TIGER WOMEN BID FAREWELL TO HEARNES AGAINST CYCLONES

The MU women's basketball team (14-11, 5-9 Big 12) closes a chapter in its 30-season history Saturday afternoon as the Tigers play the final regular-season game in the only arena they've ever known as home. In addition, the program will also honor five seniors who will be playing in their final regular-season game at the Hearnes Center, where the Tigers are 279-102 all-time.

MU is coming off a much-needed 78-76 win at Nebraska on Wednesday, while Iowa State (13-12, 6-8) limps into Columbia following a 68-33 loss at Kansas State. The Cyclones will also look to split the season series for the first time since 1998.

MORE ON IOWA STATE

The Cyclones' Anne O'Neil, who was with ISU coaches Bill Fennelly and Latoja Harris and Mizzou's Cindy Stein and Evan Unrau in South Korea last summer, is the only Iowa State player scoring in double figures this season (12.8 ppg). Freshman Megan Ronhovde (5.0 rpg) leads five ISU players averaging better than 4.1 rebounds a game.

McNOTES: FOR THOSE ON THE RUN

MIZZOU QUICK HITS

- The Tigers are gunning for their fifth straight postseason berth, which would tie a school record first set from 1982-86. In this current streak, the Tigers have been to one NCAA Tournament (2001 Sweet 16), and three WNIT's (2000, 2002 and 2003).
- This season marks the 32nd and final season of basketball competition in the Hearnes Center (30th for women's hoops). The Tigers will open a new basketball arena this fall, just southwest of the current facility.
- As of Thursday, Mizzou had the SIXTH toughest schedule in the country (WBCA RPI).
- The Tigers have lost seven games at Hearnes this season, six in Big 12 play and six to teams that have been ranked at some point this season (Southwest Missouri State, Nebraska, Colorado, Baylor, Texas Tech, Kansas State). Five of those were by a total of 18 points.

PLAYER QUICK HITS

- All-America candidate Evan Unrau currently leads the Big 12 Conference in rebounding (9.0 rpg) and is third in scoring (18.1 ppg). She has a league-leading 12 double-doubles this season, including seven in league play. She erupted for a career-high 40 points on Sunday in a double-OT loss to #8 KSU.
- Sophomore LaToya Bond, Mizzou's third-leading scorer (11.3 ppg), is back running the point after missing five weeks (nine games) due to a broken bone in her left foot.
- The Tigers have been without the services of injured senior forward and defensive standout Melanie Fisher since Jan. 18 vs. Colorado (eight games).
- Senior guard MyEsha Perkins stepped up in Bond's absence by filling in at the 2-guard spot while Tracy Lozier moved to the point. She is averaging 13.3 ppg since moving into the starting lineup (10 games), and 10.6 points per game in the 16 games overall since she became academically eligible on Dec. 19. That includes two career-high games of 18 points (at Iowa State and at Nebraska).

HOME SWEET HEARNES?

The University of Missouri broke ground on a new basketball arena – one that will be the finest on-campus facility in the nation when completed – on Sept. 21, 2002. The yet-to-be-named facility, which will seat just over 15,000 fans, is slated to open this fall, meaning this season will be the final one for the men's and women's basketball teams at the Hearnes Center. The women's basketball team sports an all-time record of 279-102 (.732) in the friendly confines. The arena continues to be on budget and on schedule.

Built in 1972, the Hearnes Center will continue to be utilized by MU's Olympic-sport programs such as volleyball, gymnastics, wrestling, and track and field.

A webcam of the arena construction site has been installed on top of the Hearnes Center, and it is providing live still images to the Missouri athletics website 24 hours a day. The webcam is located at ath.missouri.edu/arena, and it can also be accessed from the front page of www.MUTigers.com.

Slated to cost $75 million, the new arena project was jump-started by a generous $25 million donation by the Laurie family of Columbia. The State of Missouri will contribute $35 million in bond appropriations, while the remaining $15 million will be raised through athletic fundraising efforts.

UN-BELIEVABLE: THE BIG 12'S MOST VERSATILE PLAYER

Senior All-America candidate Evan Unrau (Fort Collins, Colo. / Rocky Mountain HS) is the engine that pulls the Tigers' train, leading the team with her scoring and rebounding averages of 18.1 points and 9.0 rebounds a game. Unrau leads the Big 12 in rebounding, and is third in scoring. In addition, the forward leads the league with 12 double-doubles, including seven in Big 12 play. For the latest on Unrau, please refer to page 2.

Unrau put on the best display of her talents on Sunday in a thrilling double-overtime performance vs. No. 8 Kansas State, scorching the Wildcats for a career-high and near school-record 40 points. She added 15 rebounds, four assists and two steals, and had just ONE turnover in playing all but the final 1.2 seconds of the 50-minute game.

On top of her scoring and rebounding prowess, Unrau is ranked among the Big 12's top players in SEVEN of the 12 categories the league office tracks weekly, making her arguably the Big 12 Conference's MVP (Most Versatile Player). That ties her with KSU's Nicole Ohlde, CU's Randie Wirt, UT's Tiffany Jackson and BU's Steffanie Blackmon. Here are Unrau's league ranks:

LAST TIME OUT: MIZZOU 78, NEBRASKA 76

EeTisha Riddle hit a pair of buckets in the final 87 seconds to lead the Missouri women to a 78-76 win at Nebraska Wednesday night. In becoming just the second opposing team this season at the Devaney Center to pull out a win, the Tigers improve to 14-11 and 5-9 in the Big 12 Conference. Riddle finished with six points, while MyEsha Perkins tied her career high with 18 points to lead four Tigers in double figures.

CLOSE HOME LOSSES HAVE TIGERS SAYING, 'WHAT IF?'

It's always too late to play "What If...", but it bears noting that "if" the Tigers would have won their five home Big 12 games against Kansas, Nebraska, #11 Colorado, #9 Texas Tech and #8 Kansas State – games Mizzou lost by an average of 3.6 points, and games in which the Tigers did not have their normal starting lineup – then the Tigers would currently be alone in third in the Big 12 with a 9-4 record. More importantly, the resultant winning percentage would have propelled Mizzou all the way to a current No. 9 in the WBCA RPI.

STRONG SKED. HELPING TIGERS

Mizzou is listed at No. 36 as of Thursday in the RPI coordinated by the Women's Basketball Coaches Association, and despite the Tigers' recent struggles are by no means out of the running for postseason play. Much of that is due to MU's strong schedule, which is ranked No. 6 in the country by the WBCA.

MU's only non-conference losses were to SMS, who leads the Missouri Valley and is just outside both polls this week, and UW-Green Bay, who leads the Horizon League. Two other Tiger opponents – Austin Peay (Ohio Valley) and Miami [Ohio] (Mid-American) – also lead their respective conferences.

USELESS STAT OF THE WEEK

28,906; 2 Number of points Mizzou has scored in 381 games at the Hearnes Center entering Saturday's contest; additional points credited for a forfeit win over Tulsa in 1983.

FROM ROAD WORRIERS TO ROAD WARRIORS

While Mizzou's struggles on the road have been documented, it should be noted that when the Tigers win away from Hearnes, they're winning big – particularly in the last two years. Here is the listing of MU's largest margins of victory on the road in the eight years of the Big 12 (this season's wins in bold):

- 31 at Iowa State 1/19/03
- 27 at Kansas 1/24/04
- 25 at Oklahoma State 2/14/04
- 25 at Oklahoma 2/15/97
- 21 at Nebraska 2/8/03
- 19 at Iowa State 2/7/04

RANK-AND-FILE THIS

The Tigers have lost seven games at the Hearnes Center this season. Six have come in Big 12 play, and six to teams that have been ranked at some point this season (Southwest Missouri State, Nebraska, Colorado, Baylor, Texas Tech, Kansas State). Five of the seven losses were by a total of 18 points. That included a span in which the Tigers faced five consecutive ranked teams at home.

Although five straight games at home against ranked teams is a challenge, it likely won't match the difficulty faced by the 2001-02 squad. That team, which went 14-15, including 9-6 at Hearnes, had six games in an eight-game home stretch against ranked teams – all Big 12 opposition. MU's only win in that span came in its last home win over a ranked team until Jan. 28: Jan. 9, 2002, against then-No. 10 Texas Tech.

PERKINS ADDING SCORING PUNCH SINCE RETURNING

With the injury to point guard LaToya Bond impacting the Tigers' lineup, senior guard MyEsha Perkins (Detroit, Mich. / Oak Park HS / Trinity [Texas] JC) has been an impressive offensive option. In her last 10 games since being inserted into the starting lineup, Perkins is averaging 13.3 points per game.

That includes a career night Feb. 7 at Iowa State, when Perkins went off for 18 points (on 7-of-13 shooting, including 3-of-4 from long distance) and seven assists to set new career highs in both categories. MyEsha must like the state of Iowa, as her previous high of 16 points was set last year at Carver-Hawkeye Arena. Perkins added another 18 Wednesday at Nebraska on 7-of-18 shooting.

Perkins made her first start of the season at Kansas on Jan. 24 – her first game back from a two-game suspension for her involvement in the teams' first meeting Jan. 10 – and provided a huge boost with a then-season-high 15 points against the Jayhawks. Included in that game was a personal 10-2 run in the second half that helped put the game away for the Tigers' first Big 12 win of the season. She added 14 points on Jan. 28 to help the Tigers to an upset over No. 20 Oklahoma. Perkins is shooting 51.9 percent from the field (70-of-135), and is averaging 10.6 points per game for the season. That's a full 6.2 ppg better than last season, when Perkins was sixth on the team in scoring.

LAST TIME IN COLUMBIA: MU 70, IOWA STATE 57

Feb. 12, 2003 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA, Mo. – Evan Unrau scored a season-high 26 points to lead Missouri to a 70-57 win and a season sweep of Iowa State for the first time since 1995. Unrau's 26 are the most by a Tiger this season.

Unrau was 10-of-15 from the field, tying her career high for field goals; she added eight rebounds, five assists and three steals in leading four players in double-figure scoring for Missouri.

Lisa Kriener led Iowa State with 16 points. Lindsey Wilson, who came into the game averaging a Big 12-best 21.3 points per game in league play, was held to 13 points.

After Kriener started the scoring with a putback of a Cyclone miss, the Tigers went on a 13-2 run covering the next 5 minutes. Missouri's ball distribution was running on all cylinders, as every starter scored during that run.

Terianne Wolford, whose long-distance shooting helped the Tigers break the Cyclones' zone in Mizzou's 31-point win in Ames, hit a 3-pointer to put MU up 19-8 with 11:16 on the clock. That opened up Mizzou's inside game, as the Tigers out-scored Iowa State by an 18-6 margin in the first 20 minutes. The Tigers' largest lead came twice late in the half, including the 38-22 halftime lead.

Missouri's defense harassed the Cyclones into shooting just 34.8 percent in the first half, while the Tigers' offense clicked to the tune of 56.7 percent from the field.

After a Kriener layup and a Wilson 3-pointer pulled the Cyclones to within 11 at 38-27 coming out of the locker room, Missouri countered with a quick 6-0 run. Yet Iowa State started hitting their shots, and Kriener tossed in a layup to close the gap to just seven points (50-43) with 7:31 remaining.

After Head Coach Cindy Stein called a second 30-second timeout to calm her team, Unrau and Lozier sandwiched 3-pointers around an O'Neil jumper to keep the Cyclones at bay.

BOND RETURNS TO ACTION

On Feb. 11 vs. Baylor, sophomore point guard LaToya Bond (Urbana, Ill. / Urbana HS) saw her first game action since playing at Saint Louis on Jan. 4. She was diagnosed the next day with a broken bone in her left foot, which kept her out of competition for five weeks.

She's played 13, 17, and 28 minutes in her first three games back, and from a health standpoint, Bond had a "statement game" Sunday vs. No. 8 Kansas State when she played 43 out of the double-OT game's 50 minutes. She scored 11 points – her most since Jan. 2 – and repeated the performance Wednesday at Nebraska.

Before her injury, Bond had adjusted well to taking the reigns at the point-guard position for the Tigers following a year behind all-everything Kerensa Barr, ranking third in scoring (12.2 ppg). The week before, Bond went off for career highs of 20 points, nine assists and a seven rebounds vs. Iowa on Dec. 30, and added four steals, which was just one off her best ever. The nine assists were the most since Kerensa Barr had the same number exactly three years previous to the day, against UW-Green Bay.

Because she has no longer played in 75 percent of Mizzou's games, Bond is ineligible to be ranked among the league's statistical leaders. If she were eligible, though, her numbers would place her among the Big 12 leaders in five categories: scoring (23rd/11.3 ppg); assists (fourth/4.9 apg); steals (fifth/2.1 spg); free-throw percentage (14th/79.3 pct.); and assist/turnover ratio (11th/1.41).

LOZIER BREAKS CAREER TREYS MARK

Senior guard Tracy Lozier (Leawood, Kan. / Blue Valley North HS) nailed three 3-pointers at Colorado on Jan. 18 to make her Mizzou's all-time record-holder in that category. One game earlier against Nebraska, she set the career 3-point attempts mark. Lozier is now 135-for-389 (34.7 percent) for her career; the record in both categories was previously held by Julie Helm (1997-2000).

With the injury to LaToya Bond, the senior has moved over to the point-guard position, and has been plus-eight (52-44) on her assist-turnover ratio in the 12 games since. For the season, her 97-67 ratio (1.45) ranks her 10th in the Big 12, just ahead of teammate Evan Unrau.

Lozier was averaging 7.5 points a game coming into the Unilever Tiger Tournament, when she went off for 31 points in Mizzou's two wins to help the Tigers to the title. She had a career-high 20 in the title win over Tulsa, with the help of four 3-pointers. She also canned four treys vs. Kansas on Saturday on the way to a 19-point outing.

For the season, Lozier's averaging 8.9 points (fifth on the team), 3.9 assists and 2.4 rebounds per game. That follows a breakout junior season in which she tallied season averages of 9.2 points, 2.5 assists and 2.3 rebounds a game.

JAMES A PAIN AT BOTH ENDS OF THE FLOOR

Senior forward Stretch James (Columbus, Ohio / Northland HS / Tyler [Texas] JC) is Mizzou's second-leading scorer, averaging 13.8 points per game following her ninth straight game scoring in double figures. She also has four double-doubles, which ties her for 10th in the Big 12.

On the defensive end, James leads the Big 12 and is ranked among the national leaders in blocked shots. Her average of 2.24 blocks a game (56 blocks) is just ahead of Texas Tech's Cisti Greenwalt. She

THREE PREP STANDOUTS SIGN WITH MU

A trio of Midwest prep standouts have signed National Letters of Intent to enroll at the University of Missouri and play basketball, head coach Cindy Stein announced on Nov. 12. The three will be the first recruits to play their entire careers in Mizzou's new basketball arena, which is slated to open next fall.

Brittany Mannings, a 6-foot-4 center from Duchesne HS in St. Louis; Kassie Drew, a 5-foot-9 guard from Anna-Jonesboro (Ill.) High, and Crystal Howard, a 5-foot-9 guard from Omaha (Neb.) Central High School will join Stein and the Tigers for the 2004-05 season.

Mannings is ranked as the No. 25 center in the country in the All-Star Girls Report's Top 100. She has twice earned All-America Honorable Mention plaudits from Street & Smith's, and was a an all-state second-team pick in 2002. Mannings was a third-team St. Louis Post-Dispatch All-Metro selection last year after averaging 16.4 points, 9.8 rebounds and 4.7 blocks a game. She helped lead the Pioneers to the Missouri Class 4 championship in March.

Drew comes with numerous credentials entering her senior season. She already has scored 2,096 points in her three-year career, which is currently tied for 55th in Illinois State High School Association (IHSA) history. She's also 10th on the all-time 3-pointer list with 259 heading into this year, and needs just 36 to move into second place. She tied a state record by sinking 11 3-pointers in a game last December on her way to a career-high 55-point outing. She is ranked as ASGR's No. 35 point guard in the country. Drew was a consensus first-team Class A all-state pick last season, and as a sophomore was named first-team all-state by the Chicago Tribune and Chicago Sun-Times.

Howard was a member of the all-class all-state team as a sophomore in 2002, and was honorable mention all-state as a freshman. She has scored in double figures in each of her three seasons, averaging 14 points as a freshman, 16.2 as a sophomore and 17.5 as a junior. Like Mannings and Drew, Howard also earned a Street & Smith's Honorable Mention All-America nod last year.

The signing of the trio of high-school standouts concludes Mizzou's recruiting efforts for the fall signing period. The women's basketball program will look to sign two more players during the spring period – April 14-May 19, 2004.

tied the school record with seven swats vs. Southwest Missouri State on Dec. 10.

In addition, James has moved into the Mizzou career top-10 in blocks. She has 99 in her two years, putting her in eighth. The former junior-college All-American averaged 10.3 points and 5.6 rebounds a game last year for Mizzou.

TIGERS SWATTING SHOTS AT A NATION-LEADING RATE

While it can be debated whether it is the product of good defense, or merely as a defense mechanism, this is not for debate: Few in the country are blocking shots at a higher rate than the Mizzou women, according to the latest NCAA statistics released Tuesday, Feb. 17.

The Tigers have swatted a school-record 162 shots in their first 25 games, which converts to an average of 6.5 a contest. That puts Mizzou in third, just behind Duke (166 in 25 games) and Rice (153 in 23).

Individually, Stretch James leads the Big 12, and is 27th in the country, in blocked shots (2.3 bpg). All-America candidate Evan Unrau is 46th in scoring at 18.3 ppg, and is also 50th in rebounding at 9.3 rpg.

K-STATE'S BROOKS TRANSFERS TO MIZZOU

Former Kansas State guard Tiffany Brooks (Leavenworth, Kan. / Leavenworth HS) has transferred to the University of Missouri and will play women's basketball for the Tigers, Head Coach Cindy Stein announced Jan. 21.

Brooks, who averaged 2.0 points and 0.8 rebounds in four games as a freshman in K-State's fall semester, has enrolled in classes at MU and will sit out the next two semesters under NCAA transfer guidelines. She is expected to be eligible at the conclusion of Mizzou's fall semester this December, and has been practicing since her arrival in Columbia.

The 5-foot-11 Brooks earned two all-state nods at Leavenworth HS under coach Stacey (Walker) Cole, who played for Stein at Emporia State. Brooks averaged 18.0 points, 7.4 rebounds, 2.1 assists and 3.0 steals per game her senior year at Leavenworth. She was first-team All-Sunflower League all three of her prep years, and was a 2002 Street & Smith's All-America honorable mention selection.

Recognized as one of the nation's top young women's basketball coaches, Cindy Stein earned her 150th career victory in her hometown of Peoria, Ill., on Sunday, Nov. 23 at Bradley. Stein has a 98-76 mark in her sixth season at MU and is 163-101 in her ninth year overall as a collegiate head coach.

Her accomplishments have not gone unnoticed by the national basketball community, as this summer Stein served her country as an assistant coach with USA Basketball at the World University Games. She also was able to mentor one of her standout players, as senior forward Evan Unrau was a member of the squad that was comprised of Big 12 Conference all-stars. Unrau joins another Stein recruit, WNBA veteran Amanda Lassiter, as All-Big 12 First Team recipients since the league's formation seven years ago.

The season prior to Stein's arrival at MU, the Tigers posted an 11-16 record, yet the coach has turned the program around by guiding it to four straight postseason berths, including the 2001 NCAA Sweet Sixteen.

MU 77, Bradley 58

Game #1 – Nov. 23, 2003 – Robertson Field House

PEORIA, Ill. – Last year, free-throws decided the outcome. This season, the Mizzou women's basketball team made sure that wouldn't be necessary.

LaToya Bond and Megan Roney both had career days, and the Tigers ran to a 77-58 win Sunday afternoon at Robertson Field House – Mizzou's largest non-conference road win since the 2000-01 season. The victory is the 150th of Head Coach Cindy Stein's career.

Bond scored a game-high 17 points and was 11-of-12 from the free-throw line, and Roney tallied 12 points and nine rebounds. All are career highs for the pair who played significant roles Sunday after coming off the bench last season.

Mizzou blocked 12 Bradley shots on the day – more than last year's single-game highs of eight in back-to-back games last January. In addition, the Tigers recorded 21 fast-break points to BU's six; Mizzou also had 20 points off turnovers while giving up 11. The Tigers held Bradley to just 32.4 percent (23-of-71) from the field for the game, yet hit 24-of-54 (44.4 percent) of its own. Mizzou was also 26-of-38 from the free-throw line (68.4 percent).

The Tigers (1-0) started out slowly, missing their first three shots and committing a pair of charging fouls in the first 4 minutes of the game as Bradley staked to a 4-0 lead. Yet on consecutive possessions, Bond made a steal and went coast-to-coast for the layup, Evan Unrau made a steal and sank an 18-footer on the fast break, and Stretch James blocked a shot to Unrau, then took the return feed to give the Tigers a 6-4 lead.

The Tigers would soon go on a 9-0 run spanning more than 6 minutes – capped by a pair of baskets from Roney – to take a 16-6 lead with 9:27 to go in the first half. Roney added a put-back with 5:40 left to make the Mizzou lead 22-12.

Unrau made a nifty spin move off a defender and banked a shot off the glass to give the Tigers their final points of the half. Mizzou went into the locker room with a 12-point advantage (31-19).

Roney notched a trio of milestones early in the second half. With 18:38 left in the game, she hit her first career 3-pointer and broke her single-game scoring high (previously eight) in the process. The next time down the floor, Roney notched her first career assist on a dump-off to James to give MU a 42-21 lead. That was during a 16-2 run to open the half, which put the game out of reach.

James and Blair Hardiek each tallied 10 points for the Tigers, while Unrau had seven points and 12 rebounds. Amy Fuller had 13 points to lead BU (0-2).

MU 79, Southern 43

Game #2 – Nov. 26, 2003 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA – Evan Unrau posted her first double-double of the season, tallying game-highs of 21 points and 13 rebounds to lead the Missouri women's basketball team to a 79-43 rout of Southern at the Hearnes Center Wednesday afternoon.

MU stormed out to a 10-0 lead in the first 2 minutes, 29 seconds, and took advantage as Southern (0-3) missed its first 11 shots. By the time Sheré Cunningham banked in a 3-pointer from 22 feet with 9:55 left in the first half, the Tiger lead was 18-6. In that time, six different Missouri players had scored. While Cunningham's trey sparked a 7-4 run for Southern, Mizzou responded with a 9-2 break over the next 4:36 to boost the Tiger lead to 31-12 with 3:17 remaining in the first half.

Southern went on its own 8-3 run, capped by a half-court buzzer-beater by Cunningham, to close the half and give Missouri a 34-20 lead going into the locker room. That would be as close as Southern would come to the lead the rest of the game, as the Tigers went on an 11-4 run to start the second half. Southern got the lead under 20 points once the rest of the game.

The Tigers (2-0) posted a monstrous 55-29 rebounding edge, including 20-8 on the offensive end. That allowed Mizzou to score 24 second-chance points.

LaToya Bond added 11 points, and Melanie Fisher added 10 for the Tigers. Stretch James had 11 rebounds to go with four points.

Cunningham led the Jaguars with 17 points.

MU 78, Austin Peay 43

Game #3 – Nov. 28, 2003 – Resch Center

GREEN BAY, Wis. – Dominating play from the Mizzou defense has put the Tigers into the championship game of the Oneida Bingo & Casino Holiday Tournament following a 78-43 win over Austin Peay Friday at the Resch Center.

Mizzou, which has its first 3-0 start since 2001, finished the game with a tournament-record nine blocked shots after swatting seven away in the first half. Seven different Tigers recorded a block, with LaToya Bond and Stretch James each blocking a pair. In addition, the Tigers took advantage of 21 APSU turnovers, as Mizzou posted a 27-6 advantage in points off turnovers.

Bond had a game-high 16 points and five steals, with Evan Unrau adding 15 points, four rebounds and three assists and James chipping in 10 points, four rebounds and three steals.

The Tigers took a quick 10-4 lead on the strength of a pair of baskets from Unrau and another four points from Bond. Austin Peay pulled to within 13-10 on a 3-pointer by Alicia Watson, yet the Tigers reeled off nine straight points for a 22-10 lead with 10 minutes, 25 seconds remaining in the first half.

APSU got no closer than 10 points the rest of the half, and that came with 8:38 left at 22-12. After another short Mizzou run, the Lady Govs pulled to within 13 with 2:00 left on a Carden Cobb bucket, yet the Tigers ran the break effectively down the stretch, throwing another 9-0 run – including an athletic Bond jumper as the buzzer sounded – to go into the locker room with a 41-19 halftime lead.

Melanie Fisher and Megan Roney both made important contributions in the first half, combining inside for 4-of-5 shooting, seven rebounds and five assists.

The Tigers had seven blocks at the break, just one off the tournament record for an entire game. More importantly, Mizzou held APSU to just 25 percent shooting (8-for-32) at the half while hitting on 52.9 percent (18-for-34) of its own shots. MU also held a 25-15 rebounding edge, including 17-8 on the defensive end.

The second half was just as dominating, as Mizzou went on a 17-4 run midway through the final 20 minutes to take a 69-33 lead with 6:56 left. Back-to-back jumpers by EeTisha Riddle were included in that span, as was a 7-for-7 performance from the free-throw line by the Tigers.

UW-Green Bay 74, MU 66

Game #4 – Nov. 29, 2003 – Resch Center

GREEN BAY, Wis. – Wisconsin-Green Bay shot lights-out in the first half, and hung on by sinking several key free throws down the stretch on its way to a 74-66 win over Missouri in the championship game of the Oneida Bingo & Casino Holiday Tournament Saturday night at the Resch Center.

The loss came despite combined game-high contributions of 44 points and 20 rebounds from the senior forward tandem of Evan Unrau and Stretch James. Unrau's 16 rebounds led all players to go with 20 points, and James' 24 points led all scorers. Both were named to the all-tournament team for their performances.

Tiffany Mor, who had 17 points and seven rebounds before seriously injuring her knee on a layup that was blocked by James with 9 minutes, 29 seconds left in the game, was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player.

After both teams traded baskets to start the game, the Phoenix (4-0) jumped out to a 9-2 lead. Despite 13 first-half turnovers – just four shy of their season average through three games – the Tigers (3-1) slowly chipped away at the UWGB lead, pulling to within 26-24 on a 3-pointer by Tracy Lozier.

The Phoenix responded after Lozier's trey, however, going on a 14-0 run to end the half and entered the locker room with a 40-24 advantage at the break. UWGB shot 59.3 percent (16-of-27) in the first half, including 5-of-9 shooting from 3-point distance.

Yet after a Mor 3-point play to start the second half, the Tigers quickly pulled to within 10 (43-33) with 15:24 to go after a 9-0 run sparked by five points from Unrau. The teams would see-saw over the next eight minutes, with the Phoenix extending the lead back to 17 and Mizzou reeling UWGB back in, before a jumper from LaToya Bond with 6:05 to play narrowed the gap to single digits.

That fueled the inside game by James, as she went 10-of-14 from the field in the second half, scoring 22 of her points in the final 20 minutes. She twice brought the Tigers to within four points – the latter with 1:32 to go – before the Phoenix was able to play keep-away and hit their free throws.

"Wisconsin-Green Bay deserved to win this game," said Head Coach Cindy Stein, who prefaced her opening comments with prayers for a speedy recovery for Mor. "We knew this was a very tough place to play, and they proved it. We're disappointed with the loss."

Game #5 – Dec. 5, 2003 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA – Five players scored in double figures and the Missouri women's basketball team posted its highest single-game point total since 2001 Friday night as the Tigers rolled over Alcorn State, 103-41, in the first round of the Unilever Tiger Tournament.

The Tigers' 103 points represents the team's largest single-game point total since they scored 106 on Eastern Illinois on Nov. 17, 2000. This win also marks the first occasion the Tigers have hit the century mark since defeating Arkansas-Pine Bluff, 102-47, on Dec. 20, 2001.

The Tigers got stellar play on the boards from Christelle N'Garsanet midway through the first half. N'Garsanet finished with a team-leading seven rebounds in just 14 minutes on the floor to go with 11 points.

A 29-0 run that spanned halftime put the game out of reach for the Lady Braves. With 5:32 remaining in the first half, Evan Unrau drained a 3-pointer, and Tracy Lozier and Megan Roney capped it off with back-to-back three's of their own to push the score to 62-15.

Unrau led all scorers with 22 points while also chipping in five rebounds and three assists. She was joined by four teammates in double figures, all with 11 points – Lozier, N'Garsanet, Cherice Mack and Carlynn Savant.

LaToya Bond led all players with eight assists and four steals, in addition to recording eight points. Unrau and Stretch James combined to lead the Tigers with two blocks each.

Tiffaney Smith led Alcorn State, which shot just 27.3 percent from the field (15-for-55), with 10 points. The Tigers forced the Lady Braves into 26 turnovers, while posting a sparkling 31 assist-to-9 turnover ratio of its own.

MU 88, Tulsa 68

Game #6 – Dec. 6, 2003 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA – Behind 19 points, seven rebounds and five assists from tournament MVP Evan Unrau, the Missouri women's basketball team defeated Tulsa, 88-68, Saturday night in the title game of the Unilever Tiger Tournament. It is the 18th time in the 26-year history of the tournament that the trophy has remained in Columbia.

Tracy Lozier was 8-of-14 from the field, including 4-of-9 shooting from the 3-point line, in blasting her previous season-high of 11 points set Friday night vs. Alcorn State with 20 against the Golden Hurricane (3-1). Lozier's previous career-high of 19 points came in a breakout game last December at Northern Iowa.

Stretch James recorded her first double-double of the season for the Tigers (5-1) with 18 points and a team-high 11 rebounds, while also collecting three steals to pace the Tigers. This marks James' sixth career double-double in a Missouri uniform.

LaToya Bond tied with Unrau for the team lead in assists with five, giving her 13 assists in the two tournament games. Her 11 points also made her the fourth Tiger in double figures on the evening.

Joining Unrau on the Unilever All-Tournament Team were Lozier, Tulsa's Sarah Lundberg and Candace Brewer, UAB's Brittany Smith and Shirley Gooch from Alcorn State. UAB earned the consolation title with a 59-49 win over Alcorn State in the night's first game.

"I was very proud of a lot of things we did tonight, in claiming back the championship of our own tournament," said Head Coach Cindy Stein. "It feels good to finally have it back in our hands."

The Tigers outshot the Golden Hurricane 48.5 percent to 36.5 percent from the field, marking the third straight game Mizzou has eclipsed the 45-percent plateau. MU's 50 percent from beyond the arc is a first on the year. Missouri also outrebounded Tulsa 45-28, which is the fifth time in six games this season the Tigers have held a rebounding edge over their opponent.

The 191 points Missouri scored in its two tournament games this weekend are its highest two-game point total since the 1999 Unilever Tiger Tournament. Mizzou opened that weekend with a 111-31 win over Centenary, then followed with an 86-76 victory over Western Kentucky.

Game #7 – Dec. 10, 2003 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA – Evan Unrau and Stretch James combined for 49 points – including a game-high 28 for Unrau – yet the Southwest Missouri State women held on for a 79-70 win over Mizzou at the Hearnes Center Wednesday night.

Unrau was 10-of-18 from the field and 3-of-5 from 3-point range in falling just two points shy of her career high, set her sophomore year vs. Southwestern Louisiana. James followed with 21 points and a career-high-tying 13 rebounds for Mizzou (5-2).

Kari Koch scored 16 of her team-high 23 points in the second half for SMS (5-1), which broke a two-game losing streak to the Tigers.

James dominated the early minutes of the contest, personally outscoring SMS 6-2 with four rebounds in the first 2 minutes, 6 seconds. The Lady Bears slowly chipped away, scoring six straight points to tie the game at 16-all on a K.C. Cowgill jumper with 11:43 left in the half. Less than a minute and a half later, SMS took its first lead with its first 3-pointer of the night, by Cowgill. SMS took a four-point lead (42-38) into the locker room.

Nicole Lehman hit the first two baskets of the second half to push the Lady Bear lead to eight points, then again to nine (53-44) on a pair of Kari Koch free-throws with 13:19 left. The Tigers went on a quick 8-0 run – capped by an Unrau free-throw following a technical foul on the SMS bench – over the next 65 seconds to pull within one at 53-52.

After the two teams traded buckets to keep the lead at one in favor of SMS, the Lady Bears erupted for a 13-2 run to take its largest lead of the game at 66-54. Mizzou would not get closer than five the rest of the way.

The Lady Bears, who came into the game ranked sixth in the country in 3-point shooting at 46.7 percent, were in danger of posting their worst 3-point performance of the season – a 36.3 percent effort in its lone loss to Georgia Tech. SMS finished at 40 percent with its 6-for-15 showing.

Two other significant career highs were set. Tracy Lozier had a game-high eight assists, and James had a school-record-tying seven blocks to go with her 13 boards.

MU 78, Evansville 72

Game #8 – Dec. 21, 2003 – Roberts Stadium

EVANSVILLE, Ind. – Buoyed by hot outside shooting at the end of the second half and excellent ball distribution in the second, the Mizzou women's basketball team registered a 78-72 win Sunday afternoon at Roberts Stadium.

Evan Unrau had a game-high 22 points and led all players with 10 rebounds for her third double-double of the season, and LaToya Bond tied her career high with eight assists.

In a game that saw eight ties and 11 lead changes, the Tigers (6-2) took their final lead with 9 minutes left on a jumper by Stretch James. That came during a span where James, who had 15 of her 17 points in the second half, had four straight buckets. Mizzou was aided by committing just two turnovers in the second half, and converted 16 assists in the final stanza.

"I was happy with finally taking control of the game, where we're in a position where they have to foul instead of the other way around," Head Coach Cindy Stein said. On the Tigers' turnaround in the second half, she said, "Our execution on offense and our intensity on defense were much better. We were just rushing things. We were too impatient, taking shots in the first 10 seconds instead of working the ball around."

Evansville (4-4) grabbed a quick 7-0 lead in the first 2:32, and held a lead until Unrau hit a layup with 15:34 left to take an 11-9 lead.

Minutes later, the Tigers would go on a cold-shooting stretch that would allow the Purple Aces to retake the lead. Mizzou scored just one field goal in a nine-minute span as Evansville grew the lead to 26-20. Unrau started Mizzou on a barrage of five 3-pointers in the final four minutes, though, capped by a trey from Bond to give the Tigers a 32-29 lead with 1:09 left in the half. Yet turnovers and a couple of Evansville rebounds allowed the Purple Aces to head into the locker room with a 35-32 advantage.

Unrau had 12 points and six rebounds in the first half, and Tracy Lozier led the Tigers to 6-of-11 shooting (54.5 percent) from behind the arc in the opening 20 minutes.

Bond forced the Purple Aces to take a timeout with 7:27 left in the game after a spectacular series. Bond knocked the ball away from UE's Denasha Mondy into the Mizzou frontcourt, and in an attempt to gain control of the ball went tumbling to the floor. Unrau stole the ball from Mondy at center court, and tipped the ball back to Bond, who had regained her footing at the free-throw line and went in for the layup.

MU 75, Iowa 65

Game #9 – Dec. 30, 2003 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA – LaToya Bond had a career afternoon in leading the Mizzou women to a solid 75-65 win over Iowa Tuesday at the Hearnes Center. Bond set or tied career highs with 20 points, seven rebounds and nine assists, and also had four steals. The nine assists are the most since Kerensa Barr tallied nine against UW-Green Bay three years ago to the day.

All-America candidate Evan Unrau added 19 points and 12 rebounds for her fourth double-double of the season, and MyEsha Perkins chipped in 11 points for the Tigers (7-2).

Jamie Cavey and Jennie Lillis had 20 and 16 points, respectively, for the Hawkeyes before each fouled out. Mizzou held leading scorer Kristi Faulkner to eight points, just one off her season low and eight under her average.

Bond set the tone for the game just 1 minute and 7 seconds into the game when she made a steal in the Iowa backcourt, drove for a layup and converted the foul shot for a 3-point play. Despite missing six of their first seven shots, strong defense kept the Tigers within 6-5 with 14:55 left in the first half. Mizzou finished with a season-high 14 steals.

A pair of layups from Perkins both gave Mizzou the lead and started the Tigers on a 10-0 run, which was capped by buckets from Bond and Tracy Lozier.

The game's breakneck pace fueled a pair of buckets in the half's final seven seconds, including an 18-footer from Unrau as the halftime buzzer sounded to give Mizzou a 39-25 lead.

Only once did Iowa (6-5) trim the Tiger lead under 10 points, and that came on a chip-shot in the paint from Cavey with 12:30 left in the game to cap a 9-0 run. Perkins knocked down a jumper and Unrau canned one of her two 3-pointers on the ensuing possessions to boost the lead back to 14. Mizzou would add three more treys down the stretch to finish with seven on the day.

"I'm very pleased with the way our team played," Head Coach Cindy Stein said. "I'm very proud of them, because you're always worried about how they're going to play after a long break. Our team came out ready to play, and we had such great play from everyone – out starters and off the bench."

Game #10 – Jan. 2, 2004 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA – Stretch James and Evan Unrau combined for 46 points and 18 rebounds in leading the University of Missouri women to a 92-68 win over Miami (Ohio) Friday night at the Hearnes Center.

With the win, the Tigers run their record to 10-0 under Cindy Stein when scoring 90 or more points. It's the third time this season that both of Mizzou's starting forwards scored 20 or more in the same game. The other two times came in Mizzou's only losses this season – at UW-Green Bay and vs. SMS.

James had 10 points in the first 6 minutes, 16 seconds of the first half, and finished with 16 points in the opening 20 minutes on 8-of-9 shooting. She finished the game 11-of-14, good for 22 points and eight rebounds. Unrau picked up what was left of the slack in the second half, pouring in a team-high 24 points to go with a game-high 10 rebounds.

Colleen Day had a game-high 25 points and six rebounds for the RedHawks (6-5).

"I'm very pleased with our play. I thought that we were really complacent at times, but I erally like the way this team responded," said Head Coach Cindy Stein. "I like our play off the bench. [Unrau and James] were incredible the whole night, and unstoppable. I guess those two hours Evan spent shooting after the last game (in Mizzou's 10-point win over Iowa, when Unrau went 5-of-15 from the field) helped."

The RedHawks took their first lead on a 3-pointer by Nikki Motto with 8:02 left, and pushed the margin to three (31-28) on a jumper by Amanda Jackson less than a minute later.

Yet the Tigers (8-2) stormed back with a 10-2 run over the next 2:55, sparked by three more James buckets, for a 38-33 advantage. Aided by a jumper by Melanie Fisher and two free throws by Megan Roney in the final 27 seconds, Mizzou took a 47-39 halftime lead.

A 10-2 Mizzou run the first 5:15 of the second half – started by a pair of James layups, and finished with an Unrau jumper – boosted the margin to 16. Miami hung around for the next 8 minutes before the Tigers went on another 12-3 run to put the game out of reach.

LaToya Bond added 13 points, eight rebounds and eight assists to complement the seniors. The Tigers added to their nation-leading block total with 10 more swats Friday.

MU 65, Saint Louis 62

Game #11 – Jan. 4, 2004 – Bauman-Eberhardt Center

ST. LOUIS – Stretch James hit the game-winning jumper and had a pair blocks in the final minute of play, and the Missouri women hit crucial free throws down the stretch to stave off an upset bid by Saint Louis, 65-62, at the Bauman-Eberhardt Center Sunday afternoon.

James finished with 10 points, three rebounds and four blocks, while Tracy Lozier hit three 3-pointers on the way to a team-high 14 points for the Tigers. Evan Unrau finished just two rebounds shy of her fourth straight double-double with 12 points and eight rebounds.

The Tigers continue their domination of the Billikens with their 15th win without a loss. Mizzou also extends its winning streak to four games and closes the non-conference portion of the schedule at 9-2.

"I really thought that was one of the uglier games we've played, but we out-uglied 'em," Head Coach Cindy Stein. "The bottom line is that we did what we had to do to get a win on the road. Our defense changed the game, and put the game in our control. We had five experienced players out there, and they did a great job of talking in that last minute."

Mizzou took a 6-4 lead after the first media timeout despite two quick fouls on James. Saint Louis got buckets from Angie Lewis and Stephanie Solomon to take an 8-6 lead before the Tigers went on a 9-2 run over the next 2 minutes, 26 seconds for a 15-10 lead.

The teams traded baskets until the Billikens used a 7-0 run to take a 28-24 lead with 5:08 left in the half. Despite getting just one field goal in the last 5:32 of the half, SLU took a 32-31 lead into the locker room on the strength of 7-of-8 shooting from the free-throw line. Three 3-pointers kept the Tigers in the game in the first half, yet Mizzou was plagued by 12 turnovers.

The second half was as close as the first, with neither team holding more than a three-point lead. Lewis and Solomon combined for eight straight SLU points as the Billikens took a 57-54 lead, then the Tigers fought back with their defense down the stretch.

With the score tied at 62-all following a fastbreak layup from Melanie Fisher, the Tigers forced a shot-clock volation with 49.9 seconds left. James got a bucket in the paint for the lead, and on the following possession blocked a pair of attempts from Lewis before Fisher got a rebound.

The Billikens (6-7) were led by 19 points by Lewis and 13 from Kirsti Holloway.

#12/11 Kansas State 95, MU 59

Game #12 – Jan. 7, 2004 – Bramlage Coliseum

MANHATTAN, Kan. – Eleventh-ranked Kansas State leaned on two of its superstars, Nicole Ohlde and Laurie Koehn, in rolling to a 95-59 win over Missouri in the Big 12 Conference opener for both teams Wednesday night at Bramlage Coliseum.

The duo combined for 56 points, as Ohlde scored 31 points on 14-of-16 shooting – nearly all from inside 5 feet – and Koehn hit 7 3-pointers on her way to 25 points. The Tigers (9-3, 0-1 Big 12) failed to win their Big 12 opener for the eighth straight year, while Kansas State (10-2, 1-0) remain perfect in Manhattan.

Stretch James and MyEsha Perkins each had 11 points to lead the Tigers, who committed 20 turnovers.

"We didn't do anything well, and I'm not sure what it was. It's just one of those games where you don't do anything well," Head Coach Cindy Stein said.

Laurie Koehn hit K-State's first field goal with a layup, but Blair Hardiek – starting in place of LaToya Bond, who is out with a broken left foot suffered over the weekend – hit a 3-pointer at top of key for Mizzou's first points. The Wildcats got a 3-pointer from Koehn, followed by a steal and layup by Ohlde, for a 9-3 lead.

Ohlde got K-State's next 10 points on layups as the Wildcats took advantage of one-on-one coverage on the senior All-American to extend the lead to 17-11. Mizzou pulled within one (20-19) on a left-side banker with 8 minutes, 55 seconds left in the first half.

After a put-back from Carlynn Savant, KSU went on a 16-2 run, including a pair of 3FG by Koehn and another by Coggins, to boost the margin to 42-26 with 3:10 left. Perkins hit a pair of open baskets off feeds from Evan Unrau to go into the locker room down 43-29.

Kansas State used a 12-2 run to start the second half for a 24-point lead, 55-31, with 15:55 left in the game, and wasn't challenged the rest of the way.

Kansas 55, MU 52

Game #13 – Jan. 10, 2004 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA – Despite a feverish second-half rally, the Missouri women's basketball team dropped a 55-52 decision to Kansas in the Tigers' Big 12 Conference home-opener Saturday night at the Hearnes Center.

Mizzou took its first lead on the second possession of the game, getting a 3-pointer from Tracy Lozier. Blair Hardiek gave the Tigers the lead on their next possession with another trey, and after a couple of Jayhawk baskets, All-America candidate Evan Unrau gave Mizzou the lead again with a layup off a nifty post dish from Stretch James.

The Jayhawks responded with a 9-4 run to take a 21-18 lead with 8 minutes, 12 seconds left in the first half. The Tigers committed five turnovers in that span, and finished the half with 12. Kandis Bonner's inbounds layup and foul pushed the Kansas lead to 25-19 with 5:32 left. Mizzou went without a basket for 9:02 until Christelle N'Garsanet drove for a layup with 1:40 left, yet the KU advantage was just six points. Kansas hit three free-throws in the final 25 seconds, though, and took a 32-24 lead into the locker room.

Unrau canned her first trey of the game with 13:55 to go, and less than two minutes later, EeTisha Riddle converted a 3-point play. Lozier stole the ball at mid-court, and sank a pair of free throws after being fouled the next time down. The 8-0 run closed the Tigers to within seven (42-35) with 10:32 to play.

Lozier hit her fifth 3-pointer with 7:04 left to trim the lead to six (48-42). Two plays later, Unrau followed with a second trey, and Carlynn Savant swished home another triple as the Tigers pulled within two at 50-48 with 3:55 left, and again at 52-50 with 2:09 to go on a pair of Unrau free throws.

The Tigers had the opportunity to tie the game in the final seconds, but Lozier's three-point attempt fell short. The miss was rebounded by Kansas' Aquanita Burras, and the horn soon sounded on Mizzou's comeback bid.

Lozier's 19 points paced the Missouri squad, and James' nine rebounds were good enough for the team lead. Unrau joined Lozier as the only Tigers in double figures with 15 points, while also dishing out four assists, which tied her for the team-high with Melanie Fisher. Riddle carded a career-high-tying six rebounds, to go along with three points.

Kemp led the Jayhawks with 20 points, and Burras tallied 10 points and 10 rebounds.

Nebraska 74, MU 69

Game #14 – Jan. 14, 2004 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA – For the second consecutive game, a late Tiger rally fell just short, as the Missouri women's basketball team dropped a 74-69 decision to Nebraska on Wednesday night at the Hearnes Center.

Down 18 with 10 minutes, 47 seconds to play, Mizzou battled to within one of the Cornhuskers in the final two minutes, but a game-tying 3-point attempt by Tracy Lozier was blocked.

The game was tight through most of the first half, with the biggest lead for either team being only five points. With 3:06 remaining in the half, however, Nebraska started a 16-4 run that spanned halftime and opened up a 45-30 Cornhusker lead with 17:03 left to play.

Evan Unrau made a 3-point play on the ensuing possession, and Stretch James sandwiched back-to-back layups around a pair of Margaret Richards free throws to bring the Tigers within 10 (47-37) with 14:42 left. The Huskers countered, however, with a 3-pointer from Keasha Cannon-Johnson and then a steal, layup, and 3-pointer on consecutive possessions by Kiery Hardy to boost the lead to 18.

Mizzou came right back, though, throwing a 13-4 run at Nebraska to trim the lead to single digits. James had three of the Tigers' six buckets in the stretch, which included a 3-point play by Carlynn Savant.

After Alexa Johnson hit a fastbreak layup to put the Huskers up 11 with 5:03 left, the Tigers reeled off a 12-2 run to pull within one with 1:53 to go. Lozier hit a 3-pointer – she now is just one shy of Julie Helm's Mizzou career record after canning her 122nd – Unrau and Savant followed with baskets. Following a pair of Margaret Richards free throws, Unrau had back-to-back baskets, the latter coming on a 3-point play.

Katie Morse and Kiera Hardy each hit a pair of free throws to make it 71-66 with 1:29 left. James hit a put-back, and Unrau made one of her two free throws with 29 seconds on the clock, making the score 71-69.

Nebraska converted three of four free throws in the final 30 seconds to ice the game.

James poured in 20 points to lead the Tigers in scoring, and her 10 rebounds tied her for the team high with Unrau, who also had a double-double with 15 points. Lozier finished with a dozen points and five assists, while Savant chipped in nine points and five rebounds in her first career start.

#15/15 Colorado 71, MU 54

Game #15 – Jan. 18, 2004 – Coors Events Center

BOULDER, Colo. – Tera Bjorklund had a game-high 21 points to lead Colorado to a 71-54 win over Mizzou in Big 12 Conference women's basketball action Sunday afternoon at the Coors Events Center.

Bjorklund hits three layups in an 8-0 start for the Buffaloes before Evan Unrau hit a jumper 2 minutes and 20 seconds into the contest. Colorado built a 13-5 lead off of nine points from Bjorklund in the first 4:23. On the strength of 3-pointers from Emily Waner, Kate Fagan and Anna Nedovic, the Buffs extend the lead to 24-14 with 11:26 left in the half.

Colorado suffered a setback when Bjorklund was injured while charging into Carlynn Savant with 10:20 left in the half and the Buffs up 24-16. The Tigers took advantage inside, getting a bucket from Stretch James before Lozier hit back-to-back 3-pointers to make it 29-22.

Mizzou went without a basket for nearly 4 minutes, though, and Colorado went on a quick 6-0 run to boost the lead to 38-27. Bjorklund re-entered the game with 11 seconds left before halftime, and despite missing a shot at the buzzer – just her second in seven first-half attempts – still led the Buffs into the locker room with a 41-30 lead.

The Tigers came out firing in the second half, getting a layup from Unrau on a cut to the basket, and a spin-move from James down low on their first two possessions. A Bjorklund free throw is all CU could muster in the first 4 minutes-plus of the second half, committing six turnovers in the first 5 minutes after the break, as MU pulled to within four (42-38) on free throws from Blair Hardiek.

After a short CU run, the Tigers got within seven at 49-42 with 11:16 left on a bucket underneath by Christelle N'Garsanet. Yet the Buffs countered with a knockout 15-3 run spanning 7:14, to take a 64-47 lead with 6:31 to go.

"A big part of the first half was when Bjorklund went out. We couldn't cut into the lead, and that hurt us," Head Coach Cindy Stein said. "In the second half, we couldn't get people to convert. We had some defensive miscues, and they got down on themselves."

In her final visit in her home state, Unrau led the Tigers with 15 points and 11 rebounds for her league-leading seventh double-double of the year. Lozier added 11 points and four assists for the Tigers, who have lost four straight.

MU 76, Kansas 49

Game #16 – Jan. 24, 2004 – Allen Fieldhouse

LAWRENCE, Kan. – Evan Unrau notched her league-leading eighth double-double, and MyEsha Perkins was just one off her career high to lead the Mizzou women's basketball team to a 76-49 win over archrival Kansas Saturday afternoon at Allen Fieldhouse.

The win, Mizzou's first in Big 12 play this year, split the season series between the two teams, marking the first time since 1989 that the teams did so by winning on each other's home court.

Unrau had an outstanding game, leading all players with 19 points and 14 rebounds for her third consecutive double-double, and Stretch James also posted a double-double with 13 points and 11 rebounds for her fourth double-double of the season. Tracy Lozier added 13 points and seven assists for the Tigers, who notched the largest margin of victory for either team since 1995.

In addition, Mizzou hit the offensive glass (21 rebounds) and held Kansas to 36.2 percent (21-of-58) from the field. The Tigers' 44.8-percent output (30-of-67) is the best in six games.

After Tamara Ransburg scored a quick bucket off the opening tip, Mizzou scored the next eight points with the help of 3-pointers from Unrau and Perkins. Melanie Fisher found James underneath after the Tigers moved the ball around the lane. An Unrau putback the next time down gave Mizzou a 14-4 advantage and 30 seconds of rest following a KU timeout.

Kansas closed the lead to within six (20-14) on a Ransburg jumper, yet the Tigers got quick back-to-back buckets from Unrau on a putback of her own miss, and Lozier stole the ensuing inbounds pass and fed Perkins for a layup to boost the margin back to 10 with 6:36 left in the half. As the half wound, she also down sliced through traffic for a runner as the halftime buzzer sounded to give Mizzou a 32-20 lead.

The Tigers started pounding the ball inside to start the second half, and James was the major beneficiary. She was sent to the line three times in the first 2:36 coming out of the locker room, and hit all six of her charity tosses as the Tigers kept the lead at 12 (39-27). She was fouled a fourth time the next trip down the court, and made a seventh straight free throw before finally missing a shot. James' tosses accounted for all of Mizzou's scoring in the second half until Fisher hit her only basket of the game with 14:56 remaining.

Perkins picked up the scoring slack in a big way down the stretch, scoring 10 of her 15 points in a two-minute span on five consecutive scoring possessions. From the 10:12 mark until 8:01 remained, Perkins had a personal 10-2 run over the Jayhawks to boost the lead to 21 (59-38) and essentially put the game away.

MU 77, #20/21 Oklahoma 65

Game #17 – Jan. 28, 2004 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA, Mo. – The Missouri women's basketball team set a school record by hitting all 21 of its free throws, and four players scored in double figures en route to a 77-65 victory over No. 20 (AP)/No. 21 (Coaches) Oklahoma Wednesday night at the Hearnes Center. It is Mizzou's first win over a ranked opponent since an 82-71 win over No. 10 Texas Tech on Jan. 9, 2002.

Stretch James led a quartet of Tiger seniors in double figures with 22 points, followed closely by Evan Unrau, who recorded her ninth double-double of the year and fourth straight with 21 points and 11 boards. MyEsha Perkins and Tracy Lozier both chipped in 14 points and grabbed three rebounds for Missouri.

Erin Higgins led the Sooners with 12 points, and three players shared team-high honors with four rebounds apiece.

The Tigers got off to a quick 4-0 lead off baskets from Perkins and James. After Oklahoma took its first lead on a Dionnah Jackson free throw, Mizzou took a 10-7 lead on a James jumper.

Beky Preston made the game's second tie at 10-all with a free throw with 12 minutes, 10 seconds to go before the Sooners got a second lead on a layup from Antoinette Wadworth. OU did not lead by more than three for the next seven minutes as the two teams would tie five more ties before a 3-pointer by Lozier gave Mizzou a 27-26 lead with 3:17 left in the half.

In all, the first half featured nine ties and six lead changes before a James layup with 28 seconds left in the half gave the Tigers a 33-31 advantage at the break. James had 12 points at the half, while Unrau had eight to go with six rebounds.

Mizzou was firing on all cylinders to start the second half, making each of their first 12 attempts – 10 field-goal attempts, including one 3-pointer, and two foul shots after the Oklahoma bench was assessed with a technical foul with 15:02 left and the score tied at 48. That came during a 10-0 run by the Tigers, including an 8-0 spurt in the 2:08 following the technical to take a 56-48 lead.

After the Sooners climbed to within two with 11 minutes left to play, Missouri closed the game on a 21-11 run, sparked by an Unrau 3-pointer at the 9:42 mark. Perkins added four points, and Unrau converted all eight of her free-throw attempts down the stretch to seal the victory for the Tigers. Missouri's previous best effort from the charity stripe came on Nov. 25, 2000, when the Tigers made all 14 attempts against Kentucky.

#11/10 Colorado 68, MU 66

Game #18 – Jan. 31, 2004 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA, Mo. – Despite having four players score in double figures, the Missouri women's basketball team dropped a 68-66 decision to No. 11/10 Colorado Saturday afternoon at the Hearnes Center.

Evan Unrau hit both ends of the free-throw double-bonus to tie the score at 66 with 19.7 seconds on the clock. CU used its final timeout with 11.7 left, and set up a pass down low for Bjorklund, who was fouled by Christelle N'Garsanet with 4.7 seconds left. Bjorklund hit both free throws to go up 68-66. Unrau's last-second 3-point attempt fell short as time expired.

Bjorklund's 19 points led all scorers, while Stretch James led Mizzou in scoring for the second consecutive game with 16 points. Tracy Lozier tallied 15 points to go along with her seven assists. Unrau had 13 points, a career-high seven assists and five rebounds, and MyEsha Perkins added 12 points.

The Tigers twice built up seven-point leads (at 15-8 and 19-12) in the first 10 minutes of the first half on the strength of solid 9-of-12 shooting. Colorado then went on a 14-2 run to take a 26-21 lead with 7:03 to go. It was capped by a 3-pointer by Emily Waner.

Yet Lozier cut that streak with a 3-pointer of her own, and started the Tigers on a 10-4 run to retake a 31-30 lead with 2:58 to go in the half. Perkins had five points in the final 2:10 to give the Tigers a 36-34 lead heading into the break. Lozier had 10 first-half points to go with four assists. CU center Tera Bjorklund had 12 points in the opening stanza.

The second half was a see-saw battle, with neither team opening a lead bigger than six points at any time. With just over 11 minutes remaining, James ran off a string of eight straight Missouri points, to bring the Tigers within one, 52-51.

Lozier gave the Tigers a 56-54 lead when she canned her third 3-pointer of the game with 7:07 left in the game. It was Mizzou's first lead since the 18:47 mark. Yet the Buffs countered with a 10-2 run started on a pair of Randy Wirt free throws that gave CU a 64-58 lead with 3:43 to go.

Mizzou countered with a 6-2 run of its own to pull within 2 of the Buffs at 66-64. Wirt fouled out with 19.7 seconds left to put Unrau on the line to set up the game's final moments.

#3/4 Texas 89, MU 55

Game #19 – Feb. 3, 2004 – Erwin Center

AUSTIN, Texas – Stacy Stephens led five Longhorns in double-figure scoring as No. 3-ranked Texas eased its way to an 89-55 win over Missouri Tuesday night at the Erwin Center.

Stephens was 10-of-11 from the floor in leading the Longhorns to their sixth straight win. Heather Schreiber added 19 for UT. For the second straight game, Stretch James displayed an extended shooting range on her way to a team-high 17 points for the Tigers, while Evan Unrau added 16 points and seven rebounds.

The Tigers hit a pair of 3-pointers in the first 3 minutes – one each by MyEsha Perkins and Unrau – to take an 8-2 lead.

Perkins immediately followed with a backdoor layup, then on the next possession banked a jumper off a fastbreak feed from Tracy Lozier for a 12-4 Tiger lead with 15:00 left to play in the half.

The Longhorns went to work around the basket in a big way the rest of the half, and quickly got back into the game with several layups and offensive rebounds. Stacy Stephens had UT's first four baskets on layups, and started the Horns on a 14-0 run over the next 3:16. Before all was said and done, Texas rolled to a 46-14 margin over the final 15 minutes of the half in posting a 50-26 halftime lead.

UT had a commanding 24-9 rebounding edge, including 10 on the offensive end in the first half. Stephens (14 points) and Heather Schreiber (12) each reached double figures in scoring by halftime.

Texas went on a 10-3 run to start the half, pushing the lead to 31 (60-29) with 16:34 left in the game. UT's largest lead came at 39 with 5:15 to go.

Christelle N'Garsanet, making her first career start in place of the injured Melanie Fisher, was limited to two points and a pair of rebounds.

MU 81, Iowa State 62

Game #20 – Feb. 7, 2004 – Hilton Coliseum

AMES, Iowa – MyEsha Perkins had a career night at Hilton Coliseum Saturday night to lead Missouri to a Big 12 season-high scoring output in an 81-62 win at Iowa State.

Perkins set career highs with 18 points and seven assists. She also had two rebounds. Evan Unrau led the Tigers with 19 points, while Stretch James added 18 points. Megan Roney, making her first start of the Big 12 season, chipped in seven points with a game- and career-high 10 rebounds.

The Tigers shot 54.4 percent from the field, Mizzou's best shooting night in two months, and also held Iowa State to just 33.3 percent from the field, including 19 percent (4-of-21) from 3-point range.

The Cyclones came out in a triangle-and-two defense, putting chasers on Unrau and Tracy Lozier. That left Perkins open on the perimeter to fire away, yet many of her baskets came on layups or other inside shots.

Roney hit a 15-foot jumper and a putback bank-shot on back-to-back possessions to push the Tiger advantage to 11-5 with 12:29 left. The Cyclones stormed back with a 9-0 run, capped by a short Lisa Kriener jumper.

With 8:21 left in the first half, Roney tallied the Tigers' 129th blocked shot of the season to set a new team single-season school record.

That seemed to spark the Tigers, who reeled off a 24-8 run to post a 35-22 lead with 2:46 left. Mizzou hit four 3-pointers in that span – one each by Unrau, two by Perkins and another by Lozier. The Tigers closed the half with three points from Roney in the final 1:07 to take a 40-27 lead into the locker room.

Iowa State made the first five points of the second half before James made a layup to boost the lead back to 42-32. The Tigers got 3-pointers from Unrau, Perkins and Lozier on consecutive field goals to increase the lead to 17 points (60-43) with 10:15 to go. The defense was stout as well, holding the Cyclones without a field goal for over 5 minutes, also getting a 5-second inbounds call and a shot-clock violation. In all, Iowa State was held to just one basket within the confines of its halfcourt offense for over 12 minutes.

#18/20 Baylor 83, MU 59

Game #21 – Feb. 11, 2004 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA, Mo. – Evan Unrau scored 14 points, and two other Tigers were in double figures, but the Missouri women's basketball dropped an 83-59 decision to the No. 18/20-ranked Baylor Bears.

MyEsha Perkins got the Tigers off on the right foot, getting a rebound and a layup on MU's first possession. Baylor forced five turnovers and made eight of its first 11 shots to take a 17-8 lead with 14 minutes, 20 seconds left in the first half.

LaToya Bond entered the game at that time to mark her first game action since Jan. 4. She finished the game with nine points, an assist and a steal in 13 minutes.

Mizzou found itself down by double digits less than 7 minutes into the contest, and trailed by as many as 16 in the opening frame. With less than a minute left in the half, Tracy Lozier took a feed from EeTisha Riddle and converted a layup, pulling the Tigers within 12 (40-28) at intermission.

The Tigers closed the margin to nine points on a 3-pointer from Megan Roney at the 19:15 mark of the second half – her first trey since Dec. 6 against Tulsa. That capped a 9-2 run spanning halftime, yet the Bears responded with a 9-4 run over the next 1:28 to push the lead back to 14 (51-37). Emily Niemann extended the margin back to 15 with a 3-pointer. The Tigers would again get that close, on a Perkins layup with 11:36 to go, yet a 17-6 Baylor run over the next 3:37 gave the Bears their largest lead of the game to that point at 20 (71-51).

Unrau led the Tigers with 14 points and six rebounds. Stretch James and Perkins were close behind with 12 and 11 points, respectively. Christelle N'Garsanet also pulled in six boards for Mizzou.

Baylor's Steffanie Blackmon led all scorers with 22 points while Sophia Young led both teams in rebounding with 13.

MU 71, Oklahoma State 46

Game #22 – Feb. 14, 2004 – Gallagher-Iba Arena

STILLWATER, Okla. – Evan Unrau led four Mizzou women in double-figure scoring as the Tigers beat Oklahoma State, 71-46, Saturday night in Stillwater.

Unrau led all players with 18 points and 13 rebounds for her Big 12-leading 10th double-double of the season, and fifth in conference play. MyEsha Perkins chipped in with 14 points, Stretch James added 11 points and eight rebounds, and Tracy Lozier contributed 10 points and six assists.

"This is a very tough place to play, and I'm really excited for our kids," Head Coach Cindy Stein said. "We came out with a lot of enthusiasm, and I was pleased with that. We got really complacent with that 20-point lead, and it's sometimes hard to teach them how to play with one. We kind of had to refocus and get things together."

Both teams played relatively equally through the first media timeout, resulting in a 4-4 tie with 15 minutes, 57 seconds to play in the first half. James put an end to that, though, knocking down her first career 3-pointer and then getting a layup on the ensuing possession to give Mizzou a 9-4 lead. Unrau then canned a trey of her own before James hit the first of two free throws to cap an 11-0 run over a span of 4:08.

Perkins stopped a quick Cowgirl spurt by making a steal, then driving coast-to-coast through traffic for a layup and a 15-8 lead. Moments later, Unrau made a pair of solid defensive plays on back-to-back OSU possessions by picking a Cowgirl guard and starting a fastbreak bucket; she then drew a charging foul next time down.

Mizzou held the Cowgirls to just one field goal for a span of over 11 minutes, yet OSU sank buckets on back-to-back possessions in the last 1:01. Unrau sliced through the lane for a layup with 19 seconds left, though, to give the Tigers a 32-20 lead at the break. OSU committed 14 turnovers in the opening 20 minutes, while Mizzou shot 46.4 percent from the field (13-of-28).

Missouri kept the defensive clamps on to start the second half, limiting Oklahoma State to just one field-goal for the first 8:33 of the final period. In that span, the Tigers opened the frame on a 14-3 run to post a 46-23 lead with 12:19 left to play.

OSU countered with a 14-5 run over the next 5:08, yet the Tigers came back with three fastbreak buckets over the next 53 seconds to push the lead back to 20 (57-37).

#9/9 Texas Tech 73, MU 68

Game #23 – Feb. 17, 2004 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA, Mo. – Despite trailing by as many as 14 points in the second half, the Missouri women's basketball team battled back to within one of No. 9/9 Texas Tech in the closing seconds Tuesday night at the Hearnes Center. An Erin Grant driving layup with 10 seconds left, though, provided for the winning margin in a 73-68 Lady Raider win.

Down nine with 4:08 left, Evan Unrau hit a 3-pointer, and Stretch James hit a pair of free throws with 3:03 to go. Following a Casey Jackson free throw, James hit a jumper and Unrau a pair of free throws with 1:25 remaining to pull the Tigers within one. Grant then drove the right side for her winning layup. With three seconds remaining and the Tigers in possession following a timeout down 71-68, the Tigers were called for an illegal screen, giving the ball back to Texas Tech. Alesha Robertson hit a pair of free throws with less than a second on the clock to seal the victory.

Unrau recorded her Big 12-leading 11th double-double, pouring in a game-high 17 points and grabbing 10 rebounds. James chipped in with 15 points and five blocks, and Bond dished out a team-leading five assists for Mizzou (13-10, 4-8 Big 12), which lost its third straight home game – all against ranked teams.

Both teams came out shooting hot – Mizzou from outside, and Texas Tech in the paint, where they scored 14 of their first 15 points in posting a 15-10 lead in the first 4 minutes, 11 seconds of the game. The Lady Raiders scored on their first eight possessions – and 12 of their first 13 – with the help of six offensive rebounds in the early going to build to a 26-16 lead with 12:16 left in the first.

Texas Tech center Cisti Greenwalt went out with an injury on a play in which Tracy Lozier scored on a layup to start another 8-2 Mizzou run. The Tigers got buckets in the paint from Unrau, Riddle and James to force the game's first tie scores (at 33 and 35) since the 16:49 mark. Yet the Lady Raiders closed with a pair of layups on the way to a 41-35 halftime lead.

The push at the end of the first half carried through the break, as Tech rolled off an 18-4 run over the next 8:40 to post a 53-39 lead. Yet N'Garsanet hit the first of two free throws, and after an offensive rebound Unrau nailed a 3-pointer to bring the deficit back to 10. Chesley Dabbs hit a pair of jumpers, yet down 14 with 11:56 left, the Tigers slowly started chipping away.

LaToya Bond and MyEsha Perkins each drove for easy layups, then James got five straight points over three possessions to pull Mizzou within seven (59-52) with 8:55 left.

#8/8 Kansas St. 93, MU 90 (2OT)

Game #24 – Feb. 22, 2004 – Hearnes Center

COLUMBIA, Mo. – Despite a career day from Evan Unrau, the Missouri women's basketball team dropped a double-overtime thriller to the No. 8/8 Kansas State Wildcats, 93-90, Sunday afternoon at the Hearnes Center.

Unrau had a career-high 40 points, grabbed a game-high 15 boards and dishing off four assists before fouling out with 1.9 seconds left – the only part of the 50-minute game that she didn't play – to a standing ovation. The scoring total is just one off Renee Kelly's 1986 school record, and ties the third-highest total in the eight-year history of the Big 12 Conference. Unrau's double-double is also her league-leading 12th of the season. MyEsha Perkins and Stretch James both added 14 points, and LaToya Bond chipped in 11. Kendra Wecker led Kansas State with 26 points, and Nicole Ohlde dropped in 23. Megan Mahoney led the Wildcats with nine rebounds after scoring 20.

Kansas State came roaring back with a 9-2, taking a 9-7 lead with just over 15 minutes left in the first half. The Tigers answered with a 13-6 run of their own over the next 3:43, capped off by an Unrau 3-pointer, to open up a 20-13 lead.

The teams traded baskets as the half wound down, and Unrau's 3-pointer with 53 seconds left gave the Tigers the 40-29 lead they would carry into halftime. The first half featured 13 lead changes and seven ties; the 12-point lead that Mizzou owned towards the end of the half was the largest in the first stanza.

With 4:34 left in the first half, Unrau sank a 15-foot jumper from the right baseline to become the eighth player in Missouri history to score 1,500 points in a career.

Mizzou built its largest lead at 15 (56-41) with 11:49 to go before Kansas State reeled off a 17-0 run over the next 7:00, capped off by a Laurie Koehn 3-pointer with 4:49 left. The lead changed hands five times over the final 4:49 of regulation, and ended with Unrau hitting a layup to tie the score at 67-67 with three seconds left.

The first overtime saw six lead changes, three ties – including at the end of the period – and neither team with more than a two-point lead. After Megan Mahoney scored in the paint to give the Wildcats the lead, Missouri went on an 8-4 run over the next 2:09 to grab a two-point advantage. Mahoney knocked down a jumper to tie the score at 79 apiece before Bond and Wecker traded jumpers to send the contest into a second OT.

At that point, Kansas State went on a 10-2 run before Unrau went on a personal 5-0 run to bring her team to within three, 89-86. Wecker sank four free throws down the stretch, however, and Bond's desperation 3-pointer from halfcourt bounced wide off the glass as the buzzer sounded.

MU 78, Oklahoma State 76

Game #25 – Feb. 25, 2004 – Devaney Center

LINCOLN, Neb. – EeTisha Riddle hit a pair of buckets in the final 87 seconds to lead the Missouri women to a 78-76 win at Nebraska Wednesday night.

Riddle finished with six points, while MyEsha Perkins tied her career high with 18 points to lead four Tigers in double figures. Stretch James added 16 points, nine rebounds and four assists, Evan Unrau had 12 points – all in the second half – and LaToya Bond added 11.

Nebraska went on a 14-2 run to post an 18-8 lead with 10:37 left in the first. Mizzou was still cold, shooting just 22 percent (4-of-18) in the early going, and Unrau sat on the bench in foul trouble for the last 13:38 of the first half after picking up a pair of fouls just 23 seconds apart. After pouring in a career-high 40 on Sunday vs. Kansas State, Unrau went 0-for-6 from the field in the six first-half minutes she played Wednesday night.

The Tigers made their next two buckets, in addition to a pair of free throws from James to pull within four (18-14) with 9:02 left. The Huskers slowly expanded the lead before scoring six points in the final 47.8 seconds to take a 42-32 lead into the locker room. NU took advantage of a 15-for-15 performance at the free-throw line in the opening 20 minutes, while the Tigers were just 6-for-6.

Nebraska hit six of its first nine shots to start the final period, while the Tigers made half of their six, as the Huskers increased their lead to 15 (55-40) with 15:49 to play. Unrau got her first point of the game on a free throw with 16:25 left, and got her first basket on a 3-point play with 13:47 to go to keep the deficit at 15. She'd add three more free throws as part of a 7-0 run, yet Nebraska still had a 13-point lead (65-52) with 10:38 to play, and kept that lead through the next media timeout with 6:54 left (70-57).

Coming out of that timeout, Megan Roney hit a left-handed baby hook, and Perkins nailed her second 3-pointer of the evening to tie her career high with 18 points. Roney then hit one of two free throws, and Tracy Lozier hit her first 3-pointer in five games to cap a 9-2 run (72-66) with 4:07 left.

Unrau then hit a 3-pointer to bring the game to within three and hit 1-of-2 free throws the next time down to pull within two. Following a Nebraska basket, Bond hit a layup before Riddle nailed an 18-footer to tie the score at 74 with 1:17 to play. Unrau then hit a left-handed 10-footer in the lane with 39 seconds left for the lead before Alexa Johnson hit a pair of free throws with 26.8 seconds left to tie the score. With both Unrau and James double-teamed on the Tigers' final possession, Bond found Riddle open underneath for a back-door layup with 10 seconds left for the winning basket. In all, MU had a 15-4 run in the final 3:58, and held Nebraska without a field goal for the final 8:37.
