FIRST OFF...

- The Kim Anderson Era will officially begin at Mizzou Arena on Friday, Nov. 14, when Mizzou faces off with UMKC at 8 p.m. on SEC Network+. The matchup serves as part of the EA Sports Maui Invitational Opening Round. A former Big Eight Player of the Year (1977), Anderson starred for the Black & Gold from 1974-77 and was a longtime assistant of legendary head coach Norm Stewart (1982-85, 91-99).
- The Tigers saw early success on the exhibition schedule, winning games against William Jewell, 72-31, on Oct. 29, and UMSL, 77-54 on Nov. 8.
- Mizzou shot well from the field in both exhibition wins, hitting on 41.4 percent (24-of-58) vs. William Jewell and 43.1 percent (28-of-65) vs. UMSL.

TIGERS TO KNOW...

15 • WES CLARK • SO • G • 6-0 • 185

- Ranked second in assists for Mizzou last season with 70 (1.3 A/T0).
- Hit 21-of-57 3-pointers in 2013-14, connecting at a 37-percent clip.

44 • RYAN ROSBURG • JR • F • 6-10 • 264

- Played in all 35 games as a sophomore, making 32 starts.
- Shot an efficient 71.7 percent from the floor last season.

3 • JOHNATHAN WILLIAMS, III • SO • F • 6-9 • 225

- 227 total rebounds in 2013-14 were No. 4 in school history by a freshman.
- 57 total blocks were the second highest ever by a Tiger freshman.

WELCOME TO THE KIM ANDERSON ERA

- Missouri Basketball begins a new era this season as Kim Anderson returns home to take the reins of the Tiger program. Anderson was a success on and off the court during his previous stints at Mizzou, beginning as a player for Norm Stewart from 1974-77, helping the Tigers to their first Big Eight crown under the Hall of Famer Stewart in 1976 and earning Big Eight Player of the Year in 1977, averaging 18.3 points and 7.9 rebounds per game as a senior.
- Anderson spent 11 seasons on staff at Mizzou over two stints (1982-85 and 1991-99) and served six years as an assistant coach at Baylor (1985-91) under Gene Iba. Anderson was first a graduate assistant for Stewart from 1982-85 and helped the program to the 1983 Big Eight title, the program's fourth straight, before taking his first full-time assistant coaching role with the Bears two years later.
- Anderson spent 12 seasons in total at Central Missouri and won nearly 75 percent of his games over a decade-plus worth of work. Anderson went 274-95 (.743) during that span and finished his career ranked among the Top 10 in career winning percentage all-time at the NCAA Division II level. The two-time Mizzou graduate (1979, '81) earned 2014 NABC National Coach of the Year honors after leading the Mules to the 2014 NCAA Division II title. In addition to his consistent winning approach, Anderson helped the Mules collect league and national hardware, winning or sharing six Mid-American Intercollegiate Athletics Association (MIAA) regular season conference titles.

NEWS FACES FROM MANY PLACES

- Stepping in alongside Mizzou's returning lettermen from a season ago (Wes Clark, Keanau Post, Ryan Rosburg, Johnathan Williams, III) will be eight newcomers. Upperclassmen Deuce Bello and Keith Shamburger bring experience at the guard positions for the Tigers. A junior, Bello sat out the 2013-14 season after transferring from Baylor. A senior, Shamburger was immediately eligible to play at Mizzou after graduating from Hawaii over the summer. Five freshmen will have plenty of opportunities to earn minutes on the court, with D'Angelo Allen, Jakeenan Gant, Montaque Gill-Caesar, Tramaine Isabell and Namon Wright all putting on the Black & Gold for their first campaigns. Transfer walk-on Jimmy Barton (Houston Baptist) will sit out the 2014-15 season due to NCAA transfer regulations. Squad member Hayden Barnard redshirted last season and provides depth in the post with his 6-10 frame.
- Mizzou will be one of the most inexperienced teams in all of high major basketball for the 2014-15 season, as just 22 percent of its scoring and 13 percent of its three-point output returns from a 23-12 season a year ago. Gone is the Southeastern Conference's leading scorer, Jabari Brown, NBA draft pick Jordan Clarkson, and versatile wing Earnest Ross, who all combined to average better than 51 points per game last year.
- The Tiger freshmen came from around the country for the opportunity to play at Mizzou and fill in for the team's lost production, showing the reach and talent behind Coach Anderson and his staff's recruiting efforts. Allen hails from Dallas, Texas, where he played for Kimball High School. Gant was Mr. Basketball in the state of Georgia, playing for Effingham County in Springfield, Ga. Gill-Caesar came to Mizzou from Ontario, Canada, by way of Huntington Prep in West Virginia. Isabell and Wright both came inland from the West Coast, with the two calling home to Seattle, Wash., and Los Angeles, Calif., respectively.

BIG MAN ON CAMPUS

- Mizzou Basketball fans saw plenty of Johnathan Williams, III during the 2013-14 season. In fact, the soft-spoken, 6-9 forward started all 35 games of his freshman year.
- What Williams did was turn in one of the most respectable freshman seasons on the boards in Mizzou history. His 227 total rebounds were the fourth-highest total by a freshman in school history. That total also ranked 11th in the SEC.

JOHNATHAN WILLIAMS, III

- Williams was also a game changer for opposing offenses, finishing his 2013-14 season ranking 5th in the SEC in blocks per game at a 1.6 average.

Total Travels: 6,786 miles

- Senior guard Keith Shamburger is one of the most experienced players on Mizzou's roster heading into the 2013-14 season, and for good reason. A senior of the fifth-year variety, Shamburger comes to Columbia from his hometown of Los Angeles, Calif., a trip that in itself is roughly 1,700 miles and 25 hours of driving.
- Shamburger has been across the map and back since his days starring for Junipero Serra High School in Gardena, Calif., a small city in the southwest corner of the LA area. He averaged 21.3 points, 4.0 rebounds, 4.0 assists and 2.3 steals per game while leading his squad to the 2010 CIF Division III championship. Afterwards, Shamburger hit the road (and air) for college.
- At San Jose State from 2010-12, Shamburger started all 63 games at point guard and averaged 12.7 points and 3.7 assists per game over those two seasons.
- After sitting out the 2012-13 season at Hawaii per NCAA transfer regulations, Shamburger upped his assist average to 5.4 per game for the 2013-14 season. He started 30 of 31 games at the point for Hawaii.

*Hawaii is by no means this close to the West Coast in reality. It'd be a lot easier to vacation there, if so.

HOW CAN CLARK ASSIST YOU?

WES CLARK
6-0 | 185 | G | SO

- Limited opportunities were available to guard Wes Clark last season as a freshman, especially so when the guard rotation included the Southeastern Conference's leading scorer (Jabari Brown) and a future NBA Draft pick (Jordan Clarkson). But the sophomore from Detroit, Mich., made the most of his 20.4 minutes per game, averaging 4.1 points, 2.2 rebounds and a stout 2.1 assists per game over 33 total game appearances. He posted a strong 1.3 assist/turnover ratio to lead the Tigers, overall.
- The SEC schedule didn't faze Clark either, as that assist/turnover ratio improved to 1.6 in conference play.
- Over the entire season, Clark recorded 14 games with three or more assists including a career-high six dimes in the home win over Mississippi State on March 1, 2014.
- What can Clark do with an expanded role this season? Time will tell.

COACH KIM ANDERSON: A TRUE SON OF MISSOURI

KIM ANDERSON
FIRST SEASON AT MIZZOU
13TH SEASON OVERALL (274-95)

.743
CAREER WINNING % AS A HEAD COACH

- Kim Anderson was hired as the 18th men's basketball coach in Mizzou history on April 28, 2014. The two-time Mizzou graduate (1979, '81) earned 2014 NABC National Coach of the Year honors after leading the University of Central Missouri to the 2014 NCAA Division II title.
- The move by Director of Athletics Mike Alden signaled a return to Missouri's proud history and helps the program welcome back a "True Son" (Sedalia, Mo.) who is coming off a 30-5 record with the Mules and the 2014 NCAA Division II National Championship. Anderson's national title run at UCM becomes even more impressive considering the program welcomed in 10 new players in 2013-14 and had just one returning student-athlete averaging more than 4.7 points per game.
- In addition to being one of the Top 10 winningest coaches in Division II history, Anderson resigned his spot in Warrensburg as the school's all-time winningest coach. He led the Mules to three 30-win seasons, the only 30-win seasons in school history. He finished above .500 his 11 final seasons and won 20 games seven times in 12 years, finishing among the MIAA's top three in the league standings nine times over his final 10 seasons.
- It's easy to see why Anderson was targeted early by Alden. He embodies the key characteristics of his fan base and his former mentor, Norm Stewart. Anderson spent 11 seasons on staff at Mizzou over two stints (1982-85 and 1991-99) and served six years as an assistant coach at Baylor (1985-91) under Gene Iba. Anderson was first a graduate assistant for Stewart from 1982-85 and helped the program to the 1983 Big Eight title, the program's fourth straight, before taking his first full-time assistant coaching role with the Bears two years later.

Legendary Tiger head coach Norm Stewart found his 1977 Big Eight Player of the Year just down the road from Columbia in Sedalia, Mo.

Anderson hears from Coach Stewart while sitting on the bench during his Missouri playing days.

Anderson averaged 18.3 points and 7.9 rebounds per game as a senior (1976-77), winning Big Eight Player of the Year. Mizzou won 20 games in back-to-back seasons for just the second time ever in his final two years.
