomore class all midshipmen become qualified to sail the boats. This includes taking classes and passing a written test and sail test. Also this summer there will be two cruises aboard the 42-foot yacht Sea Owl from Rice University. Both cruises originate from Florida and one sails down to the Bahamas and the other goes along the Gulf Coast back to Houston with a stop in New Orleans.

There were three football teams this year: Navy I, coached by Midn 1/c Scott Evans, Navy II, coached by Lt. Dorsey, and the Blue Angels, Coached by Battalion Commander Midn 1/c Rick Whitehead. Navy I lost a few close ones to some tough competition, but shut out Phi Kappa Psi in their last game, 18-0, ending the season with a 1-4 record. Navy II ended the season with an identical record as Navy I. Their season also was full of some squeakers losing by only a T.D. or less in each of their losses. The Blue Angels coed team fared the best. Posting a season record of 3-2, they missed the playoffs by only one game.

Soccer

The Fall season saw a new sport and team in the unit. The Navy I Rams soccer team, managed by Midn 1/c John Manley finished 2-3 after a promising start. The team consisted of former high school players and some people who had never touched a soccer ball before. After losing the first game 2-1 by a controversial goal, they bounced back and trounced the next opponent 6-0. Midn 4/c Richard Osborne led all scorers, which included a "hat trick" in the second game.

Volleyball

Two Navy teams made it to the finals this year: Rock's Coed's, coached by SSgt "Rock" Pollard, and the Men's "B" team, coached by Midn 3/c Jim Wegmann. Rock's Coeds made it to the first round of the playoffs with a perfect 5-0 record but lost their playoff game. Meanwhile, the men's team, 3-2 for the season, won their first playoff game in 3 sets, but lost their next game to a tough team.

Basketball

It was an excellent season for basketball as two teams made it to the playoffs. The Coed team easily handled a majority of the competition while losing only one game in the regular season. By posting a 4-1 season they made it to the playoffs. They were victorious in their first game but came up short in the next one. It was the same story for the Men's "C" team. After losing just one game they made it to the playoffs but lost the first game. The Men's "B" team did fairly well winning 2 out of 5 games in the season.

Softball

The Coed Softball team narrowly lost their first game to a Jester Dorm team. However, the team comprised of women middies and anchoresses, and male middies often had to flag down a few stray girls off the IM field to play. This didn't hamper the success of the team as both men and women won the next 3 games but lost the last one which would have given them a spot in the playoffs. The Men's team met stiffer competition and often lacked the big bats. Never totally out of any game the men successfully chalked up two in the win column but unfortunately ended up with 3 losses.

Drum and Bugle Corps makes debut

Following months of planning, practicing, and organizing, the UTNROTC Drum and Bugle Corps made its debut on May 3 during the Spring Change-of-Command ceremonies. Although small in number, this group of musicians, under the leadership of 4/c David Brown, played an arrangement of "Anchors Aweigh" and the "Marine's Hymn" giving an impressive performance for their size. The Drum and Bugle Corps has gotten off to a great start and will be a source of pride for the NROTC.

Drum and Bugle Corps members 4/c Patrick Butler, 3/c Alyson Headle, 4/c David Brown, 4/c Jeri Baker, 2/c Jim Adam, 4/c Robert Edgemon, 4/c Burton Culley, 4/c Kurt Klug, and 4/c Deanna Austin play during Change-of-Command ceremonies.

Pistol team shoots for lofty goals

Upholding The University's tradition of excellence, the UT Pistol Team made a great showing in this year's competition. Competing under the auspices of the NRA, the team placed fourth at the Sectional Meet by scoring 1956 out of a possible 2400 points. The team, including NROTC members, 4/c Mario Sanchez, 3/c Lynn Rice, 2/c Vince Mehan, 4/c David Sampson, 4/c Kelly Walton, and 1/c Lisa Tester, also competed at meets at UT Arlington, Texas A&M, Sam Houston State, and at UT to round out a successful year.

Pistol Team members 3/c Lynn Rice, 4/c Kelly Walton, and 4/c Mario Sanchez take aim during practice in the rifle range.

Buccaneers continue excellence

The Buccaneer Drill Team continued to maintain their reputation of being one of the best drill teams in the nation. Under the leadership of CO Gus Carrillo, XO Scott Henschel and MPO John Robinson, the Bucs used a complex fancy routine that included a circle drill and a ripple drill in addition to their traditional box exchange to place second in the UT Scabbard and Blade Meet. Proof of their excellence came at the A&M Meet, however, when they were disqualified from the basic phase of the competition and, yet, still managed to place third with their scores from the inspection and fancy phases. Thus, the Bucs have continued to uphold the tradition of excellence that the University represents.

Log staff captures bit of history

As a new school year began, there arose a need for a new Longhorn Log. Rising to meet this need, the Longhorn Log staff swung into action enthusiastically. Editor Liz Kelley led this energetic and capable crew during its Wednesday night planning sessions. Following these sessions, staff members were sent scurrying over the Forty Acres in search of material for the Log. So it is with a flourish of the pen and a click of the shutter that the Longhorn Log staff brings a piece of history of the University of Texas NROTC.

Newspaper staff produces great Orange

Being responsible for the publication of the battalion newspaper, "The Naval Orange," the newspaper staff is among the hardest working groups in the battalion. Three times a semester this staff produces a new "Orange" full of articles and editorials concerning unit activities, naval points of question, and humor contributed by battalion members, the unit staff, Anchorettes, and the notorious Jackal.

"The Naval Orange" is a self-supporting organization that is supported by an outgoing group of people selling ads to area merchants. This group is composed of a capable core of volunteer midshipmen and Anchorettes dedicated to seeing a professional and entertaining "Orange." Although staffs change every semester as people graduate, new people join the battalion, and new situations arise, the one thing we can count on to be there is "The Naval Orange."

Anchorette activities continue with growing success

Anchorette members are diverse in interests, but each has a common goal in supporting battalion members in social, service, and spirit activities. Weekly meetings are held to plan upcoming unit events, cookie calls, beer calls, the Anchorette Dining Out, and other events. This year we held our first annual Car Rally where participants had a great time discovering Austin.

Anchorette officers are elected at the end of each semester to serve the following semester. Officers for Fall 1982 were: Dayna Alvis, Pres.; Karin Smith, V.P.; Kathryn Gordy, Treas.; Marianne Day, Sec.; Susan Webb, Hist.; and Mamie Matzinger, Pledge Trainer. Officers for Spring 1983 were: Karin Smith, Pres.; Mamie Matzinger, V.P.; Dayna Alvis, Sec.; Jenny Brown, Treas.; Carrie Golden, Hist.; Connie Pollard, Pledge Trainer.

Anchorettes are proud of their continued growth over the past two years. Members have limited the organization's size to forty girls to allow the greatest number of girls to participate, while allowing the group to remain cohesive and organized. Anchorettes agree that the club's greatest reward is the friendships formed with both Anchorette and battalion members, and hope their affiliation with the NROTC will prove to be a continued success.

The Naval ROTC Color Guard doesn't just fold up its flags after Tuesday drill, go home and then appear again the next week. Instead, it is called upon to perform at various functions throughout the Austin community. This year they presented the colors at football and basketball games, the opening of the S.W.C. Women's Basketball Tournament and two conventions. They also raised a W.W. II POW flag at Dripping Springs High School during their Pearl Harbor Day observances. The Naval ROTC Color Guard had been busy this year as a public relations arm of the battalion.

Crow's Nest builds esprit de corps

Crow's Nest /krōz'nest A co-op at the University of Texas whose goal is to provide inexpensive housing, build leadership qualities and form esprit de corps for Navy and Marine Corps midshipmen.

This is a common dictionary definition, but the Nest is much more. It is a place where lifelong friends are made and where some of the most memorable moments of a midshipman's life are spent. Members of the Crow's Nest are among the most visible and well-known midshipmen in the unit, and also hold many billets.

The Crow's Nest has been around for over 30 years, and, as long as there are midshipmen at The University of Texas, there will always be a Crow's Nest.

Float to relax — the Navy way!

The battalion once again held its traditional beer float during both semesters in New Braunfels on the Guadalupe River. In the fall, although cold weather had threatened to ruin the outing early in the week, it had warmed up considerably by Saturday. The surrounding air temperature hit the 85 degree mark while the water temperature registered around 75 degrees. It was rumored that the Battalion XO, Steve Cummings, specifically ordered social officer Sam Smith, under penalty of death, to provide good, warm weather to accompany the event. Overall, the floats were wet and wild experiences. Two kegs were rapidly depleted along with soft drinks while the battalion slowly cooled off on the two-hour-long inner tube escapades. Along the way, battalion members went down the chute, jumped off a 30 foot bridge, and dunked the seniors without worrying about paying the price later. After the floats, many of the unit members met in Lauda Park in New Braunfels for a brown bag lunch and frisbee games.

SSgt "Rock" Pollard readies the keg for the journey downstream while Midn. 4/c Bill Hakim tests the product for effectiveness.

Midn. 3/c Matt Jacobs can't wait for the keg to get into the water and instead has "Rock" administer emergency first aid.

A taste of Vegas in the heart of Texas

On Oct. 30, the battalion held its annual Speakeasy, featuring a casino party as its main theme. Everyone, from Theresa Gonzales in her "bunny" costume to Major Armstrong and his wife Marlys in their "hog" costumes, seemed to enjoy the activities. Millions of dollars of Monopoly money was gambled on the blackjack, roulette, and craps tables set up around the 3 room party house. A bar was open which provided almost any type of drink desired along with a full keg of beer. Just for the record, it was quite depleted by the end of the night. Our trustworthy Battalion Commander, Rick Whitehead, made sure that no stray flappers were lost in a corner, while the Crow's Nest inhabitants made their usual original entrance as a group of rowdy pirates. The grand finale was an auction for what little booze was left over in the bar. Someone came out the winner with the most money after a night of intense gambling, and was thus paid his reward for his skill. Since the bottle was passed around to all the diehards, it was hard to tell who the lucky gambler was.

The battalion never forgot to party

Now don't think that during this grueling year all of us academic wizards (?) hibernated in the PCL. Oh no. No, we Party Animals logged many hours and happy memories guzzling beer and two for ones at many favorite haunts around the River City. From the Texas Star Cafe TGIF to Pease Park beer calls to the Battalion Picnic in Manor, Texas, we did our time at the kegs!

Unit helps U.S. Navy usher in 207th birthday

On October 13, 1982, our unit had its traditional cake cutting ceremony on the front steps of the RAS Hall, commemorating the founding of the U.S. Navy in 1775. With Captain Vandewater officiating, the cake was cut with a Navy sword. Then the celebration was taken into the lounge where everyone could enjoy cake and punch and socializing.

Happy 207th USMC!

Below: 1/c Trip Mills, 2/c Dave Hankins, Sgt. Kent Lewis and SSgt John Kenney comprise the color guard for the event. Right: Major Armstrong sneak previews his first album.

The UT Marines had their traditional cake cutting ceremony on Nov. 10, 1982. With everyone well turned out for the occasion, the UT Marines also celebrated the founding of the Corps in 1775, with a birthday ball held at the Texas Union Ballroom on Nov. 12. The whole affair abounded with tradition, ranging from cake being given to the youngest and oldest Marines; to the Color Guard, comprised of 2 Marines and 2 Marine Option midshipmen. After the dinner, a privileged few were presented with blue-iced cake, which deposited conspicuous blue dye on teeth and tongues. Later, Major Armstrong provided entertainment to the accompaniment of a D.J.

Bottoms up!

Our token Marine couple: Sgt Rick Londrie and SSgt Sandy Winget.

Traditional Dining Out is held in the fall

On Nov. 20, 1982, the battalion held its annual Dining Out at the Marriott Hotel in Austin. The turn-out was great, with everyone enjoying the antics of those that had dollars to spend on fines for violating the rules of the mess, such as mentioning a specific monetary sum or having your bow tie at an obvious list. After the formal toasting, Lt. Hatch, Anchorette advisor for this year, was presented with a wok and all the accessories, for his well appreciated efforts. Afterwards everyone enjoyed plenty of dancing and socializing 'til late in the night.

We bid farewell to the seniors at the spring formal

The NROTC Spring Formal took place this year at the Bradford Hotel in Austin. The traditional ring ceremony and dance was held for all the Spring, Summer, and Fall '83 Navy and Marine Corps graduates. Complete with creative wills and the dipping of their senior rings in genuine Bradford water, we sent the new officers off in style. With a great turn out, everyone enjoyed cocktails, dinner, and dancing until the wee hours of the morning.

Midshipmen get hands-on experience

Many unit members took advantage of various field trips during the 1982-83 school year. Those interested in Naval Flight Training went to NAS Pensacola over Christmas break for an in-depth look at Naval Aviation, not to mention a ride on the famed Dilbert Dunker, which they all happily survived. A Nuclear Power Indoctrination trip took place during Spring Break in San Diego, where they got to play around on the Submarine Diving Trainer and the Damage Control Trainer. Those of them brave enough even managed a late night trip to Tiajuana. The surprise was they actually got back across the border with all of their loot. The Marines also had their share of travelling with a trip to Quantico, Va., over Christmas and other assorted ventures to Camp Swift and Bullis. In addition, the major escorted the Marine wives and girlfriends on Jane Wayne Day to Camp Swift to give them a taste of real Marine life.

Unit Staff

Captain George
L. Vandewater

Captain George Loft Vandewater, Jr., hails from Newburgh, N.Y. He spent his early years flying light aircraft with his father and sailing on the Hudson River in his grandfather's R Class racing sloop. He joined the Navy as a Naval Aviation Cadet after two years of college and received his commission and wings in June 1955. The first few years of his Navy career he flew a variety of aircraft, including an F3D Skynight and F4D Skyray, an FJ-3 Fury, F9 Cougar, F8 Crusader and an F4 Phantom. After a 1960-61 tour as exchange pilot with a U.S. Air Force squadron flying the F-100 Super Sabre and participation in the naval buildup at Key West in response to the Cuban Missile Crisis, Capt. Vandewater made several cruises to Viet Nam waters first in a billet as ship's company and later flying from the deck of USS Enterprise. He has since earned a BA in International Relations and an MS in Management Science; has served in San Diego; aboard the USS Ranger; and was assigned as Naval Attache to Thailand and Burma. He arrived at U.T. in December 1980 where he has been the Professor of Naval Science. The captain left U.T. after the spring semester this year to serve as PNS at Virginia Polytechnic Institute in Blacksburg, Va.

Commander
John L. Baker

Commander John Lee Baker is a 1962 Naval Academy graduate. He also has a Master's degree in International Affairs from George Washington University. Commander Baker is currently an A-7 pilot. During his career in the Navy he has been assigned to squadrons VA 146, VA 125, VA 72 and Attack Carrier Air Wing Nineteen. His duties have included Education Officer, Personnel Officer, Landing Signal Officer, Flight Instructor, Administration Officer and Operations Officer. He has also attended the Naval War College and has been assigned to shore duty as an Organizational Development and Management Specialist. His last assignment before arriving at U.T. was Weapon's Officer on the USS Eisenhower. He arrived at U.T. in September 1982 and assumed duties as the Executive Officer of the unit.

Major Charles Lewis Armstrong (right), a native of Paris, Texas, graduated from East Texas State University in May 1970. He had enlisted in the Marine Corps after graduating from high school in 1966, and was commissioned after graduating from college. He spent two tours in Viet Nam as an infantry platoon commander and as commander of a rifle platoon. He has also been assigned to Cherry Point, N.C.; Okinawa, Japan; Norfolk, Va.; Fort Benning, Ga.; and Camp Lejeune, N.C. He arrived at U.T. in August 1980 to serve as the Marine Officer Instructor. The major left U.T. in June of this year for duty in the Middle East.

Lieutenant Harold Glen Hatch (left) graduated from U.T. in 1976 with a degree in finance and was commissioned after completion of Aviation Officer Candidate School in Pensacola, Fla. He received his wings in July 1977 and reported to VA-42 in Oceana, Va., for training as a bombardier/navigator flying the A-6. After finishing his training, the lieutenant reported to VA-65 on the USS Dwight D. Eisenhower. During the three years he was assigned to VA-65, Lt. Hatch made one Mediterranean cruise and one Indian Ocean deployment. The lieutenant arrived back at U.T. to teach navigations and weapons. He has also been the Bravo Company Advisor, Anchorette Advisor, Publications Advisor, and Aviation Programs Officer.

Lieutenant Hansford D. Tyler III (right) hails from Miami, Fla. He graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1976, specializing in mechanical engineering. He attended Nuclear Power School and Submarine School and later was assigned to the USS Flasher out of San Diego. He has seen such far off ports as the Philippines, Guam, Hawaii, Hong Kong, Thailand, Korea and Japan. He has also spent six months on temporary duty in the Pentagon and six months at Mare Island Shipyard in Maryland. The lieutenant arrived at U.T. in June 1981 and has served as the Charlie Company advisor.

Lieutenant Gordon O. Dorsey (left) not only graduated from U.T. in 1976, but he was also a member of the NROTC battalion. He was a two-year scholarship student who joined the unit through the NSI program. He was the Battalion Executive Officer in the fall of 1975. After he graduated, the lieutenant went to Nuclear Power School in Orlando, Fla., and to Prototype in Windsor, Conn., and to Surface Warfare Officer School. He has seen duty aboard the Nimitz and the USS California. During these two assignments, Lt. Dorsey made one Med cruise, one Indian Ocean cruise and one combined Med and Indian Ocean cruise. He is originally from San Marcos, Texas. Lt. Dorsey arrived back at U.T. in August 1982 and has served as the Alpha Company Advisor. He would like to work on his Master's in chemistry while at U.T., since his undergraduate degree was also in chemistry.

YNC James M. Sanders is originally from Albuquerque, N.M., but was able to escape the land of manana when he joined the Navy in December 1963. Since then the chief has seen a number of duty stations including the USS Wedderburn, USS Coontz, USS Towers (all destroyers) and the USS Marias (an oiler). On shore, the chief has served at CommSta San Diego, NAS North Island, and most recently with VF-11 at NAS Oceania, which was deployed aboard the USS J. F. Kennedy and the USS Forrestal (aircraft carriers). The chief retired in June of this year after 20 years in the Navy.

Gunnery Sergeant Juan A. Arispe joined the Marine Corps in 1970 and served a tour in Viet Nam immediately out of boot camp. After the American withdrawal, he served in the Philippines and with the 2nd and 3rd Marine Divisions out of Camp Lejeune. His last duty station before coming to U.T. was at Paris Island, S.C., as a Drill Instructor. He arrived at U.T. in May 1981 and acts as the Assistant Marine Officer Instructor under Major Armstrong. He is originally from Michigan. During the summer months, the "gunny" is a platoon sergeant for the Bulldog session at Officers Candidate School in Quantico, Va.

SKC Walter M. Smith is the unit storekeeper and is the man who handed out all of the uniforms to the midshipmen. Chief Smith joined the Navy in 1961 in Oklahoma City, Okla. He has served with CINCPAC Fleet out of Hawaii and with various ships in Japan where he spent 19 years. Chief Smith has attended Navy Leadership School and has a Transportation specialty under his belt. The chief arrived in Austin in May 1981.

QMCS William B. Herbert, Jr., arrived at U.T. in the fall of 1982 from the USS Oliver Hazard Perry, where he served as the assistant navigator during the six years he was aboard. Additionally, the senior chief served as the Chief Master Arms, SC-1 division officer, and is a plank owner of the USS Perry. Previous duty stations include the USS Jason and USS Klondike (repair ships), Coastal River Division 22 at New Orleans, and a tour as the Port Services Officer in Bermuda. The chief teaches navigation and issues books to midshipmen and is the unit librarian.

Jane Gallaher is the Commanding Officer's secretary (right). She was born in Kansas but calls Texas her home. She moved here while she was in college. Jane was married to the late John Gallaher, has four grown children — all married — and nine grandchildren. Jane has been working with the unit for four years.

Betty J. Braziel (right) is the new Military Personnel Clerk. She took over for Debbie after the Fall Semester. She has worked for the military as a civil servant for 12 years. Betty was raised in Austin but spent seven years at Ellington A.F.B. in Houston, two years at Randolph A.F.B. in San Antonio, and three years at Bergstrom A.F.B. She transferred back to Austin because she wanted to come back home. Welcome to the unit, Betty!

Debbie McGovern (left) was the unit Military Personnel Clerk for the Fall Semester of 1982. She left in December to go to Chanute Air Force Base in Illinois with her husband. She did a hitch in the Air Force as a Life Support Technician and later worked as a civilian out of Langley A.F.B. for five years. Debbie is from Newport News, Va. She is married to an Air Force captain and has no children. She worked in the unit for 1½ years.

Fair winds and a following sea comrades . . .

Between December 1982 and August 1983, the Navy and Marine Corps received twenty-seven University of Texas graduates as additions to their officer ranks. Of these, seven became second lieutenants, sixteen became ensigns, and four will undergo more training before receiving naval commissions.

The 23 December commissioning ceremony was held in the Geology building, room 100, with the commissioning address being given by Captain George L. VandeWater. The 21 May ceremony was held in Bates Auditorium, with the address being given by Lt. Gen. William R. Nelson, Commanding General of the 12th Air Force. The summer commissioning ceremony was also held in the Geology building, room 100.

Of these commissioned officers, five ensigns will go to Naval Flight School, four to Nuclear Power School, and five to Surface Warfare School. The Navy Officer Candidates have to go to Officer Candidate School before they are commissioned.

The ultimate dream. 2nd Lt. Winget has her father SSGT Mark Winget and boyfriend Sgt. Rick Londrie.

The First Step of the Rest of Your Life

Why should you think about life insurance now, when you're still young? Because, every year that you wait, it costs more to start your financial planning. Also consider these other advantages that Fidelity Union Life offers you as a student that you may not qualify for as an officer:

1. Fixed Rates as a student regardless of future health or occupation.
2. Delayed Premium Plan
3. No War Exclusion
4. No Aviation Exclusion
5. Guaranteed Future Insurability regardless of future health, occupation, or flying status. Let your Fidelity Union Life associate show you the college plan purchased by more seniors than any other. For detailed information contact:

9 out of 10 active duty officers insure with USAA. What about you?

For 60 years officers have come to USAA for quality, low-cost auto insurance. And we've delivered.

Our auto rates in most states are often lower than those of many other insurers. And, unlike most other insurers, we paid a 10% dividend on auto insurance last year. Though not guaranteed, we've paid it in most states since 1924. That makes the auto dividend a USAA tradition. USAA even offers a payment plan to make premiums a little easier to pay.

It's easy to do business with USAA. You don't need to make an appointment to get high quality insurance. You deal directly with USAA. Easily. Just by dialing USAA's toll-free telephone number, you're in touch with your personal representative, ready to answer your insurance question, give you rates, or start your coverage.

Serving you best because we know you better.

We make claims handling easy, too. The USAA Network of claims adjusters will provide fast, fair claim settlement. Anywhere, stateside or abroad. Almost anywhere you serve, USAA can provide low-cost, quality auto insurance that fits your needs.

The same kind of economical coverage is also available to protect your home, boat or mobile home, your household goods and expensive individual possessions such as jewelry or furs.

Today 9 out of 10 active duty officers are USAA members. We've delivered for them; we'll deliver for you, too.

Just by dialing USAA's toll-free telephone number, you're in touch with your personal representative, ready to answer your insurance question, give you rates, or start your coverage.

Officers may establish membership in USAA by taking out a policy while on active duty, while members of the Reserve or National Guard, or when a retired officer (with or without retirement pay). OCS/OTS Advanced ROTC and basic scholarship ROTC students may also apply, as well as former officers.

If you're not a USAA member yet, dial toll-free:

1-800-531-8763

(In Texas, dial 1-800-292-8763)

USAA members dial toll-free:

1-800-531-8 + (YOUR AREA CODE)

(In Texas, dial 1-800-292-8 + (Your Area Code))

Low-cost, comprehensive life insurance for you or members of your family is also available through USAA Life Insurance Company. Call toll free 1-800-531-8000 or 1-800-292-8000 (Texas).

it's Right.
it's Ready.
it's Guaranteed

Specifications

This Volume 16 of the Longhorn Log, 1983, was designed and prepared by the midshipmen of the University of Texas Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps.

This volume was printed offset by Taylor Publishing Co., of Dallas, Texas, on 80# Westvaco Cream Enamel stock. All type is set in the Souvenir face, using 10 point for body copy, 8 point for cutlines, and between 24 and 48 point for headlines. Halftones were screened at 133 lines per inch.

The cover was photographed by Sergeant Liz Kelley and was applied with blue ink on 10 point Lexitone cover fabric. Page signatures are Smyth sewn, and are attached to the cover with 65# vellum endsheets. The operating budget for the 1983 book was $3,450, with printing costs of $3,175. The press run produced 300 copies, selling to midshipmen for $5 per copy.

The 1983 Longhorn Log staff would like to express its deepest gratitude to the U.T. Centennial Programs Office for use of two old photos and for permission to use the Centennial Logo. We would also like to thank David Price at University Publications for his help in specifications for the Centennial Logo.
