TIGERS HOST BOBCATS IN QUEST OF 4-0 START TO 2006 SEASON

The University of Missouri Tigers (3-0 overall) return home to the friendly confines of Faurot Field/Memorial Stadium, where they will play host this Saturday afternoon to the Ohio University Bobcats (2-1). Kickoff for the contest is set for 1:08 p.m.

Mizzou is coming off of a hard-fought 27-17 win at New Mexico last week, a win that moved the Tigers to 3-0 to start a season for the 2nd time under Head Coach Gary Pinkel, and for just the 12th time since 1935 (72 seasons), and the 22nd time overall since the program began in 1890.

Ohio makes its first trip to Columbia after dropping a 24-7 decision at Rutgers last Saturday. The Bobcats, coached by former Nebraska Coach Frank Solich, began the season with consecutive wins over Tennessee-Martin (29-3), and at Northern Illinois (35-23). This will mark Ohio's third straight road game.

TIGERS ON THE HUNT FOR MU'S 5TH 4-0 START SINCE 1925

After claiming its first road win of the young season in a 27-17 win at New Mexico, Mizzou returns home to Columbia looking to continue building on its promising start to 2006. The Tigers are 3-0 for the 2nd time under Head Coach Gary Pinkel, and are beginning to turn heads after its trio of victories – including an impressive 47-7 season-opening triumph over Murray State on Sept. 2nd, followed by a 34-7 victory Sept. 9th against Mississippi.

This year's Tiger team looks to move to 4-0 for the first time since the 2003 Tigers started the year 4-0, on the way to an 8-5 record overall. That marked the best start to a season for Mizzou since the 1981 Tigers won their first five games, en route to a final mark of 8-4 that year.

The 3-0 start already achieved by Mizzou marks just the 12th time in the last 72 seasons (since 1935) that Mizzou has began a season with three straight wins. In all, it marks the 22nd time starting 3-0 since the program began in 1890.

A win Saturday against Ohio would move the Tigers to 4-0 for just the 5th time since 1925 (a span of 82 seasons), and just the 12th time in what is the 116th year of MU football.

Here's a quick recap of the 4-0 starts in school history:

Season	Started	Ended	Rank	Bowl Game
1895	4-0	7-1	n/a	n/a
1899	7-0	9-2	n/a	n/a
1905	5-0	5-4	n/a	n/a

BRIAN SMITH NAMED BIG 12 DEFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Senior DE Brian Smith celebrated his birthday last Saturday night in record-setting fashion, as he tied an MU single-game record by notching 4 QB sacks in his personal domination of New Mexico. Smith helped lead an outstanding defensive effort for Mizzou, which held the Lobos to just 201 yards of total offense, and kept them without an offensive touchdown until 25 seconds left in the game.

Smith's 4 QB sacks totaled 34 yards in losses, and were part of MU's 8 sacks overall on the night as the Tiger defensive line wreaked havoc from the get-go. In all, Smith had 6 tackles, with 1 other TFL (2 yards), he forced a fumble that set up an MU field goal just before halftime, he broke up a pass and had 1 other QB pressure.

For his monster efforts, Smith was named Monday as the Big 12 Conference's Defensive Player of the Week. It marks the 2nd time that the Denton, Texas native has earned the weekly award, adding to his previous one that came in 2005 against Oklahoma State. This is the 9th time overall that a Tiger has won Big 12 Defensive POW honors, including the 2nd straight week (LB Marcus Bacon won in week #2), and the third straight week that a Tiger has won an award (QB Chase Daniel won the Offensive POW award in week #1).

Smith is the 2nd Tiger defender to win the award twice, matching the pair won by former CB Wade Perkins during the 1998 season.

MIZZOU BIG 12 DEFENSIVE PLAYERS OF THE WEEK

For the record, Tigers have won Big 12 Offensive Player of the Week honors 11 times previously (6 by Brad Smith, 2 each by Corby Jones and Devin West, 1 by Chase Daniel) and 4 times have won league Special Teams Player of the Week honors (2 by Marcus James, 1 each by Adam Crossett and Brad Hammerich).

MORE NITTY-GRITTY ABOUT SMITTY

Senior DE Brian Smith might not have 69 records on the books that former Tiger QB Brad Smith had, but "Smitty" has one very prominent claim to fame – the MU career QB sacks record. Smith entered the 2006 season already as MU's career record holder, with 24, including a career-high 9 turned in last year.

He's already upped that record to 30 with 6 sacks in 3 games so far, as he turned in 1 QB sack in each of MU's 1st 2 games prior to last Saturday's 4-sack fest at New Mexico.

Smith enters the Ohio game leading the nation with his average of 2.0 sacks per game. He also stands just 4 sacks away from the Big 12 Conference career record of 34, set by Aaron Hunt of Texas Tech, from 1999-2002.

Smith is currently at No. 2 on the Big 12 career list...

Big 12 Career QB Sacks

Sacks	Player	School	Years
34	Aaron Hunt	Texas Tech	1999-2002
30	Brian Smith	Mizzou	2003-Present
29.5	Darren Howard	Kansas St.	1996-99
28	Adell Duckett	Texas Tech	2001-04
25	Dan Cody	Oklahoma	2000-04

Smith became an every down player for the first time in 2005, and he turned in a career year in virtually every category. He had 66 tackles, and led the team with 17 tackles for loss (for 70 yards in losses) in addition to his sacks. Smith had 12 QB hurries and forced 2 fumbles on the year to boot, and was named a 1st-Team All-Big 12 by the Houston Chronicle.

A very focused and hard-nosed player, Smith showed toughness and desire to compete when he played in MU's bowl game against South Carolina last season after having his knee scoped just 2 weeks ahead of time to clean up a nagging injury he played with all season.

The Denton, Texas, native led all NCAA freshmen defenders as a redshirt freshman in 2003 with 8 QB sacks. He followed with 7 more as a sophomore, and added a career-best 9 in 2005. The MU single-season QB sack record is 11, set by Justin Smith in 2000.

MIZZOU-OHIO SERIES HISTORY

While Saturday will represent the first time that Mizzou and Ohio meet on the gridiron, the head coaches on both sidelines will not be meeting each other, or facing the other school, for the first time.

Mizzou Head Coach Gary Pinkel and Ohio Head Coach Frank Solich have faced off three times previously, from 2001-03 when Solich was sideline boss for his alma mater Nebraska. Solich won the first two encounters (36-3 in Columbia in 2001, and 24-13 in Lincoln in 2002), while Pinkel got an historic win for MU with a 41-24 victory in 2003 in Columbia. That marked Mizzou's 1st win over Nebraska since 1978, breaking a 24-year stranglehold that the Huskers held in the series.

In all, Ohio's Solich is 5-1 in previous encounters against Mizzou, as he won games in 1998 (20-13 in Lincoln), 1999 (40-10 in Columbia) and 2000 (42-24 in Lincoln) in addition to the aforementioned wins above.

Mizzou's Pinkel enters Saturday's game with a perfect 5-0 alltime mark against Ohio, with all 5 wins coming in a six-year span from 1991-96 as head coach of Toledo. Pinkel beat the Bobcats in 1991 (17-13), 1993 (28-10) and 1995 (31-20) at home, and claimed road wins at Ohio in 1994 (31-6) and 1996 (24-23).

LAST TIME OUT: MIZZOU PULLS AWAY FOR 27-17 WIN AT NEW MEXICO

Mizzou moved to 3-0 on the season with a gritty 27-17 win at New Mexico last Saturday night in Albuquerque, N.M. The Tigers started off hot, as they had in each of their first two games, and took a quick 10-0 lead after its first two possessions on a 37-yard FG by PK Jeff Wolfert, and a 6-yard TD pass from QB Chase Daniel to TE Martin Rucker.

But what appeared to be headed for a Tiger rout just as quickly turned into a tight ballgame, as New Mexico got a defensive score on an 11-yard interception return early in the 2nd quarter (Daniel's 1st INT of the season) to make it 10-7.

Despite forcing 3 turnovers in the 2nd quarter, Mizzou couldn't capitalize as it was stopped short on a 4th-and-1 try from inside the Lobo 5-yardline on one occasion, and could manage only a 2nd Wolfert FG (36 yards) just before half to make it 13-7 in favor of MU.

The Tiger defense continued its dominance in the 2nd half, and it appeared the offense was getting re-started as it drove another time inside the Lobo 10-yardline, only to see TB Tony Temple lose a fumble near the goalline that New Mexico recovered in the endzone for a touchback. When the Lobos then drove 45 yards and got a 52-yard field goal just before the end of the 3rd quarter, it seemed as the home team was prime for pulling an upset.

But Mizzou would have none of it, and re-established its dominance on both sides of the ball in the 4th quarter. Daniel directed the offense to a pair of methodical, clock-eating drives that consumed a combined 23 plays and 11:09 and produced 14 points (Daniel scored 1st on an 8-yard keeper with 10:52 left, and TB Earl Goldsmith scored from 2 yards out with 1:46 left) to ice the game and make it 27-10 Mizzou.

The Lobos mustered their only TD drive of the night in sanitation engineering time, and got a TD pass with just 25 seconds left, but it was too late, as the Tigers moved to 3-0 for the first time since 2003.

DEFENSE RANKS 1ST IN BIG 12, 2ND IN NCAA IN TOTAL DEFENSE

Mizzou's defense, which returns 7 starters from a year ago, has been nothing short of outstanding in MU's first 3 games of the 2006 season.

Heading into the Ohio contest, MU's defense tops the Big 12 Conference, and ranks 2nd nationally, in total defense, allowing just 171.00 yards per game — just 1 yard per game behind national leader LSU (170.00 ypg). The Tigers held New Mexico to 201 total yards on the road (with 66 of those coming during garbage time), and previously held Ole Miss to just 162 total yards in a 34-7 win, and began the year with a stifling performance against Murray State, as they held the Racers to just 150 yards in MU's 44-7 win.

Against New Mexico, the Tiger defense was dominant most of the night, as it held the Lobos to just 135 yards of offense before their last drive, and Mizzou forced 3 turnovers, and sacked the UNM quarterback 8 times for 55 yards in losses.

The 8 QB sacks pushed the Tigers near the top of the national rankings in sacks, as MU stands #2 heading into the Ohio game with an average of 4.67 per game.

Against Ole Miss, the Tiger defense was swarming from the get-go, holding the Rebels to just 7 total yards on 11 plays in the first quarter as MU built a quick 10-0 lead. Mizzou eventually forced 3 turnovers on the day, all coming on interceptions, and now has garnered 5 takeaways through 2 games (4 INTs, 1 fumble). About the only hiccup defensively was a short TD drive allowed late in the 2nd quarter after Mizzou fumbled away a punt return to the Rebels – Ole Miss recovered on the MU 35-yardline and took just 2 plays to score a TD to cut the lead to 17-7.

That solid overall performance followed up an even stingier outing in the 2006 season opener against Murray State. The Tiger defense limited Murray State to just 150 yards of total offense on the night, forcing two turnovers (1 fumble, 1 interception).

Mizzou kept the Racers out of the endzone for the game's first 58 minutes and 3 seconds, until Murray State hit a 13-yard TD pass with just 1:57 left. Regardless of the score, the defense held up its end of the bargain, allowing just 10 first downs overall.

The Tiger defensive line, considered by most to be the strength of the unit heading into the season (with 4 returning starters) lived up to its billing, as it was instrumental in holding Murray State to only 27 yards rushing on 25 carries (1.1 avg.).

The longest rush of the night for MSU was just 12 yards – and that was the only run the Racers had over 8 yards long. The longest pass play on the night for the Racers was just 15 yards.

Mizzou was dominant early on, as it did not allow the Racers a first down until the 7-minute mark of the 2nd quarter. Murray State had just 14 yards of total offense in the first quarter and mustered only 42 by halftime.

TIGER OFFENSE ALSO LEADS THE BIG 12, RANKS 5TH NATIONALLY

Not to be outdone by their defensive teammates, the Tiger offense has also been prolific in the early going, as it also leads the Big 12 – and ranks 5th in the NCAA – through 3 games, averaging 485.33 yards per game. That gives MU the current ability to boast the top-ranked offense AND defense in the Big 12 Conference, as well as both being top-5 units on the national scene to boot.

Mizzou began the season with a 589-yard outing in a 47-7 win over Murray State, then laid 471 more yards on Ole Miss of the Southeastern Conference in a dominating 34-7 the next week. The production dropped a little last week, as New Mexico's unique 4-2-6 defensive look contained the offense a little better, but the Tigers still managed 396 yards.

DEFENSE STINGY ON THE GROUND, NO RUSHING TDS ALLOWED SO FAR

The Tiger defense ranks 2nd in the Big 12 Conference, and 6th in the NCAA, in rushing defense, allowing only 44.00 yards per game on the ground thus far. Mizzou trails only Texas in the league, as the Longhorns are currently giving up only 25.00 rushing yards a game.

Mizzou has yet to allow a rushing TD this season through 3 games, making it one of only 11 defenses entering the weekend that can make that claim. Two of the other 10 also hail from the Big 12 Conference – Baylor and Kansas State.

In 2005, the Tigers allowed 23 rushing TDs (an average of just under 2 per game), including at least 1 in every game but Baylor.

Opponents in 2006 are averaging just 1.6 yards per attempt on the ground so far, less than half of the 3.8 yards per carry allowed by MU in 2005.

In its opener, Mizzou permitted just 27 yards rushing by Murray State, and followed by allowing 72 net rushing yards to Ole Miss (which had gained 240 yards on the ground in their season opener against Memphis). Last week, the Tiger defense allowed only 33 rushing yards to a New Mexico team that gained 202 yards on the ground in an upset win in Columbia (45-35) in 2005.

TONY SHOWS 'EM HE'S A TIGER

Junior TB Tony Temple was named the starter after turning in an impressive fall camp. Temple worked hard in the weight room over the summer and is now up to 200 pounds for the first time in his career (he played at 190 last year, but was down to 176 at the end of the season).

Temple is coming off a career game in which he rushed for 168 yards on 22 carries (a healthy 7.6 avg.) — both career-high numbers. He carried the burden for the MU offense in the pivotal 4th quarter, as he gained 69 key yards on 9 attempts as MU burned the clock on a pair of TD drives that iced the game in MU's 27-17 victory.

Temple's yardage total was the most in a game for a Tiger running back since Oct. 7, 2000, when Zain Gilmore rushed for 169 yards against Oklahoma State. He is currently averaging 119.00 yards per game on the ground, a figure which ranks him 2nd in the Big 12 Conference, and 11th nationally through 3 games.

Temple showed great resiliency on the night, as he recovered from a key fumble in the 3rd quarter that derailed a promising Tiger drive. With MU leading 13-7, and in position for a score on the New Mexico 11-yardline late in the 3rd quarter, Temple got the call and went around left end for a nice gain, but when he was hit at the 6-yardline, the ball flew out and rolled into the Lobo endzone, where it was recovered by New Mexico for a touchback. The Lobos promptly drove 44 yards the other way and got a field goal to cut it to 13-10.

Undaunted, Temple was determined to make up for his mistake, and he did just that in the 4th quarter, as he rushed for gains of 8, 13 and 8 on MU's possession that ended in a Chase Daniel 8-yard TD to make it 20-10 with 10:52 left. He later carried 6 times for 40 yards on MU's next drive that ended in an Earl Goldsmith TD to ice the game at 27-10 with 1:46 left. Included in that drive was a nifty 27-yard darting run that saw Temple take it down to the UNM 2-yardline.

Temple showed right away this season that he is carrying his added bulk well, as he plowed over Murray State for a career-high 119 yards rushing in the season opener, on just 15 carries — good for a salty average of 7.9 yards per carry.

Temple had runs of 27 and 22 yards on the night, with the latter being of the highlight-reel variety, as he went around left tackle, got flipped head-over heels about 10 yards downfield on a tackle, rolled over the would-be tackler but did not go down, regained his footing and raced another 12 or so yards before being dragged down.

He also showed an improved ability to provide blocking for QB Chase Daniel, as he was seen picking up charging defenders to free Daniel up to get the ball away safely.

The junior from Kansas City, Mo. followed with another 70 yards on 14 carries (5.0 avg.) in week #2 against Ole Miss.

Temple played in 10 games a year ago, and led Tiger tailbacks with a per-carry average of 5.4 yards per attempt. He ended the year with 437 yards and 3 TDs, and made starts in 2 of the Tigers' last 3 games of the year.

He also serves as MU's primary kickoff return man. Temple ranked 4th in the Big 12 in 2005 with a return average of 23.5 per return. He's returned only one kick so far in 2006 — against Murray State, and made it good for a 26-yard effort.

MU-NEW MEXICO POST-GAME WRAPUP, PT. 2

✪ — Mizzou held an advantage in total yards in the 1st quarter of 126-to-25, as the quarter ended with MU leading, 10-0...

✪ — Sophomore PK Jeff Wolfert was perfect on the night, as he connected on both of his FG attempts (36, 37) and was perfect on 3 PATs. He is now 5-of-7 in FGs for the season, and a perfect 13-of-13 on point afters...

✪ — True freshman CB Del Howard continued his solid play, as he stepped in front of a New Mexico pass in the 2nd quarter to grab an interception for the 2nd straight game. He is tied through 3 games for the team lead now, with 2 INTs (S Brandon Massey also has 2)...

✪ — Mizzou also got the win despite leaving lots of potential points on the field. Mizzou failed on a 4th-and-1 attempt on the UNM 5-yardline late in the 2nd quarter, and also fumbled into

TIGER SACK ATTACK BRINGS THE PAIN

Mizzou's defensive line was dominant last time out at New Mexico, as the front four wreaked havoc all night long on the Lobo offense. Mizzou ended the night with 8 QB sacks for total losses of 55 yards.

After notching 3 sacks in each of its 1st two games, the Tigers now enter the Ohio contest leading the Big 12 Conference, and ranking 2nd in the NCAA, in sacks per game, with an average of 4.67 per outing.

At New Mexico, the D-Line accounted for 7 of the 8 sacks, with DE Brian Smith (4 for 34), DE Xzavie Jackson (2 for 12) and DT Lorenzo Williams (1 for 4) setting the tone early and often. CB Domonique Johnson even got in on the act as he recorded his 1st career sack in the 1st quarter, good for a loss of 5 yards.

Through 3 games, Mizzou is almost halfway to its 12-game sack total from the 2005 season. MU currently has 14 sacks for 89 yards, after notching 30 sacks in 2005 for 234 yards.

1ST QUARTER NUMBERS WEIGHTED HEAVILY IN MU'S FAVOR

Getting off to a flying start has not been an issue for the Tigers so far during the 2006 season. Mizzou has been dominant on both sides of the ball in the 1st quarter through 3 games, outscoring its opponents by a 41-0 margin.

Tiger opponents have yet to convert a 3rd-down conversion against MU's defense in the 1st quarter so far, and have made only 2 1st downs in all, while the Tiger offense has cranked out 26 1st downs in the initial 15 minutes, and have converted on 7-of-11 3rd down opportunities.

The farthest an opponent has driven on Mizzou through 3 games is their own 49-yardline, meaning that opponents haven't taken a snap on the MU side of the field in 45 minutes of combined action in the 1st quarter this season.

Mizzou has gained a total of 537 yards of offense in the 1st quarter, compared to a total of 46 yards for opponents.

Here's a rundown of the details...

PINKEL HAS WON 11 OF LAST 16 GAMES AT MIZZOU

Mizzou Head Coach Gary Pinkel is in his sixth season at MU and touts a career record of 105-67-3 (60.9%). His career winning percentage of 60.2% to begin the season ranked him 23rd in the nation among active Division I-A coaches with a minimum of seven years coached.

Pinkel, who has led MU to a combined record of 23-16 over the past four seasons (including 11 wins in his last 16 games dating back to the 2004 season finale), and to bowl games in 2003 and 2005, has a six-year record in Columbia of 32-30 (51.6%).

With a team picked to finish fourth in the Big 12 North Division in 2005, Pinkel's Tigers tied for second place (winning all tiebreakers), and were playing for a chance to share for the division title heading into the regular-season finale. Pinkel has now led MU to two bowl games, and that puts him in select company, as he joins Don Faurot, Dan Devine, Al Onofrio, Warren Powers and Larry Smith as the only coaches to guide MU to multiple bowl games. After beating Nebraska (41-24 in 2005) for the second time in three years, Pinkel became the first MU coach since Onofrio to defeat NU twice.

Mizzou's 34-7 win over Ole Miss drew him above the .500 mark at Mizzou. Pinkel is the first Tiger coach since Warren Powers to have an MU record of above .500 after at least one full season of coaching (Powers left after the 1984 season with an MU record of 46-33-3).

Pinkel has driven Mizzou to a pair of winning seasons (8-5 in 2003 and 7-5 in 2005) in his five previous years at the wheel, with those representing two of MU's four winning campaigns dating back to the 1983 season. With a winning season in 2006, he would become the first MU coach since Powers to have three winning years.

TIGERS RANK HIGHLY IN NATIONAL STATISTICAL REPORTS

Through 3 games, Mizzou ranks among the nation's top-10 in 7 different statistical categories: Total Defense (2nd – 171.00); QB Sacks (2nd – 4.67 pg); Total Offense (5th – 485.33); Rushing Defense (6th – 44.00 ypg); Tackles for Loss (6th – 9.67); Pass Defense (10th – 127.00); and Pass Efficiency Defense (10th – 89.85 rating).

Additionally, the Tigers rank in the top 25 in 5 other categories, as well: Rushing Offense (T-11th – 223.67); Scoring Defense (14th – 10.33); Scoring Offense (16th – 36.00); Turnover Margin (T-17th – +1.00); Passing Offense (25th – 261.67).

FAST STARTS GET MIZZOU OFF TO THE RACES

Mizzou hopes to continue a trend that has seen them jump out to leads right away in each of their first three games. Last Saturday at New Mexico, playing on the road for the 1st time, the Tiger offense scored on its opening possession for the 3rd straight game, as it drove 61 yards to get a Jeff Wolfert 37-yard field goal. After a defensive stop, QB Chase Daniel led the Tigers on a 56-yard drive that culminated with his 6-yard TD pass to TE Martin Rucker for a quick 10-0 lead.

The previous week against Ole Miss, the Tigers took the opening kickoff and marched 80 yards in 10 plays to take a 7-0 lead. Mizzou's defense held up its end too, as it held the Rebels to a 3-and-out series, and the offense followed with another drive that produced a field goal for a quick 10-0 lead.

That followed an even more impressive start in MU's season opener against Murray State, as the Tigers scored TDs on their first 3 possessions to jump out to an imposing 21-0 lead in the 1st quarter, as the MU defense held the Racers without a first down and to a total of 9 yards in their first 3 drives.

On its 6 total initial possessions to open the 1st and 3rd quarters so far, the Tigers have scored 3 TDs and 1 FG and have rolled up 308 combined yards on those 6 drives (the only ones they haven't scored on was in the 3rd quarter against Murray State and at New Mexico). The Mizzou defense has been even more dominant in its starting situations, allowing only 2 total first downs and a grand total of 18 yards and no points in 1st/2nd half opening drives by Murray State, Mississippi and New Mexico.

Tiger QB Chase Daniel has been the catalyst offensively, as he has been sizzling coming out of the lockerroom. In the opener against Murray State, he completed his first 8 passes of the night for 101 yards and 2 TDs before throwing his first incomplection on his first attempt of the third series. He followed against Ole Miss by completing 6-of-6 passes for 50 yards, and rushing 4 times for 30 yards as he marched the Tigers 80 yards for an opening-drive TD. Daniel completed the first two passes of MU's 2nd series for 8 yards total, before throwing his first incomplection. Last Saturday at New Mexico, Daniel completed 8-of-9 passes in MU's 1st two drives for 74 yards and the 1 TD.

CHASE DANIEL ERA OFF TO A ROUSING START

Sophomore QB Chase Daniel made his first career start Sept. 2nd against Murray State, and to call his performance good would be a slight understatement. Daniel was precision-like in his distribution of the ball, and he broke the MU single-game record by throwing 5 TD passes. He ended the night 23-of-32 passing for 320 yards in leading the Tigers to a 47-7 victory.

Daniel's single-game passer rating was an astounding 207.44, and for his efforts, he was named the Big 12's Offensive Player of the Week on Sept. 4th.

What would Daniel do against a tougher opponent, was the big question, and he answered that as best he could the next week against Ole Miss, as he amassed 332 yards of total offense in leading the Tigers to a 34-7 dismantling of the SEC school.

Daniel completed 24-of-40 passes on the day for 1 TD, and unveiled an effective ability to run for yardage as well, as he ran 13 times for a team-best 89 yards and 1 TD. He led the Tigers to 10 points in their first 2 possessions, including a precision-like 10-play, 80-yard TD drive to open the game that he capped with a 3-yard TD run. On the opening drive, Daniel was 6-of-6 passing for 50 yards, and he carried 4 times for 30 yards as well, to account for all of the yardage in the series.

His 1st-ever road start wasn't without its bumps, but Daniel passed with flying colors in the end, as he led the Tigers to a 27-17 win in Albuquerque, N.M. He led the Tigers to a quick 10-0 lead in the 1st quarter on 8-of-9 passing for 74 yards and 1 TD in his first two series. After throwing his 1st interception of the year in the 2nd quarter (which was returned 11 yards for a TD by the Lobos), Daniel responded in crunch time to drive the Tigers to consecutive 4th-quarter TDs (on drives of 80 and 72 yards) to extend a 13-10 lead to 27-10 with 1:46 left in the game. In the 4th quarter at New Mexico, Daniel was 5-of-5 passing for 46 yards, and he rushed 5 times for 22 yards, including an 8-yard keeper for a TD that came at the 10:52 mark to make it 20-10 in favor of the Tigers.

Mizzou's offense enters week 4 against Ohio with the 5th-rated offense in the nation, at 485.33 yards per game. Daniel ranks 13th in the nation (and 2nd in the Big 12) in total offense entering the contest (282.33 ypg), and also rates 30th nationally (and 5th in the Big 12) in passing efficiency (145.47 rating).

Belying his youth and relative inexperience, Daniel began his first collegiate start with a statement, as he completed his first 8 passes for 101 yards and 2 TDs before throwing his first incompletion on his first attempt of the third series. He ended the game with scoring strikes of 60 yards and 34 yards to WR Will Franklin, 35 yards to WR Jared Perry, 8 yards to WR Brad Ekwerekwu and 3 yards to TE Chase Coffman.

Daniel's 320 passing yards stands as the 10th-highest single-game total in MU history, and it is the 3rd-most for a sophomore.

Daniel is replacing all-everything QB Brad Smith, who started every game for Mizzou from 2002-2005 and left holding 69 different MU, Big 12 and NCAA game, season and career records. He was the first QB other than Smith to start a game at MU since Kirk Farmer started the 2001 season finale at Michigan State (a 55-7 loss for MU on Dec. 1st).

While Daniel himself has said all along that he would never hope to achieve what Smith did in his time at Mizzou, the modest QB from Southlake, Texas has those in the program very excited about his potential. He gained invaluable experience as a true freshman in 2005, playing in 10 games and completing 38-of-62 passes (.576) for 347 yards and 1 TD (2 INTs).

Most notably, Daniel relieved an injured and ineffective Smith in the fourth quarter of MU's Homecoming game last year against Iowa State, and led MU from a 10-point deficit with just under 9 minutes left to a thrilling 27-24 comeback win. With MU's back squarely against the wall, Daniel belied his youth by calmly leading the Tigers downfield on consecutive drives of 75 and 87 yards, and hit WR Sean Coffey from 4 yards out for a game-tying TD with just 20 seconds left in regulation. After ISU failed to score on its OT possession, Daniel again directed a drive that culminated with PK Adam Crossett's game-winning 26-yard field goal.

QUICKLY ABOUT MIZZOU

Mizzou posted a record of 7-5 in 2005 — which was just the fourth winning season for the program since 1983. Under Head Coach Gary Pinkel, the Tigers have gone 23-16 over the past four years (8-5 in 2003, 5-6 in 2004, 7-5 in 2005, and 2-0 in 2006).

Entering Saturday's game versus Ohio, Pinkel has now won 11 of his last 16 games, dating back to the 2004 season finale.

The 2006 Tigers return 17 starters from last year, but that number jumps to 19 when you factor in those who started in the Independence Bowl (including the positions of placekicker and punter).

Even with so many experienced players returning to the fold in 2006, the Tigers still have the look of a youthful squad with plenty of upside. Of the 22 starters from the 2006 season opener against Murray State, only 8 were seniors, with 8 being juniors, and 6 being sophomores in standing.

Of the 45 players listed in the two-deep for the Murray State game, (three were listed at tailback), the breakdown included: Seniors — 11; Juniors — 11; Sophomores — 14; Freshmen — 9.

TIGERS ENJOYING BIG EDGE IN BIG PLAYS SO FAR

Through 3 games, Mizzou has had a huge advantage in plays of 20 yards or more. Mizzou has turned in 18 plays of at least 20 yards (8 rushing, 10 passing) on offense, while the Tiger defense has limited its first 3 opponents to only 3 plays of 20 yards or more (all passing).

Last Saturday at New Mexico, the Tiger offense was held to 3 plays of 20 yards or more (2 rushing, 1 passing), but the defense held tight, allowing just 2 plays of that distance or longer to the Lobos (pass plays of 25 and 20 yards).

Against Ole Miss, MU had 6 plays of 20 yards or more (2 rushing, 4 passing), while limiting the Rebels to just 1 passing play of that length (30 yards on their only TD of the day). Out of 28 rushes, Ole Miss managed only 5 that went for 6 yards or more, and the longest of the day was a 19-yarder.

Mizzou's offense struck for 9 plays of 20 yards or more in the opener against Murray State, including 5 passing plays and 4 rushing plays. Chase Daniel and Will Franklin connected on 3 of the passing plays, going for gains of 60 (TD), 40 and 34 (TD). Tailback Tony Temple had 2 rushes over 20 yards (27, 22), while Marcus Woods went for a 27-yarder of his own. Backup QB Brandon Coleman got in on the fun too, as he raced 62 yards on a keeper in the 4th quarter for MU's longest play of the evening.

By contrast, the Tiger defense did not allow a single Murray State play to measure 20 yards or more. As noted previously, the longest play of the night for the Racers was a 15 yard pass. The longest rush they had on the day was a 12-yarder, and that represented their only ground gain of more than 8 yards in all.

1ST DOWN HAS BEEN MIZZOU'S DOWN

Mizzou's defensive play on 1st down situations has been outstanding thus far.

Against Mississippi in week #2, the numbers reflect that the Tigers dominated the Rebels on 1st down.

In the game, Ole Miss ran the ball 13 times on 1st down. The Tiger defense held the Rebels to a grand total of 11 yards in those 13 attempts – an average of just 0.8 yards per attempt. But the Rebels didn't fare any better trying to throw the ball on 1st down, as they completed only 2-of-9 passes for 9 yards and 3 interceptions to go along with one sack.

On the other side of the ball, Mizzou was quite successful moving the ball on both the ground on 1st down against Ole Miss, as it was against Murray State. See the accompanying chart for details...

RUCKER & COFFMAN ARE AMONG NATION'S TOP TIGHT END DUOS

Mizzou has one of the top tight end duos in the nation, in junior Martin Rucker and sophomore Chase Coffman.

Rucker and Coffman combined in 2005 to catch 94 passes for 1,070 yards and 5 TDs, and they were both pre-season candidates for the John Mackey Award, which goes annually to the nation's top tight end. Mizzou is just one of three schools to have two players listed on the Mackey Award Preseason Watch List, along with Arizona State and BYU.

Last year's numbers reflect that Mizzou's duo caught the most passes for the most yardage of any returning tight end combo in the nation, with their combined 94 catches for 1,070 yards.

The duo deferred the huge numbers in MU's 2006 season opener to the Tiger wideouts, but they still made their presence felt in MU's 47-7 win over Murray State. Coffman led all Tiger pass catchers with 7 catches for 64 yards and 1 TD on a beautiful leaping 3-yard catch in the corner of the endzone that is now becoming a routine highlight, while Rucker caught 3 passes for 19 yards overall.

The roles reversed in MU's 2nd outing against Ole Miss, as Rucker was the more frequent target, catching 6 passes for 45 yards, and Coffman adding 2 grabs for 26 yards.

The dynamic duo combined to have a big game last Saturday at New Mexico, as they totaled 10 catches for 89 yards and 1 TD between them. Rucker led the way with 6 grabs for 56 yards and 1 TD (a beautiful diving 6-yard catch in the 1st quarter), while Coffman caught 4 passes for 33 yards in all.

Rucker led the Big 12's tight ends in catches and yardage for most of the year in 2005, before being surpassed by Texas' David Thomas, who played in one more game than Rucker. His 47 catches was only 8 shy of the MU single-season record for tight ends (55 by A.J. Ofodile in 1993), and his yardage was only shy of Ofodile's single-season tight end record of 589. In just 2+ years of play, Rucker already ranks 3rd on the school career catches (81) and 4th on the yardage (950) list for tight ends. He needs 21 catches to break the standing record of 101 by Andy Gibling (1979-82) and he needs 341 yards to break Gibling's yardage mark of 1,290.

Coffman was a 1st-Team Freshman All-American a year ago, as he led all the nation's freshmen tight end with his 47 catches for 503 yards, and added 4 TDs. He was as sure-handed as could be, as he made catch after catch that made the highlight reel, and caught virtually everything he got his hands on. His 47 grabs tied him for the team lead along with his running mate Rucker, and his 503 yards ranked 2nd on the team behind Rucker, while his 4 receiving TDs was tied for the most, along with WR Brad Ekwerekwu. Coffman already ranks 7th on the MU career tight ends list for receptions (60) and 8th in yardage (626).

Both tight ends for MU have NFL bloodlines. Coffman's father, Paul, was a standout tight end for the NFL's Kansas City Chiefs (1986-87), and the Green Bay Packers (1978-85), after playing collegiately at Kansas State.

Rucker is the younger brother of Mike Rucker, who is a standout defensive end with the NFL's Carolina Panthers, and was an All-American collegiately at Nebraska.

GAME #2 REWIND: MIZZOU DOWNS OLE MISS, 34-7

Mizzou played host to its first SEC school since 1984, as it entertained the Ole Miss Rebels in Columbia on Sept. 9th. The Tigers were inhospitable hosts, as MU rolled early and often on its way to a resounding 34-7 victory. As the final score would indicate, the Tigers were dominant in every phase of the game, outgaining the Rebels by a margin of 471-to-162 in total offense.

Sophomore QB Chase Daniel led a potent offensive attack that scored on its first two possessions for the second straight game. The first drive was a 10-play, 80-yard drive that culminated with his own 3-yard TD run to open the scoring. It was followed by a defensive stop by MU, and another long drive that made it 10-0 in favor of the Tigers.

The Mizzou defense was stifling all day long, as it allowed only one Ole Miss first down in the first quarter, and only four total in the first half altogether. Ole Miss' final output of 162 yards of total offense was the fewest in a game for the Rebels since 1998 when they had 134 against Auburn. Their only score of the day came on a short drive after MU fumbled away a punt on its own 35 yardline late in the 2nd quarter.

NEW CLOCK RULE ANALYSIS

• New rules have been put into effect for 2006 that are intended to shorten the length of college football games. Just how much impact have the rules had on the number of plays run? We'll track this throughout the year to see how it impacts Mizzou, which led the nation in 2005 with an average of 81.75 plays run per game:

Daniel was impressive again in just his 2nd career start, as he completed 24-of-40 passes for 234 yards and 1 TD. He also proved to be a threat with his feet, as he carried the ball 13 times for a career-best 89 yards and 1 score.

Mizzou's defense, led by a stellar day from senior LB Marcus Bacon, who had a team-best 12 tackles (after coaches' film review) and added an interception and a forced fumble. Bacon and crew limited Ole Miss to only 72 yards rushing (on 28 carries, after they had rushed for 240 yards a week earlier in a win against Memphis) and just 90 yards passing, while they intercepted Rebel QB Brent Schaeffer three times on the day.

The 162 yards of total offense allowed to Ole Miss was the fewest given up in a game by a Mizzou defense since the Tigers gave up 142 in a 48-0 shutout win over Ball State during the 2004 season.

BACON'S BEEN BRINGING HOME, WELL, THE BACON

Senior WLB Marcus Bacon has been the leader of Mizzou's defense through 3 games, as he's registered a team-best 32 total tackles, including an even dozen in each of the 1st 2 games (adjusted after film review).

The Houston, Texas native again was in the center of MU's solid defensive performance last Saturday in the Tigers' 27-17 win at New Mexico, as he registered 8 tackles (film adjusted), and recovered a fumble, marking the 3rd straight game he's gotten a turnover.

Bacon had 12 stops in MU's 34-7 win over Ole Miss on Sept. 9th, and also forced a fumble, intercepted a pass that he returned 52 yards, and broke up a pass on the day. For his efforts, he was named the Big 12 Conference Defensive Player of the Week on Sept. 11th – making him the first Tiger LB to win the weekly conference award since current Director of Football Operations Barry Odom won the award on Sept. 22, 1997 for his play in a Tiger win at Tulsa.

Bacon had quite a night in the 2006 season opener, as he led the Tiger defensive effort by making a career-high 12 tackles. The Houston, Texas native had 8 solo stops and added 4 assists (adjusted for coaches' film) and also contributed with 1 tackle for loss.

Bacon also notched his first turnover gained of the season when he scooped up a fumble caused on a QB sack by sophomore NT Ziggy Hood. Bacon returned the fumble 6 yards down to the Murray State 17-yardline to set up a drive that the Tiger offense converted into a touchdown just 3 plays later.

Bacon had a breakout year as a junior, as he amassed a career-high 85 tackles (which ranked 3rd on the team overall and 1st among LBs), while starting 8 games at the strongside position. Bacon was also a standout on special teams, playing on several units, and led the team in total special teams tackles with 12 (8 on punts, 4 on kickoffs). On defense, he recorded a career-high 3 QB sacks for 23 yards in losses, and had 5 tackles or more in all but 1 game, and reached double figures three times overall.

RETURNING STARTERS UNDER GARY PINKEL

It's always interesting to take a look back at how a team fares each year in relation to the number of starters it returns from the previous season. Here's a snapshot of what Gary Pinkel has had in returning starters each year at MU, and how each season turned out for the Tigers...

2006 GAME RECAPS

GAME #1 • MIZZOU 47, MURRAY ST. 7

SEPT. 2, 2006 • FAUROT FIELD/MEMORIAL STADIUM • COLUMBIA, MO. • (50,074)

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) - Chase Daniel set a Missouri record with five touchdown passes, helping the Tigers beat Murray State 47-7 as he led an offensive attack that racked up 589 yards on the night – the 10th-highest single game output in MU school history.

Daniel, making his first career start, was 23-of-32 for 320 yards with a passer rating of 207.44. He broke the school mark that was held by six others, including former record-setting quarterback Brad Smith, who had four in last season's opening 44-17 win over Arkansas State.

Daniel's passing yardage total was also the 10th-highest mark in MU single-game annals.

The Tigers needed just six plays to take the lead for good. Daniel's quick toss to Will Franklin became a 60-yard scoring pass when Franklin spun past the cornerback and ran untouched into the end zone.

Daniel connected with Brad Ekwerekwu on an 8-yard touchdown pass and with Chase Coffman on a 3-yard score later in the first quarter. In the second quarter, Marcus Woods scored on a 2-yard run and Daniel and Franklin connected again, this time on a 34-yard scoring pass in the final minute of the half.

The record-breaking touchdown pass came with 10:53 to play when Daniel hit a wide-open Jared Perry down the left sideline, putting Missouri ahead 47-0.

The Tigers also scored on a safety in the third quarter when Sean Weatherspoon blocked a punt out of the end zone, and on a 38-yard field goal by Jeff Wolfert.

Missouri's defense played well, too. Murray State, in the first game under new coach Matt Griffin, didn't make a first down until 7:34 remained in the second quarter. By then, Missouri was head 21-0. Starting quarterback Ryne Salyer was 8-of-13 for 39 yards with a lost fumble and an interception. Backup Zac Barnard was 12-of-17 for 89 yards and a touchdown. The Racers' leading rusher, Chad Cook, gained 12 yards on 31 carries.

Murray State's lone score came late in the fourth quarter on a 13-yard TD pass from Barnard to Nate Moore.

Mizzou's defense held the Racers to only 150 yards of offense on the night, including just 25 rushing yards on 27 attempts. The Tiger defenders held Murray State to just 2-of-13 on third down attempts, and snuffed out the only fourth down try the Racers had all night.

Starting tailback Tony Temple carried 15 times and ended with a career-high 119 yards – the most by an MU tailback since former standout Zack Abron rushed for 139 yards in 2003 against Texas Tech.

Senior linebacker Marcus Bacon led the Tiger defensive charge, with a career-high 12 tackles. Bacon recovered a fumble by noseguard Ziggy Hood, and safety Brandon Massey intercepted a pass to account for two forced turnovers by Murray State.

The win was the 30th in the six-year Missouri career of Head Coach Gary Pinkel, and evened his record at MU to 30-30.

GAME #2 • MIZZOU 34, OLE MISS 7

SEPT. 9, 2006 • FAUROT FIELD/MEMORIAL STADIUM • COLUMBIA, MO. • (51,112)

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) - Chase Daniel had 332 yards in total offense, and Missouri got a dominant effort from its defense in a 34-7 victory over Mississippi to move to 2-0 on the season.

Daniel ran for a 3-yard score and had a 20-yard touchdown pass in a strong follow-up to his first career start when he threw a school-record five touchdown passes against Division I-AA Murray State. Saturday's effort came against tougher competition, with Daniel going 24-for-40 for 243 yards and rushing for 89 yards on 13 carries.

Mississippi (1-1) managed just 162 total yards, and Mizzou's defense forced Rebel quarterback Brent Schaeffer into throwing three interceptions. The Rebels were outgained 169-7 in the first quarter and surrendered 471 yards overall.

Missouri (2-0) scored on three of its first four drives in the first half and the first two possessions of the second half. The Tigers are 2-0 for the first time since 2003, after getting upset by New Mexico and Troy the previous two seasons.

Mississippi's lone score came after a turnover gave the Rebels possession in Missouri territory for the only time. Marcus Woods fumbled a punt return, and Charles Clark recovered at the 40. Two plays later, Schaeffer threw a 30-yard touchdown pass to Marshay Green with 1:50 left in the first half to cut the gap to 17-7.

Daniel accounted for all 80 yards on the Tigers' opening drive, going 6-for-6 for 50 yards and rushing four times for 30 yards. He busted a 25-yard run off a fake handoff and scored on a 3-yard run.

A 24-yard pass from Daniel to William Franklin set up a 22-yard field goal by Jeff Wolfert, and a punt downed at the 2 ended up giving Missouri favorable field position on a 43-yard drive capped by Woods' 1-yard run for a 17-0 lead.

Brad Ekwerekwu caught a 20-yard touchdown pass to cap Missouri's first drive of the second half, and backup quarterback Brandon Coleman had an 8-yard scoring run in the fourth quarter.

BenJarvus Green-Ellis had 69 yards on 16 carries for Mississippi, which had 240 yards rushing in its opening victory over Memphis.

2006 GAME RECAPS

GAME #3 • MIZZOU 27, NEW MEXICO 17

SEPT. 16, 2006 • UNIVERSITY STADIUM • ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. • (27,806)

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) -Chase Daniel's fourth quarter touchdown run broke open the game, Tony Temple rushed for 168 yards and Brian Smith tied an MU single-game record with 4 sacks as the Tigers remained unbeaten with a 27-17 win over New Mexico.

Missouri (3-0) showed plenty of offensive potential with 396 total yards, but the Tigers couldn't capitalize on several scoring opportunities against a New Mexico defense that played good enough to keep the Lobos (1-2) in the game.

Daniel finally gave the Tigers breathing room by taking Missouri on an 80-yard, 11-play drive in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter and scoring on an 8-yard keeper for a 20-10 lead.

Earl Goldsmith added a late 2-yard TD for the Tigers and New Mexico scored with 25 seconds left on a 13-yard pass from Chris Nelson to Marcus Smith in garbage time.

New Mexico, whose other touchdown came from linebacker Michael Tuohy's 11-yard interception return of a Daniel pass in the second quarter, had trouble all night against the bigger and quicker Missouri defensive front.

The Lobos finished with 201 total yards - just 33 of them rushing- and Missouri's pressure sacked Nelson eight times. But the Lobos were still thinking upset after Kenny Byrd's career-best 52-yard field goal cut Missouri's lead to 13-10 with 31 seconds left in the third quarter.

That's when Daniel, who completed 25 of 36 passes for 199 yards, led the Tigers on their best drive of the night. He completed four passes in the drive, the two biggest a 16-yarder to Will Franklin and a 13-yarder to Martin Rucker to the New Mexico 17.

The Tigers had wasted a good drive in the third quarter when Temple was hit by Lobo freshman defensive back Frankie Solomon and fumbled the ball into the end zone, where defensive end Phillip Harrison recovered for a touchback.

Missouri led 13-7 at the half, but the Tigers easily could have had a bigger cushion.

The Lobos lost two fumbles and Nelson threw an interception in the second quarter, but all the Tigers got from the three turnovers was a 36-yard field goal by Jeff Wolfert.

Missouri's offense clicked early as Daniel completed his first six passes in a smooth 13-play drive that ended with a 37-yard Wolfert field goal.

After New Mexico went three-and-out, Missouri went 56 yards on five plays, with Daniel hitting Rucker with a 6-yard TD. The big play in that drive was a 39-yard run by Temple.

New Mexico, which spent much of the first half with negative rushing, cut it to 10-7 on Tuohy's interception. Missouri's receivers broke upfield on the play and Daniel's pass into the flat went right into Tuohy's hands. It was Daniel's interception this season after seven TD passes.

New Mexico's defense held the Tigers on fourth down at the Lobos' 5-yard line late in the first half. That drive started with a fumble by Lobo halfback Rodney Ferguson at the New Mexico 30 that was recovered by linebacker Marcus Bacon. Daniel completed three straight short passes that got the Tigers to the New Mexico 7. On fourth-and-one from the six, Daniel tried to sneak for it and came up short.

New Mexico's offense again gave the Tigers another opportunity when Nelson fumbled and Lorenzo Williams recovered at the Lobos' 19. But Missouri gained just 1 yard on three plays and settled for Wolfert's second field goal.
