ACTIVITIES OF THE YEAR

The Naval R.O.T.C. Unit of 250 members completed its first war year with an increased tempo of training. The Unit moved into its new quarters at the Littlefield Home under the new Commandant, Captain John J. London. The Unit Cup for outstanding achievement was awarded to John Cowan. Bill Burns won the scholastic medal for the basic course.

Murray Roe headed the Naval Club, while each class organized separately: the Seniors under Grant Stoddard, the Juniors under J. D. Gould, the Sophomores under Don Cain, and the Freshmen under Vic Crews. The Unit magazine, 'The Spun Yarn,' was edited by Elwood Cook. The Fall Formal and the Ring Dance were outstanding social events. The Unit's first class of thirteen Seniors completed the course, which corresponds to the professional subjects at the Naval Academy, and were awarded their commissions at the graduation ceremony. Rom Rhome and Murray Roe were made Second Lieutenants in the Marine Corps, while the rest of the class became Ensigns in the Navy.
