A GEORGIA WIN WOULD ...

- » Be Georgia's first victory in Columbia, Missouri since 1984. The Lady Bulldogs won that meeting 70-67 in what was the first-ever game between the two programs.
- » Give the Lady Bulldogs their first-ever win in Mizzou Arena. The relatively new facility was opened in 2004.
- » Improve Georgia's SEC record to 5-5 this season, just one victory shy of matching last season's SEC win total.
- » Would give Georgia its third road league victory of the year. UGA went 2-6 on the road in the SEC during the 2014-15 season.

OPENING TIP

» Georgia heads to Missouri to meet the Tigers for the ninth time in school history. The Lady Bulldogs are 1-1 against the Tigers in Columbia with their last win coming in 1984 -- a 70-67 victory for Georgia. The Lady Bulldogs lead the all-time series, 5-3, and lost the earlier meeting this season, 54-48, in Athens.

» Georgia enters Thursday's game with two-straight wins this season, including a 64-58 victory at Vanderbilt on Sunday. The Lady Bulldogs are 2-2 on the road in SEC play this season with last Sunday's win against Vandy and a victory at then-No. 20 Florida on Jan. 14.

» UGA boasts one of the top defenses in the nation, leading the SEC (11th nationally) in scoring defense (52.1 ppg), while ranking first in the SEC (10th nationally) in field-goal percentage defense (34.4 ppg) and first in the league (first nationally) in 3-point field percentage defense (23.1%).

» Freshman forward Caliya Robinson has averaged 11.0 ppg and 4.5 rebounds per contest over the last two games. Robinson came off the bench to score 14 points and finished 7-of-9 from the field against Vanderbilt on Sunday. The Marietta, Ga., native, who has played in all nine SEC games, currently leads the team in blocked shots with 20 this season.

» Most of Georgia's scoring this season has come from senior guards Tiaria Griffin and Shacobia Barbee. Griffin leads the team in scoring with 14.0 ppg, while Barbee is averaging nearly a double-double with 12.7 ppg and a team-leading 9.1 rebounds per game.

Following a thorough search of the women's basketball community, Greg McGarity, the UGA J. Reid Parker Director of Athletics, and Dr. Carla Williams, UGA's Deputy Director of Athletics, realized that the best choice to become the Georgia Lady Bulldogs' next head coach was approximately 300 yards from their offices.

On Sunday, April 12, Joni Taylor, a member of the Georgia Basketball Staff for the past four seasons, including the last three as associate head coach, was appointed just the second full-time head coach in the program's illustrious history.

"After a national search, it became evident that Joni was the perfect person to lead our program," McGarity said. "Joni brings the intangibles that parallel success -- character, experience and a tireless energy to lead our program. We are confident she will do a tremendous job leading Georgia Basketball into the future."

"I am extremely honored to be the next coach at Georgia," Taylor said. "I want to thank President Morehead, Greg and Carla for trusting me with the program. I have been fortunate to have learned under a great coaching tree and have great mentors along the way. I want to thank Coach Landers for all that he has done for me since I have been under his tutelage. The trust and responsibility he gave me definitely prepared me for the next step in my career but more importantly his friendship means the world to me."

Taylor sports 13 seasons of coaching experience at the Division I level, the last seven within the Southeastern Conference. The Meridian, Miss., native joined the Georgia staff in 2011 and spent one season as an assistant coach before being promoted to associate head coach. Prior to arriving in Athens, Crenshaw coached at LSU from 2010-11, at Alabama from 2008-10, at Louisiana Tech from 2005-08 and at Troy from 2002-05.

During each of those coaching stops, Taylor has displayed the ability to both sign premier prospects and then help those recruits develop into highly successful players.

In the Lady Bulldogs' four signing classes since Taylor's arrival, Georgia's 16 scholarship newcomers arrived on campus with a combined 18 high school state titles. That group also featured seven standouts ranked among the nation's top 100 prospects and included a quartet of state Player of the Year honorees.

Taylor helped Alabama and LSU land top-5 individual prospects in the classes of 2010 and 2011, respectively, and also spearheaded the Crimson Tide's recruiting class for 2010 that ranked among the nation's top 10. She helped Louisiana Tech ink the 2006 Miss Basketball for both Alabama and Mississippi and Troy sign two future Atlantic Sun Freshman of the Year honorees.

Taylor succeeds Andy Landers, the only previous full-time women's basketball coach in the program's history. Landers announced his retirement on Monday, March 16 after 36 seasons. Landers compiled a 862-299 record at Georgia, making him one of only seven college basketball coaches -- women's or men's -- to record 850 wins at a single NCAA Division I school. The other coaches on that list are Pat Summitt (Tennessee), Jim Boeheim (Syracuse), Mike Krzyzewski (Duke), Geno Auriemma (Connecticut), Dean Smith (North Carolina) and Adolph Rupp (Kentucky). Landers compiled a career record of 944-320 in 40 seasons as a collegiate head coach, including an 82-21 record in four years at Roane State College from 1975-79.

"Georgia Basketball is in great hands," Landers said. "Coach Crenshaw (now Taylor) is a person who has deep-rooted values and morals, which are two of the cornerstones of Georgia Basketball's success. Her appreciation for the total development of young women is second to none and her past experiences have prepared her for the challenges ahead. I am confident she will do extremely well. Joni has an excellent basketball IQ, is a tremendous recruiter and is a terrific people person, but above all else, she is someone who young people will aspire to play for and enjoy that same experience."

Taylor herself was a highly sought after basketball prospect. She was the 1997 Gatorade Player of the Year for Mississippi after leading Meridian High to a 67-7 record during her junior and senior seasons. She also won three state titles in track and field and was selected as the school's Homecoming Queen.

At Alabama, Taylor was a significant contributor to four teams that reached post-season play -- the 1998 and 1999 NCAA Tournaments and the 2000 and 2001 WNITs. She was a two-year starter and scored 716 points, grabbed 555 rebounds and blocked 103 shots, which is No. 4 among the Tide's career leaders.

Taylor also was a standout off the basketball court. She was recognized as one of the most influential African Americans on the Alabama campus in 2001, was named to the SEC's Community Service team for women's basketball in 1999, 2000 and 2001 and was awarded a post-graduate scholarship from the SEC for her community service record. She received her bachelor's degree in Education from Alabama in 2002.

Taylor married Darius Taylor, a former assistant coach for the South Carolina women's basketball team, on Aug. 1, 2015.

GEORGIA NOTEBOOKLady Bulldogs Get W In Nashville

» Georgia used a 16-0 run in the first quarter and 14 points from freshman Caliya Robinson to down Vanderbilt last Sunday in Nashville. The victory against the Commodores represented UGA's first win at Memorial Gymnasium since 2006 and gave the Lady Bulldogs their second SEC road win of the year.

Lady Bulldogs Use Record-Breaking Performance To Down Auburn

» Georgia clamped down on the defensive end to hold Auburn to its lowest point output of the season and the lowest point total by any of UGA's SEC opponents in school history. The Lady Bulldogs held the Tigers to just 15 points over the final three quarters and held AU scoreless for just over eight minutes in the third period.

The record-breaking performance for Georgia is nothing new for the Lady Bulldogs this season. Earlier in the year, UGA held Georgia Southern to just 28 points -- the lowest by any opponent in the NCAA era of Georgia Lady Bulldog basketball.

Griffin Moving Up Career 3-Point Chart

» UGA senior guard Tiaria Griffin has moved up to No. 4 on Georgia's all-time career made 3-point field goals chart with 196 treys in her career at Georgia. In third place is Khaalidah Miller (218 made 3-point baskets), who played for the Lady Bulldogs from 2010-14.

Butler An Academic All-America Nominee

» Georgia senior guard Marjorie Butler has been nominated for the 2015-16 CoSIDA Academic All-America team for her efforts in the classroom. Butler, who has been accepted to medical school at the University of Virginia, Vanderbilt, Florida and UAB, among other schools, already has a degree in exercise science and will graduate with a second degree in biology this May.

UGA One Of Top Defenses Nationally

» The Lady Bulldogs have held 20 of 22 opponents at 40 percent or lower shooting this season and have held six teams to their season lows in scoring. Georgia is holding teams to just 52.1 points per game this season. The school record for lowest points per game average given up by a Georgia team is 53.9 ppg, which was set by the 2012-13 NCAA Elite Eight team.

Strong Start One For The Records

» The 12-1 start for Georgia head coach Joni Taylor ties for the third-best start by an SEC coach in his or her first season at a school since women's basketball became an NCAA sport. Pokey Chatman (13-0, LSU in 2004-05) and Tom Collen (13-0, Arkansas in 2007-08) are the only two to have better starts through their first 13 games.

A Trio Of Ranked Wins

» Georgia has won three games over ranked opponents for the first time since the 2012-13 Elite 8 season. Two of those victories have come against SEC foes -- No. 20 Florida and No. 10 Mississippi State. Both contests in SEC play were strong defensive efforts by the Lady Bulldogs, as Georgia held each team to its respective season low in scoring and a sub-40 shooting percentage.

Robinson Named SEC Freshman Of The Week

» Georgia freshman forward Caliya Robinson has had a strong start to her Lady Bulldog career. Robinson was named the SEC Freshman of the Week on Dec. 29 after averaging nearly a double-double in wins against Cincinnati and Tennessee Tech. The Marietta, Ga., native currently leads the Lady Bulldogs in blocked shots with 20 and is averaging 6.2 points per game to go along with 4.9 boards per contest.

56-Straight Is Nation's Best

» The Lady Bulldogs' 56-game home non-conference win streak ranks as the top mark in NCAA DI women's basketball. Georgia's last loss at home vs. a non-conference team came in 2008 -- a 56-44 loss to Xavier on Dec. 30, 2008. Georgia has gone eight-straight seasons with an undefeated home non-conference record.

* current players in ITALICS*GEORGIA NOTEBOOK*Taylor Era Begins In Style

» The Joni Taylor era of Georgia Basketball officially commenced on Nov. 15 against Stetson in front of 3,530 fans at Stegeman Coliseum. The Lady Bulldogs won in style, knocking down Stetson, 76-55. UGA outscored the Hatters, 22-6, in the third period and outrebounded them, 49-24, in the win. Georgia players and coaches celebrated the season-opening victory by dancing with popular music artist Silento to his hit song "Watch Me" following the game.

Win No. 900 For Georgia Basketball

» Not only was the win against Stetson on Nov. 15 the first of the Joni Taylor era, it was also the 900th victory in program history. Georgia is one of 13 programs in NCAA Division I women's basketball to reach 900 wins or more. The Lady Bulldogs enter play this week with a 913-390 mark in 43 years as a program.

Barbee Goes For Triple-Double In Return

» On Jan. 25, 2015, Georgia's Shacobia Barbee went down with a fractured fibula, forcing the preseason All-SEC performer to miss the last 10 games of the season. Barbee stormed back for the Lady Bulldogs in the first game of the year vs. Stetson, recording a triple-double with 10 points, 13 rebounds and 10 assists against the Hatters -- becoming just the third Lady Bulldog player all-time to reach a triple-double and the first in 20 years (Teresa Edwards, 1986; Tracy Henderson, 1995). The 10 assists by Barbee represented a career high and also marked the first time since 2010 a Lady Bulldog had 10 or more helpers in a single game.

Hempe Making A Difference

» Senior forward Merritt Hempe, who has recorded four double-doubles through 22 games this season, is not only making her mark on the court but she is also playing a pivotal role in the community. Hempe has been nominated for the 2016 AllState WBCA Good Works Team for her efforts off the court.

The Fredericksburg, Va., native participates in numerous community service efforts, including Special Olympics Homeruns for Hometown Rivals baseball game, Toys for Tots, writing Holiday cards for deployed soldiers, helping provide safe routes to school by partnering with Barrow Elementary, providing toiletries collection for the homeless, visiting Stroud Elementary throughout the year to encourage and mentor children, is an Alzheimer's Walk Volunteer and Ath-Half Volunteer, and volunteers as an AAU coach and operations staff member. The 2015-16 Good Works Team will be released in February.

Thanksgiving Classic Champions

» Georgia capped off its Thanksgiving with a Championship run in the 2015 Radisson Chatsworth Thanksgiving Classic, downing BYU and Cal State Northridge in consecutive days to claim the title. Tiaria Griffin, who had back-to-back 20-point efforts, was named MVP.

In-State Dominance

» Georgia has won 19-straight games against teams from the state of Georgia, including a 4-0 record this season. The Lady Bulldogs' last loss to an in-state team came on Dec. 5, 2010 against Georgia Tech. Georgia is 104-35 all-time against NCAA Division I teams from the Peach State.

Lady Bulldogs Faced Strong Non-Conference Slate

» The Lady Bulldogs faced five 20-win teams and seven schools that advanced to post-season play last season during the 2015-16 non-conference schedule.

» Georgia played five teams that competed in the postseason a year ago -- Stetson (23 wins, NIT) on Nov. 15, Georgia Tech (19 wins, NIT) on Nov. 22, Mercer (20 wins, WBI) on Dec. 2, Seton Hall (28 wins, NCAA) on Dec. 6 and Furman (19 wins, WBI) on Dec. 8.

GEORGIA NOTEBOOKThree New Faces On UGA's Roster

» Georgia welcomes three newcomers to this season's roster -- guard Shanea Armbrister, forward Caliya Robinson and guard Amber Skidgel. Below are brief bios on each of the newcomers:

Caliya Robinson

A native of Marietta, Ga., Robinson was ranked as a top-50 prospect by Fullcourt.com (No. 19), ESPN Hoopgurlz (No. 33) and Prospect Nation (No. 44). She was also named first-team All-State by the Georgia Sports Writers Association and second-team All-State by the Atlanta Journal Constitution at the conclusion of her junior year. Known as a fierce rebounder and shot-blocker, Robinson averaged 11.2 rebounds and 6.6 blocks per contest to go along with 13.0 ppg during her senior season.

Amber Skidgel

Skidgel was named honorable mention All-State for Class 6A by the Georgia Sports Writers Association last season. She played at Hebron Christian her first two years of high school. There, Skidgel scored 932 points in and was named second-team All-State for Class A as a sophomore in 2013 after averaging 21.7 points and 5.8 rebounds per game. Skidgel, a native of Bethlehem, Ga., averaged 12.2 points and 3.8 rebounds per game last season while helping Archer to a 29-4 record and a runner-up showing in the Georgia 6A State Tournament. She connected on 74 3-pointers while shooting 43.0 percent from behind the arc.

Shanea Armbrister

A 6-2 guard-forward, she was named third-team All-America by the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) after averaging 18.9 points, 8.4 rebounds and 2.4 assists per game for Darton's Lady Cavaliers in 2013-14. Nationally, she ranked No. 23 in scoring average and No. 9 in free throw percentage (84.4). Armbrister scored in double figures in 29 of 32 games, with 17 20-point games, 10 double-doubles and a triple-double of 21 points, 12 rebounds and 13 assists against Central Georgia Tech. She poured in a season-high 31 points against Southern Crescent Tech and collected a season-best 14 rebounds versus Georgia Perimeter.

All In The Family For Engram

» Georgia sophomore forward Mackenzie Engram returns after a solid freshman season, placing on the SEC All-Freshman team a year ago. Engram finished fourth on the team in both scoring and rebounding, averaging 7.7 ppg to go along with 4.5 boards per contest last season. Engram played in all 31 games for the Lady Bulldogs, earning seven starts during her rookie campaign. It's also interesting to note that Engram is the sister of Ole Miss All-SEC tight end Evan Engram, who just completed his junior season with the Rebels.

UGA A Top Women's Hoops Program

» The Lady Bulldogs have boasted one of the top women's basketball programs in the nation over the last three decades. During head coach Andy Landers' 36-year tenure, Georgia ranked No. 2 nationally in both NCAA Tournament appearances (31) and weeks ranked by the Associated Press (522). Georgia is also one of three DI basketball programs to post a winning record every season since women's athletics became under the auspices of the NCAA with the 1981-82 season.

Taylor's Staff Takes Shape

» Head coach Joni Taylor added two new faces to her coaching staff this season. Karen Lange, who has more than two decades of playing and coaching experience was named the associate head coach, while WNBA veteran and former Rutgers star Chelsea Newton was brought on as an assistant coach. Meanwhile, Robert Mosley, who has spent the past five seasons on Andy Landers' staff will stay on as an assistant coach on Taylor's staff. Rounding out new additions to this year's staff is Jon Bollier, who returns to Georgia after spending the last two seasons as an assistant coach at Belmont. Bollier, who was on Landers' staff from 2010-13, serves as UGA's Director of Player Personnel.

Talented Duo Signs With Georgia

» Head coach Joni Taylor announced in November the first two signees of her head coaching career. Taylor and the Lady Bulldogs signed two talented players during the early signing period -- post player Kortney Eisenman and forward Stephanie Paul. Both are entering their senior seasons of high school and will join the Lady Bulldogs as collegiate freshmen at the beginning of the 2016-17 campaign. Below are brief bios on each player:

Stephanie Paul

Paul is the No. 32-ranked prospect in the country according to Prospects Nation and the No. 20 forward prospect overall according to ESPN.com's Hoopgurlz.

"Stephanie is athletic and gamey," Joni Taylor said. "She is a versatile player who can play a number of positions for us. She can score faced -up, off the bounce, and with her back to the basket. Stephanie is a high energy player that runs the floor well and is an aggressive rebounder. I am looking forward to watching her stretch herself. She has the ability to be an overall really good player for us and in this league."

In addition to her Player of the Year honor this past season, Paul was also named to the Class 3A All-State team by the Florida Association of Basketball Coaches as she tallied her 1,000th career point. She led the Seahawks to a 22-4 overall record and their third-straight appearance in the Florida Class 3A regional final. She averaged a double-double for the year, scoring 17.2 points per game to go with 11.2 rebounds per contest. In all, Paul tallied an impressive 15 double-doubles during her junior campaign.

Kortney Eisenman

A native of Columbus, Ohio, the 6-foot-3 Eisenman is entering her senior season at Upper Arlington High School.

"I am extremely excited for Kortney to become a Lady Bulldog," Joni Taylor said. "Kortney will give us size and strength at the forward position. She has a high basketball IQ, is a great passer and can step off the block and score as well. There are a lot of things I could say about Kortney and her basketball abilities, but what has impressed me the most is her work ethic and desire to do whatever it takes to be the best she can be."

Eisenman has a long list of accolades which includes an Ohio Division I Associated Press Central All-District Second Team selection this past season after averaging 11.1 points per game to go along with 8.2 rebounds and 3.5 blocks per contest. Her 59.8 percent shooting percentage was the second-highest single season average in school history.

Jan. 7, 2016: Lady Bulldogs Fall To No. 20 Mizzou, 54-48

ATHENS, Ga. -- Shacobia Barbee registered her second double-double in as many conference games with 10 points and 14 rebounds, but a gritty comeback effort from the Georgia Lady Bulldog basketball team (12-3, 0-2) fell short in an upset bid against No. 20 Missouri (14-1, 1-1) by a 54-48 final score.

Behind Tiaria Griffin's 14 points on top of Barbee's 10 second-half points, Georgia overcame a 10-point halftime deficit to take the lead into the fourth quarter and led by as many as five before the scoring went cold. The home squad scored only five points over the game's final 9:12 as Georgia lost for the first time at home this season.

"We dug ourselves a hole early in the game," said head coach Joni Taylor. "We got down early in the first quarter. I felt like, uncharacteristically of us, we took some quick shots, we weren't in the flow of our offense, and we were trying to play from behind. It was a great effort on their part to come back in the third quarter."

Scouting Missouri

» Led by freshman Sophie Cunningham, No. 21 Missouri enters Thursday's game on a three-game win streak with victories against Florida, LSU and Ole Miss. The Tigers are one of the top scoring teams in the SEC, averaging 72.4 points per game. Missouri is second in the league in free-throw percentage (73.7 %) and is fifth in the league in field-goal percentage (44.4%).

A Changing Identity -- Lady Bulldogs Go Up-Tempo

» Part of Georgia's success this season depends on the team's ability to embrace its new identity under its new head coach. According to Taylor, the Lady Bulldogs will carry on Landers' hard-work mentality, but look for UGA to step up the tempo a little in the new system, especially with the new four-quarter format and the new timeout rules (each team now has just four timeouts instead of five) in women's college basketball.

"It's going to be more up-tempo," said Taylor. "Where things are going to be the same is that we are going to play extremely hard. We are going to be a really good defensive team. The identity of putting a top-notch brand on the floor and a product that our fans want to come and support, that will remain the same."

Making A Difference In The Community

» Giving back to the community has always been a pivotal part of being a Georgia Lady Bulldog. Players and staff members routinely participate in off-campus events ranging from serving at elementary schools to the team's annual Bike Build, which raises funds to purchase bicycles and safety helmets for worthy children. The Lady Bulldogs then assemble those bikes before they are distributed. Close to 300 bikes have been built and given away over the past eight years.

This season, the Georgia Lady Bulldogs have adopted the fifth-grade class at Stroud Elementary in Athens. Players and staff members will visit their fifth-grade class throughout the year. In fact, the Lady Bulldogs greeted Stroud Elementary students this past August and hand delivered backpacks during the school's Meet Your Teacher night.
