LONGHORNS SERVE AS MIZZOU'S BIG 12 HOME OPENER

The Missouri women's basketball team tries for its first Big 12 win of the 2002-03 season in its conference home opener this Saturday, Jan. 11, against Texas.

Despite hanging close throughout the game, Missouri dropped its conference opener at Baylor, 71-65, on Wednesday.

The Longhorns come into the game as the 20th-ranked team in the nation by both the coaches and the Associated Press, and are coming off a 77-44 win at the Erwin Center against Oklahoma State.

USELESS STAT OF THE WEEK

Ever since he began working in our office, student assistant Tom Lewis has provided the media relations staff with a wealth of trivial information. Each week in this space, we'll share a nugget:

Missouri is 2-3 all-time against the 20th-ranked team in the country, which Texas is this week. MU's last such game came on Jan. 26, 2002, when No. 20 Colorado handed Mizzou a 78-56 defeat.

ABOUT TEXAS...

The Longhorns enter Saturday's contest at 8-4, including 1-0 in the Big 12 after their dominating 77-44 win at home against Oklahoma State on Wednesday.

Texas has a one-point home win over current No. 5-ranked Tennessee to its credit, but since that game has gone 2-2. The Longhorns are 8-0 at home this season, but they have yet to win a game on the road to date (0-4).

UT is led by sophomore forward Heather Schreiber (13.1 points and 7.5 rebounds per game) and junior forward Stacy Stephens (12.9 ppg/8.4 rpg). Junior Jamie Carey, a transfer from Stanford, and sophomore Kala Bowers are both averaging just over 10 points per game.

Texas and Missouri have both played one common opponent this season: The Longhorns defeated McNeese State, 90-25, on Nov. 26, just 11 days before the Tigers beat the Cowgirls by a 74-53 score on Dec. 6.

UT SERIES...

Texas leads it, 8-1, although the series has been much closer in Columbia. Missouri trails just 2-1 here, and won the last contest at the Hearnes Center in 2001 (68-52). Mizzou's two losses in Columbia -- in 1997 and 1999 -- were by seven and five points, respectively.

SKIP TO THE SECOND GAME

With its six-point loss at Baylor on Wednesday, the Tigers moved their record in Big 12 Conference-openers to a puzzling 0-7.

Missouri is 3-3 in its second Big 12 game, however, including three straight wins. The last two, against Texas in 2001 and Texas Tech in 2002, have come at home against ranked opponents.

LAST TIME OUT: BAYLOR 71, MU 65

Baylor rode the inside tandem of Steffanie Blackmon and Sophia Young to a 71-65 win over Missouri in the Big 12 Conference women's basketball opener for both teams Wednesday night at the Ferrell Center.

Blackmon and Young each scored 22 points to account for nearly two-thirds of the Lady Bears' points. Young also had a team-high 10 rebounds for Baylor (12-1, 1-0 Big 12). Evan Unrau led Missouri (6-6, 0-1) with 20 points and 12 rebounds, while Kerensa Barr added 19 on 5-of-9 shooting from 3-point range.

LAST GAME vs. Texas: #13/12 Texas 73, MU 51

January 22, 2002 – Erwin Center

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Freshman Kala Bowers reached a career high for the third consecutive game, scoring 20 points to lead No. 12 Texas to a 73-51 victory over Missouri.

She also got a career-best 10 rebounds as the Longhorns rebounded from their first conference loss.

Missouri led by 10 points, 17-7, midway through the first half, but failed to score over the last 6:12. With less than three minutes remaining in the first half, Kenya Larkin stole the ball and drove the length of the floor for a layup to tie the game at 22.

Larkin also hit a 25-foot 3-pointer at the buzzer to end the half, capping an 11-0 run for a 27-22 halftime lead. A 9-2 run at the start of the second half extended Texas' lead to 36-24, and Missouri was unable to close the gap.

Evan Unrau and Kerensa Barr had 10 points each for Missouri. Missouri did not attempt a free throw until Barr made a pair with 3:32 left in the game.

MU's 51 points were the fewest points scored since a 63-48 loss to Iowa State in the 1999 Big 12 Conference Tournament.

BAYLOR NOTABLES

- Kerensa Barr's five 3-pointers -- which all came in the second half -- set a new career high for the senior;
- Baylor, which leads the Big 12 and entered the game sixth in the NCAA in rebound margin, was out-rebounded for just the second time this season (39-36);

- The Lady Bears' six-point win was its smallest margin of victory this season;
- Evan Unrau's 20 points equalled her season high set on Dec. 6 vs. McNeese State.

UNRAU ... AND HOW!

That would likely be the reaction from Spanky, the chubby-cheeked member of the Little Rascals gang regarding the play of junior forward Evan Unrau. The honorable mention All-Big 12 member from a year ago leads the Big 12 Conference after one game with her 12-rebound effort at Baylor on Wednesday. Her nine defensive rebounds also were the highest mark among the league's players through the first game.

Unrau also scored a team-high 20 points to lead the Tigers in scoring for the second straight game, and ninth time out of 12 overall this year. Her totals of 15.5 points and 8.4 rebounds per game both lead Missouri.

The Fort Collins, Colo., native posted her fourth double-double of the season in the Baylor game. She Eleven of Unrau's 13 rebounds vs. Austin Peay on Dec. 7 came on the offensive end, giving her 25 for the season (she now has 46). Her 3.8 offensive rebounds per game is the fourth-best total in the Big 12 Conference.

TIGERS HIGH ON LOZIER

Early in the season, some questioned the decision to start junior guard Tracy Lozier because of her perceived lack of offensive firepower. In addition to her defensive prowess, leadership, and steady, consistent play, Lozier found her shot in a big way on Dec. 11 at Northern Iowa, and has continued her offensive prowess since.

Lozier was averaging under 5 points per game coming into the UNI game, yet she poured in a career-high 19 points in the Tigers' win, hitting six of her seven field-goal attempts and all five of her 3-point tries.

She followed that up with a 13-point effort at Iowa on Dec. 29, and added a game-high 17 on Thursday vs. IUPUI and repeated that total last Sunday vs. Saint Louis.

Over those five games, Lozier recorded a team-best 13.4 ppg ppg scoring average, shooting better than 53 percent from the field and a team-best 13-of-24 from 3-point range.

Key: [ ] TV Game

For the season, Lozier is third on the squad with an 8.5 points-per-game average. She also is second on the team with 33 assists (2.8 apg), and tied for second with 24 steals (2.0 spg).

THROW THIS NOTE AWAY

Coaches preach the value of making free throws, and this season, the Missouri coaching staff has set a goal for the team to make 80 percent of its free throws every day in practice and games.

So far this season, the Tigers have accomplished that goal six times in games, and it may not be surprising to find out that Missouri is 5-1 when it makes 80 percent of its free throws. Wednesday was the Tigers' first loss in such a situation.

For the season, the Tigers have shot 75.7 percent as a team from the line, which is the third-best mark in the Big 12. In addition, if that number holds for the season, it will shatter the previous school record of 71.7 percent set by the 1980-81 team.

BARR CLIMBING CAREER CHARTS

With her eight assists against Illinois on Dec. 21, senior guard Kerensa Barr moved past Dee Dee Polk as Missouri's No. 2 all-time assist leader. Barr now has 395 career assists, leaving her five from becoming the 10th player in Big 12 history to record 400 career assists; she is also 75 away from equalling Amy Fordham's school record.

With 16 games guaranteed to remain on the Tigers' schedule, Barr needs to average roughly 4.7 assists per game to surpass Fordham's mark.

Barr is already a member of MU's career top-5 lists in 3-point field goals made and attempted, as well as steals after passing Sandie Prophete (1986-89) with her 200th career pick Wednesday night. She also needs just 43 points to become the 22nd member of Missouri's 1,000-point club.

Finally, Barr has currently passed Julie Helm as Mizzou's most accurate free-throw shooter in school history. If she sinks 80 percent or more of her remaining free throws, Barr will finish as the record-holder.

HOME SWEET HOME

Mizzou finished the home non-conference schedule with a 4-1 record, boosting the Tigers' all-time out-of-league mark at the Hearnes Center to 171-37 (.822). Missouri is now 26-3 (.897) at home in the non-conference season in its five years under Cindy Stein.

BARR FINALIST FOR SOCRATES AWARD

Kerensa Barr has been selected as one of eight finalists for the fourth annual Socrates Award, given annually by Sporting News Radio and the March of Dimes to the college athlete who best exemplifies excellence in athletics and academics. Barr was the only women's basketball player in the nation to be included among the eight. Online voting, which comprises one-third of the voting, closed this past Friday. The winner will be announced in January.

Barr earned Verizon/CoSIDA Academic All-America® honors last year as a junior, becoming the first Missouri women's basketball player since 1985 to do so. The 2002 honorable mention All-Big 12 hoopster is currently just 91 points away from becoming the 22nd member of Mizzou's 1,000-point club, and is one pace to finish her career as MU's all-time leader in assists, steals and free-throw percentage.

Barr joins seven other finalists: TCU soccer and football player Nick Browne; Illinois women's track and field standout Perdita Felicien; Texas Tech quarterback Kliff Kingsbury; Ohio State quarterback Craig Krenzel; Ohio State men's tennis player Vincent Ng; Georgia offensive tackle Jon Stinchcomb; and Miami (Fla.) defensive lineman Matt Walters.

Sporting News Radio's 4th Annual Socrates Award is part of the 15th Annual National Athletic Awards to benefit the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation; the Awards program will be held Tuesday, March 11, 2003, at the Historic Fox Theater in Detroit, Mich. Sportscaster James Brown will emcee the event.

MIZZOU TAKES EARLY VALLEY LEAD

The Missouri Valley Conference schedule didn't officially start until Thursday, and the Tigers are still proud members of the Big 12 Conference, yet MU can claim the early lead in "The Valley" with wins to start the season at SMS, vs. Bradley, and at Northern Iowa.

With those three wins, Mizzou is now 57-25 (.695) all-time against the Missouri Valley Conference.

BOND ... JAMES & BOND

Bond, an Urbana, Ill., native, had a breakout game against her hometown's Illini at the Busch Braggin' Rights game on Dec. 21. She finished with career highs of 11 points and six rebounds, and keyed a Tiger first-half comeback along with James by making a pair of slicing layups, then hitting a runner as the halftime buzzer sounded.

James, who is also in her first season with the Tigers after earning JUCO All-America honors at Tyler (Texas) JC, has scored in double figures in four of the last seven games, including a career-high 16 points against Saint Louis on Sunday.

James (7.8 ppg) and Bond (5.7 ppg) are fourth and fifth, respectively, in scoring for the Tigers, while James' 4.3 rebounds per contest are fourth on the team.

GLANCES STOLEN

Senior guard Kerensa Barr had seven steals for the second time in three games on Dec. 11 at Northern Iowa; she now has a team-high 33 on the year. She also had seven picks against McNeese State on Dec. 6.

Barr's 2.75 steals-per-game average ties for the third-highest total in the Big 12 Conference.

For the season, Barr is averaging 12.1 points, 4.3 rebounds and 5.4 assists per game. Those totals rank her second, third, and first, respectively, on the team this year.

UNRAU NAMED TO UNILEVER TIGER CLASSIC ALL-TOURNAMENT TEAM

Junior forward Evan Unrau was named to the Unilever Tiger Classic All-Tournament Team (Dec. 6-7).

Unrau averaged 17.5 points and 9.5 rebounds over the two games. She earned her first double-double of the season in MU's championship-game loss to Austin Peay, when she posted totals of 15 points and a game-high 13 rebounds, including 11 on the offensive end. She led the Tigers in scoring in each of Mizzou's first six games.

It was the second such honor for the Tiger this season, as she was named to the Flint Hills Resources Islander Classic squad the previous weekend for her efforts at Texas A&M-Corpus Christi.

MIZZOU JOINS THE 500 CLUB

With its 77-76 win against Bradley at the Hearnes Center on Tuesday, Nov. 26, Missouri became the 51st school in NCAA history to record 500 wins in its history.

The Tigers are now 504-328 in their 29th year as a program. Only 29 schools are known to have achieved the total faster than Mizzou.

STREAKY SHOOTERS

In Missouri's game against Illinois on Dec. 22, the Tigers had missed their first nine 3-point attempts, endangering MU's record of consecutive games with a 3-pointer. Evan Unrau hit one with 3:18 remaining against the Illini, however, keeping the streak alive. With the Tigers' six treys at Baylor on Wednesday, Missouri's streak is now at 113 games.

The Tigers have not been held without a 3-pointer since a 78-54 loss at Baylor on Jan. 27, 1999. At the Hearnes Center, the span of time is even longer, as the Tigers have made a 3-pointer in every home contest since an 87-76 win over Louisville on Dec. 5, 1998 – a streak of 57 straight games.

DEBUT PERFORMANCE NETS IMPRESSIVE SEASON-HIGHS

Just one game into a season, everything in the box score will result in a season high or low. Yet there were two items of note from MU's opener at Southwest Missouri State on Nov. 23.

Mizzou's 19 steals at SMS were one higher than the Tigers had in any game last year. In addition, their 12 turnovers were two fewer than in any game last year. [The Tigers have since netted an impressive 10-turnover performance against Austin Peay on Dec. 7; they also had 26 steals vs. McNeese State on Dec. 6.]

FISHER'S SWEET VS. OLD TEAM

Junior F/C Melanie Fisher, a transfer from Southwest Missouri State two years ago, had an excellent performance in the Nov. 23 game against her former teammates. The one-time Lady Bear finished with 12 points, six rebounds, and a career-high six steals. In addition, her five field goals tied a career high.

For the season, Fisher is averaging 5.6 points (seventh on team) and 6.4 rebounds, which is second only to Evan Unrau. In addition, Fisher led the Tigers in steals in three of Mizzou's first four games. She has 23 on the season, which is second only to Kerensa Barr.

OPEN HERE

With wins in its first two games at Southwest Missouri State and at home vs. Bradley, the Tigers have continued two streaks of success.

Mizzou has identical 22-7 (.759) records in both season-openers and home-openers. The

TIGERS SIGN THREE TO NATIONAL LETTERS-OF-INTENT

Three prep standouts have signed National Letters-of-Intent to enroll at the University of Missouri and play women's basketball, Head Coach Cindy Stein announced on Wednesday, Nov. 13.

Blair Hardiek, a 5-foot-7 guard from Effingham (Ill.) High School, EeTisha Riddle, a 6-foot-3 forward from O'Fallon (Ill.) Township High School, and Carlynn Savant, a 6-foot-1 forward from Trinity High School in Euless, Texas, are Stein's newest crop of Tigers.

"I see all three of these players having an immediate impact on our program," said Stein. "We are very excited about this class and feel strongly that they will establish themselves among Missouri's best. These three young women are talented competitors, excellent students and wonderful people. They will bring class, intensity and a strong work ethic."

Hardiek earned First Team All-State honors from the Chicago Sun-Times, Second Team All-State plaudits from the Champaign News-Gazette and special mention on the Chicago Tribune All-State team last season, when she averaged 24.5 points and seven rebounds in leading Effingham to a school-record 20 wins. She also had a school-record 40 blocks as a point guard. Hardiek has earned Honorable Mention All-America honors from Street & Smith each of the past two years. Effingham's Most Valuable Player each of her three seasons to date and its captain this year, Hardiek chose Mizzou over USC, Kansas State, Xavier, Tulsa, and Cal.

"Blair is a true point guard with a fierce competitiveness and confidence that is needed to be successful at this level," Stein says. "She is quick and can defend in the full court with endless energy. Blair has fine passing skills and sees the floor extremely well. She is also a scorer whether it's through penetration or spotting up for the 3-point shot."

Riddle averaged 20.2 points and 11 rebounds and helped the Panthers to a 22-5 record last season. She also had 94 blocks, and was an 85-percent free-throw shooter. An Honorable Mention All-Stater by the Chicago Tribune and a Champaign News-Gazette Second-Team All-State member, Riddle chose Missouri over Illinois, Southwest Missouri State, Indiana and Kansas State. She is also a two-time Belleville News-Democrat first-team all-conference and all-area performer.

"EeTisha is an excellent athlete who will just get better and better," comments Stein. "She is a force inside. She has the athleticism to jump and shoot over taller defenders, the quickness of a guard and the soft hands that can catch anything thrown her way. She is a great rebounder, and her aggressiveness on the boards is a key strength."

Savant is a two-time Player of the Year for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram Northeast area; she earned first-team selection to the Texas Assocation of Basketball Coaches Class 5A (largest-school classification) last season, when she averaged 20.4 points and 9.6 rebounds. Savant participated last summer in USA Basketball's Women's Youth Development Festival as one of the nation's top 48 rising prep seniors, and she was recognized as an adidas Top Ten Camp Upperclass All-Star. She chose Mizzou over Arkansas, TCU, Rice and Southwest Missouri State. Carlynn's twin brother, Zach, plays high-school football.

"Carlynn is a prolific scorer – she can score from anywhere! She has the ability to post up, penetrate to the basket or pop the 3-point shot. Her versatility will be one of her key assets in our program. Carlynn is an intense competitor with excellent court sense. She is also a tremendous student and active member of the student organizations at Trinity High School."

The three signings comprise Missouri's complete recruiting class for the 2003-04 basketball season.

NEW ARENA UNDER CONSTRUCTION

The University of Missouri broke ground on a new basketball arena – one that will be the finest on-campus facility in the nation when completed – on Saturday, Sept. 21, 2002. The yet-to-be-named facility, which will seat just over 15,000 fans, is slated to cost $75 million. The project was jump-started by a generous $25 million donation by the Laurie family of Columbia.

The State of Missouri will contribute $35 million in bond appropriations, while the remaining $15 million will be raised through athletic fundraising efforts.

Site preparation and blasting of the limestone bedrock is complete, and after bids are awarded later this month, early site-package construction is set to begin in March.

The Hearnes Center, which was built in 1972, will continue to be utilized by MU's Olympic-sport programs such as volleyball, gymnastics, wrestling, and track and field.

A webcam of the arena construction site has been installed on top of the Hearnes Center, and it is providing live still images to the Missouri athletics website 24 hours a day. The webcam is located at http://ath.missouri.edu/arena, and it can also be accessed from the front page of MUTigers.com.

TIGERS SEVENTH, EIGHTH IN BIG 12 POLLS

Both the coaches and the media have weighed in on the Big 12 Conference race; the coaches have selected the Tigers eighth, while the media came out last week with a seventh-place prediction for MU. The Big 12 sent seven teams to the NCAA Tournament last year.

Texas Tech was chosen by both the coaches and the media to win the Big 12 Conference regular-season title.

BARR AMONG BIG 12'S FINEST

Along with the release of the media poll, senior guard Kerensa Barr (West Plains, Mo. / West Plains HS) received votes for the Preseason All-Big 12 Conference Team.

TIGERS SEEKING TO CONTINUE POSTSEASON STREAK

With its appearance in last year's Women's National Invitation Tournament, the Tigers have advanced to the postseason in each of the past three seasons. It's the longest such streak since the Tigers went to five straight NCAA Tournaments from 1981-82 through 1985-86.

The streak of success began with a trip to the second round of the WNIT in 1999-2000 – Cindy Stein's second season as head coach at Mizzou – and continued in 2001-02 with the Tigers' first trip to the NCAA Tournament since 1994, as MU advanced to the Sweet Sixteen.

FANS FLOCKING TO HEARNES

Bolstered by the strength of record single-game crowds, the Missouri women's basketball program has seen its attendance rise in each of Coach Stein's four years.

Missouri averaged 2,561 fans last season, a 14 percent increase from the 2000-01 campaign, when the Tigers averaged 2,246.

2002-03 MIZZOU WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

MU 86, Solna (Sweden) 46

Exhibition #1 – Nov. 10, 2002 – Hearnes Center

Senior guard Kerensa Barr led all scorers with 20 points, and the Missouri women's basketball team forced 26 turnovers to defeat Solna, Sweden, by an 86-46 count in its exhibition opener Sunday afternoon at the Hearnes Center.

Four of Mizzou's five starters finished in double-figure scoring, and six Tigers accomplished the feat overall, against the reigning Swedish National Champions. Joining Barr in double figures were junior forward Chinyere "Stretch" James with 13 points and junior guard Tracy Lozier with 11; junior forward Evan Unrau, freshman guard LaToya Bond and junior guard MyEsha Perkins each added 10 points.

In addition, the Tigers were 19-of-20 from the free-throw line for the game (.950); Barr, Unrau and Bond each finished 4-of-4 from the charity stripe.

The Tigers charged to their largest lead of the half at 26-16, however, on a 3-pointer by Barr, who led all first-half scorers with 11 points. Solna cut the lead to four at 28-24 with 6:28 left, yet a layup by James, a jumper by Bond, and a pair of Barr free throws bumped the lead again to 10.

Coming out of the break, which saw Missouri with a 36-30 advantage, the Tigers went on the break, going on a 14-4 run over the first five minutes of the second to take a 50-34 lead. MU then pulled away with help from its defensive pressure; through the first 11 minutes of the second half, the Tigers capitalized with 20 points off 11 Solna turnovers. Mizzou held Solna to just four field goals in the second half on 23.5 percent shooting; MU shot 16-of-37 (.432) in the period.

MU 92, Truman State 46

Exhibition #2 – Nov. 15, 2002 – Hearnes Center

Freshman guard LaToya Bond hit for a game-high 17 points, and junior forward Evan Unrau posted a double-double with 10 points and 12 rebounds as the Missouri women's basketball team rolled to an easy 92-46 win over Truman State in the Tigers' exhibition finale Friday night at the Hearnes Center.

Bond was 6-of-12 from the field, made half of her four 3-point attempts and added nine rebounds, while Unrau added a game-high six assists to go with her double-double. Three other Tigers – senior guard Kerensa Barr, junior forward Melanie Fisher and junior forward Terianne Wolford – also hit for double-figure scoring.

The Tigers' defense smothered Truman State, as Missouri held the Bulldogs to just 11 field goals for the game on 23.9 percent shooting. In addition, the Tigers forced 25 turnovers.

While Mizzou's defense was clicking, its offense opened up a sizable gap in the second 10 minutes of the game. Up just 13-10 with 12:21 left in the first, the Tigers went on a 21-6 run. Six different Missouri players scored, including three of MU's five newcomers. Mizzou took a 37-26 lead into the locker room.

Offensively, Bond made 4-of-6 field goals, including one from long range, on her way to nine first-half points. Unrau had a balanced opening stanza, hitting for eight points and eight rebounds and adding four assists in 14 minutes of play.

Coming out of the break, Mizzou hit the Bulldogs for a 13-0 run to open the first 4:40 of the second half to register what at the time was its largest lead of the game at 24 points (50-26). Missouri forced five turnovers in that span, including a charge drawn by sophomore guard Lauren Podratz.

The Tigers kept the pressure up in the second half, allowing just three Truman State field goals in the first 15 minutes of the second half. By that time, the Tigers had extended their lead to 40 points at 74-34.

MU 68, Southwest Mo. State 52

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. – Junior forward Evan Unrau led all players with 18 points and eight rebounds, and the Tiger defense forced 26 turnovers as the Missouri women's basketball team opened its 29th season with a convincing 68-52 win over Southwest Missouri State at the Hammons Student Center on Saturday. The win was the second straight for Missouri (1-0) over the Lady Bears, but MU's first in Springfield since 1987.

Senior guard Kerensa Barr had 16 points and seven assists, and junior forward Melanie Fisher added 12 points and six rebounds to join Unrau in double-figure scoring.

Meg Tierney's 12 points and Morgan Hohenberger's 11 led SMS (0-2), which is two seasons removed from its second Final Four appearance.

Mizzou took an 8-6 lead on a steal and coast-to-coast layup from Fisher, who was making her first return to the Hammons Student Center since transferring from SMS after her freshman year. Fisher then added a 15-foot jumper just minutes later.

The opening minutes were played at a frenetic pace, as the first media timeout did not come until 7 minutes had elapsed. With the Lady Bears up 12-10 with 12:27 left in the half, the Tigers went on a 14-0 scoring binge to open a comfortable lead. Freshman guard LaToya Bond hit a 3-pointer to put the Tigers up 19-12, then Unrau followed with a post-up jumper and an uncontested 3-pointer from the top of the key to boost the lead to 24-12 with 9:41 remaining in the opening frame.

Mizzou's first turnover didn't come until 9 minutes into the game, and MU committed five in the half, yet the Tiger defense forced 14 SMS turnovers in the same span.

Coming out of the break, the Tigers extended the lead three separate times to 20 points, including a 52-32 margin with 12:02 left on a Fisher jumper. Yet after SMS used a 10-2 run over the next four minutes to key the home crowd and pull within 54-42, Mizzou went on its own run to restore the lead to 20. In that span, the Tigers got 3-pointers from junior guard Tracy Lozier and Bond, and another jumper from Fisher.

MU 77, Bradley 76

Senior guard Kerensa Barr hit four free throws in the final 35 seconds, including the game-winning pair with 7 seconds left, to key the Missouri women's basketball team to a 77-76 win over Bradley in non-conference action Tuesday night at the Hearnes Center. The win is the program's 500th all-time in its 29-year history.

Barr scored Mizzou's last eight points, and hit for a team-high-tying 15 while adding seven assists. Junior forward Evan Unrau also had 15 to go with six rebounds, and junior forward Melanie Fisher posted her first double-double of the year with 13 points and 10 rebounds.

The Tigers (2-0) are now 500-322, making Missouri the 51st school in NCAA history to record 500 wins. Only 29 schools are known to have achieved the total faster than the Tigers.

After the Tigers took a 41-28 halftime lead, Bradley inched closer to the Mizzou lead throughout the final 20 minutes. Yet junior forward Stretch James converted a 3-point play with 4:45 left to push the margin to 67-62, and with 6-4 sophomore and Columbia Hickman graduate Dena Williams fouled out, it seemed the Tigers were in control.

Yet on three different occasions, Bradley closed the gap to a single point, including on a jumper by Genny Mueller with 1:05 left to make it 73-72. Mueller then fouled Barr, who hit both free throws, and Rasheeda Love made a layup with 24 seconds left, setting up Sara Bailey's clock-stopping foul of Barr. After Barr put the Tigers up 77-74, James blocked Bailey's 3-point attempt, and despite Ashley Chelleen's putback, Missouri won its home opener for the 22nd time in 29 tries.

Unrau led all players with 10 first-half points, and Fisher nearly had her double-double at the break with nine points and rebounds.

Bradley took an early 10-5 lead, in part due to unforced turnovers by the Tigers. After making only 12 turnovers in the season-opening win at Southwest Missouri State, Mizzou committed half that many in the first 5 minutes of Tuesday night's game. Yet a Fisher jumper with 12:40 left in the first half gave the Tigers a 14-12 lead.

SMU 72, MU 70

Nov. 29, 2002 – Circle K Court

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas – The Missouri women's basketball team had four chances to tie the game in the closing seconds against SMU, yet the Mustangs pulled out a 72-70 win Friday night in the first round of the Flint Hills Resources Islander Classic in Corpus Christi, Texas.

Evan Unrau led Missouri with 16 points and eight rebounds, while Kerensa Barr added 11 points and seven assists for the Tigers (2-1).

Kim Walter led four players in double figures for SMU (3-0). Walter finished with 20 points and six rebounds, and Andrea Cossey added 16 points.

With the Tigers down 65-60 and coming out of a timeout with 3 minutes, 58 seconds to play, LaToya Bond hit a 3-pointer and, after forcing an SMU turnover, hit one free throw after being fouled on the ensuing possession. Barr made a 3-pointer with 1:56 left to tie the game at 67-67, then Mizzou took a timeout with the ball with 34.7 seconds left.

Coming out of the timeout, Melanie Fisher missed a turnaround jumper that rebounded out to the top of the key and was recovered by Barr, who then missed a jumper with 19 seconds left. Fisher tied up Walter on the inbounds play, yet the possession arrow was pointed in the Mustangs' direction. Shanta Ramdhanny and Kendall Shead then made 3-of-4 free throws down the final 16 seconds to seal the win for SMU (3-0).

The Tigers went into the locker room down just three points despite shooting just 28.6 percent (10-of-35) from the field. Mizzou took better care of the ball than the Mustangs, however, winning the turnover battle by a 9-5 margin. Unrau led the way at the break for Missouri with her eight points and eight rebounds, while Kim Walter made six of her seven shots on her way to a 12-point first half for SMU.

MU was down 32-25 coming out of the last media timeout, then got a jumper from Bond, a putback basket from Stretch James and a 3-point play from MyEsha Perkins to tie the game at 32 with 1:29 left in the first half. SMU's Sarah Davis then canned a shot from the top of the key to send the teams to the break.

Louisiana-Lafayette 67, MU 59

Nov. 30, 2002 – Circle K Court

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas – Charlotte Green made four 3-pointers on her way to a career-high-tying 24 points, and Louisiana-Lafayette sank 10 3-pointers, as the Ragin' Cajuns won their first game of the season with a 67-59 decision over Missouri in the consolation game of the Flint Hills Resources Islander Classic, held Saturday night in Corpus Christi, Texas.

Green was just part of the long-distance equation for ULL. Sharee Glenn added a season-high 19 points with another four treys, and Sarah Richey had 13 points down low for ULL (1-3).

Junior forward Evan Unrau (Fort Collins, Colo. / Rocky Mountain HS) led Missouri with 16 points, while junior forward Terianne Wolford (Nixa, Mo. / Nixa HS) came off the bench to score a season-high 14 points. Junior forward Melanie Fisher (St. Louis, Mo. / Principia HS / Southwest Missouri State) had a game-high 14 rebounds to go with six points for the Tigers (2-2).

Louisiana-Lafayette shot lights-out for the entire first half, starting out at a 5-of-8 clip, including 3-of-4 from 3-point range, in staking a 13-9 lead in the first four minutes. The Ragin' Cajuns did the most damage from long range, hitting their first three baskets, and four of their first six, on 3-pointers.

Sharee Glenn, a 5-foot-6 guard, hit for 13 first-half points on 5-of-10 shooting, including 3-of-5 from 3-point range. In all, ULL was 6-of-9 from long range in the first 20 minutes.

The Tigers did get a late first-half surge from Wolford, who drew two charges as the Cajuns moved to a penetrating offense after stretching the defense out. Yet ULL shot nearly 60 percent for the half to just 35 percent for Mizzou.

In the second half, Wolford hit two long jumpers and seemed to spark the Tigers forward, yet the Cajuns seemed to have an answer for every rally for most of the second half. Senior guard Kerensa Barr (West Plains, Mo. / West Plains HS) hit a 3-pointer with 2:28 left to bring Mizzou within eight at 62-54, then freshman guard LaToya Bond (Urbana, Ill. / Urbana HS) sank an unbelievable putback of a Barr miss with 60 seconds left to cap a 6-0 run and make the score 62-57.

Unilever Tiger Classic – First Round

Junior forward Evan Unrau poured in a game-high 20 points to lead the University of Missouri to a 74-53 win over McNeese State in Friday night's first-round action in the Unilever Tiger Classic at the Hearnes Center. Missouri continues its first-round success in the tournament, as the Tigers have now advanced to the Unilever title game in each of the tournament's 25 years.

Unrau was 8-of-11 from the field and led the Tigers in scoring for the fifth straight game. Junior forward Stretch James added a season-high 14 points, and senior guard Kerensa Barr posted an excellent all-around game with 11 points, seven assists, seven steals and five rebounds.

\Shamika Stewart made each of her first three shots to give McNeese a 9-4 lead. The Tigers hit just one of their first seven shots in that span, yet they'd pull to a 9-all tie when Unrau made her first 3-point play of the night with 14 minutes, 42 seconds left. That sparked a ferocious 25-4 run spanning the next 8 minutes. Over that span, the Tigers held McNeese to 1-for-15 shooting and forced seven turnovers.

That gave Missouri a comfortable cushion with which to work, and the Tigers took a 16-point lead (40-24) into the locker room. Mizzou hit on 47.1 percent of its first-half shots, and made all six of its free throws.

The Tigers are now 42-7 (.857) all-time in the Unilever Tiger Classic, including a perfect 25-0 in the first round.

Unilever Tiger Classic – Championship Game

Brooke Armistead led four Austin Peay players in double figures, and the Lady Govs held Missouri to 28 percent shooting from the field to defeat Missouri, 66-53, and win the championship game of the 25th annual Unilever Tiger Classic, held Saturday night at the Hearnes Center. Armistead scored 17 points and was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player.

Also in double figures for Austin Peay (4-1) were Paige Smith with 15 points, Gerlonda Hardin with 12 and Cassandra Peak with 11. Both Smith and Hardin were named to the all-tournament team along with Missouri junior forward Evan Unrau (Fort Collins, Colo. / Rocky Mountain HS), who had 15 points and 13 rebounds - including 11 on the offensive end.

Austin Peay took the lead for good on a 3-pointer by Smith with 11 minutes, 13 seconds to play in the first half to go up 10-8. APSU used a 14-6 run over an 8:06 stretch in the second half to pull away.

Austin Peay hit 28 free throws to Missouri's eight, including an 11-for-12 effort from Armistead. Mizzou stormed out to an 8-2 lead in the first five minutes, but Austin Peay went into halftime with a 23-18 lead thanks to an eight-point effort from Armistead.

Kerensa Barr added seven points and six rebounds for the Tigers.

MU 89, Northern Iowa 77

CEDAR FALLS, Iowa – Behind a career-high 19 points from junior guard Tracy Lozier, the Missouri women's basketball team registered a solid 89-77 win at Northern Iowa in non-conference action Wednesday night from the West Gym in Cedar Falls, Iowa.

Lozier's night included a career-high five 3-pointers - on five attempts - and was 6-of-7 overall for the Tigers (4-3). Senior G Kerensa Barr had a game-high-tying 22 points and a game-high seven steals, junior F Evan Unrau added 16 points and 13 rebounds for her second straight double-double, and junior F Stretch James notched 12 points.

For the night, the Tigers shot 54.5 percent (30-of-55) from the field, and made 7-of-10 from 3-point range. In addition, Mizzou made a season-high 22 free throws in 27 tries.

The Tigers played their best first half of the season, using 55.2 percent shooting and forcing 11 turnovers in forging a 46-40 halftime lead. Although the Tigers were plagued by early turnovers themselves, Lozier set the tone defensively when she drew a charge just 3 minutes, 52 seconds into the game.

Mizzou took its largest lead of the half when Barr hit a 3-pointer, and after UNI was called for a baseline violation inbounding the ensuing possession, Unrau sank a free throw to give MU a 17-9 lead with 12:44 left in the half.

Lozier had a hand in a late first-half surge, scoring seven straight points for Mizzou by hitting a jumper, a pair of free throws, and then a 3-pointer off a Barr fastbreak to give MU a 36-29 lead with 3:51 left.

In the second half, Lozier opened the scoring with her fourth 3-pointer of the night to open the lead back up to nine. The Tigers took an 11-point lead with 11:30 left on a Barr backdoor feed from junior forward Melanie Fisher, who had three assists and six rebounds.

Mizzou didn't score a field goal in the last three minutes, but that was mostly due to the multiple times the Panthers were forced to foul late in the game.

Illinois 70, MU 67

Dec. 21, 2002 – Savvis Center

ST. LOUIS – Angelina Williams led four Illinois players in double figures to help the Fighting Illini squeeze out a 70-67 win over Missouri on Saturday afternoon in the annual Busch Braggin' Rights game, held at Savvis Center in St. Louis.

Junior forward Evan Unrau led the Tigers (4-4) with 14 points, while junior forward Stretch James added 12 points and a game-high eight rebounds. Freshman guard LaToya Bond, who was playing against her hometown's university for the first time, finished with career highs of 11 points and six rebounds.

Tiffanie Guthrie had 17 points, Jere Issenmann had 11 and Cindy Dallas added 10 for the Illini (7-2).

The game was a see-saw affair that saw six lead changes and three ties. Mizzou held a slim lead for the middle portion of the game before Illinois took the lead for good on a jumper by Guthrie with 6 minutes, 9 seconds left.

After missing four shots on the game's opening possession, the Tigers proceeded to make six of their next seven shots in opening up a 14-11 lead with 15:19 left. Coming out of that media timeout, the Illini made four straight baskets for a 19-14 lead with 12:44 to play in the first.

The Illini moved the lead to 23-16 when James and Bond were inserted into the game with less than 10 minutes left in the half. James and Bond made the game's next two field goals, and the Tigers later went on an 8-0 run to regain the lead at 32-28 with 2:45 remaining. The capper of the first half came when Bond swished a 12-foot runner as the halftime buzzer sounded, giving Mizzou a 38-33 lead at the break.

After Mizzou called timeout less than two minutes into the second half, junior guard MyEsha Perkins made the Tigers' next three baskets, and senior forward Wannette Smith scored four straight points to keep the Illini at bay.

With her fifth assist of the first half, senior guard Kerensa Barr moved past Dee-Dee Polk for second place on MU's all-time assist chart. Barr finished the game with eight assists and now has 376 for her career. She added eight points and five rebounds.

Iowa 87, MU 65

Dec. 29, 2002 – Carver-Hawkeye Arena

IOWA CITY, Iowa - Kristi Faulkner scored a career-high 25 points, and the Missouri women's basketball team committed a season-high-tying 22 turnovers as Iowa defeated the Tigers by an 87-65 count Sunday afternoon at Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

Jennie Lillis added 17 points and seven rebounds for the Hawkeyes (8-2), who owned a 47-26 edge in rebounding to offset 25 turnovers of their own. In addition to shooting better than 50 percent from the field, Iowa outscored the Tigers 24-6 at the free-throw line.

Junior guard MyEsha Perkins had a career-high 16 points to lead Missouri, which placed four players in double figures. Junior guard Tracy Lozier added 13 points and a game-high five steals.

Missouri (4-5) missed six of its first seven shots in the first 5 minutes and also sent the Hawkeyes to the free-throw line early, yet trailed just 5-2 at the first media timeout. Iowa took a 20-11 lead with 7:44 left in the first - mostly on back-door layups run through its triangle offense - yet the Tigers pulled to within 22-17 after Perkins hit a 3-pointer and made a conventional 3-point play on consecutive possessions.

Iowa stormed back with a 12-2 run - fueled by several Missouri turnovers - over the next 2 minutes. Missouri committed 11 first-half turnovers, just under five fewer than its 40-minute average.

Sophomore guard Lauren Podratz hit back-to-back 3-pointers to pull the Tigers to within 36-27 on the way to a 40-29 halftime deficit. Podratz finished with a career-high-tying eight points.

The Hawkeyes stormed out of the second-half gate much as they did in the first by going on a 6-2 run. Missouri kept pace for the next few minutes, and the Tigers pulled to within nine (58-49) with 11:09 left when Lozier made a steal, drove coast-to-coast and made a circus layup while being fouled. Iowa hit key shots, along with their free throws, however, down the stretch to preserve UI's homecourt win.

MU 73, IUPUI 45

Jan. 2, 2003 – Hearnes Center

A Mizzou defense that started the game in good shape, and put the clamps down in the second, led the Tigers to a 73-45 win over IUPUI in non-conference women's basketball action Thursday night at the Hearnes Center. The win pulls the Tigers back to .500 on the season.

Junior guard Tracy Lozier led the Tigers with 17 points - just two off her career high set on Dec. 11 at Northern Iowa - and senior guard Kerensa Barr and freshman guard LaToya Bond each added 11 for MU (5-5). Barr added seven assists, which equaled IUPUI's team total, and Bond had a game-high four steals.

Mizzou posted several season bests in the game, most notably the 45 points that were seven fewer than in MU's win over McNeese State during the Tigers' last homestand nearly a month ago. In addition, IUPUI's 32 turnovers were one more than McNeese committed, and its 30.8-percent shooting effort was more than seven percent worse than Illinois shot on Dec. 21.

The Tigers started their impressive defensive performance less than 6 minutes into the game, when junior forward Stretch James and Lozier drew charging fouls on back-to-back plays. Missouri's defense tenacity continued throughout the rest of the opening period, as Mizzou helped force 15 Jaguar turnovers in the first half.

Mizzou used a 9-0 run - fueled by a 3-pointer and fastbreak layup from Lozier - in the final five minutes of the half to help the Tigers to a 38-29 halftime lead. Lozier had 10 of her 17 points in the first 20 minutes.

The second half started with the two teams trading baskets before the Tigers went on a 12-0 run over a span of 7:51 to push a 45-33 lead to a comfortable 24-point cushion (57-33). IUPUI never got closer than 19 the rest of the way.

MU 72, Saint Louis 62

Junior forward Evan Unrau led all players with 19 points and 12 rebounds to register her third double-double of the season, and the Missouri women's basketball team canned eight 3-pointers on the way to a 72-62 win Sunday over Saint Louis in the Tigers' final non-conference game of the season.

Junior guard Tracy Lozier posted double-figure scoring for the fourth time in five games with her 17-point effort. Lozier finished the afternoon 3-of-5 from 3-point range and made half of her 10 field-goal attempts. She also had a career-high-tying six rebounds and drew a key second-half charge to key a Mizzou surge. In addition, junior forward Stretch James had a career-high 16 points and added four rebounds for the Tigers (6-5).

Harmonie King led four Billikens in double-figure scoring with 18 points. Saint Louis (9-5) was 4-of-7 from 3-point range in the first half, and just 2-of-8 in the second.

Neither team held more than a four-point lead through most of the first half, with the Billikens holding the lead for most of that time. The Tigers pulled ahead, 25-24, on a free throw by sophomore guard Angie Carter with 3 minutes, 57 seconds remaining in the half.

Yet SLU went on a 9-0 run to take an eight-point lead, and Mizzou needed a 3-pointer by junior guard MyEsha Perkins to stay within 33-28 at the halftime break.

The Tigers were ready to come out of the locker room, as Missouri opened the final 20 minutes by making the first three baskets. James made back-to-back layups, and Unrau tallied another on a fastbreak to give Mizzou a 34-33 lead with 18:08 to play.

After Saint Louis regained the lead on a 3-pointer by Harmonie King, senior guard Kerensa Barr gave the Tigers a 44-42 advantage after hitting the second of back-to-back 3-pointers with 12:27 left. Less than a minute later, Lozier drew her charge and on the ensuing possession hit her first of three treys that took place over the next five minutes. Her third 3-pointer put the Tigers up 57-51 with 6:55 remaining.

Baylor 71, MU 65

Jan. 8, 2002 – Ferrell Center

WACO, Texas - Baylor rode the inside tandem of Steffanie Blackmon and Sophia Young to a 71-65 win over Missouri in the Big 12 Conference women's basketball opener for both teams Wednesday night at the Ferrell Center.

Blackmon and Young each scored 22 points to account for nearly two-thirds of the Lady Bears' points. Young also had a team-high 10 rebounds for Baylor (12-1, 1-0 Big 12). Evan Unrau led Missouri (6-6, 0-1) with 20 points and 12 rebounds, while Kerensa Barr added 19 on 5-of-9 shooting from 3-point range.

The Tigers set the tempo in the first few minutes, taking a 9-4 lead after Unrau hit a 3-pointer on the left side - her third straight field goal - with 17 minutes, 28 seconds to play in the first. Yet the Bears fought to tie the game at 13-all on a jumper by Steffanie Blackmon with 12:46 remaining.

On two of the next three possessions, the Tiger defense stiffened, with Barr and MyEsha Perskins drawing charges as Mizzou clung to a 15-13 lead. The Lady Bears slowly moved ahead, then threw an 11-0 run on Missouri by holding the Tigers to 0-for-6 shooting from the field for a stretch of 5:18. Mizzou finally got on the board with a Barr basket with 15 seconds left, yet Chelsea Whitaker's runner as the half wound down gave Baylor a 37-25 advantage - equaling its largest of the game - heading into the locker room.

Stretch James scored the first points of the second half on a layup, and the Tigers pulled to within nine on a Barr 3-pointer and a layup by Melanie Fisher. Baylor extended its lead to as much as 14 points before Barr hit her third 3-pointer of the half to bring the Tigers back to within nine.

With the game continuing to see-saw, Barr hit her fourth trey of the half and on the next possession, faked her defender on another 3-point attempt and drove to nail a 12-footer to bring Missouri back to within eight (65-57) with 4:22 left to play.

After Tracy Lozier made a putback of a Fisher miss, the Tigers seemed to have pulled within three on another Barr 3-pointer. Yet the Tigers had called timeout just before Barr released the ball.
