SCOUTING THE RED RAIDERS

Texas Tech enters the week with an 8-3 overall record and is looking for its first Big 12 Conference win after dropping its first two league matches last week. Colorado knocked off the Red Raiders 3-1 on Wednesday before Kansas State picked up a three-game sweep of TTU on Saturday. Kelly Johnson leads Texas Tech with a 5.80 kills per game average and a .282 hitting percentage. She has 556 total attacks heading into Wednesday. The next highest on the Red Raiders is Angela Mooney with 289. Johnson also has a 2.95 digs per game average. Nancy Todd is in her first year as the Tech head coach taking over for Jeff Nelson. Last year TTU finished 14-15 on the year and 9-11 in the Big 12. The Tigers and Red Raiders split the season series in 2002, with each team winning on its home court.

THE MU-TTU SERIES

The Red Raiders hold an 11-4 lead in the all-time series with Mizzou. After Tech won the first 10 outings, Missouri has won four of the last five. Last season, Texas Tech picked up a 3-1 win in Lubbock before MU took a 3-0 win in the rematch in Columbia. All four of the Tigers' wins in the series have come in Columbia and MU Head Coach Susan Kreklow is 4-2 all-time against Tech.

A LOOK BACK

Missouri moved to 2-0 in the Big 12 Conference with a 3-0 (30-21, 30-25, 31-29) win over Oklahoma in front of 1,432 fans in the Hearn Center on Saturday. With the win, the Tigers have now won seven straight over the Sooners.

After winning the first two games of the match, Mizzou found itself trailing 25-22 in game three. However, MU went on a 9-4 run to close out the game and take the match victory.

Mary Lauren Smith led Mizzou with 12 kills, followed by Lisa Boyd with 11 and Lindsey Noll with nine. Nicole Wilson had career-high .857 hitting percentage, while Noll recorded a .643 mark. As a team, Missouri hit .377 and held OU to a .273 percentage.

Mizzou moved to 9-2 with the win and 2-0 in the Big 12 Conference, while Oklahoma fell to 8-7 overall and 0-1 in the Big 12.

Earlier in the week, MU picked up its first conference win with a 3-1 victory over Baylor in Waco, Texas. After dominating in the first two games of the match, the Tigers dropped the third game to Baylor then won the fourth and final game by a score of 33-31.

Shen Danru and Mary Lauren Smith led Mizzou with 21 kills each. Danru added 17 digs for her fourth double-double of the season.

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION

Freshman Jessica Vander Kooi has made an immediate impact for Mizzou. She made her first collegiate appearance in the season opener and has started every match for MU this year. In the Tiger Invitational, Vander Kooi averaged 2.30 kills per game and hit .340 in the three matches. She also averaged 2.30 digs per game. In the Tigers' first match at the Utah Classic, Vander Kooi led MU in aces (5), digs (10) and blocks (4). Two other freshman, Nicole Wilson and Abbie Booth, have seen their first playing time at Mizzou this season. Wilson is averaging 2.22 kills per game and is hitting .363. Against Oklahoma, she recorded a team-high and career-high .857 hitting percentage with six kills on seven attempts.

PULLING RANK

After spending nearly a year in the Top 25, Missouri has been out of the poll for the past two weeks.

The Tigers received 50 votes this week and are three spots out of the rankings.

Mizzou opened the year at No. 21 and had climbed to as high as No. 18 four weeks ago.

Three Big 12 teams are ranked with Nebraska at No. 7, Kansas State at No. 9 and Texas A&M at No. 25.

The Tigers have received votes in each of the Volleyball Magazine polls this year, but has yet to make it into the Top 20.

SHEN-ANIGANS

Shen Danru has picked up where she left off last season. Danru was named to the All-Tournament team in all three of Missouri's fall tournaments to open the year. She leads the Tigers in kills per game (3.97), digs per game (3.56) and aces per game (0.78). Danru also leads the Tigers with four double-doubles on the year. It did not take long for Danru to make an impact for the Tigers last year as she led the team in kills, attacks, aces, aces per game, digs and digs per game. She set a new Missouri record with 64 service aces on the year, breaking the old record of 61. She also led Mizzou in double-doubles with 20 on the season. Danru set a career high in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, by recording 23 kills in MU's win over Northwestern. She matched that career high in MU's second round matchup against Northern Iowa. Danru was an All-Big 12 Conference honorable mention selection.

ACES WILD

Missouri tied a Utah Classic tournament record on Sept. 5 by recording 12 service aces, while holding Utah Valley State to just one. Jessica Vander Kooi led Mizzou with five aces in the match. The Tigers tied a school record for aces in a three-game match with 17 in their season-opening match against Montana State. Lindsey Hunter led Mizzou with seven, followed by Shen Danru with six. Hunter and Danru each set career highs with their performances. Montana State, on the other hand, did not record a single ace in the match. MU leads the Big 12 Conference in aces with an average of 2.81 per game, nearly one ace ahead of second place Nebraska. Danru and Hunter are at the top of the Big 12 with 0.78 and 0.69 aces per game averages, respectively.

CHART CLIMBERS

Several Mizzou volleyball career records were broken last season and more records could fall this year. Lindsey Hunter is fourth on the all-time career assists charts after just one season with the Tigers. Her 1,690 assists last year is the best season mark in Tiger history. Hunter also holds the career record for assists per game with a 14.01 average. Shen Danru is the current record holder in career kills per game average with a 3.91 mark and Mary Lauren Smith is fifth in that category with a 3.15 average.

RECORD SETTER

Lindsey Hunter became the single season record holder for assists at Mizzou last season by recording 1,690 as a freshman. Hunter led the Big 12 Conference and was second in the nation with a 14.08 assists per game average. She was an honorable mention selection to both the All-Central Region team and the All-Big 12 Conference team. Hunter had at least 25 assists in every match in which she started. She recorded a then-career-high 64 assists against Northwestern in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, but topped that mark with 69 assists against Northern Iowa in round two. She was second on the team in double-doubles last year and averaged 2.18 digs per game. Hunter was named to the All-Tournament team in the first two of the tournaments this season. In the season opening Quality Inn Tiger Invitational, she was named the tournament MVP after averaging 13.00 assists per game. She then averaged 11.56 assists per game at the Utah Classic to earn an All-Tournament spot.

A BIT ABOUT BOYD

Lisa Boyd had started every match for Mizzou this season and leads the Tigers with a .333 hitting percentage. She hit at least .330 in five of Missouri's first six matches this year. She had a season and career-high .667 mark against Toledo in the Tiger Invitational. Boyd hit .375 in the three matches at the Utah Classic and has a career-high 12 kills to lead the team against Utah Valley State. She had 10 kills and a .429 hitting percentage against Utah in the final match of the tournament. For the season, Boyd has a 2.36 kills per game average. She missed much of last season with injuries, playing in just 18 matches. Boyd had 11 kills and hit .421 against Oklahoma last Saturday.

THE KREK-LOW DOWN

Missouri Head Coach Susan Kreklow is the winningest active coach among Division I women's volleyball coaches. Her winning percentage of .810 is the best among active coaches with at least five years of coaching experience. Kreklow is also second in total wins among active coaches with 534 in her career. These numbers reflect her records as the head coach of the Missouri and Columbia College women's volleyball teams. She also coached the Columbia College men's team for three seasons. When those are added in, she has a combined record of 588-138.

SMITH GOES CAMPING

As part of her summer vacation, Mary Lauren Smith took part in the USA Volleyball A2 Training Camp in Lake Placid, N.Y. Smith was one of just 24 athletes chosen to take part in the program and she is the first Tiger player to ever be selected for the training session. Smith was an All-Big 12 Honorable Mention selection last season, finishing with a 3.80 kills per game average. She had five matches in which she recorded at least 20 kills, including each of Missouri's postseason matches. Against Northwestern in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, she had a career-high 28 kills and hit .358 to lead the Tigers to victory. She followed that with a 22-kill match against Northern Iowa in round two. Smith was named the AVCA/Sports Imports National Player of the Week on Sept.30, 2002 after recording back-to-back 20-kill matches against ranked opponents. She was also featured in the "Faces in the Crowd" section of the Oct. 21 issue of Sports Illustrated. She was also an All-Big 12 Honorable Mention selection.

CROWD PLEASERS

Missouri's average of 924 fans per match this year is the 22nd best average in the nation. Last year MU averaged 1,398 fans per match, which was the 16th best in the nation. Mizzou set a new attendance record on Oct. 26, 2002 as 2,155 fans saw the Tigers' 3-2 win over Texas. A week prior to that match, 2,083 fans attended MU's win over Kansas. The record crowd of the Texas match was nearly broken on Nov. 27 against Nebraska when 2,122 fans were in attendance. Since Susan and Wayne Kreklow arrived at Missouri in 2000, attendance at MU matches has grown rapidly. All of the top-10 crowds at Missouri have taken place in the three seasons the Kreklows have been at MU.
