MISSOURI (5-1) vs. SMS (4-1)

Wednesday, December 10, 2003 – Columbia, Mo.

GAME 7

TIPOFF: 7:08 p.m.
ARENA: Hearnes Center (13,611). Opened in 1972. MU is 276-91 (.752) here alltime, including 176-37 (.826) vs. non-conference opponents and 31-3 (.912) in those games under Cindy Stein.
RADIO: KFRU-AM 1400 (David Lile, play-by-play/Kerensa Barr, color). Also available on the Internet at www.mutigers.com.
TV: Mizzou Sports Network [See box on page 3 for clearances]. Chris Gervino, play-by-play; Gary Link, color; Curtis Lorenz, producer. Also televised on SMS' third-tier package by KY-3 Springfield. Ned Reynolds, play-by-play; Tom Mast, color; Dave Middleton, producer.
SERIES: Mizzou leads, 16-4, including 8-2 in Columbia. MU won last year in Springfield, 68-52.
RANKINGS: Neither team is ranked; SMS is receiving votes in both the AP and ESPN/USA Today/WBCA polls.
COACHES:
Missouri: Cindy Stein (Illinois '84), 89-67 at MU (sixth season) and 154-92 overall (ninth season).
SMS: Katie Abrahamson-Henderson (Iowa '90), 22-14 at SMS and overall (second season).

TIGERS HOST LADY BEARS IN SHOWDOWN FOR SHOW-ME SUPREMACY

Coming off a pair of dominating performances in winning its home tournament for the 18th time, the Missouri women's basketball team (5-1) is set to host SMS (4-1) in front of the TV lights at the Hearnes Center on Wednesday.

The Tigers are going for their third straight win over the Lady Bears since resuming the home-and-home series in 2001. Last season, Mizzou got its first win in Springfield since 1987 against a team adjusting to the system of a new coach; this year, the Lady Bears are receiving votes in both the AP and coaches' polls.

MORE ON SMS

The Lady Bears have put on an offensive show in their first five games, especially from beyond the 3-point arc. In an average game, SMS is 10-of-21 from long distance, and is shooting 50.6 percent overall. Sophomore sharp-shooter Kari Koch leads the way with a 22.8 scoring average, and is hitting on 58 percent of her shots (including 53 percent from 3-point land).

There are discrepancies between the two teams over the series record, including in MU's own media guide. The opponent information on page 94 incorrectly lists 17-4 as the current series standing in favor of MU, and SMS' media guide lists 16-6. The Lady Bears include two wins over Mizzou in the 1973-74 season, when the Tigers were not yet a varsity program. MU does not count those two losses in its all-time record.

McNOTES: FOR THOSE ON THE RUN

MIZZOU QUICK HITS

- The Tigers are gunning for their fifth straight postseason berth, which would tie a school record first set from 1982-86. In this current streak, the Tigers have been to one NCAA Tournament (2001 Sweet 16), and three WNIT's (2000, 2002 and 2003).
- This season marks the 32nd and final season of basketball competition in the Hearnes Center. The Tigers will open a new basketball arena next year, just southwest of the current facility.
- Head Coach Cindy Stein earned her 150th career victory on Nov. 23, at Bradley, located in her hometown of Peoria, Ill.
- Stein and Evan Unrau represented the United States and the Big 12 Conference at the World University Games in Daegu, South Korea, this summer.

PLAYER QUICK HITS

- All-America candidate Evan Unrau leads the Big 12 in rebounding at 9.5 rpg. She also is Mizzou's leading scorer (17.3 ppg, 6th in the league).
- Sophomore LaToya Bond has taken the point-guard reigns following the graduation of Kerensa Barr. Bond is currently the Tigers' third-leading scorer (11.5 ppg).
- Sophomore Christelle N'Garsanet earned her associate's degree from Illinois Central College in just one year, allowing her three years of eligibility at Mizzou. A Francophone (for those who don't have their Webster's handy, "French-speaker") in her native Ivory Coast, N'Garsanet is adjusting well to the rigors of English.

LAST TIME OUT: MU 88, TULSA 68

Behind 19 points, seven rebounds and five assists from tournament MVP Evan Unrau, the Missouri women's basketball team defeated Tulsa, 88-68, Saturday night in the title game of the Unilever Tiger Tournament. It is the 18th time in the 26-year history of the tournament that the trophy has remained in Columbia.

For more on the game, consult the full recap and box score on page 9 of these game notes.

TIGER DEFENSE KEEPING THE CLAMPS ON

The Tigers have put up impressive defensive numbers in their first six games, including outings yielding just 43, 43, and 41 points. That average of 54.5 points per game is not only fourth in the Big 12 Conference to date, it's also the best mark of a Cindy Stein-coached team at Mizzou. Last year's squad gave up an average of 64.1 points per game, making that team the stingiest Stein group to date.

A large part of the defensive success can be attributed to the 7.2 blocks the Tigers are averaging a contest, which not only leads the Big 12 but also puts Mizzou on pace to shatter the current school record of 157 set by the 1999-2000 team.

The three games of allowing fewer than 50 points is impressive, but not a school record. A quick glance through the record books show three teams in the past several years of four games or more, including six by the 1992-93 Tigers.

UNRAU MAKING GOOD ON PROGNOSTICATIONS

Senior forward Evan Unrau (Fort Collins, Colo. / Rocky Mountain HS) has been selected to Street & Smith's preseason women's All-America team, and the four-year starter continues to impress this season.

While Unrau has taken advantage of the Tigers' increased depth this season – which has eased the scoring burden put on her – she still leads the team with her 17.3 points-per-game scoring average, and also leads the team – and the Big 12 Conference – in rebounding at 9.5 rpg.

Unrau was one of 50 players listed by Street & Smith's, and one of 30 players given Preseason Honorable Mention All-America status by the magazine. Ten others were each named to the "Terrific 10" and High Honorable Mention lists.

Last year, Unrau became Mizzou's second First Team All-Big 12 Conference selection in the seven-year history of the conference. She led the Tigers in both scoring (16.0 ppg) and rebounding (7.7 rpg) in leading Mizzou to postseason play for the fourth straight year.

2003-04 IS HOOPS SWAN SONG FOR HEARNES

An artists' rendering of the new basketball arena, which is slated to open next fall.

The University of Missouri broke ground on a new basketball arena – one that will be the finest on-campus facility in the nation when completed – on Sept. 21, 2002. The yet-to-be-named facility, which will seat just over 15,000 fans, is slated to open next fall, meaning this season will be the final one for the men's and women's basketball teams at the Hearnes Center. The women's basketball team sports an all-time record of 276-91 (.752) in the friendly confines.

Built in 1972, the Hearnes Center will continue to be utilized by MU's Olympic-sport programs such as volleyball, gymnastics, wrestling, and track and field.

A webcam of the arena construction site has been installed on top of the Hearnes Center, and it is providing live still images to the Missouri athletics website 24 hours a day. The webcam is located at ath.missouri.edu/arena, and it can also be accessed from the front page of www.MUTigers.com.

Slated to cost $75 million, the new arena project was jump-started by a generous $25 million donation by the Laurie family of Columbia. The State of Missouri will contribute $35 million in bond appropriations, while the remaining $15 million will be raised through athletic fundraising efforts.

BIG 12 SECOND IN CURRENT CONFERENCE RPI

The Big 12 is second after the first month of action in the WBCA/Summerville Conference RPI rankings. The Big 12 leads the nation in non-conference winning percentage with a .805 mark. The Big 12 is the only conference in the country that has its entire membership at .500 or better. In addition, the league is a combined 36-0 on its home floors this season.

TIGERS POSTING TOP-10 MARGIN OF VICTORY

With the NCAA statistical rankings not yet released as of Tuesday, the WBCA/Summerville RPI also reveals one other statistical nugget.

Mizzou is 8th in the country in average margin of victory at 27.3 points per game. Baylor (second) and Texas Tech (fifth) are the only Big 12 schools ahead of MU.

JAMES STRETCH-ING DEFENSES

Senior forward Stretch James (Columbus, Ohio / Northland HS / Tyler [Texas] JC) struggled early-on at UW-Green Bay last Saturday, hitting just one of her three field-goal attempts in just five minutes on the floor.

When the second half rolled around, James went into high gear, going 10-of-14 from the floor on her way to a career-high 24 points. She also pulled down four rebounds and made three blocks, including a clean stuff of the Phoenix' Tiffany Mor that unfortunately caused the UWGB star to seriously injure her knee with 9 minutes left. She averaged 17.0 ppg in Mizzou's two games in Wisconsin.

This past weekend, James made a case for being named to the Unilever All-Tournament Team, and received several votes from the assembled balloters. She averaged 13 points and eight rebounds, and shot 65 percent (13-of-20) from the field.

BOND MAKES HER POINT(S) AT THE POINT

Sophomore point guard LaToya Bond (Urbana, Ill. / Urbana HS) has adjusted well to taking the reigns at the point-guard position for the Tigers this season. A year removed from a support role behind Kerensa Barr, Bond has seized the spotlight this season with her status as the MU's third-leading scorer (11.5 ppg).

She posted an excellent performance in her first collegiate start at Bradley Nov. 23, scoring a game-high and career-high 17 points, including an impressive 11-of-12 showing from the free-throw line. Bond also tied her career high with four steals against the Braves. She scored in double figures again Nov. 26 vs. Southern, tallying 11 points and grabbed seven rebounds vs. the Jaguars. With a 16-point outing vs. Austin Peay two weeks ago, and an 11-point showing vs. Tulsa on Saturday, she's already surpassed her double-figure output from last season, when she scored 11 points each vs. Illinois and IUPUI.

Bond came off the bench in 29 games last season is support of the departed Kerensa Barr, and averaged 3.2 points and 1.3 rebounds a game. This season her numbers are higher across the board: 11.5 points, 3.8 rebounds, 4.5 assists and 3.0 steals.

TIGERS POLLED SEVENTH BY COACHES, MEDIA

Mizzou was picked to finish seventh in the Big 12 Conference this season in separate votes by the league's head coaches and media members.

In the coaches' poll, the Tigers received 55 votes, two more than eighth-place Iowa State. Defending champion Texas, which advanced to the 2003 NCAA Women's Final Four, received 10 of 11 possible first-place votes (coaches were not allowed to vote for their own team) and 120 overall points to pace the field. In addition, Evan Unrau received votes among the coaches' picks for the preseason All-Big 12 team.

With the exception of flip-flopping Texas A&M and Nebraska for 11th and 12th place, the media poll was exactly the same as the coaches' poll. In that, MU received 103 votes, six more than eighth-place Iowa State. Texas received 17 of the 18 first-place votes and 215 points to pace the field.

Picked to finish eighth last year by the coaches and seventh by the media, Mizzou finished 9-7 in the league and tied for fifth to match the Tigers' highest-ever placing in the seven-year history of the Big 12 Conference. MU was 17-14 overall and reached the quarterfinal round of the WNIT.

The 2003-04 squad returns four starters and eight letterwinners, including five seniors, and welcomes a talented recruiting class involving four newcomers.

THREE PREP STANDOUTS SIGN WITH MIZZOU

A trio of Midwest prep standouts have signed National Letters of Intent to enroll at the University of Missouri and play basketball, head coach Cindy Stein announced on Nov. 12. The three will be the first recruits to play their entire careers in Mizzou's new basketball arena, which is slated to open next fall.

Brittany Mannings, a 6-foot-4 center from Duchesne HS in St. Louis; Kassie Drew, a 5-foot-9 guard from Anna-Jonesboro (Ill.) High, and Crystal Howard, a 5-foot-9 guard from Omaha (Neb.) Central High School will join Stein and the Tigers for the 2004-05 season.

Mannings is ranked as the No. 25 center in the country in the All-Star Girls Report's Top 100. She has twice earned All-America Honorable Mention plaudits from Street & Smith's, and was a an all-state second-team pick in 2002. Mannings was a third-team St. Louis Post-Dispatch All-Metro selection last year after averaging 16.4 points, 9.8 rebounds and 4.7 blocks a game. She helped lead the Pioneers to the Missouri Class 4 championship in March.

Drew comes with numerous credentials entering her senior season. She already has scored 2,096 points in her three-year career, which is currently tied for 55th in Illinois State High School Association (IHSA) history. She's also 10th on the all-time 3-pointer list with 259 heading into this year, and needs just 36 to move into second place. She tied a state record by sinking 11 3-pointers in a game last December on her way to a career-high 55-point outing. She is ranked as ASGR's No. 35 point guard in the country. Drew was a consensus first-team Class A all-state pick last season, and as a sophomore was named first-team all-state by the Chicago Tribune and Chicago Sun-Times.

Howard was a member of the all-class all-state team as a sophomore in 2002, and was honorable mention all-state as a freshman. She has scored in double figures in each of her three seasons, averaging 14 points as a freshman, 16.2 as a sophomore and 17.5 as a junior. Like Mannings and Drew, Howard also earned a Street & Smith's Honorable Mention All-America nod last year.

The signing of the trio of high-school standouts concludes Mizzou's recruiting efforts for the fall signing period. The women's basketball program will look to sign two more players during the spring period - April 14-May 19, 2004.

MIZZOU ANNOUNCES THIRD-TIER TV PACKAGE

Three more women's basketball games will be broadcast this season, as officials from Mizzou Sports Properties have awarded television rights to those contests to the Mizzou Sports Network (MSN).

All three games will take place at the Hearnes Center, which will enter its 30th and final year of service as the basketball home of the Tigers before the team moves in to a new $75 million facility next year. The 2003-04 MSN schedule starts on Wednesday, Dec. 10, when Southwest Missouri State comes to Columbia. The Tigers' annual Border War tilt with the Kansas Jayhawks on Saturday, Jan. 10, as well as a visit by Kansas State – expected to be listed among the nation's top five teams when the preseason polls are released – on Sunday, Feb. 22, round out the schedule.

The 2003-04 broadcast slate currently features seven guaranteed regional and national regular-season telecasts, which ties the most ever for the women's basketball program. In addition to the three Mizzou games on the Big 12 Conference package – at Colorado, at Kansas and vs. Iowa State broadcast nationwide on FOX Sports Net – and the just-announced Mizzou Sports Network schedule, the Tigers' Jan. 7 date at Kansas State will be broadcast by FOX Sports Midwest in the state of Kansas and the Kansas City DMA (designated market area) as part of KSU's third-tier package.

Additional broadcast exposures are available on FOX Sports Net should the Tigers reach the quarterfinals and beyond of the Big 12 Conference women's basketball tournament. And for the second straight year, all 63 games of the NCAA Women's Basketball Championship Tournament will be aired by ESPN, ESPN2 and ESPN Pay-Per-View.

THE CINDY STEIN SHOW

Missouri Tiger fans who wish to speak with MU Women's Basketball Coach Cindy Stein can do so each Monday night through the facilities of the Tiger Network.

"The Cindy Stein Show" originiates each Monday evening from 6-7 p.m. at Harpo's in downtown Columbia. Stein spends most of the hour fielding telephone calls from interested fans. Tiger players often appear as guests, as do coaches of MU opponents and others inside college athletics. "The Cindy Stein Show" is hosted by David Lile, the voice of Missouri Women's Baskeball.

Recognized as one of the nation's top young women's basketball coaches, Cindy Stein earned her 150th career victory in her hometown of Peoria, Ill., on Sunday, Nov. 23 at Bradley. Stein has an 89-67 mark in her sixth season at MU and is 154-92 in her ninth overall as a collegiate head coach.

Her accomplishments have not gone unnoticed by the national basketball community, as this summer Stein served her country as an assistant coach with USA Basketball at the World University Games. She also was able to mentor one of her standout players, as senior forward Evan Unrau was a member of the squad that was comprised of Big 12 Conference all-stars. Unrau joins another Stein recruit, WNBA veteran Amanda Lassiter, as All-Big 12 First Team recipients since the league's formation seven years ago.

The season prior to Stein's arrival at MU, the Tigers posted an 11-16 record, yet the coach has turned the program around by guiding it to four straight postseason berths, including the 2001 NCAA Sweet Sixteen.

MU 77, Bradley 58

Game#1 – Nov. 23, 2003 – Robertson Field House

PEORIA, Ill. – Last year, free-throws decided the outcome. This season, the Mizzou women's basketball team made sure that wouldn't be necessary.

LaToya Bond and Megan Roney both had career days, and the Tigers ran to a 77-58 win Sunday afternoon at Robertson Field House – Mizzou's largest non-conference road win since the 2000-01 season. The victory is the 150th of Head Coach Cindy Stein's career.

Bond scored a game-high 17 points and was 11-of-12 from the free-throw line, and Roney tallied 12 points and nine rebounds. All are career highs for the pair who played significant roles Sunday after coming off the bench last season.

Mizzou blocked 12 Bradley shots on the day – more than last year's single-game highs of eight in back-to-back games last January. In addition, the Tigers recorded 21 fast-break points to BU's six; Mizzou also had 20 points off turnovers while giving up 11. The Tigers held Bradley to just 32.4 percent (23-of-71) from the field for the game, yet hit 24-of-54 (44.4 percent) of its own. Mizzou was also 26-of-38 from the free-throw line (68.4 percent).

The Tigers (1-0) started out slowly, missing their first three shots and committing a pair of charging fouls in the first 4 minutes of the game as Bradley staked to a 4-0 lead. Yet on consecutive possessions, Bond made a steal and went coast-to-coast for the layup, Evan Unrau made a steal and sank an 18-footer on the fast break, and Stretch James blocked a shot to Unrau, then took the return feed to give the Tigers a 6-4 lead.

The Tigers would soon go on a 9-0 run spanning more than 6 minutes – capped by a pair of baskets from Roney – to take a 16-6 lead with 9:27 to go in the first half. Roney added a put-back with 5:40 left to make the Mizzou lead 22-12.

Unrau made a nifty spin move off a defender and banked a shot off the glass to give the Tigers their final points of the half. Mizzou went into the locker room with a 12-point advantage (31-19).

Roney notched a trio of milestones early in the second half. With 18:38 left in the game, she hit her first career 3-pointer and broke her single-game scoring high (previously eight) in the process. The next time down the floor, Roney notched her first career assist on a dump-off to James to give MU a 42-21 lead. That was during a 16-2 run to open the half, which put the game out of reach.

James and Blair Hardiek each tallied 10 points for the Tigers, while Unrau had seven points and 12 rebounds. Amy Fuller had 13 points to lead BU (0-2).

MU 79, Southern 43

Game#2 – Nov. 26, 2003 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA – Evan Unrau posted her first double-double of the season, tallying game-highs of 21 points and 13 rebounds to lead the Missouri women's basketball team to a 79-43 rout of Southern at the Hearnes Center Wednesday afternoon.

MU stormed out to a 10-0 lead in the first 2 minutes, 29 seconds, and took advantage as Southern (0-3) missed its first 11 shots. By the time Sheré Cunningham banked in a 3-pointer from 22 feet with 9:55 left in the first half, the Tiger lead was 18-6. In that time, six different Missouri players had scored. While Cunningham's trey sparked a 7-4 run for Southern, Mizzou responded with a 9-2 break over the next 4:36 to boost the Tiger lead to 31-12 with 3:17 remaining in the first half.

Southern went on its own 8-3 run, capped by a half-court buzzer-beater by Cunningham, to close the half and give Missouri a 34-20 lead going into the locker room. That would be as close as Southern would come to the lead the rest of the game, as the Tigers went on an 11-4 run to start the second half. Southern got the lead under 20 points once the rest of the game.

The Tigers (2-0) posted a monstrous 55-29 rebounding edge, including 20-8 on the offensive end. That allowed Mizzou to score 24 second-chance points.

LaToya Bond added 11 points, and Melanie Fisher added 10 for the Tigers. Stretch James had 11 rebounds to go with four points.

Cunningham led the Jaguars with 17 points.

MU 78, Austin Peay 43

Game#3 – Nov. 28, 2003 – Resch Center

GREEN BAY, Wis. – Dominating play from the Mizzou defense has put the Tigers into the championship game of the Oneida Bingo & Casino Holiday Tournament following a 78-43 win over Austin Peay Friday at the Resch Center.

Mizzou, which has its first 3-0 start since 2001, finished the game with a tournament-record nine blocked shots after swatting seven away in the first half. Seven different Tigers recorded a block, with LaToya Bond and Stretch James each blocking a pair. In addition, the Tigers took advantage of 21 APSU turnovers, as Mizzou posted a 27-6 advantage in points off turnovers.

Bond had a game-high 16 points and five steals, with Evan Unrau adding 15 points, four rebounds and three assists and James chipping in 10 points, four rebounds and three steals.

The Tigers took a quick 10-4 lead on the strength of a pair of baskets from Unrau and another four points from Bond. Austin Peay pulled to within 13-10 on a 3-pointer by Alicia Watson, yet the Tigers reeled off nine straight points for a 22-10 lead with 10 minutes, 25 seconds remaining in the first half.

APSU got no closer than 10 points the rest of the half, and that came with 8:38 left at 22-12. After another short Mizzou run, the Lady Govs pulled to within 13 with 2:00 left on a Carden Cobb bucket, yet the Tigers ran the break effectively down the stretch, throwing another 9-0 run – including an athletic Bond jumper as the buzzer sounded – to go into the locker room with a 41-19 halftime lead.

Melanie Fisher and Megan Roney both made important contributions in the first half, combining inside for 4-of-5 shooting, seven rebounds and five assists.

The Tigers had seven blocks at the break, just one off the tournament record for an entire game. More importantly, Mizzou held APSU to just 25 percent shooting (8-for-32) at the half while hitting on 52.9 percent (18-for-34) of its own shots. MU also held a 25-15 rebounding edge, including 17-8 on the defensive end.

The second half was just as dominating, as Mizzou went on a 17-4 run midway through the final 20 minutes to take a 69-33 lead with 6:56 left. Back-to-back jumpers by EeTisha Riddle were included in that span, as was a 7-for-7 performance from the free-throw line by the Tigers.

Game#5 – Dec. 5, 2003 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA – Five players scored in double figures and the Missouri women's basketball team posted its highest single-game point total since 2001 Friday night as the Tigers rolled over Alcorn State, 103-41, in the first round of the Unilever Tiger Tournament.

The Tigers' 103 points represents the team's largest single-game point total since they scored 106 on Eastern Illinois on Nov. 17, 2000. This win also marks the first occasion the Tigers have hit the century mark since defeating Arkansas-Pine Bluff, 102-47, on Dec. 20, 2001.

The Tigers got stellar play on the boards from Christelle N'Garsanet midway through the first half. N'Garsanet finished with a team-leading seven rebounds in just 14 minutes on the floor to go with 11 points.

A 29-0 run that spanned halftime put the game out of reach for the Lady Braves. With 5:32 remaining in the first half, Evan Unrau drained a 3-pointer, and Tracy Lozier and Megan Roney capped it off with back-to-back three's of their own to push the score to 62-15.

Unrau led all scorers with 22 points while also chipping in five rebounds and three assists. She was joined by four teammates in double figures, all with 11 points – Lozier, N'Garsanet, Cherice Mack and Carlynn Savant.

LaToya Bond led all players with eight assists and four steals, in addition to recording eight points. Unrau and Stretch James combined to lead the Tigers with two blocks each.

Tiffaney Smith led Alcorn State, which shot just 27.3 percent from the field (15-for-55), with 10 points. The Tigers forced the Lady Braves into 26 turnovers, while posting a sparkling 31 assist-to-9 turnover ratio of its own.

MU 88, Tulsa 68

Game#6 – Dec. 6, 2003 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA – Behind 19 points, seven rebounds and five assists from tournament MVP Evan Unrau, the Missouri women's basketball team defeated Tulsa, 88-68, Saturday night in the title game of the Unilever Tiger Tournament. It is the 18th time in the 26-year history of the tournament that the trophy has remained in Columbia.

Tracy Lozier was 8-of-14 from the field, including 4-of-9 shooting from the 3-point line, in blasting her previous season-high of 11 points set Friday night vs. Alcorn State with 20 against the Golden Hurricane (3-1). Lozier's previous career-high of 19 points came in a breakout game last December at Northern Iowa.

Stretch James recorded her first double-double of the season for the Tigers (5-1) with 18 points and a team-high 11 rebounds, while also collecting three steals to pace the Tigers. This marks James' sixth career double-double in a Missouri uniform.

LaToya Bond tied with Unrau for the team lead in assists with five, giving her 13 assists in the two tournament games. Her 11 points also made her the fourth Tiger in double figures on the evening.

Joining Unrau on the Unilever All-Tournament Team were Lozier, Tulsa's Sarah Lundberg and Candace Brewer, UAB's Brittany Smith and Shirley Gooch from Alcorn State. UAB earned the consolation title with a 59-49 win over Alcorn State in the night's first game.

"I was very proud of a lot of things we did tonight, in claiming back the championship of our own tournament," said Head Coach Cindy Stein. "It feels good to finally have it back in our hands."

The Tigers outshot the Golden Hurricane 48.5 percent to 36.5 percent from the field, marking the third straight game Mizzou has eclipsed the 45-percent plateau. MU's 50 percent from beyond the arc is a first on the year. Missouri also outrebounded Tulsa 45-28, which is the fifth time in six games this season the Tigers have held a rebounding edge over their opponent.

The 191 points Missouri scored in its two tournament games this weekend are its highest two-game point total since the 1999 Unilever Tiger Tournament. Mizzou opened that weekend with a 111-31 win over Centenary, then followed with an 86-76 victory over Western Kentucky.
