To:

Challenge B Family,

Because I dislike having schoolwork to do over Christmas break, I told the students about the guide's over-the-break assignment for logic now so that they can choose to get this done before week 15.

This is not a one-day assignment--it should be done over several days. Think of it like Memory Master... read below for your incentive.

In the guide on week 15 under Reasoning, you will find the following:

The CC guide wants students to copy the appendices similar to how they have Essentials students copy charts. As I pointed out to the students, we memorize our times tables in math before we do long division. Similarly, we are memorizing these charts to make our Intermediate Logic assignments easier/faster to do during the second semester.

From what I've read by more experienced Challenge B Directors, it is also helpful if not outright important to "talk through" appendices A, B, and C while you're memorizing them. Frankly, if you understand it even a little bit, then it'll be easier to memorize. So, I have provided a document and 3 videos for how to talk through the appendices as you copy them--as well as an incentive.

You can find Appendices A, B, and C in the back of your Intermediate Logic book or in the attached file Appendices

Option 1

- Follow the guide just as it's written.
- While copying, "talk through" it using the attached file Intermed Logic Appendices Self-Talk.pdf guide. This is the guide shown in the above videos.

Option 2

- Print 25 copies of the attached file appendices_myversion USE 2nd.pdf OR the attached file AppendicesACB_Blank.pdf. (Which you choose is simply personal preference.)
- While filling in the worksheets, "talk through" them using the attached file Intermed Logic Appendices Self-Talk.pdf guide. This is the guide shown in the above videos.

Option 3

- Print 1 copy of the attached file appendices_myversion USE 2nd.pdf OR the attached file AppendicesACB_Blank.pdf. (Which you choose is simply personal preference.)
- For Appendix A, fill in just the Ts and Fs for the P and Q columns, then make 25 copies.
- While filling in the worksheets, "talk through" them using the attached file Intermed Logic Appendices Self-Talk.pdf guide. This is the guide shown in the above videos.

Incentive

You can earn Memory Master status for each of these three appendices. You will earn a Mom-approved reward for each. Memory Master requires you to fill out one of the above Option 2 worksheets while talking through it with me either in person or via Zoom. You provide the worksheet, so print it out and bring it with you.

1. Appendix A Memory Master evaluation is late afternoon of Friday, January 8, 2021 in person or via Zoom or do all three appendices.
2. Appendix B Memory Master evaluation is late afternoon of Wednesday, January 27, 2021 in person or via Zoom or do both appendices B and C. (Fri, the 29th is the March for Life, so I plan to be in DC and therefore unavailable for Memory Master proofing.)
3. Appendix C Memory Master evaluation is late afternoon of Friday, March 19, 2021 in person or via Zoom.

Please schedule your proofing with me via email.

May we all have a gloriously restful Christmas!

In Christ,
Cheryl Krichbaum

To:

Challenge B Family,

I'm resending the email below as your reminder that our students do have work assigned over the break according to the CC guide.

Do note that I am more interested in memorization than in seeing 25 copies of the appendices. Therefore, I am offering rewards for Memory Master proofing. If you can show me that you have the appendices memorized, then I will give you treats. All the details are below.

In Christ,
Cheryl Krichbaum
