SIXTY NINE

Crow's Nest

The Crow's Nest Club consisted of 56 midshipmen of the Naval ROTC unit at the University. The Nest provided a basis for leadership and participation in the NROTC unit and also had members active in such campus organizations as Texas Cowboys, Silver Spurs, the Buccaneer Drill Team, and intramurals teams. Elected Officers handled the affairs of the cooperative Crow's Nest house, which was represented in the Men's Cooperative Council for the first time this year. Social events were held periodically at the house.

Officers for the year included Dennis Oliver Olson, president; Francis Orman Galloway Jr., vice-president; Barry Russell Green, treasurer; Frederick Joseph Moon, work manager; and Elton Thrasher Page, food buyer. Lt. Charles Lewis Berry Jr., USN, was faculty adviser for the group.

Scabbard & Blade

Outstanding University cadets and midshipmen in the Army, Navy, and Air Force ROTC units composed the membership of Scabbard and Blade, a national honorary organization for upperclassmen. The society sought to further relations with the civilian community, selecting its members on the basis of leadership potential, professional accomplishments, and scholastic records.

The group's goals were furthered by guest speakers and by participation in campus activities and social events. The University of Texas Invitational College Drill Team Competition combined these objectives in a well-co-ordinated program. In its fourth year, the event grew to be the second largest in the state.

Navy ROTC

The University Department of Naval Science offered two basic programs, the Regular and the Contract. The Regular program prepared officers for the Regular Navy and Marine Corps and paid most of the students' educational expenses. The Contract program prepared officers for the Naval or Marine Corps Reserve. In addition, the NROTC offered a two-year program open to students enrolled in the University and to transfer students. The unit sponsored many extracurricular activities for Midshipmen, including a precision drill team, the Buccaneers; a rifle and pistol team; a full range of intramural sports; and participation in various social activities of the Midshipman Battalion. A unique feature of the University NROTC unit was the Crow's Nest, a cooperative dormitory.
