Mizzou Athletic Traditions

The University of Missouri is well known for its winning traditions on the playing field. However, few people know or comprehend the tremendous tailgating tradition we have off the playing field. For several decades Mizzou fans have endured the weather to watch the Tigers and engage in elaborate Tailgating Rituals.

We appreciate the traditions you have established over the years and now we would like you to share those traditions and memories with other Mizzou Fans! Over the next year we will be compiling these traditions, tips, stories, and of course recipes into a book. Please take a moment to complete this sheet (attach others if needed) with your tailgating tradition. Whether it is a menu of great tailgate food, recipe, or story – we would love to hear it!
