11:30 – 12:30 pm	Navigating Arbitration in Insurance Contracts Arbitration is often viewed as a more efficient alternative to litigation, leading insurers to include mandatory arbitration clauses—frequently with New York law and forum provisions—in their contracts. Some U.S. states have passed laws invalidating such clauses, but their enforceability depends on the specific statutory and contractual language, as well as the interaction between the Federal Arbitration Act and the McCarran-Ferguson Act. When a non-U.S. insurer is involved, the Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards limits states’ ability to apply their own laws. Recent federal and state court decisions have highlighted these differences, with mixed outcomes for insurers.

It also looks ahead to the trends and innovations influencing the next phase of development. Dorian Grey Retired Global Underwriter
2:45 – 3:45 pm Moderator Participants	The Path to Getting It Right: Subrogation Stories, Insights, and Solutions Subrogation often requires input from external vendors, including engineers to determine root cause, legal counsel to establish liability, and investigators to identify the liable parties. However, when these resources are not utilized effectively, costly errors can occur. This session moves beyond generic advice on hiring experts or involving counsel earlier. Instead, it will focus on how adjusters and examiners can recognize key indicators that signal when and how vendor involvement is necessary—and how to maximize the value of these resources once engaged. The session will emphasize property subrogation, with a particular focus on energy, construction, and commercial property claims. James Kitts, Partner Liblong Digambar PC Amanda Sorsak, Head of Claims, Canada Berkshire Hathaway Specialty Insurance Jeremy King, Executive Vice President King International Paul Okrutny, CEO Mitigateway

Together, the panel will discuss how law, technology, and carrier strategies must converge to safeguard policyholders, reduce systemic risk, and ensure fair and timely disaster recovery. Matthew Monson, Founder The Monson Law Firm Chris Troy, President Novadata
