ABOUT

K. Margaret Solorio is an intuitive guide, energy mentor, and creator of the Home Frequency Reset—a transformative service that helps clients clear energetic clutter and realign their spaces to support personal growth and inner peace.

Through her podcast Intuitive Wisdom and 1:1 offerings, she blends grounded spiritual insight with practical energy work to help conscious individuals create environments that match who they are becoming. Her mission is simple: help people feel energetically at home—in their space and in themselves.

- Can a home carry emotional energy from past relationships, trauma, or stress—and how do we clear it?
- What are three simple ways someone can start to shift the energy in their home today?
- How do you blend intuition and energy work when working with clients' spaces?
- What signs should someone look for that their space needs an energetic reset?

REVIEWS

"Your intuition was very accurate"

Wow, thank you so much for the home frequency reset! It was quite accurate and really reflected my experience of the space. I especially loved the personalized blessing for the home and also your gentle suggestions for improving the energy of each room, and it also gave me directions for more inner work as well!

-Ana P., Meditation Guide + Teacher

"Deeply moving and affirming"

The session brought forward powerful energetic shifts—releasing layers of shame and welcoming in love and acceptance. I could feel the energy clearing in my body and my home, almost as if the earth itself was exhaling.
