SERIES: A&M leads, 7-2, including 3-2 since the Big 12 formed in 1996.

COACHES:

Mizzou: Gary Pinkel (Kent, '75), 45-36 at MU (7th year) and 118-73-3 overall (17th year). Pinkel is 2-1 vs. A&M and 1-1 vs. Dennis Franchione.

Texas A&M: Dennis Franchione (Pittsburg St., '73), 31-27 at A&M (5th year) and 186-100-2 overall (25th year). Franchione is 1-1 vs. MU and Gary Pinkel.

SURGING TIGERS CLOSE OUT 2007 HOME SCHEDULE WITH TEXAS A&M

The Missouri Tigers (8-1 overall, 4-1 in Big 12 Conferene play), look to continue their push for a potential division championship, but they'll have a tough task ahead of them, as they play host Saturday to the rugged Texas A&M Aggies (6-4, 3-3). Kickoff for the game is set for 11:30 a.m. at MU's Faurot Field. The game will be televised on Fox Sports Net.

Mizzou has surged to its highest-ever BCS ranking (6th) and its highest spot in the Associated Press poll (7th) since 1979 thanks to stellar play on both sides of the ball in league play. MU has won 3 straight since suffering its only loss of the year, at Oklahoma.

A&M is looking to bounce back from consecutive losses (19-11 at home to Kansas, and 42-14 at Oklahoma last week) since its last win, a 36-14 win at Nebraska. The Aggies are led by a punishing rushing attack that ranks 11th nationally (228.30 ypg). Texas A&M is 1-3 on the road in 2007.

Texas A&M at #7/7 Mizzou — Nov. 10, 2007

20 SENIORS TO TAKE FIELD ONE LAST TIME SATURDAY ON SENIOR DAY

Twenty Tiger seniors will suit up one last time at Faurot Field Saturday when they don the Black and Gold for the 2007 home finale vs. Texas A&M.

This class has been a part of some great moments in Tiger history. They have helped MU to 28 wins over the course of the 2004 season through now. This class (Gary Pinkel's third after taking over at Mizzou prior to the 2001 season) will join the 2006 senior class with the distinction of playing in three bowl games – something that hadn't happened at MU since 1983, prior to last year.

In fact, this class has a chance to help establish itself among the best in school history, in terms of number of wins in a 4-year period. Here's a look...

SENIOR CLASS WINS, 4-YEAR PERIOD

Rank/Class	# Wins	# Bowls
1. 1963	33	2
2. 1962	32	3
3. 1981	31	4

TIGERS CAN BECOME 4TH MU TEAM IN HISTORY TO WIN 9 GAMES

The 2007 Tigers have already turned a big achievement, as they are only the 11th team in school history to amass 8 regular-season wins. With 3 games left, they have their sights set on bigger things, and a win Saturday against Texas A&M would make them only the 4th team in MU history to win 9 games in a regular season.

Mizzou has now won 8 regular-season games in consecutive years for only the 2nd time in school history. 1941 and 1942 was the only other such occasion for the program, now in its 117th season of competition.

Head Coach Gary Pinkel joins MU legends Don Faurot and Dan Devine as the only Mizzou coaches to achieve multiple 8-win regular seasons. Faurot won 8 regular season games 4 times, while Devine did it twice. Pinkel's teams have now done it 3 times (2003, 2006, 2007).

MIZZOU IS 24-6 AT 'THE ZOU' SINCE 2003 SEASON

Since nicknaming Faurot Field/Memorial Stadium "The Zou" prior to the 2003 season, Gary Pinkel's Tigers have done a nice job of defending their home turf (FieldTurf surface, which was also installed prior to the '03 season, by coincidence).

Since 2003, the Tigers are an impressive 24-6 at home, good for a winning percentage of 80.0%, including 14-5 during that time in Big 12 competition (73.7%). That breaks down to records of 6-0 in 2003, 3-3 in 2004, 4-2 in 2005, 6-1 in 2006 and 5-0 currently in 2007. Mizzou has won 14 of its last 15 at home dating back to midway through the 2005 season. The only loss in that stretch was a 26-10 setback in 2006 to #19 Oklahoma.

Here's a few statistics that really jump out as being decidedly in MU's favor over the last 12 home games (2006 season plus the 2007 season so far)...

Category	MU	OPP
Points	447	182
Scoring Avg.	37.3	15.1

BIG CROWD NEEDED FOR SATURDAY TO REACH SEASON AVERAGE OF 60,000

Through the end of last week, MU ticket officials estimated the crowd for Saturday's upcoming game against Texas A&M would be similar in scope to the crowd of over 53,000 that attended the previous home game against Iowa State.

MU officials are hopeful that the big win over Colorado will help boost sales, as will the $30 reserved ticket special in the south end zone stands that is being offered, in addition to the sentimentality of fans wanting to come root one more time for this senior class.

MU has averaged 59,290 for the season in 5 home games, and to reach the 60,000 mark for the season, it would need a crowd of 63,552 on Saturday.

The last time that MU averaged 60,000 for a season was in 1981 (61,787). Since then, this year's current average has only been surpassed in 2004 (59,571).

TIGERS RISE TO #7 IN A.P. POLL, ALSO STAND #6 IN BCS RANKINGS

After its 55-10 victory at Colorado last Saturday, Mizzou moved up 2 spots in the Associated Press Top-25, to 7th. This marks the 8th-consecutive week the Tigers have been ranked, with the current ranking the highest for any Mizzou team since peaking at #5 in the A.P. poll during the 1979 season.

The 4th week of BCS rankings was released Sunday, and the Tigers rose to #6, and were one of 4 Big 12 Conference teams included in this week's top-25: #4 Kansas, #5 Oklahoma, and #14 Texas were the others.

A few notes about MU carrying a ranking into a game:

- MU is 93-59-1 overall (61.1%) in its previous 153 games as a ranked team, including 4-3 alltime as the #7-ranked team in the AP poll. Here's a look at those games...

- Mizzou has played 70 previous times at home as a ranked team, and the Tigers stand 48-22 alltime in those games (68.6%)...

- Breaking that down further, Mizzou has played 48 times in its history at home as a ranked team, playing against an unranked opponent. In those instances, MU sports an alltime mark of 38-10 (79.2%), and MU has won 15 straight such occasions, with its last home loss as a ranked team against an unranked foe coming in 1979, when unranked Oklahoma State upset the 15th-ranked Tigers, 14-13, on Oct. 13, 1979...

- Mizzou is 10-7 under Head Coach Gary Pinkel when playing as a ranked team, including 5-1 in 2007, 3-2 in 2006, 1-1 in 2004 and 1-3 in 2003...

- Pinkel is 8-1 at home playing as a ranked team, with the only loss coming in 2006 to #19 Oklahoma (L, 26-10)...

TIGERS' SPOT IN BCS POLL IS HIGHEST IN PROGRAM HISTORY

The BCS standings (www.bcsfootball.org) this week reflect the Mizzou Tigers at #6, climbing from #16 after the initial rankings four weeks ago, and up 3 from last week's #9 spot.

This week is the 72nd week a set of rankings has been compiled, and Mizzou's showing at #6 is the highest any Tiger team has stood in the rankings (which began in 1998), and only the 11th time overall that MU has made the BCS rankings. Here's a quick look at those times...

TIGERS STORM TO 8-1 FOR 1ST TIME SINCE 1969 WITH 55-10 WIN AT COLORADO

Mizzou was a slight favorite heading into its game last Saturday at Colorado. Many prognosticators expected MU to struggle in the mountains of Boulder, Colo., where MU had lost 4 straight, and 10 of its last 11.

However, this 2007 team showed it isn't interested in hearing the tired history lessons from the naysayers, as it proceeded to lay a 55-10 beatdown on the Buffaloes that was historic in nature:

- – The win improved MU to 8-1 on a season for the 1st time since 1969 – the last time that Mizzou has won a conference title in football...
- – The 45-point margin of victory was the largest for MU in a Big 12 Conference game, and it was the largest conference win of any kind since a 48-0 whitewashing of Kansas in 1986...
- – The 45-point road win was MU's largest margin of victory in a road conference game since 1979, when the Tigers won a 55-7 game at Kansas...
- – The 55 points scored were the most by MU in a road conference game since 1988 (a 55-17 win at Kansas), and the last time MU scored more on the road in league play was back in 1984, when the Tigers won a 61-21 affair at Kansas State...
- – The 55 points were the most scored by a CU opponent in Boulder since 1983, when Missouri claimed a 59-20 win there...

AFTER SLOW START, TIGERS SCORE 48 UNANSWERED TO KEY WIN AT COLORADO

There were a multitude of impressive things associated with MU's beatdown of Colorado last Saturday in Boulder, but perhaps most impressive was the adversity the Tigers overcame to post the blowout win.

Things started badly, as the Tigers suffered an interception on a tipped ball on only its second play of the game's opening drive, and CU all of a sudden had the ball on MU's 11-yardline. A few plays later, CU punched it in for a quick 7-0 lead. After the Tigers struck quickly for a 7-7 tie (keyed by a 72-yard pass from QB Chase Daniel to WR Will Franklin on the very 1st play of MU's ensuing drive), the teams traded field position until late in the 1st quarter, when an MU punt was blocked, and the Buffs had the ball again at the MU 38-yardline.

But the Tiger defense dug in and held the Buffs to only a field goal, and that would be the last that the Buffaloes would be heard from on the night, as they took a 10-7 lead into the 2nd quarter. Mizzou outscored CU 41-0 in the 2nd and 3rd quarters combined (outgaining CU by a combined 367-to-74 in that 30-minute span, including a whopping disparity of 229-to-14 in the 2nd quarter alone), to cruise to the win.

DEFENSE GETS THE BEST OF THE BUFALOES IN STATEMENT GAME

Mizzou's defense entered the Colorado game last Saturday minus its emotional leader, and arguably best player, in SS Pig Brown, who was lost for the season the game before against Iowa State (ruptured Achilles'), and many doubters were expecting the unit to take a step back.

But Brown was allowed to travel with the team to Boulder for leadership, and the co-captain made an impassioned pre-game speech that must have inspired his unit mates, as they went out and dominated Colorado, as they allowed only 196 yards of offense – a season low both for Colorado, and for MU opponents.

The Tigers forced CU to 7 consecutive 3-and-out possessions after the Buffs kicked the field goal to take a 10-7 lead with 2:10 left in the 1st quarter. Colorado's final 12 possessions read like this on the drive chart: fumble, punt, punt, punt, punt, punt, punt, interception, fumble, punt, punt, punt.

Colorado earned only 2 first downs after that field goal, and managed to move the ball 21 yards in its longest drive after that point (a drive which ended in a lost fumble).

Credit Columbia Daily Tribune beat writer Dave Matter with this great factoid: CU punter Matt DiLallo punted 11 times on the game. That was as many as MU punter Adam Crossett had punted combined in MU's 1st 4 conference games coming in.

DANIEL MAKES CASE FOR TOP QB HONORS, WINS BIG 12 OFFENSIVE POW AWARD

Junior QB Chase Daniel continues to make a claim to top signal caller status in the Big 12 Conference, and for top national honors as well with his stellar play. After leading Mizzou to a 55-10 dismantling of Colorado, Daniel has been named the Big 12 Conference Offensive Player of the Week, as announced Monday morning by the league office.

Daniel, who was announced last week as a semifinalist for the Davey O'Brien Award (given annually to the nation's top QB), won the Big 12 award for his 421-yard, 5-TD performance at Colorado Saturday in which he completed 26-of-44 passes and had a QB rating of 172.42. The yardage marked a career high for Daniel, with the TD passes tying his own school single-game record he'd established twice previously (2006 vs. Murray State and 2007 at Ole Miss).

Daniel has now won the weekly Big 12 award for the 2nd time this season, and the 4th time in his 22 career starts. He won the award earlier this year for his performance in leading Mizzou to a 41-6 win over #25 Nebraska on Oct. 6th, when he passed for a then-career-best 401 yards and had a career-high 473 yards of total offense in all as the Tigers rolled up 606 yards on the night. He also won during the 2006 season for his efforts against Murray State and Kansas.

Daniel enters Saturday's game against Texas A&M among the best in the Big 12 and the NCAA in several categories, and he has the Tigers 8-1 for the 1st time since the Nixon Administration (1969), and sitting 6th in the latest BCS poll (MU's highest-ever showing). He has also led MU to consecutive 8-win regular seasons for just the 2nd time in school history (1941-42).

Here's a quick look where Daniel ranks...

OFFENSE SCORING AT A REMARKABLE PACE, WE WOULD SUGGEST

Mizzou ranks 6th nationally in scoring offense coming into Saturday's game, averaging 42.00 points per game. Perhaps, as you well know, the most remarkable thing about this is the consistency with which the Tigers have scored this year – Mizzou has scored 30 points or more in each of their 9 games so far, and that's something that's never been done before at the school.

The previous longest stretch of consecutive games scoring 30 points or more was 5, and that was done only twice before, in 1997 under Coach Larry Smith, and in 2002 under Coach Gary Pinkel.

The 9 games of scoring 30 or more this season is also the MU single-season record, here's a quick look at those figures...

MOST GAMES SCORING 30 PTS. OR MORE, SEASON

NO.	SEASON (TOTAL GAMES PLAYED)
9	2007 (9)
8	2002 (12), 1999 (11)
7	2006 (13), 2005 (12), 2003 (13), 1969 (11)

With 378 points scored so far, the current Tigers need only 21 more to break the school record of 399 points, set in 13 games by the 2003 squad. Again, that was in 13 games. With a bowl game on the horizon, MU's current pace of 42.00 ppg extrapolates to a 13-game total of a massive 546 points! This year's team has also, in just 9 games, already surpassed the team records for points in a 12-game season (369 in 2005) and an 11-game season (368 in 1997).

TIGERS LOOK TO CLINCH UNDEFEATED HOME SEASON SATURDAY

Mizzou enters the Texas A&M game this Saturday looking to stay undefeated at home for the season, as the Tigers enter the ballgame a perfect 5-0 this year at Faurot Field/Memorial Stadium.

The last perfect home season for MU came back in 2003 when Gary Pinkel's squad went a record 6-0 at Faurot Field on the way to an 8-5 season mark.

Only 12 times in the history of Memorial Stadium (which opened in 1926), has MU had perfect records at home. Here's a look at those occasions:

- 1927 – 3-0 •1936 – 4-0 •1939 – 4-0 •1940 – 3-0 •1941 – 4-0 •1942 – 5-0
- 1945 – 3-0 •1948 – 4-0 •1960 – 5-0* •1969 – 5-0 •1974 – 5-0 •2003 – 6-0

*Includes game forfeited by Kansas counted in win total (they cheated)

MIZZOU-TEXAS A&M SERIES HISTORY

Mizzou and Texas A&M will be meeting for the 10th time when they square off Saturday on Senior Day at Faurot Field. The Aggies hold a 7-2 edge in the series, but the Tigers have won 2 of the last 3 games, and A&M's edge since Big 12 play started in 1996 is a slim 3-2.

The Tigers are looking to avenge a bitter loss in 2006 in College Station, Texas, as the Aggies rode a ball control offense to hand the 19th-ranked Tigers their 1st loss of the season.

Prior to that, MU had won 2 straight over the Aggies, including a 33-27 double overtime win in College Station in 2002 that marked MU's 1st-ever win over A&M. The Tigers followed the next year by defeating A&M in Columbia by a 45-22 margin.

Texas A&M has won 3-of-4 meetings in Columbia, claiming wins here in 1957 (28-0), 1992 (26-13) and 1999 (51-14). Of course, one of the darker days in MU football history, took place at the hands of the Aggies, when A&M defeated Mizzou in College Station in 1993 by a 73-0 count.

LAST YEAR REWIND: TEXAS A&M 25, #19 MIZZOU 19 (2006)

Mizzou was dropped from the ranks of the undefeated, thanks in large part to three costly turnovers and an inability to get a methodical Texas A&M offense off the field, as the homestanding Aggies claimed a 25-19 win over the 19th-ranked Tigers.

The Tigers lost three fumbles on the day – all in the first half – and Texas A&M turned those into 10 points as the Aggies forged a 17-17 tie at halftime.

All 10 of those Aggie points off turnovers had an involvement with instant replay, as both plays that led to points were reviewed, and both ultimately went against Mizzou.

The first was potentially the most crucial, and it came just three plays into the game. Tiger QB Chase Daniel threw a perfectly-lofted pass deep downfield to a wide-open WR Will Franklin, who caught the ball in stride and raced toward the goalline for an apparent 65-yard TD. However, Franklin was caught from behind by A&M's Jordan Peterson inside the 5-yardline, and Peterson punched the ball out of Franklin's arms as he crossed the goalline, with the ball rolling out of the back of the endzone. The play was originally ruled a TD for MU, but replay showed that the ball came out before Franklin crossed the goalline, and it was overturned for a touchback.

The Aggies drove 74 yards on 15 plays for a 23-yard field goal to take a 3-0 lead, which represented MU's first deficit of the entire season.

The Tigers responded quickly, however, driving 73 yards in just 7 plays to take a 7-3 lead as TB Tony Temple scored on a 5-yard run.

Texas A&M used a reverse pass that went for 67 yards on its next possession to key a drive that saw them regain the lead at 10-7, but Mizzou again responded with a TD drive of its own, with Daniel and Franklin hooking up for a TD pass that covered 38 yards this time.

2006	L, 25-19	at C. Station

at Columbia: A&M leads, 3-1

The next big replay that hurt MU came midway through the 2nd quarter, as Temple ran into traffic in the middle of the field, and was ruled to have fumbled the ball, which was recovered by A&M on the Tiger 23 yardline. Replay showed that Temple's knee appeared to be down, but the call was not overturned by replay officials, giving the Aggies field position that they cashed in for a subsequent TD to take a 17-14 lead.

MU's Jeff Wolfert tied the game just before half with a 39-yard field goal, and things looked to be going the Tigers' way when A&M QB Stephen McGee had to fall on an errant snap in his own endzone on the opening possession of the 3rd quarter for a safety, giving MU a 19-17 lead.

However, the Tiger offense – despite owning great field position at its own 45-yardline following the ensuing free kick – couldn't seize the momentum, and went three-and-out.

A&M responded with a 13-play, 80-yard drive that was aided by a McGee 12-yard pass to himself that was deflected at the line of scrimmage by MU's Brock Christopher. McGee caught the deflection and raced for 12 yards on a 2nd-and-10 situation to the A&M 43-yardline. Instead of facing a 3rd-and-10, the Aggies were near midfield and on their way to what would ultimately prove to be the winning score. That came 10 plays later, when TB Mike Goodson scored from 2 yards out with 6:38 left in the 3rd quarter, and after McGee rushed for the 2-point conversion, A&M held a 25-19 lead.

The Tigers had plenty of opportunities to regain the lead, but it couldn't score in any of its last four possessions. Its best chance came early in the 4th quarter, as Daniel directed a sharp drive that went from MU's 20-yardline to the A&M 4. Daniel hit his first 7 passes on the drive, before his 3rd-and-goal attempt to TE Chase Coffman in the endzone was batted away. After taking a delay of game penalty back to the 9-yardline, Mizzou went for the jugular, as it tried a fake field goal, but holder Brad Ekwerekwu's rush attempt was stopped after gaining only 3 yards.

That would prove to be MU's best chance to score the rest of the way, as the Tiger defense twice more got the ball back for the offense. But the Mizzou offense couldn't convert a 3rd-and-2 from its own 42-yardline on its first chance, and also came up short on a 4th-and-2 rush by Temple from its own 46 on its last possession. Replays showed that Temple might have gotten a bad spot, as he came up a football length short, but the the play was not reviewed.

A&M held the ball for a commanding 41 minutes and 30 seconds, and converted 9-of-15 third down situations, as the Tiger defense couldn't muster any turnovers, one week after forcing 5 Texas Tech turnovers that turned into 28 MU points.

DEFENSE TURNING HEADS AND MAKING STATISTICAL STRIDES

Mizzou's defense took some lumps from the peanut gallery after its first two games, when it allowed 435 yards to Illinois and 534 yards to Ole Miss to begin the season.

But Defensive Coordinator Matt Eberflus' troops have worked hard to get better, and his young squad has done just that in the past month-and-a-half, as the Tigers have held 7 straight foes to under 400 yards of offense – and are coming off a smothering effort at Colorado, where they held Colorado to just 196 yards and 10 points.

The Buffaloes entered the game averaging 376.78 yards of offense and 25.33 points per game.

The 10 points that CU scored were set up by an interception that gave the Buffs the ball at MU's 11-yardline on the 1st possession of the game, and a field goal that was set up by a blocked punt that gave Colorado the ball at MU's 36-yardline.

Prior to that, Mizzou had a very impressive day against Texas Tech in which it held Tech's high-flying offense very much in check. The Red Raiders came into the game ranked 1st in the nation in passing offense (500.4 ypg) and total offense (582.0) and were 2nd nationally coming in in pass efficiency (177.9 rating) and 3rd in scoring (50.0 ppg). Eberflus was selected as the National Defensive Coordinator of the Week for his team's performance against the Red Raiders by both Rivals.com, and by the Master Coaches' Survey. Here's a look at what the numbers ended up at the end of the day...

Despite the scoreboard saying that Oklahoma scored 41 points 4 games ago against MU, the Tiger defense played much better than that, as OU scored 21 points off of turnovers. Here's a quick comparison of what OU was averaging coming into the game, and what MU allowed...

The big plays have come down markedly, as MU has allowed only 14 plays of 20 yards or more in its last 7 games combined, compared to 14 of 20 or more in the 1st 2 games alone. Nebraska failed to produce a single offensive play of 20 yards or more, with the longest pass going for 18 yards, and the longest rush being 17 yards, while Texas Tech and Colorado each had just one play of 20 yards or more.

Here's a look at some game-by-game numbers for the Tiger defense thus far in 2007:

DEFENSIVE NUMBERS IMPRESSIVE DURING CONFERENCE PLAY

Continuing the discussion about Mizzou's defensive improvement, here's a look at where Mizzou ranked (and what it was allowing per game) in its first 4 games (all non-conference games), versus where it stands in Big 12-play (last 5 games only)...

DON'T JUDGE THIS DEFENSE SOLELY BY ITS STAT RANKINGS

A quick look at the NCAA stat rankings shows that MU ranks 98th in pass defense, allowing 259.78 yards per game. That is a little misleading however, as the Tigers have played from ahead for the vast majority of time this season, forcing opponents to throw the ball early and often, and giving up mostly meaningless yards in between the 20s.

Perhaps a more impressive category to peruse would be pass efficiency defense, where the Tigers rank 36th nationally, with a rating of 115.73. The Tigers intercepted Texas Tech QB Graham Harrell 4 times on Oct. 20, when he had only 3 INTs all year coming into the game, and just held Colorado's Cody Hawkins to 112 yards passing and no TDs for the 1st time in his career.

In Big 12 Conference games, MU ranks 2nd in pass efficiency defense, with an opposing QB rating of 110.3. The Tigers have allowed only 4 TD passes in 5 league games, which is fewest in the conference.

For the season, even though MU ranks 98th in pass yardage allowed, the Tigers have allowed only 10 TD passes by opponents, which is tied with Oklahoma for fewest in the Big 12, and only 18 teams nationally have allowed fewer than 18 TD passes by foes.

TIGERS LEAD THE NATION IN 3RD-DOWN & 4TH-DOWN CONVERSIONS

The latest NCAA stats show that Missouri enters this weekend's games atop the nation's rankings in 3rd-down efficiency, converting a nation-best 57.1% (76-of-133). Mizzou maintained the top spot in the rankings after a 10-of-17 performance last Saturday at Colorado.

Earlier, MU had a solid 9-of-16 showing (56.3%) on the road in the Tigers' 41-31 loss at 6th-ranked Oklahoma – that, despite the fact that OU came into the game ranked 3rd nationally in 3rd-down defense, allowing opponents a conversion rate of just 25.5%.

Here's a quick look at MU's 3rd down history through 9 games in 2007...

Opponent	MU 3rd Downs	Pct.	1st Q	2nd Q	3rd Q	4th Q
Illinois	8-of-19	42.1%	0-3	5-7	1-2	2-7
at Ole Miss	9-of-16	56.2%	3-5	5-5	1-3	0-3
Western Mich.	11-of-17	64.7%	2-3	3-4	3-6	3-4
Illinois State	8-of-11	72.7%	2-3	2-3	2-3	2-2
Nebraska	10-of-15	66.7%	4-4	2-5	1-1	3-5
at Oklahoma	9-of-16	56.3%	0-3	4-6	4-5	1-2
Texas Tech	5-of-11	45.4%	0-3	1-2	2-3	2-3
Iowa State	6-of-11	54.5%	1-2	0-2	3-4	2-3
at Colorado	10-of-17	58.8%	1-4	5-6	4-6	0-1
Totals	76-of-133	57.1%	13-30 (43.3%)	27-40 (67.5%)	21-33 (63.6%)	15-30 (50.0%)

And while the Tigers have attempted only 4 4th-down conversions to this point in the season, MU has made them all, and subsequently leads the nation in that category as well, as the only team to perfect so far.

TIGERS ALSO LEAD NATION IN FEWEST YARDS PENALIZED

One of Head Coach Gary Pinkel's tried and true lines has to do with Missouri beating Missouri, and how penalties and mistakes do just that. So far in 2007, his Tigers have done a good job of not beating themselves with penalties, as MU leads the nation in fewest penalty yards per game, with just 32.89 yards averaged. Mizzou's opponent this Saturday, Texas A&M, sits very highly in that category as well, ranking 17th currently, with a per-game average of 44.50 yards.

Through 9 games, MU has been flagged 42 times for a grand total of 296 yards. They are coming off a game in which they were penalized just 4 times for 35 yards at Colorado, a game after they were flagged just 1 time for 7 yards against Iowa State – a tough pass interference call which went against MLB Brock Christopher that extended an ISU drive on 3rd-and-long.

Prior to that, MU was flagged just 3 times for 33 yards against Texas Tech. Previously, the Tigers were cited 5 times for 25 yards at Oklahoma, after getting flagged 9 times for a season-high 79 yards against Nebraska the week before.

Here's a quick look at the current leaders nationally in fewest yards penalized...

OFFENSE AVOIDING THE THREE-AND-OUT

Few things cripple an offense more than the dreaded failed possession that ends up going three-and-out with a punt. Mizzou's offense has proven astoundingly successful in 2007 at avoiding that pratfall, however, as through 9 games, MU has gone three-and-out (followed by a punt) only 13 times.

Five of those 13 times came in the season opener against Illinois, and another 2 came in game #2 in the 4th quarter at Ole Miss when MU had a big lead and was more concerned with milking clock than anything else. The chart below shows that Mizzou has had just 6 three-and-out offensive possessions total in the last 7 games...

TIGER 2-MINUTE OFFENSE HAS BEEN NEAR UNSTOPPABLE

At the risk of sounding boastful, it's almost unfair when the Tiger offense steps on the field in a 2-minute situation near the end of the 2nd quarter. That's because with MU's fast-paced spread offense, nearly every possession is a 2-minute offense, and when faced with little time left on the clock, the Tigers are used to ramping it up quick-like.

Through 9 games, MU is a perfect 7-of-7 operating in its last possession of the 2nd quarter. The only 2 times it didn't score were when it intentionally took a knee to end the half against Texas Tech, and at Colorado.

Of the 7 scores, 6 have come from the foot of PK Jeff Wolfert, with 4 of his FGs coming at the halftime gun – a perfect management of the clock in coaching circles. The 1 TD was also near-perfect clock usage, as it came with just :04 seconds left at Ole Miss.

Perhaps most impressive was MU's 2-minute drill at 5th-ranked Oklahoma, where the Tigers took over after a punt on their own 13-yardline with just 1:34 remaining in the quarter. Chase Daniel and company drove masterfully downfield, using the sideline and timeouts to near perfection, moving 85 yards on 9 plays to reach the Sooner 2-yardline before having to kick a 19-yard field goal at the gun.

Equally impress was the situation listed below against Iowa State, where MU took over after a kickoff return on its own 41-yardline with just :20 seconds left. Only up by 3 points at the time, MU chose not to run out the clock, and ate up 30 yards just like that to give Wolfert a shot at a 48-yard field goal, which he promptly booted to give MU some momentum heading into the lockerroom.

Here's a quick look at the 2-minute situations this season for Mizzou...

COFFMAN BREAKS MU CAREER RECEIVING TD RECORD AT COLORADO

The nation's best backup tight end, junior Chase Coffman, had quite a performance at Colorado last Saturday in Mizzou's 55-10 win, as he caught 3 TD passes that helped him break the school career receiving TD record.

For the game, Coffman caught 5 passes for 60 yards, with his scoring grabs coming from 25, 23 and 5 yards out, in order. He broke several tackles on his 1st, made a trademark hurdle over a diving CU defender on the 2nd that freed him up to spin and dive into the endzone, and his last was a stunning one-handed grab in the back of the endzone that saw him tiptoe with one foot in to make the catch stand.

The 3 TDs upped his career total to 19, and that broke the previous MU career record of 18, established by WR Justin Gage from 1999-2002. Coffman currently ranks 4th nationally among all tight ends in receptions per game (4.89) and is 8th in yardage per game (52.11).

For his career, Coffman has 149 receptions for 1,610 yards, totals which rank 4th and 7th, respectively, on the MU career receiving charts among all players, and 2nd among MU tight ends.

O-LINE IS MISSOURI'S BEEF COUNCIL

With all 5 projected starters on the offensive line for Saturday's game hailing from small towns in the state of Missouri, the Tiger offensive line could pass as ambassadors for the state's Beef Council.

Projected starters include senior LT Tyler Luellen (Pre-Season 1st-Team All-Big 12 by Street & Smith's), junior LG Ryan Madison (7 starts at LG in 2007), senior C Adam Spieker (Rimington Award Watch List & Pre-Season 1st-Team All-American by Phil Steele's), sophomore RG Kurtis Gregory (9 starts in 2007) and junior RT Colin Brown (9 starts in 2007).

Just how small are the towns that the fivesome comes from? Here's a quick look across the line, with population of each hometown, and where it ranks in terms of size among Missouri's 1,263 registered towns (numbers according to www.census.gov website).

Pos.	Tiger	Ht.	Wt.	Hometown	Population	Mo. Rank
LT	Tyler Luellen (Sr.)	6-7	310	Bethany, Mo.	3,082	#203
LG	Ryan Madison (Jr.)	6-5	305	Bethany, Mo.	3,082	#203
C	Adam Spieker (Sr.)	6-3	305	Webb City, Mo.	10,982	#69
RG	Kurtis Gregory (So.)	6-5	305	Blackburn, Mo.	276	#835
RT	Colin Brown (Jr.)	6-8	325	Braymer, Mo.	958	#412

The line has been playing very well all year long, and have to be a major reason for the prolific nature of the Tiger offense, which enters Saturday's game against Texas A&M ranked 5th in the NCAA in passing (337.56 ypg), 6th in scoring (42.00 ppg), 7th in total offense (509.67 ypg) and 14th in pass efficiency (148.31 rating).

And that's certainly not to diminish the expected contributions from others who plan to factor in a large way on the line this season – senior LG Monte Wyrick (8 career starts, including 7 in 2006) and sophomore RT Dain Wise (4 games played in 2006), as well as others.

QUICK HITTEES

- Senior WR Will Franklin broke out of a dry spell Saturday in Boulder, as he had 109 receiving yards (his 5th career 100-yard day) on just 2 receptions - both big plays that set up Tiger TDs. His 1st could possibly have been the most important of the night, as it came on MU's 1st play from scrimmage after CU had punched in a TD after intercepting MU on the Tiger 11 yardline on the game's opening possession. With momentum squarely on CU's side, Franklin beat CU CB Terrence Wheatley (the reigning Big 12 Defensive Player of the Week) down the right sideline, caught a beautiful ball in stride from QB Chase Daniel, and raced 72 yards before being pushed out at the CU 5-yardline. That set up a Martin Rucker TD catch that tied the game, and it marked MU's longest play from scrimmage in 2007, and also the longest of Franklin's career. Franklin had been held to 1 catch for 14 yards combined in MU's previous 2 contests ...
- Junior PK Jeff Wolfert has found his stroke, as he's made 9 consecutive FGs since his last miss against Illinois State, to improve to 14-of-18 for the year (he's also a perfect 46-of-46 on PATs this season – a new MU record for most PATs made in a season, breaking his own mark of 45 set in 2006). Wolfert hit a clutch 48-yarder (a season long) at the halftime gun recently against Iowa State that extended MU's lead to 20-14 going into the lockerroom...

- – Senior C Adam Spieker is a true Iron Man who will be making his 45th consecutive start Saturday vs. Texas A&M. The Rimington Award Candidate will be only 3 starts shy of the school record of 48 held by QB Brad Smith (2002-05)...

- – Sophomore WR Jared Perry also got off the proverbial schneid in Boulder, as he caught 2 passes for 60 yards. Perry, who was an honorable mention freshman All-American, and who led all Big 12 freshmen in receptions in 2006 (37 catches for 429 yards and 3 TDs), had just 1 catch for 18 yards (at Oklahoma) in MU's 4 previous Big 12 games this year, and had 9 catches for 78 yards in 8 games coming into the CU game...

- – Senior TB Tony Temple enters Saturday's game against Texas A&M with 1,931 career rushing yards, and needs just 69 more to become only the 11th Tiger in history to reach 2,000 yards for a career. Former MU great Bob Steuber currently sits 10th on the MU career rushing yardage chart, with 2,030 yards from 1940-42...

DANIEL LEADING THE WAY FOR MIZZOU'S HIGH-FLYING OFFENSE

There can't be many QBs in the nation playing at a higher level than Tiger signal caller Chase Daniel, who currently ranks 5th in the nation in total offense (354.11 ypg) and 15th nationally in passing efficiency (151.36 rating).

And he hasn't been putting up numbers against the sisters of the poor, exactly. Here's a look at Daniel's numbers this season against his 7 BCS-conference opponents...

Daniel had a scintillating night at Ole Miss, where he tied his own MU single-game record by tossing 5 TDs (all coming in a span of just 16:07), as he helped lead the Tigers to an important 38-25 road win. In the 2nd quarter alone at Ole Miss, Daniel was 12-of-17 passing for 177 yards and 4 TDs, good for a stout QB rating of 235.7.

He's twice been named Big 12 Offensive Player of the Week in 2007, for a 401-yard, 2-TD, 473-yard total offense night in a 41-6 win over #25 Nebraska, and most recently, for a career-best 421-yard passing night, including a record-tying 5 TDs, at Colorado, in leading MU to a 55-10 road win.

Last season, Daniel smashed numerous season records that former QB great Brad Smith and others held, including passing yards (3,527 – almost 1,100 more than the old record of 2,436 by Jeff Handy in 1992), passing TDs (28), TDs responsible for (32) and total offense (3,906). Daniel ranked 5th in the NCAA in total offense with his per-game average of 300.5 ypg – that was the highest a Tiger has rated in total offense nationally since Bob Steuber finished 3rd in 1942.

Daniel, in his first year as a starter in 2006, led MU to its first 6-0 start since 1973, and an 8-win season for only the 10th time in school history. He enters Saturday's game against Texas A&M with a career record of 16-6 as a starter at Mizzou.

RUCKER LEADS ALL OF NCAA'S TIGHT ENDS IN RECEPTIONS PER GAME

All-American candidate TE Martin Rucker bypassed the NFL draft after his junior year, in order to come back to help lead his team to great things in 2007, and also to help improve his draft status for next year. Through 9 games, his decision appears to have been an extremely good one, as Rucker has played like a man among children, as he leads all of the nation's tight ends with his per-game averages of 6.67 receptions and his yardage average of 68.56 yards (60 receptions, 617 yards, 5 TDs in all) is 4th-best nationally among tight ends. He also ranks 20th nationally – among all position players – with his 6.67 catches per game.

It's hard to imagine a tight end playing more inspired ball right now, as Rucker has been a beast every time he's touched the ball – we're hyperbolizing a little here, probably, but it's hard to remember a time when he was brought down by any less than 3 people on a play when he's touched the ball this season.

The co-captain was a focal point of the offensive attack that rolled up 606 yards against Nebraska, as Rucker caught 9 passes for 109 yards and 1 TD against the Huskers. He followed with a 6-catch, 35-yard outing at Oklahoma where he caught a TD pass in the 4th quarter. Rucker is coming off a 6-catch night at Colorado that saw him break the MU single-season record for most receptions by a tight end (old mark was 54 by Chase Coffman in 2006).

Rucker, who was voted a team co-captain by his teammates this off-season, caught 53 passes for 511 yards and 5 TDs a year ago. He entered his senior season (after bypassing the NFL Draft) already holding the MU career records for TEs in receptions (119) and yardage (1,341).

With updated career numbers of 179 receptions for 1,958 yards and 15 TDs, Rucker needs just 42 yards to become just the 3rd Tiger in history (and 1st tight end) to reach 2,000 yards. He also stands just 22 catches shy of breaking the MU career receptions record of 200 held by former standout WR Justin Gage (200 from 1999-2002).

Rucker is the younger brother of Mike Rucker, who was an All-American defensive lineman at Nebraska and is a standout with the NFL's Carolina Panthers. His father, Martin Sr., also has a very public job, as he is a State Representative in the Missouri House of Representatives, for District 29.

MACLIN LEADS BIG 12, IN ALL-PURPOSE YARDS; BROKE MU SEASON RECORD AT CU

Redshirt freshman WR Jeremy Maclin was a highly-touted recruit in 2006 who figured to be a big part of the Tiger offense a year ago, before suffering a season-ending knee injury during summer drills prior to last season.

It didn't take long to show that he's fully recovered, and for MU fans to start looking for #9 jerseys in the Tiger Team Store at Memorial Stadium, as Maclin has been next-to-unbelievable thus far for Mizzou, as he enters Saturday's game vs. Texas A&M leading the Big 12 Conference, and ranking 10th nationally, in all-purpose yardage, at 186.89 yards per game.

In fact, Maclin is the only player among the NCAA's top-100 all-purpose players to currently have 200 yards in each of the 4 all-purpose categories, and there's now only three other player in Div. I-A (FBS) to have at least 100 yards in each category (WR Chad Hall of Air Force, WR Brandon Tate of North Carolina and WR Kenneth Moore of Wake Forest). Maclin enters the A&M game with season totals of: rushing (247 yds.), receiving (596), punt returns (234) and kickoff returns (605).

J-Mac is coming off a game at Colorado that saw him amass 187 all-purpose yards, including a career-best 108 receiving yards and 1 TD (on a 46-yard catch-and-run in the 2nd quarter that regained the lead for MU for good).

His game total at CU was good enough to break the MU single-season record of 1,621 all-purpose yards, set in 1998 by All-American TB Devin West. Maclin entered the CU game with 1,495 yards, and his yardage in Boulder pushed him to 1,682 entering the A&M game.

Through 9 games, Maclin is on pace for 2,243 all-purpose yards so far (12-game season).

J-Mac had his attack going against ISU, as he had 170 all-purpose yards, including 65 receiving yards on 7 catches. He rushed for 26 yards, with 17 of them coming on a 4th-quarter end around that saw him score his 4th rushing TD of the season.

He rebounded nicely from being held to a season-low 66 yards against Texas Tech, as he didn't get a chance to return a single punt or kick, and rushed just 3 times due to a bruised shoulder he suffered in the first half that kept him out for awhile. Maclin did return after the injury to catch a 57-yard TD pass in the 3rd quarter from Chase Daniel.

At Oklahoma, Maclin scored a pair of rushing TDs, scoring from 5 yards out in the 1st quarter, and from 10 yards out in the 3rd quarter. He ended the night with 32 yards rushing (4 carries) and caught 5 passes for 53 yards, while returning 3 kickoffs for 104 yards total. Included in the kickoff number was a 56-yarder in the 1st quarter that was MU's longest kickoff return since 2002.

Maclin was a big part of MU's win against Nebraska, as he had 149 all-purpose yards, including 62 receiving (4 receptions) and 53 rushing (6 carries). Nebraska held him down in the return game, as he was able to make only 1 punt return (8 yds.) and kickoff return each (26).

His 4th-quarter punt return for a TD against Illinois State gave him 2 for the season, and that already ties him for the MU season and career records – only 4 others alltime at Mizzou have returned 2 punts for TDs. He was named the Big 12 Special Teams Player of the Week for his big day.

Prior to that, Maclin had a career-high 275-yard all-purpose outing against Western Michigan – the 5th-highest single-game total in MU history. On the day, Maclin had 7 receptions for a career-high 96 yards and 1 TD, he rushed 6 times for 52 yards and 1 TD, had 2 punt returns for 31 yards and returned 5 kickoffs for 96 yards.

Maclin enters Saturday's game against Texas A&M currently ranked 2nd in the Big 12 and 18th in the NCAA with his punt return average of 13.00 yards.

Maclin is currently 2nd on the team with 45 receptions, 2nd in scoring (66 points), 2nd in rushing (247 yards) and 2nd in receiving yards (596).

In his seventh year directing the Missouri Tiger football program, Head Coach Gary Pinkel has built a solid foundation that has Mizzou pointed toward an exciting future.

While Pinkel himself would say that the program is still a work in progress, numerous accomplishments can be pointed to that already tell a nice success story. Mizzou enjoyed an exciting 2006 campaign that saw them win eight regular-season games for just the 10th time in school history, and the Tigers' appearance in the Brut Sun Bowl marked MU's third bowl game in the past four seasons – the first time in 25 years that Mizzou has had three bowls in four years.

Mizzou caught the attention of the national football community in 2006, as the Tigers got out to a scintillating 6-0 start, the first time since 1973 that MU had won its first six games. Mizzou was ranked for much of the season and had its name mentioned on the cover of Sports Illustrated and had its program prominently featured in other national publications such as USA Today and The New York Times. MU is off to one of its best starts ever in 2007, at 8-1 (MU's last 8-1 start was 1969), and currently ranked #6 in the latest BCS poll (MU's highest-ever).

His success has led to an increased commitment to his program from the University, as Pinkel was awarded with a new five-year contract last November that will keep him on the Tiger sidelines through the 2011 season. With winning seasons in 2003 (8-5), 2005 (7-5) and 2006 (8-5), Pinkel is the first MU coach to achieve three winning seasons since Warren Powers.

Pinkel and his program successfully built on the momentum created from a thrilling 38-31 win over South Carolina in the 2005 Independence Bowl that saw his Tigers overcome a 21-point deficit. The landmark win marked the largest come-from-behind win in school history, and it gave Mizzou only its second bowl win in the last 24 years.

In the last five seasons, Pinkel has led the Tigers to a mark of 36-22 overall.

Pinkel now has led Mizzou to three bowl games, and that puts him in select company, as he joins Don Faurot, Dan Devine, Al Onforio, and Warren Powers as the only coaches to guide MU to three bowl games. After beating Nebraska (41-6 on Oct. 6th) for the 3rd time in 5 years, Pinkel became the first MU coach since Al Onofrio to defeat the Huskers three times.

His seven-year Mizzou record stands at 45-36, and in 17 years, his record is 118-73-3 overall. The win over Nebraska in 2005 was the 100th of his head coaching career. His 45 wins at Mizzou is now 4th-most on the school's career coaching victories list, and his next will tie Warren Powers for 3rd on the list.

2007 GAME RECAPS

GAME #1 • MIZZOU 40, ILLINOIS 34

SEPT. 1, 2007 • EDWARD JONES DOME • ST. LOUIS, MO. • (62, 352)

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Chase Daniel threw three touchdown passes, Pig Brown intercepted a pass at the 1 with 51 seconds to play, and Missouri held off Illinois 40-34 in both teams' season opener at the Edward Jones Dome in St. Louis, Mo.

The Tigers (1-0) scored on a 100-yard fumble return and a 66-yard punt return and were up 37-13 late in the third quarter.

Illinois redshirt freshman quarterback Eddie McGee - in the game after starter Juice Williams left after a blow to the head in the second quarter - scored from 16 yards with 4:08 to play in the third quarter to cut the margin to 17.

After Missouri's Danario Alexander fumbled on a double-reverse, McGee hit Kyle Hudson on a 41-yard scoring pass on the next play. The Illini got within three early in the fourth quarter after Daniel fumbled deep in his own territory. Rashard Mendenhall scored from the 4 two plays later to make it 37-34.

Missouri went ahead 40-34 on Jeff Wolfert's 32-yard field goal with 8:32 to play, then held on.

The Illini had one final shot, taking over at their 30 with 2:51 to play and driving to the Missouri 22. But Brown leaped high to intercept Brown's pass, and Missouri ran out the clock to claim its third straight win over Illinois in St. Louis, matching previous wins in 2002 and 2003.

McGee was 17-for-31 for 257 yards and a touchdown, but lost two fumbles and was intercepted twice. One of the fumbles came when McGee was inches from scoring on a quarterback draw in the second quarter. Missouri safety Pig Brown scooped up the ball and ran 100 yards the other way — tying an NCAA record in the process for longest fumble return.

Daniel was 37-for-54 for a career-high 359 yards and threw touchdown passes of 1 yard to Chase Coffman in the first quarter, 2 yards to Will Franklin in the second quarter and 25 yards to Jeremy Maclin in the third quarter.

Maclin also scored on a 66-yard punt return that put Missouri up 37-13 with 6:11 to play in the third quarter, before the Illini began the comeback.

Martin Rucker caught 10 passes for 86 yards for Missouri, and Alexander had nine catches for 82 yards, before dislocating his left wrist while being tackled on a key 33-yard reception in the fourth quarter that extended a crucial drive for the Tigers. Team officials said after the game they hoped to have Alexander back in time for the Nebraska game in Columbia on Oct. 5th.

Illinois rushed for 174 yards, led by Daniel Dufrene's 58 yards on six carries. Mendenhall had 42 yards and scored on runs of 25 and 4 yards.

Williams was scrambling near the sideline early in the second quarter when he appeared to take a helmet-to-helmet hit from Missouri cornerback Hardy Ricks. Ricks was playing despite suffering a dislocated shoulder just weeks prior in pre-season camp.

The Illini said Williams was held out for the remainder of the game as a precaution. He was 6-for-9 for 59 yards and rushed six times for 15 yards.

Both teams made the most of the opportunities presented them, as Illinois scored 20 of its points off Tiger miscues, including six on a blocked punt returned for a touchdown, and 14 more after recovering MU fumbles on the Tiger 5-yardline and 41-yardline.

Mizzou countered by scoring 16 points off of three Illini fumbles, with another seven coming on Maclin's punt return score — only the third non-blocked punt return for a touchdown at Missouri since 1990.

2007 GAME RECAPS

GAME #2 • MIZZOU 38, OLE MISS 25

SEPT. 8, 2007 • VAUGHT-HEMINGWAY STADIUM • OXFORD, MISS. • (50,897)

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) - Chase Daniel accounted for a career-high 396 total yards and threw five touchdowns passes as Missouri sprinted to a 28-point lead over Mississippi then held on for a 38-25 win.

It was the eighth time in the last nine games that Daniel had at least 309 total yards. He faced little pressure as he masterfully ran the spread offense and picked apart the Ole Miss (1-1) defense in the first 35 minutes.

Rebels running back BenJarvus Green-Ellis had a career game with 226 yards rushing.

The Tigers (2-0) built a halftime lead of 28-7 with four touchdowns and 245 yards passing. Daniel then seemed to put the Rebels away with a 38-yard touchdown pass to Greg Bracey just 1:12 into the third quarter that gave the Tigers a 35-7 lead.

Daniel's five touchdown passes came on five consecutive series spanning the second and third quarters.

But Ole Miss quarterback Seth Adams led the Rebels' push, completing 23 of 41 passes for 305 yards and three touchdowns in his second start. His scoring passes of 68 yards to Mike Wallace and 3 yards to Greg Hardy in the third quarter cut Missouri's lead to 38-19.

Green-Ellis cut it to 38-25 with a 2-yard touchdown run early in the fourth quarter. But failed conversions cost Ole Miss 5 points, and the Rebels couldn't overcome their first-half mistakes, including Green-Ellis' fumble at the Missouri 7.

Daniel has thrown for 689 yards in two games, leading an offense that is averaging 39 points and 494 yards.

Not only was Daniel efficient, he was quick. All of Missouri's scoring drives lasted less than 3:05, with three coming in under 2 minutes.

The Ole Miss defense rarely pressured Daniel, giving him plenty of time to find an open receiver. The Rebels were often in position to stop big Tigers plays, but missed several key tackles that allowed first downs or scores.

2007 GAME RECAPS

GAME #3 • MIZZOU 52, WESTERN MICHIGAN 24

SEPT. 15, 2007 • FAUROT FIELD/MEMORIAL STADIUM • COLUMBIA, MO. • (53,480)

COLUMBIA, Mo. - Jeremy Maclin racked up 275 total yards and scored two touchdowns and Tony Temple add two TDs to lead Missouri to a 52-24 win over Western Michigan in Mizzou's 2007 home opener.

Chase Daniel threw for two touchdowns and ran for a third, completing 27 of 46 passes for 328 yards for Missouri.

As it did in season-opening victories against Illinois and Mississippi, Missouri (3-0) built a big first-half lead - going up 31-3 on the Broncos (0-3) - before withstanding a second-half comeback that briefly cut the lead to 14.

But the Tigers' defense stopped Western Michigan when it counted, including a fourth-and-goal from the 6 midway through the fourth quarter.

Missouri wasted little time at the outset, with Maclin catching a 24-yard touchdown pass from Daniel to cap a 6-play, 72-yard opening drive.

The Tigers extended the lead to 14-0 on a 1-yard touchdown run by Temple - Missouri's first rushing score of the season. Linebacker Brock Christopher's interception set up the 46-yard scoring drive, which also featured a 39-yard scramble by Daniel before he was knocked out of bounds at the 1.

The run was a career long for Daniel, who added a 35-yard run for a score in the fourth quarter.

Daniel entered the game with a chance to set the Division I record for consecutive passes without an interception, having thrown 235 in a row without a pick, a streak dating back to a Nov. 4, 2006 game against Nebraska.

He extended the mark with his first 20 passes Saturday before Western Michigan's Anthony Gebhart picked off Daniel with 3:31 remaining in the second quarter. That play preserved the national mark of 271 set by Trent Dilfer at Fresno State.

Maclin added his second touchdown early in the second quarter with a 17-yard run on a direct snap to the receiver, who was lined up in the shotgun.

Maclin caught seven passes for 96 yards, rushed six times for 52 yards, returned five kickoffs for 96 yards and returned two punts for 31 yards. His 275 all-purpose yards ranked as the 5th-most in MU single-game history.

Maclin nearly had another long score on a third-quarter kickoff, but ran into the back of a blocker and had to settle for a 29-yard return. And his 23-yard punt return in the third quarter deep into Western Michigan territory set up Temple's second rushing touchdown to make it 38-10.

Tommy Saunders caught a 25-yard TD pass from Daniel just before half-time, and backup quarterback Chase Patton completed the Tigers' scoring with an 18-yard run with 1:33 remaining.

Mark Bonds had a 9-yard touchdown run and Branden Ledbetter added a 27-yard scoring reception for Western Michigan, both in the fourth quarter. Ledbetter's score allowed the Broncos to cut the lead to 38-24 before Daniel ran for a 35-yard touchdown.

2007 GAME RECAPS

GAME #4 • #25 MIZZOU 38, ILLINOIS STATE 17

SEPT. 22, 2007 • FAUROT FIELD • COLUMBIA, MO. • (56,137)

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) - For No. 25 Missouri, every possession is a 2-minute offense.

The Tigers used their no-huddle spread offense to take care of business by beating Illinois State 38-17 going into an off week before the Tigers' Big 12 opener against Nebraska.

Chase Daniel threw three touchdown passes for Missouri (4-0), which had 581 total yards and 38 first downs.

The Tigers scored on drives lasting 17 seconds, 3:11, 2:40, 3:33 and 2:04, and on Maclin's punt return. On 24 scoring drives this season, the Tigers' average time of possession is 2:08.

"I want to score - I'm not worried about grinding it out," said coach Gary Pinkel, who became the first-ever Missouri coach to start 4-0 in three different seasons. "Our offense is not milk the clock."

Tony Temple scored on a first-quarter pass and a third-quarter 1-yard run, and Jeremy Maclin caught a touchdown pass and scored on a 64-yard fourth-quarter punt return.

Daniel was 21-for-34 for 294 yards and threw two interceptions. He completed passes to 11 different receivers. He has thrown 13 touchdown passes this season after setting a school record with 28 in 2006 in his first year as a starter.

Temple rushed 18 times for 101 yards, his sixth career 100-yard game.

Luke Drone was 22-for-37 for 242 yards, one touchdown and one interception for Illinois State (2-2) of the Football Championship Subdivision - the former Division I-AA. Geno Blow gained 116 yards on 21 carries. Eyad Salem caught seven passes for 106 yards and a fourth-quarter 13-yard touchdown.

Daniel's receivers did most of the work on the scoring passes.

On the first play from scrimmage, Will Franklin caught a pass on a wide receiver screen at the Missouri 43 and ran the distance.

"We had no idea they were going to come and blitz like that and we had our screen called," Daniel said. "It was scripted, so it worked out perfectly."

Later in the quarter, Daniel threw a short pass to Temple, who ran in for an 11-yard score.

Missouri drove 97 yards after Illinois State failed to convert on fourth-and-goal from the 3 early in the second quarter. The 8-yard touchdown to end the drive came as Daniel appeared to run, then flipped forward to Maclin, who ran it in.

Illinois State coach Denver Johnson defended the decision to pass on the field goal that would have cut Missouri's lead to 14-6.

"When you get down there, you've got to get points," Johnson said. "Field goals weren't going to do us any good. If we wanted any chance at all to win the game, we were going to have to score touchdowns."

Illinois State's Parrish Fisher scored on a 4-yard run in the second quarter.

Jeff Wolfert had a 26-yard field goal for Missouri and Tyler Funk had a 21-yarder for Illinois State.

In many ways, the win was typical of Missouri's other games this season.

Missouri came into the game tied for seventh nationally averaging 532 yards per game. Missouri is averaging 42 points per game.

But the Tigers were ranked 97th in total defense, allowing 447 yards per game. Illinois State had 397 yards.

Maclin, a redshirt freshman, became the first Missouri player in 32 years to return two punts for touchdowns in a season. He also had a 66-yard score in the opener against Illinois.

2007 GAME RECAPS

GAME #5 • #17 MIZZOU 41, #25 NEBRASKA 6

OCT. 6, 2007 • FAUROT FIELD/MEMORIAL STADIUM • COLUMBIA, MO. • (70,049)

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Chase Daniel turned 21 a few minutes after No. 17 Missouri polished off a late-night victory over No. 25 Nebraska. His performance was one long birthday celebration.

Daniel passed for a career-best 401 yards and ran for two scores and the Tigers got a big game from their suspect defense in a 41-6 victory over No 25 Nebraska.

"We played our 'A' game in a lot of facets," Daniel said. "If our defense plays like that week-in and week-out and we keep scoring, the sky's the limit."

Nebraska, which entered the game averaging 36 points, was held without a touchdown for the first time since a 31-3 loss to Oklahoma on Nov. 13, 2004. Missouri's four nonconference opponents averaged 25 points, leading to anticipation of a high-scoring affair that never materialized.

"I was so proud," coach Gary Pinkel said. "It was as complete a game as we've played in a long time."

The Cornhuskers were outgained 606-297. Quarterback Sam Keller, who was 25-for-43 with 223 yards and one interception, felt responsible.

"Extremely disappointing," Keller said. "It's a horrible, horrible feeling, and I put all the blame on myself."

Daniel was 33-for-47 and also was Missouri's rushing leader with 72 yards on 11 carries. Chase Coffman and Danario Alexander each caught a touchdown pass to help the Tigers (5-0, 1-0 Big 12) beat Nebraska decisively at home for the third straight time and go to 5-0 for a second straight season.

Pinkel is 2-15 against ranked opponents in seven seasons, both victories coming at home over Nebraska. The Cornhuskers were ranked 10th when Missouri ended a 24-game losing streak in the series with a 41-24 victory in 2003, and Missouri won by the same score in 2005.

A game viewed as a key early Big 12 North matchup attracted a crowd of 70,049, Missouri's first sellout since the Nebraska game in 2003 with most fans clad in yellow for a so-called "Gold Rush" game. The Tigers had a ball and even scored a touchdown off a fake field goal early in the fourth quarter.

"I wish it was like that every game," Daniel said. "It was an unbelievable atmosphere, unlike anything I've ever been in."

The crowd was the largest at Mizzou since 1984, when 70,915 packed Faurot Field on Sept. 26 that year to see Notre Dame take on the Tigers.

Missouri put away Nebraska (4-2, 1-1) without leading rusher Tony Temple, who sprained his right ankle in the first half. Temple had one catch for 20 yards and three carries for minus-2 yards.

Marlon Lucky had 123 yards rushing and receiving for Nebraska, held to a pair of first-half field goals by Alex Henery. Nebraska had won eight in a row against Big 12 North opponents.

"It's not our standard of football," coach Bill Callahan said. "We just couldn't get off the field on third down and we didn't convert on third down."

Missouri led 14-0 in the first quarter and 20-6 at the half, a big change from last year's 34-20 loss at Lincoln, Neb., in which the Tigers trailed 27-3 in the second quarter. Nebraska capitalized on a pair of early interceptions off Daniel in that game.

Daniel set the tone from the start on Saturday, going 12-for-14 for 127 yards while leading Missouri to touchdowns on its first two drives. One of the incompletions came on a dropped ball.

GAME #6 • #6 OKLAHOMA 41, #11 MIZZOU 31

OCT. 13, 2007 • GAYLORD FAMILY/MEMORIAL STADIUM • NORMAN, OKLA. • (85,041)

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Mizzou went toe-to-toe on the road with the 6th-ranked team in the nation, holding a 24-23 lead early in the 4th quarter, before the homestanding Sooners took advantage of key Tiger mistakes to hold on for a hardfought 41-31 over the 11th-ranked visitors.

The Tigers showed great resiliency all night long in the hostile environment of 85,041 in attendance, and clawed back from a 23-10 deficit in the 3rd quarter, to take a 24-23 lead into the last period.

The lead was regained with help from both sides of the ball, as the offense first scored on a 10-yard end-around by WR Jeremy Maclin (his 2nd rushing TD of the night) with 4:41 left in the 3rd, followed by TB Jimmy Jackson's 4-yard plunge with 1:30 remaining. The latter possession was set up when the Sooners' Juaquin Iglesias fumbled a kick-off return, giving the ball back to the Tigers.

Leading 24-23 in the 4th, Mizzou had a golden opportunity slip out of its hands, literally, when SS Pig Brown couldn't hold onto a potential interception in MU's endzone on an errant ball thrown by OU quarterback Sam Bradford. The drop proved costly, as Bradford regrouped and led the Sooners the remaining 33 yards needed to regain the lead, at 29-24 with 12:26 left.

Mizzou signal caller Chase Daniel, who would end the night 37-of-47 passing for 361 yards with 1 TD and 2 INTs, was ready to lead another drive downfield, but on the ensuing possession, a fumbled exchange with Maclin spelled doom, as OU's Curtis Lofton alertly scooped the ball up at the Tiger 12-yardline and rambled into the endzone for a quick score that pushed the Sooner lead to 35-24 with 11:40 left.

That bit of disaster put the Tigers in a big hole, and forced to abandon the run altogether, Oklahoma sat back in pass defense, and forced the Tigers to punt on their next possession after gaining one first down.

After the Tiger defense forced a punt, Daniel was intercepted on a tipped pass near the sideline, and OU converted by driving only 24 yards for a game-icing TD, on TB Chris Brown's 3rd TD of the game.

Mizzou wouldn't die easily, though, as Daniel led an 80-yard TD drive that culminated in a 5-yard TD pass to TE Martin Rucker to account for the final score.

A year after Oklahoma scored all 26 points in a 26-10 win over Mizzou in Columbia off of Tiger turnovers and drive-extending penalties, the Sooners once again capitalized on MU miscues to win for a second straight year. In all, Mizzou committed four turnovers on the night in Norman — three interceptions and one fumble — that Oklahoma converted into 21 key points.

The Tigers, looking for the schools' first win in Norman since 1966, did their part in forcing a pair of Sooner fumbles that MU converted into 14 points, but the 4th-quarter mistakes proved to be too costly to overcome.

Mizzou outgained Oklahoma on the night by a total offense margin of 418-to-384. The Tigers gained nearly 135 more yards than Oklahoma was allowing coming into the game, and its defense held the Sooners nearly 100 yards below their season average coming in — OU came into the game ranked 11th in both total defense (283.33 ypg) and total offense (482.17 ypg).

Maclin was an offensive star on the night in defeat, as he gained 189 all-purpose yards, including 104 on kickoff returns (one of which he returned 56 yards, representing the longest KOR for MU since 2002). He also ran 4 times for 32 yards and 2 TDs, while catching 5 passes for 53 yards.

TE Chase Coffman led all receivers on the night with 10 catches for 102 yards — both career high totals.

2007 GAME RECAPS

GAME #7 • #15 MIZZOU 41, #22 TEXAS TECH 10

OCT. 20, 2007 • FAUROT FIELD/MEMORIAL STADIUM • COLUMBIA, MO. • (63,396)

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Chase Daniel led the Missouri offense in the Tigers' most well-rounded effort of the season.

Missouri's improving defense intercepted Graham Harrell four times, returning one for a score, while throttling the nation's top offense in a 41-10 victory over No. 22 Texas Tech on Saturday.

Texas Tech forced Missouri, minus injured Tony Temple to run the ball, and the Tigers did so with great success. They gained 212 yards on the ground and Daniel had 210 yards passing on only 19 attempts, both season lows.

Backup tailback Jimmy Jackson had 59 yards and three touchdowns on 12 carries. Freshman Derrick Washington added 66 yards on nine carries for Missouri (6-1, 2-1 Big 12), which rebounded from a 10-point loss at Oklahoma last week and is 2-1 during a three-game stretch against ranked opponents.

"A game like that against such a good team, and the damage they can do in seconds, I'm very proud of our team," coach Gary Pinkel said.

Temple missed his second straight game with an ankle injury, adding a bruise to a sprain in practice on Wednesday. Missouri still won for the 13th time in 14 home games.

The scoring total was by far a season low for Texas Tech (6-2, 2-2), which entered the game first in points (50) and yards (582) per game. Missouri scored on its first four possessions of the second half to top its 40-point average, though the game didn't come close to fulfilling expectations of a points-fest featuring two of the most prolific passers in the country.

Texas Tech entered the rankings last week after a 35-7 victory over Texas A&M. The high point for the Red Raiders Saturday was a 68-yard touchdown pass from Harrell to Edward Britton in the second quarter that cut Missouri's lead to 10-7. Harrell, who entered the game with 31 TD passes and only three interceptions, was 44-for-69 for 397 yards and wasn't helped by several drops.

The attempts were a season high and the yardage was second-lowest of the year and fewest against a major college opponent.

Texas Tech had 388 yards total offense, 101 yards fewer than the previous low against Iowa State.

Texas Tech was stopped in its first four attempts on fourth down against Missouri, which surrendered 41 points against Oklahoma. The Red Raiders finished 3-for-6 on fourth down.

Texas Tech's Michael Crabtree, who leads the nation in receiving and scoring with 17 touchdowns, had 10 catches for 76 yards to set an NCAA freshman record of 1,320 yards with four games plus a bowl appearance to go. He entered the game needing 22 yards to surpass the mark set by USC's Mike Williams in 2002, but was held out of the end zone for the second straight week.

Missouri kept it on the ground for the most part against a defense designed to stop the passing game. Daniel completed 14 passes, including a 57-yard touchdown to Jeremy Maclin in the fourth quarter.

Texas Tech was shut out in the first quarter for the second straight game, trailing 10-0, although the Red Raiders' defense kept it close. The lone touchdown came on a 38-yard interception return by Stryker Sulak on a ball tipped high in the air, and Missouri had to settle for a 21-yard field goal later in the quarter after a drive that fizzled at the 1.

Texas Tech ended its drought on a TD connection from Harrell to Britton with 6:39 left in the second quarter, but Missouri answered with its first offensive touchdown only 1:39 later on Jackson's 1-yard run for a 17-7 lead.

2007 GAME RECAPS

GAME #8 • #13 MIZZOU 42, IOWA STATE 28

OCT. 27, 2007 • FAUROT FIELD/MEMORIAL STADIUM • COLUMBIA, MO. • (53,386)

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) - Coming off a pair of routs over ranked opponents at home, Missouri had a harder time of putting away one-win Iowa State.

Given the current climate in college football, however, the Tigers' postgame locker room seemed just as noisy as ever.

Lorenzo Williams recovered a fumble in the end zone at the start of the second half, giving No. 13 Missouri breathing room and momentum in a 42-28 victory over the Cyclones. The Tigers, who entered the game seventh in the nation in total offense at 518 yards per game, won despite being held to a season-low 366 yards. Mizzou averaged more than a full yard per play more than ISU, (5.6-to-4.5), but the Cyclones held a massive edge in time of possession (38:22-to-21:38), keeping the ball away from the potent Tiger offensive attack.

Jimmy Jackson, Tony Temple, Martin Rucker and Jeremy Maclin each scored for Missouri (7-1, 3-1 Big 12). The Tigers had been punishing teams at Faurot Field, beating then-No. 22 Texas Tech 41-10 last week and then-No. 25 Nebraska 41-6 three weeks ago.

"You want to win all these games 40-6 and go eat hot dogs in the fourth quarter, but that's not football," coach Gary Pinkel said. "There's going to be battles out there and we were in a battle in the fourth quarter to keep this game and that's OK, as long as we won."

Missouri lost safety Cornelius "Pig" Brown for the season with a ruptured Achilles tendon in the fourth quarter. Brown, twice named Big 12 defensive player of the week, has been a big factor in the Tigers' improving defense.

Backup Alexander Robinson had 149 yards on 21 carries with a 37-yard scoring run for Iowa State, his first career 100-yard game, and Devin McDowell had a 25-yard interception return. The Cyclones had 389 yards total offense and played their second straight Top 25 opponent tough after holding down No. 4 Oklahoma in a 17-7 loss last week.

Daniel was 28-of-37 for 250 yards with one touchdown and the interception on a high throw that Martin Rucker tipped.

Missouri's play at the end of the half and right after the break was instrumental in winning for the 14th time in the last 15 home games. Iowa State's Bret Meyer scored on a 1-yard run with 24 seconds left in the half to cut the deficit to 17-14, and Missouri got downfield fast enough for Jeff Wolfert's 48-yard field goal on the final play.

Stryker Sulak stripped Meyer on a sack inside the 5 on the third play of the second half. Williams fell on the ball in the end zone and Missouri added a 2-point conversion for a 28-14 cushion.

Williams beat Sulak in a footrace to the ball.

Iowa State scored on its next drive on a 1-yard pass from Meyer to Marquis Hamilton before Missouri put the game away on Rucker's 10-yard reception and Maclin's 17-yard run on a reverse, the latter coming early in the fourth quarter to make it 42-21.

Meyer became the second quarterback in Big 12 history to pass for 9,000 yards, also setting a school record with 33 completions in 48 attempts. Todd Blythe caught six passes for 54 yards to become the school's career reception leader with 168, four more than Lane Danielson from 2000-03.

Daniel was 11-of-11 for 103 yards on Missouri's first two drives, which ended on touchdown runs by Jackson and Temple, for a 14-0 lead with 6:52 to go in the first quarter. Missouri didn't face a third down until its 18th play, and Daniel also tied a school record with 15 straight completions set by Kent Kiefer in 1990 before throwing the ball away on the next-to-last play of the first quarter.

2007 GAME RECAPS

GAME #9 • #7 MIZZOU 55, COLORADO 10

NOV. 3, 2007 • FOLSOM FIELD • BOULDER, COLO. • (51,483)

The 25th-ranked Missouri Tigers beat Colorado 28-13 in their Big 12 Conference opener to improve to 5-0 and match their best start in a quarter-century.

Chase Daniel threw four touchdown passes as Missouri equaled the 5-0 start of the 1981 team.

Daniel, a sophomore in his first season as a starter, completed 23 of 35 passes for 253 yards, with two interceptions. He has now thrown 13 TD passes this season, including a team-record five against Murray State.

Daniel and tight end Chase Coffman teamed up for first-quarter scoring passes of 2 and 9 yards. Daniel hit Missouri's other tight end, Martin Rucker, on a 1-yard score with 11 seconds left in the first half, and connected with wide receiver Jared Perry on a 9-yard score midway through the third quarter.

Both teams entered the game ranked in the top 10 nationally in team defense - Missouri (5-0, 1-0) was first and Colorado eighth. But the Tigers moved easily to touchdowns on their first two possessions, scoring on drives of 71 and 77 yards.

Colorado, ranked 113th in offense with just 223.5 yards per game coming in, actually outgained Missouri 373-353, but could manage just two Mason Crosby field goals - a 32-yarder in the first quarter and a 36-yarder in the second - and one third-quarter touchdown.

Missouri's third score was set up by a Colorado mistake when punter Matt DiLallo let a high snap slip through his hands late in the second quarter. He recovered but was tackled at the Colorado 14.

Six plays later, on third-and-goal from the 1 and out of timeouts, Daniel hit Rucker to make it 21-6.

Colorado quarterback Bernard Jackson and wide receiver Dusty Sprague connected on a 63-yard pass on the first play of the third quarter, and Jackson scored from the 1 a play later to make it 21-13.

Missouri answered with a 52-yard scoring drive ending with Perry's score.

Colorado went for it on fourth down five times. All five failed, including a second-quarter effort on fourth-and-goal from the Missouri 4 with the Buffaloes trailing 14-3.

Jackson was 13-of-27 for 190 yards and ran 15 times for 93 yards. Hugh Charles carried 13 times for 87 yards for Colorado. Tony Temple led Missouri runners with 70 yards on 18 carries.

Crosby's two field goals and extra point gave him 256 career points and made him Colorado's all-time leading scorer.

The Tigers had not allowed a first-quarter score until Saturday and have outscored opponents 62-3 in the first quarter.

Missouri converted 11-of-18 third down conversions, and its defense held the Buffaloes to only 3-of-12 on third downs, in addition to the 0-of-5 on fourth downs.
