TIGERS LOOK FOR BOUNCE BACK EFFORT AT UPSTART KANSAS STATE

The Missouri Tigers (5-4 overall, 1-4 in Big 12 Conference play) are looking to play the role of spoiler this Saturday when they invade Manhattan, Kan., where they'll take on the North Division-leading Kansas State Wildcats (6-4, 4-2). Kickoff for the game, which is being televised live on the Versus Network, has been set for 11:32 a.m. (central time).

The Tigers are coming off a tough home defeat to Baylor, that saw Mizzou bolt to a seemingly comfortable 27-16 halftime lead, only to see the Bears surge ahead in the second half with a strong offensive showing that MU couldn't match. In the end, Baylor outscored Mizzou 24-5 after intermission to deny the Tigers a chance at gaining some momentum following its solid 37-16 win at Colorado the previous week.

Kansas State, after beginning the year a little shaky, including a tight home win over FCS Massachusetts (W, 21-17 on Sept. 5th), followed by consecutive road defeats at Louisiana-Lafayette (17-15) and UCLA (23-9), have done a nice job of righting the ship. Since that 1-2 start, they've won 4-of-6 games, and are coming off a 17-10 home win over in-state rival Kansas last Saturday.

The Wildcats will take the field this Saturday looking to gain bowl eligibility — with 2 wins over FCS schools, a school needs 5 wins over FBS competition to be eligible for a bowl. They will also be looking to stay ahead of the pack for the North Division race. Kansas State holds a half-game lead over 2nd-place Nebraska (3-2 in league play, 6-3 overall) heading into Saturday's games.

PROLIFIC PASSING PERFORMANCE HIGHLIGHTS BAYLOR GAME

The end result of last Saturday's game against Baylor was most definitely a downer for Tiger faithful, as the Bears came to Faurot Field and left with a 40-32 win. But a huge passing display by sophomore QB Blaine Gabbert and receivers Danario Alexander and Jared Perry was impressive, even if it came in a losing effort.

Gabbert threw for 468 yards and 2 TDs on the day, with the yardage total ranking as second-highest in MU single-game history — just 12 yards off the MU record of 480 set in 1992 at Oklahoma State by Jeff Handy. Gabbert's main accomplice was Alexander, who torched the Baylor defense for a career-high 13 catches for 214 yards, including a career-long 84-yard TD that helped stake Mizzou to a 27-16 halftime lead. Gabbert was 21-of-27 in the 1st half for 322 yards, and ended 30-of-51.

Alexander's yardage total was the 4th-highest in MU single-game history, and it marked only the 5th 200-yard receiving game in Mizzou annals (the yardage record is 236, set twice by Justin Gage).

When Baylor was able to keep the ball out of Alexander's hands, Perry was the benefactor, as he got free for 7 catches for 145 yards of his own.

The 359 combined yards by the Alexander-Perry combo ranks as the most for a 1-2 duo in MU single-game history. That eclipsed the former mark of 314 yards set in 1992 (in the same Oklahoma State game where Jeff Handy set the single-game passing yardage mark) by Kenny Holly (15-158, 1 TD) and Victor Bailey (11-156).

TIGERS ON CUSP OF BOWL ELIGIBILITY

There was a time, not that long ago, when simply meeting bowl eligibility would have been cause for a big celebration at Mizzou. While a win Saturday would improve the Tigers to 6-4 and make them bowl eligible, the two-time defending Big 12 North champs are certainly striving for much more than just six wins this season.

Even so, a 6th win would be a watershed achievement for Mizzou, in that it would make MU eligible to play in a bowl for the 5th straight season, which would be a record streak for the school. MU's current string of 4 consecutive bowl seasons (2005 Independence, 2006 Sun, 2008 Cotton, 2008 Alamo) is tied for the school mark, with

MIZZOU FOOTBALL GAME NOTES

Tiger teams from 1978-81, who played in 4 straight bowls under Warren Powers (1978 Liberty, 1979 Hall of Fame, 1980 Liberty and 1981 Tangerine).

Of course, getting six wins is not a guarantee of reaching a bowl game, and with none of the Big 12 teams having yet been eliminated from bowl eligibility coming into this weekend, we would suggest that it would be wise to rack up more than six when it's all said and done.

MIZZOU-KANSAS STATE SERIES HISTORY

Mizzou and Kansas State will square off for the 95th time when they meet Saturday in Manhattan, with MU holding a 58-31-5 lead overall in the prior 94 meetings.

The 58 wins is tied for the most by MU over any opponent, along with the 58 wins the Tigers hold alltime over fellow Big 12 North rival Iowa State (58-34-9 overall, with a Nov. 21st game to come vs. the Cyclones in Columbia next week).

Mizzou has won 3 straight over K-State, including a 41-24 victory in Columbia last season. While Missouri holds the historical edge in the series, the Tigers are still trying to play catch up from a recent period of domination by Kansas State. While the Tigers have won the last three times out, K-State holds a 10-3 lead in the series since the Big 12 began play in 1996.

Mizzou's 41-21 win in Columbia in 2006 was a watershed moment, as it broke a 13-game losing streak to Kansas State that dated from 1993-2005. The Tigers' win in Manhattan in 2007 (W, 49-32) was historic as well, as it was MU's first there since 1989 — the first season for KSU coaching legend Bill Snyder.

Prior to K-State's 13-year stranglehold on the series, Mizzou had dominated the rivalry, holding a 55-18-5 advantage in the series ledger after claiming a 27-14 win in Columbia in 1992.

Mizzou holds a 29-14-2 lead in games played in Manhattan, and also claims an 11-9-1 lead overall in games played in KSU Stadium, which is now officially named Snyder Family Stadium.

The Tigers will be going for their fourth straight win over the Wildcats, and if they achieve that Saturday, it will mark the first time since 1987-90 that the Tigers won three straight over Kansas State. That was on the tail end of a five-game MU win streak from 1986-90.

LAST YEAR REWIND: #13 MIZZOU 41, KANSAS STATE 24

COLUMBIA, Mo. - Jeremy Maclin scored three touchdowns and totaled 278 all-purpose yards, helping No. 13 Missouri shake off a slow start in its home finale and whip Kansas State 41-24 to grab first place in the Big 12 North.

Missouri (8-2, 4-2 Big 12) took control with 17 points in the final 5:46 of the first half, including a pair of touchdown passes from Chase Daniel to Maclin. Maclin had eight receptions for 118 yards and two TDs, four carries for 84 yards and a third TD on a 56-yard jaunt on a direct snap.

Kansas State (4-6, 1-5) has lost five of six, the latest setback coming only three days after Head Coach Ron Prince was fired effective at the end of the season.

Maclin was a thorn in the side of a K-State defense that was burned by Maclin as a freshman in 2007 for three touchdowns and a school-record 360 yards total offense in Manhattan, Kan. Maclin entered the 2008 game averaging 189.67 all-purpose yards, second in the nation.

The Tigers got a strong effort from their lightly-regarded defense to beat Kansas State for the third straight time after losing 13 in a row to the Wildcats.

Kansas State scored twice - Brandon Banks' 93-yard run and a 3-yard touchdown pass from Carson Coffman to Banks - in the final 1:11 to make the final score much closer.

It was an emotional senior day for the Tigers. The father of linebacker Aaron O'Neal, who died after a voluntary summer workout in 2005 and never played for Missouri, led a procession of 23 seniors who combined for 35 wins over four seasons in a pre-game ceremony.

The win moved Missouri to 11-2 against the North the last three seasons and can clinch its second straight

Big 12 championship game berth next week with a victory at Iowa State combined with a Kansas loss at home against No. 5 Texas.

Missouri tight end Chase Coffman, averaging 10 catches the last four games, missed the game with a sprained big toe. The offense seemed out-of-sync early without Daniel's most consistent pass-catcher, running only seven plays on its first two possessions.

Blair Irvin's interception ended Missouri's first possession after only two plays, and the second drive netted one first down.

Two big plays from Maclin helped the Tigers open things up. He won a foot race on a simple swing pass on a 42-yard score, one play after Will Ebner's blocked punt, and caught a 16-yard touchdown pass on one leg in the back of the end zone.

Kansas State trailed 24-3 at the half and barely avoided getting shut out in the first 30 minutes for the second straight game, getting a 43-yard field goal from Brooks Rossman on the final play.

TIGER RUSH DEFENSE HAS HAD SUCCESS, WILL BE CHALLENGED VS K-STATE

Even despite the fact that Mizzou is coming off a tough overall defensive day in last Saturday's 40-32 home loss to Baylor, the Tiger defense was still very good defending against the run. Baylor gained only 38 net yards on 28 attempts, good for just 1.4 yards per carry on the day. Of course, in NCAA football, QB sack yardage counts against running totals, and MU's 3 sacks for 29 yards factored into that, but even if you back the sack yardage out, Baylor netted just 67 yards on 25 carries, which is still only 2.6 yards per carry.

That marked the second-straight impressive outing against the run for Mizzou's defense, as it followed a game at Colorado where the Tigers held CU to minus-14 yards on the ground (the lowest single-game total for an MU opponent since 1972).

Mizzou will certainly be challenged by Kansas State's potent running attack which comes into Saturday's game in Manhattan ranked 2nd in the Big 12 Conference, and 23rd nationally, averaging 190.70 yards per game. Oklahoma State currently leads the Big 12 in rushing (196.00 avg.), and earlier this year the Tigers held the Cowboys to 124 yards on the ground, or 72 below their current Big 12-leading average.

MIZZOU FOOTBALL GAME NOTES

Here's a recap of Mizzou's rush defense log for the 2009 season. The numbers below show that only one opponent so far has exceeded their current per-game rushing average (through games of Nov. 7th) against Mizzou in 2009, and that includes holding the nation's top-rushing team, Nevada, to 123 yards below their average...

SPOON CONTINUING ALL-AMERICAN PLAY FOR TIGER DEFENSE

The undisputed face, voice and leader of the 2009 Tigers is senior LB Sean Weatherspoon. "Spoon" came to Mizzou as a mostly-unheralded two-star recruit out of Jasper, Texas, and he's looking to leave as an All-American.

Recently, he was one of 10 standouts named as a semifinalist for the 2009 Lombardi Award. He had 11 tackles last week against Baylor, and now has 34 stops in his last 3 games overall.

He was the ringleader at Colorado, as he notched a game-high 12 tackles, including 1 TFL in Mizzou's 33-17 win at Colorado, where the Tiger defense allowed just 176 yards of offense, including minus-14 yards rushing overall. He was named the Lott Trophy national player of the week for his efforts at CU.

Through 9 games, Spoon ranks 2nd in the Big 12 (29th nationally) with his 9.33 tackles per game average (84 total). He's 7th in the Big 12 (30th nationally) in tackles for loss, at 1.28 per game.

He also had a big night against #3 Texas, when he led the Tigers with 11 tackles, including 3.0 tackles for loss and 1.0 QB sack of UT's Colt McCoy. Spoon also grabbed a 3rd-quarter interception of McCoy to mark his first INT of 2009.

He now has 386 tackles for his career (he's only in his 3rd year as a starter on defense), which ranks him 4th in Mizzou history. He needs only 5 more tackles to crack the top three, and he's 48 tackles away from the MU career record of 434 tackles, set by James Kinney from 2001-04. With 3 games guaranteed remaining, he'd have to average 16.0 tackles per game to reach that mark. If the Tigers reach a bowl game this season, that goes down to 12.0 per game for him to become MU's alltime leading tackler.

Weatherspoon turned in a game-high 14 tackles in Mizzou's comeback win against Bowling Green. He made four stops in the decisive 4th quarter that saw Mizzou outscore the Falcons, 14-0. Perhaps his biggest play was on a 3rd-and-9 early in the 4th quarter, when he stopped a pass play for a loss of two yards to force a BGSU punt. On the ensuing possession, the Tiger offense drove for a game-tying score...

He got his senior campaign off to a promising start as he registered a team-best 9 tackles in MU's 37-9 dismantling of favored Illinois. Spoon added a QB sack of the Illini's Juice Williams, and threw in 1 QB hurry too.

Weatherspoon led the Big 12 in 2008 with a career-best 155 tackles, which ranked him 5th in all of the NCAA last year. He closed his junior season in fine fashion as he tallied 17 tackles in helping lead MU to a comeback 30-23 overtime win against Northwestern in the 2008 Alamo Bowl, winning Defensive MVP honors in the process.

Here's a quick game-by-game rundown of his production in 2009...

- — vs. Illinois — 9 tack., 1 TFL, 1 QB sack, 1 QBH
- — vs. BGSU — 14 tack., 1 TFL,
- — vs. Furman — 6 tack., 1 forced fumble, 1 PBU

ALEXANDER THE GREAT CONTINUES STORYBOOK SEASON

One of the great stories happening in Big 12 football right now is the outstanding play of senior WR Danario Alexander, who has overcome four surgeries during his last two years as a Tiger, only to emerge this season as one of the most productive receivers in the nation, and he should be in prime contention for All-Big 12 honors, as well as potential All-American honors, as well.

The Marlin, Texas native enters Saturday's game against Kansas State with a team-best 71 receptions for 1,038 yards and 8 TDs. He's already surpassed his previous season highs, which came back in 2007 when he had 417 yards on 37 catches in 10 games.

He's coming off another All-American type day against Baylor, when he set career highs with 13 receptions and 214 yards (including a TD that he took a career-long 84 yards for a score). His yardage total was the 4th-highest in MU single-game history, and only 22 yards off the record of 236 set twice by Justin Gage.

That was Alexander's 5th 100-yard outing of the year. Alexander enters the Kansas State game ranked 2nd in the Big 12 and 5th in the NCAA in receiving yards per game (115.33 avg.), and he's also 3rd in the Big 12 and 5th nationally in receptions per game (7.89 avg.).

NCAA RECEIVING YARDAGE LEADERS (Thru Nov. 7th)

1.	Freddie Barnes, Bowling Green	130.67 ypg
2.	Greg Salas, Hawaii	129.33
3.	Golden Tate, Notre Dame	117.67
4.	Jordan Shipley, Texas	116.67
5.	Danario Alexander, Mizzou	115.33

NCAA RECEPTIONS LEADERS (Thru Nov. 7th)

1.	Freddie Barnes, Bowling Green	11.89 rpg
2.	Jordan Shipley, Texas	8.33
3.	James Cleveland, Houston	8.22
4.	Kerry Meier, Kansas	8.11
5.	Danario Alexander, Mizzou	7.89

Alexander's performance vs. Baylor upped his totals to 149 career catches for 2,035 yards and 16 TDs. He currently ranks 7th on both the MU career receptions and receiving yardage chart, and his 16 career TDs puts him 5th alltime at MU. His current season total of 1,038 yards is already 5th-best in MU single-season history, and he stands just 222 yards shy of the record of 1,260 yards set just last year by All-American Jeremy Maclin.

His monster game against Baylor (he grew up in Marlin, Texas, just 20-some miles away from Waco, Texas) marked his 2nd-consecutive 100-yard outing. Previously at Colorado, he caught 8 passes for 123 yards and 2 TDs, including a scintillating 73-yard score that was a beautifully-executed catch-and-run number that he took the distance.

Four times this year, he's already established a new career best for receiving yardage. One of those was at Oklahoma State, where he caught 9 passes for 180 yards and 1 TD. The TD was a beautiful catch-and-run where he broke a couple of tackles and fought off a facemask penalty to will his way into the endzone from 48 yards out. He also had a 50-yard catch against the Cowboys, to go with another one for 34 yards.

On Sept. 25th at Nevada, Alexander won the Big 12 co-Offensive Player of the Week for his 9-catch, 170-yard, 2-TD game in MU's 31-21 win in Reno. Alexander's scores came from 31 and 74 yards out, and he also had a huge 3rd-down conversion grab on 3rd-and-8 from the MU 5-yardline in the 4th quarter that helped spur what ended up a 97-yard TD drive that essentially iced the game for Mizzou.

Alexander became the first Tiger receiver to win conference offensive POW honors since Victor Bailey won the award in 1992 for his performance against Nebraska — back in the days of the old Big Eight Conference.

Prior to Nevada, he caught 3 passes for 46 yards and he became the first Tiger to throw for a TD and catch a TD pass in the same game since the 2006 Brut Sun Bowl when he did so against Furman. On the TD pass, Alexander combined with fellow WR Jared Perry as Alexander took a lateral toss from QB Blaine Gabbert, and after selling a bubble screen, he pulled up and lofted a pass downfield to a wide-open Perry for a 40-yard TD that was MU's first score of the game. Later in the 2nd quarter, Alexander caught a pair of TD passes (13 yards and 17 yards), with the latter coming with just :11 seconds remaining in the half.

He had a 7-catch, 56-yard outing against Bowling Green, and his 22-yard catch-and-run late in the 4th-quarter that went down to the 1-yardline set up the game-winning TD that Derrick Washington scored with 5:38 to play.

Alexander opened his final season at MU in style, as he turned in career highs of 10 receptions for 132 yards against Illinois. Time and again he was QB Blaine Gabbert's go-to guy, as 6 of his 10 catches came on 3rd or 4th down, with 4 of them extending the chains. A fifth, which didn't gain a first down, was just as crucial as any of them, as he had a 16-yard catch on the sideline on a 3rd-and-27 from the Illinois 30-yardline on MU's opening drive of the game. That catch was essentially worth three points, as it put the Tigers within field goal range, and after Grant

Ressel made the ensuing 32-yard field goal, the Tigers were off and running with a 3-0 lead.

His performances have been good to see for such a great kid who has battled through various injuries over the past two seasons. It's easy to forget that Alexander beat out Jeremy Maclin for the starting job at one receiver spot prior to 2007 — a pretty good indicator of his talent. But Alexander broke his wrist in the 2007 season opener, and that kept him out of action for three games. He returned to catch a TD pass in game 5 against Nebraska, and closed the regular season with an 8-catch, 117-yard, 1-TD performance in 4th-ranked MU's historic 36-28 win over arch rival and 2nd-ranked Kansas that led to MU taking over the #1 ranking the next week in the A.P. and BCS polls.

But Alexander saw his season come to an end the next week in the Big 12 Championship Game against Oklahoma as he tore knee ligaments while being tackled on an end around. He had surgery to repair the damage, and was making good progress until his ligament graft came undone during the spring of 2008, which forced him to undergo surgery again. He worked hard to return in 2008, and he did so admirably after missing only the first two games, but he clearly wasn't 100% for the season. His numbers dropped from 37 catches for 417 yards and 2 TDs in 2007 in 10 games to 26 catches for 329 yards in 12 games in 2008. He did up his TD total last year to 5, but he had a third surgery on his knee in the off-season to clean things up another time.

Alexander's perseverance to overcome his challenges was recognized in the off-season by his teammates, as they voted him one of four team captains for the 2009 season.

Here's a look at his game-by-game production:

- — vs. Illinois — 10-132, 0 TDs, long of 31 yds.
- — vs. BGSU — 7-56, 0 TDs, long of 22 yds.
- — vs. Furman — 3-46, 2 TDs, long of 17

- — vs. Nebraska — 6-43, 0 TDs, long of 11 yds.
- — at OSU — 9-180, 1 TD, long of 50 yds.
- — vs. Texas — 6-74, 0 TDs, long of 24 yds.
- — at Colorado — 8-123, 2 TDs, long of 73 yds.
- — vs. Baylor — 11-214, 1 TD, long of 84 yds.

ALDON SMITH MAKING CASE FOR ALL-BIG 12, FRESHMAN ALL-AMERICAN

Perhaps Tiger coaches should just look for defensive linemen with the last name of Smith when they're out on the recruiting trails. After all, the top two QB sack masters in Mizzou history are Brian Smith (31.5 sacks from 2003-06) and Justin Smith (22.5 sacks from 1998-2000).

Now, it's turn for the next Smith to take his turn, and redshirt freshman Aldon Smith (no relation to Brian or Justin) is turning some heads in his first season of play. Heading into the Kansas State contest, Smith ranks 7th in the NCAA in tackles for loss (1.67 avg.) and 8th in QB sacks (1.00 avg.). In the Big 12, he ranks 2nd in tackles for loss and is 4th in the Big 12 in QB sacks. He's got season totals of 15.0 tackles for loss and 9.0 QB sacks, and he's coming off a 5-tackle outing against Baylor where he recorded a pair of TFLs (13 yards in losses) and one more QB sack.

He is fast approaching the single-season QB sack record for Mizzou of 11.0, set by All-American DE Justin Smith in 2000.

Smith had a monster game on Halloween day at Colorado, where he racked up 3.0 QB sacks (27 yards) and 4.0 tackles for loss (35 yards), on his 5-tackle day that included a pass break up.

- — Smith is the top freshman in the NCAA in QB sacks, with his per-game average of 1.00. The next-best freshman currently on the national sacks list is USC's Nick Perry, who ranks 23rd in the NCAA overall, with a per-game average of 0.78. There's not another freshman in the top-60 nationally other than those two...

- — Smith is by far the top freshman in the NCAA in TFLs, with his per-game average of 1.67 (15.0 TFLs in 9 games). He is the ONLY freshman in the nation who ranks among the top-100 in this category, entering the Kansas State game...

Prior to Colorado, Smith had a big game against #3 Texas, where he amassed a career-best 11 tackles (all of the solo variety). Included in that 11-tackle night were a pair of QB sacks against Texas' 2008 Heisman Trophy runner-up Colt McCoy. Smith turned in 4.0 tackles for loss in all on the night for 11 yards in total losses.

The Raytown, Mo. native enters the Kansas State game 4th on the team with 48 tackles, and he leads the Tigers with his TFL (15.0) and QB sack (9.0) totals, as well as having a team-best 5 pass break ups.

Smith had a big QB sack at Nevada that went for a loss of 13 yards on 3rd down that forced a Wolf Pack punt. He also was credited with forcing a fumble inside the MU 5-yardline early in the 4th quarter that was recovered by the Tigers, and that preceded a game-clinching 97-yard TD drive by the offense. Smith ended the night with 7 tackles in Reno.

Smith had a 5-tackle performance against Bowling Green that included one huge 4th-quarter sack of 18 yards that came with around 9 minutes left in the game, with MU trailing 20-13 at the time. His sack was on 3rd down, and forced a BGSU punt that MU took and drove for the game-tying TD.

Smith started against Bowling Green, after he was very impressive in his collegiate debut against Illinois, when he registered 6 tackles, including 3 tackles for loss and 1 QB sack of the Illini's Juice Williams.

THE GRADUATE(S)

• After the 2008 senior class had 100% graduation rate (all 24 Tigers earned their degrees), the current Mizzou senior class is doing outstandingly well in regards to its graduation timetable, as well. Consider the following facts:

Three current Tigers have already earned their degrees:

- Jon Gissinger (August, 2009)
- Kurtis Gregory (May, 2008)
- Tanner Mills (August, 2009)

Five Tigers are scheduled to graduate in December:

- Danario Alexander
- Jake Harry
- Andy Maples
- Hardy Ricks
- Sean Weatherspoon

The final seven seniors will graduate in May:

- Jaron Baston
- Brian Coulter
- Levi Hamilton
- Del Howard
- Jared Perry
- Ryan Schleusner
- Shawn Scott

GREGORY FINALIST FOR LOWE'S SENIOR AWARD; LEADS FAN VOTING

Veteran RG Kurtis Gregory is not only one of the top offensive linemen around, he's also an outstanding example of a student-athlete. Gregory, who was a 2nd-Team All-Big 12 performer a year ago on the gridiron, has also excelled in the classroom, as he earned his undergraduate degree in agriculture in May of 2008 — meaning he's in his 2nd season already of playing as a graduate student.

Last week, Gregory was named an ESPN The Magazine 1st-Team Academic All-District winner, and now is on the national ballot for contention to become a 1st-Team Academic All-American.

The Blackburn, Mo. native (population of 270 in July, 2008) grew up on his family's farm and intends to make his living off the land when his playing days are done. He often takes teammates back to the farm during down time to show them what a day of farm life is like — and most of the time his teammates come back appreciating football practice more and more!

In October, Gregory was named one of 10 finalists for the 2009 Lowe's Senior CLASS Award, which honors the nation's top student-athletes in the categories of classroom, character, community and competition.

Nationwide balloting is underway to determine the winner. Lowe's, an official Corporate Partner of the NCAA, will announce the Senior CLASS Award™ winner in early January.

The 2009 finalists are: Zane Beadles, University of Utah; Richie Brockel, Boise State University; Eric Decker, University of Minnesota; Kurtis Gregory, University of Missouri; Jerry Hughes, TCU; Dan LeFevour, Central Michigan University; Colt McCoy, University of Texas; Zoltan Mesko, University of Michigan; Darrell Stuckey, University of Kansas; and Tim Tebow, University of Florida.

Fan balloting is available on the award's official Web site, <http://www.seniorCLASSaward.com>, as well as through text messaging. Fans can text F4 to 74567 to vote for Gregory.

As of Nov. 8th, Gregory stood 1st in the fan voting, which comprises 1/3rd of the voting total, with the remainder coming from Division I coaches and national media voters. Here's a look at the top-three in the voting, as of Sunday...

LOWE'S SENIOR CLASS AWARD FAN VOTING (As of Nov. 8th)

1. Kurtis Gregory, Mizzou 25.3%
2. Eric Decker, Minnesota 18.1%
3. Tim Tebow, Florida 14.1%

The pre-season Outland Trophy candidate is slated to make his 38th consecutive start at right guard this Saturday against Kansas State.

RESSEL IS GROZA SEMI-FINALIST; RANKS 2ND IN NCAA IN FG ACCURACY

Replacing the NCAA record holder for career accuracy could be seen as a daunting task for sophomore PK Grant Ressel, but the successor to former star Jeff Wolfert has shown that he's been more than up to the task, as he's a stellar 17-of-18 on field goals and 26-of-26 on extra points through 9 games. He's 6-of-7 from 40 yards or longer, including making three 46-yarders, with two of those coming last week against Baylor. One of his 46-yarders against the Bears was a crucial one with 2:55 to play that pulled MU to within 40-32. His only miss of the year came on a 43-yard attempt on Oct. 8th against Nebraska, in monsoon-like conditions, when the snap appeared to be a little high, which threw off the timing of the kick.

Ressel is approaching the MU single-season record for most FGs made. The current mark is 21, set in 2007 by Jeff Wolfert.

The Jackson, Mo. native, who didn't win the starting kicking job until late in training camp, currently ranks 1st in the Big 12 (4th in the NCAA) in field goals per game (1.89) and is 2nd in the Big 12 and 17th in the nation in scoring (8.56 ppg). On Monday, he was named one of 20 semi-finalists for the 2009 Lou Groza Award., which is given annually to the nation's top kicker.

Prior to the Baylor game, Ressel had a perfect 6-of-6 day at Colorado that featured FGs of 29 yards and 33 yards, with the latter coming with 3:57 to play that iced the game by making it a three-score game, and accounting for the final 36-17 margin.

Entering the Kansas State game this weekend, Ressel is also 2nd in the NCAA lead in FG accuracy, among those with 10 or more attempts:

NCAA FIELD GOAL ACCURACY (Minimum 10 Attempts Thru Games of Nov. 7th)

Rank	Player (Year)	School	Pct. (Makes-Atts.)
1.	Craig Ratanamorn (Sr.)	Marshall	100.0% (11-of-11)
2.	Grant Ressel (So.)	Mizzou	94.4% (17-of-18)
3.	Alan Gendreau (So.)	Middle Tennessee	93.3% (14-of-15)
3.	Robert Randolph (So.)	Virginia	93.3% (14-of-15)
5.	Blair Walsh (So.)	Georgia	92.9% (13-of-14)
5.	Wes Byrum (Jr.)	Auburn	92.9% (13-of-14)

Ressel, who walked on to the Tiger squad in 2007 was an unsung hero of Mizzou's 27-20 win over Bowling Green, as he accounted for the only points MU could muster through nearly 3 quarters. His 2nd-quarter FGs of 38 and 46 yards helped keep the Tigers afloat and within striking distance, until the offense could get untracked in the 2nd half. His 46-yarder (a career long) came with 51 seconds before halftime, and cut the score to 13-6 at the time.

On Sept. 25th at Nevada, he again kept things moving forward as he nailed two 1st-quarter FGs (22 & 31 yards) to get points after stalled drives to help Mizzou post a 12-7 halftime lead. He also had 2 more boots in the 2nd half (27 and 26 yards) that helped seal the deal in Mizzou's 31-21 win.

His first 5 field goal tries this year came in the first half, and all were kicked when the outcome of the game was still up in the air — none came in mop-up time when there's no pressure riding on the kick. Against Illinois, he was 3-for-3 on FG tries, connecting from 32, 44 and 41 yards in MU's 37-9 season-opening win.

It didn't take long for Ressel to get his first test vs. Illinois, as he was called on for a 32-yard attempt that he nailed to cap MU's season-opening possession to give MU a 3-0 lead at the 7:23 mark of the 1st quarter. After MU took a 10-0 lead and Illinois closed to 10-3, the Tiger defense got an interception in Illini territory. The drive stalled out, however, and Ressel was called on to try a 44-yard attempt, which again was true with 8:36 left in the half for a 13-3 lead. He tacked on a 41-yarder for good measure with just :06 seconds left in the half to give Mizzou a huge boost of momentum, as well as a 16-3 lead, into the lockerroom for halftime.

Ressel won the kicking job in fall training camp in a fierce competition with senior PK Tanner Mills. Ressel had no previous collegiate place kicks on his resume prior to this season, but he did punt once in 2008 in mop-up time, as he booted a 43-yard punt against Southeast Missouri State.

TIME OF POSSESSION A TELLING STAT

Mizzou claimed a 36-17 win at Colorado two weeks ago, and one stat that stood out was the time of possession category, as the Tigers held the ball for an impressive 36:24 in the win, to just 23:36 for CU. It was the most clock time MU has held the ball since 2007 in a 36-28 win against #2 Kansas (37:25 for MU in that game).

Since going to the spread offense in 2005, with its quick-strike, fast-paced tempo, the Tigers haven't won the battle of the clock all that often. In the 62 games of the spread era at MU, Mizzou has owned a TOP edge 19 times.

In those 19 games, MU is 15-4 (all 4 losses came with negligible advantages in the category), but the numbers are even more impressive when broken down this way:

The Tigers are a perfect 13-0 since 2005 when they own the ball for 31:00 minutes or longer.

Here's a breakdown of all the games since 2005 when MU owned the TOP edge (in reverse order):

- — 2009 at Colorado — 36:24 (W)
- — 2009 vs. Nebraska — 30:28 (L)
- — 2008 vs. Kansas State — 32:45 (W)

EXTRA-POINT STREAK UP TO 224 FOR TIGERS

What's the most assured way to break up a no-hitter in baseball? Talk about a no-hitter in the middle of it, of course. With that in mind, it's with a healthy respect for sports superstitions that we reluctantly bring up this impressive streak for Missouri — the Tigers have converted on 224 consecutive extra point attempts entering Saturday's game against Kansas State.

The last time Mizzou missed an extra point (not including 2-point attempts), was back in 2005 at Colorado. Mizzou missed a PAT on its only kick attempt in a 41-12 loss that year to Colorado, and hasn't missed since. After that, the streak has included:

- — 2005: the last 13 PATs of the season (by Adam Crossett)...
- — 2006: a perfect 45-of-45 (by Jeff Wolfert)...
- — 2007: a perfect 67-of-67 (by Jeff Wolfert)...
- — 2008: a perfect 73-of-73 (by Jeff Wolfert)...
- — 2009: a perfect 26-of-26 (by Grant Ressel)...

Missouri is quite a way still from the NCAA record for consecutive PATs made by a school. The record is 262 by Syracuse, from 1978 to 1989 by 7 different kickers.

TIGERS ARE EXTREMELY YOUNG

While there's still a lot out there for the 2009 Missouri Tigers the future is definitely bright in Columbia, as Missouri is a very young team. Picked to finish third this season in the Big 12 North Division, the Tigers began the season hoping to successfully defend its 2007 and 2008 North Division titles.

We don't have a way to scientifically prove this, but odds are that Missouri is one of the youngest teams in the country in 2009. While youth can sometimes step up and provide nice surprises (i.e. — MU's 4-0 start to 2009), it can also prove to be challenging (i.e. — the recent three-game losing streak).

While Head Coach Gary Pinkel would never offer up youth as an excuse for anything, the fact remains that this team is very young, with only 15 seniors on the roster. Of those, only six are projected to start on offense/defense Saturday against Kansas State, with only eight total who are on the two-deep entering the game. That's a stark contrast to 2008, when the Tigers began the season with 12 senior starters (5 on offense and 7 on defense).

Here's a breakdown of MU's projected starters and the offense/defense two-deep for the KSU game. You'll notice that of MU's 53 players listed on the 2-deep, more than half (36) are either freshmen or sophomores...

PROJECTED STARTERS BY CLASS		2-DEEP BY CLASS
Seniors	6 [3 off./3 def.]	8	[3 off./5 def.]
Juniors	7 [2 off./5 def.]	9	[3 off./6 def.]
Sophomores	8 [6 off./2 def.]	22	[15 off./7 def.]
Freshmen	1 [0 off./1 def.]	14	[7 off./7 def.]

TIGERS HAVE BEEN CREAM OF THE BIG 12 NORTH CROP

Thanks to the research skills of resident MU football historian Tom Orf, we proudly pass along the following tidbits about Mizzou and the Big 12 Conference North Division...

• Mizzou has won the most games among North Division teams, both overall, as well as in Big 12 play (tied with Nebraska), in the last 7 seasons (2003-09). The charts look like this (thru games of Nov. 7th):

BIG 12 NORTH TEAM WINS LAST 7 YRS., ALL GAMES		BIG 12 NORTH TEAM WINS LAST 7 YRS., BIG 12 GAMES ONLY
School	Record	School	Record
Mizzou	55-31	Mizzou	28-25

EBNER RETURNS TO FIELD JUST 12 DAYS AFTER KNEE SURGERY

Sophomore LB Will Ebner is fast becoming known as the hardest hitter on the team, as the Friendswood, Texas native has to lead the team in unofficial "oohs" from the stands with the constant stream of hard shots he dishes out.

He might also have earned the award for toughest guy on the team, as he returned to the field against Texas on Oct. 24th just 12 days after he had arthroscopic surgery on his knee to repair damaged meniscus that he suffered in MU's Oct. 8th game against Nebraska. Ebner had surgery on Oct. 12th and sat out the Tigers' Oct. 17th game at Oklahoma State, but was cleared to play the next week.

And play, he did, as he came off the bench to register 7 tackles, including 1.0 tackle for loss. He followed that by making 4 tackles at Colorado, including 1 QB sack where he forced a fumble that was recovered by Mizzou on the CU 6-yardline, before he notched 8 tackles last Saturday against Baylor, including 1 TFL.

Despite missing the OSU game, as well as the fact that he's only started three games so far this season, Ebner enters the Kansas State game ranked 2nd on the team with 50 tackles, and he's also 3rd in tackles for loss (7.0).

He made his first career start earlier this year in the place of injured Luke Lambert at Nevada, and turned in a career-high 9 tackles (8 solo), while adding 2.0 tackles for loss in MU's 31-21 road win. Lambert is also out for the remainder of the 2009, after having surgery to repair torn labrum in his shoulder that he suffered on the first series of the game against Texas on Oct. 24th.

MIZZOU FOOTBALL GAME NOTES

PINKEL STANDS 3RD ON ALLTIME MU COACHING WINS LIST

Mizzou Head Coach Gary Pinkel is in his 9th season at MU and touts a career record of 137-82-3 (62.4%). The Illinois game to open the 2008 season was the 200th in Pinkel's head coaching career.

Pinkel, who has led MU to a combined record of 42-20 (67.7%) over the past 4+ seasons, and to bowl games in 2003, 2005, 2006, 2007 and 2008, has a 9-year record in Columbia of 64-45 (58.7%). Dating back to the 2005 Independence Bowl win over Steve Spurrier and South Carolina, Pinkel has won 36 of his last 51 games overall.

MU's win in the 2008 opener against Illinois gave Pinkel his 50th MU win, and he now ranks 3rd on the coaching wins list at MU, with 64.

Pinkel is in a select group of Mizzou coaches that includes College Football Hall of Famers Don Faurot and Dan Devine, as well as Warren Powers, to be the only coaches to have an MU record of above .500 (with at least one full season coached) dating all the way back to 1935.

Here's a quick look at the top winning coaches in MU history (through Nov. 7th)...

MIZZOU COACHING WINS LEADERS

Coach	Wins	# Seasons (Years)	Record	Pct.	# Bowls
Don Faurot	101	19 (1935-42, 46-56)	101-79-10	.558	4
Dan Devine	93	13 (1958-70)	93-37-7	.704	6
Gary Pinkel	64	9 (2001-Present)	64-45	.587	5
Warren Powers	46	7 (1978-84)	46-33-3	.580	5

For the efforts in 2007, Pinkel was a finalist for several national coach of the year awards, including the Robinson, Bryant and Munger awards. He was also named the National Coach of the Year by FieldTurf in 2007.

Pinkel has led MU to 5 bowl games, and if his Tigers reach a 6th in 2009, he will join Devine as the only coach to guide MU to 6 bowl games.

Pinkel has directed Mizzou to 5 winning seasons (8-5 in 2003, 7-5 in 2005, 8-5 in 2006, 12-2 in 2007, 10-4 in 2008), with those representing 5 of MU's 7 winning campaigns dating back to the 1983 season.

The Big 12 North Division titles won by Mizzou in 2007 and 2008 represent the first football conference title of any kind Mizzou has won since 1969 — the last time it claimed a share of the old Big Eight Conference crown.

In November of 2008, Pinkel agreed to a new seven-year contract, meaning he'll patrol the Tiger sidelines through the 2015 season.

GABBERT SHOWS HIS METTLE WITH 2ND-HALF COMEBACK VS. BGSU

After winning Big 12 Offensive Player of the Week in his first career start for his stellar performance in Mizzou's season opener against Illinois, sophomore QB Blaine Gabbert had a tough act to follow. Things didn't go so smoothly for the St. Louis native against Bowling Green, but perhaps what he did in the 2nd half of the game was even more impressive than his performance against Illinois, because of the pressure involved.

Gabbert keyed a 2nd-half comeback that saw the Tigers erase a 20-6 deficit late in the 3rd quarter, as they scored touchdowns on 3 consecutive possessions to grab a 27-20 win — and that stands as only the 3rd time in MU history that the Tigers have won after trailing by as many as 14 points at any time in the 2nd half of a game.

He had an outstanding performance in notching a win in his first-ever road start, as the Tigers pulled away for 31-21 win at Nevada on Sept. 25th. Gabbert threw for a career-best 414 yards, on 25-of-40 passing, with 3 TDs to raise his season total to 11 TDs with no interceptions entering the Nebraska game. He had 5 passes of 30 yards or more against the Wolf Pack, including TD strikes of 31 and 74 yards to WR Danario Alexander — for the season, Gabbert already has 20 passes of 30 yards or more, with 9 of them going for scores.

He's coming off a bittersweet outing against Baylor, where he complete 30-of-51 passes for 468 yards and 2 TDs (with the yardage total marking a career-best, as well as being the 2nd-highest single-game passing total in MU history). Obviously, Gabbert would trade the yardage for a Tiger win, but it didn't work out that way as the Bears rallied for a 40-32 win.

Gabbert had the first tough outing of his collegiate career against Nebraska and their stout defense, as he was held to 134 passing yards on 17-of-43 passing in MU's 27-12 defeat on Oct. 8th. It didn't help that the game was played in a virtual torrential downpour, nor did the fact that he suffered a severely sprained ankle in the first quarter when he was sacked by Ndamukong Suh. He also had his streak of consecutive passes without an interception broken at 177, when he was picked off by Suh for the first time in his career, in the 4th quarter. Despite being less than 100%, Gabbert hung in there and engineered a potential game-tying drive late in the 4th quarter after Nebraska had taken a 20-12 lead, as the drive reached the Husker 22 before stalling out thanks to a costly holding penalty. He also scored on a 1-yard keeper on the last play of the 1st half to give MU a 9-0 lead at the time.

Playing on the injured ankle, Gabbert had an outstanding 1st half at Oklahoma State on Oct. 17th, as he threw for 259 yards and 1 TD, before the OSU defense clamped down in the 2nd half to pull away for a 33-17 win in Stillwater. The next game brought another tough night, as #3 Texas and its top-notch defense held Gabbert to just 8-of-16 passing for 84 yards before knocking him out in the 3rd quarter with an aggravation of his sprained ankle.

Before he left, he did lead the Tigers to an impressive 12-play, 81-yard TD drive in the 2nd quarter that ended with his 11-yard TD pass to WR Jared Perry that cut the deficit to 21-7 at the time.

Gabbert's ankle looked to be feeling a little better two weeks ago at Colorado, as he was more mobile in leading MU to a 36-17 road win. He completed 17-of-29 passes on the day for 192 yards and 2 TDs (73 and 2 yards, both to WR Danario Alexander), and he also ran 6 times for 26 yards (including a long of 16 yards), showing that his ankle is improving.

• — His first half against BGSU was tough, as he stood 10-of-21 passing for just 44 yards, as the Tigers trailed 13-6 at halftime. Things got worse in the 2nd half before they got better, as Bowling Green took the opening possession of the 3rd quarter and drove for a TD to make it 20-6. The Tigers followed with a 3-and-out possession, but after the Tiger defense stiffened and forced a punt, Gabbert and company dug in and went to work on the next 3 possessions, scoring 3 straight TDs. The drives covered 87, 72 and 61 yards, respectively, and Gabbert was a combined 9-of-10 passing in those three crucial drives for 121 yards and 2 TDs. The first drive started at MU's 13-yardline with just 4:50 left in the 3rd quarter and MU trailing, 20-6. It ended with his 27-yard TD pass to WR Jared Perry, while the 2nd drive ended with his 33-yard TD pass to WR Wes Kemp...

Gabbert had Tiger nation — and much of the nation overall — abuzz with his first collegiate start, as he completed 25-of-33 passes for 319 yards and 3 TDs (49, 4 and 46 yards), and rushed for a 4th score in MU's 37-9 season-opening win over Illinois. He had 39 rushing yards in all, to give him 358 yards of total offense in his starting debut.

His QB rating of 186.96 was the best of any Big 12 signal caller on the opening week, and it was the 2nd-highest rating ever for a Tiger making his starting debut — trailing only the mark of 207.4 set by Chase Daniel in 2006 against Murray State (23-of-32 for 320 yards and 5 TDs).

Gabbert led the Tigers to a 52-12 win over Furman, thanks to a 17-of-25 passing performance that covered 256 yards and 3 more TDs, plus he added a 40-yard TD run to become the first Tiger since Brad Smith in 2002 (vs. Kansas) to throw and run for a TD of 40 yards or more in a game.

HARRY GIVING 'EM THE BOOT AS MU RANKS 7TH IN NCAA IN NET PUNTING

Being the punter for an offense as prolific as Missouri's has been the past few years is kind of like being the Maytag repairman — you're not called on too much, and when you are, people aren't too happy about it. But senior P Jake Harry IV is doing well enough in his appearances through 9 games that Tiger fans aren't so hesitant to see the left-footer trot out on the field.

• — Harry is averaging 42.43 yards per punt, which is currently 4th in the Big 12 Conference, and 35th-best nationally...

• — More importantly, Mizzou's net punting average of 40.04 ranks 7th-best in the NCAA through 9 games, and leads the Big 12 Conference. Opponents have managed just 48 punt return yards on 17 attempts against the Tigers thus far, and that average per return of just 1.60 yards is 5th-best in the nation so far (Iowa State is #1 w/1.55; BYU is #2 w/1.83; Oklahoma is #3 w/2.00; USC is #4 w/2.07)...

• — Through 9 games and 46 punts, Harry has 9 boots of 50 yards or more, and has 15 punts which have landed inside the opponent's 20-yardline. He had a big game against Nebraska where he punted a career-high 8 times for an average of 44.6. He had a long of 57 vs. the Huskers, and 4 of his kicks were downed inside the 20-yardline, as he consistently helped MU win the field position battle for most of the night...

• — Last week against Baylor, Harry showed just how key of a role a well-executed punt can impact a game, when he got off a 54-yarder that rolled dead inside the Baylor 1-yardline. On the very next play, Mizzou's defense stuffed a Baylor run attempt in the endzone for a safety that gave the Tigers a 29-26 lead in the 3rd quarter...

• — Heading into the K-State game, Harry's career average of 41.792 yards per punt stands as the best in MU punting history. He holds a slight lead over Kyle Pooler, who has established the MU career punting record of 41.774, set from 1991-94 (see sidebar on page 13 of MU game notes)...

• — Against Illinois, he punted 3 times and averaged 49.3 yards on the day, with a long of 60 yards...

• — Against Bowling Green, Harry had a big night in helping keep Mizzou on top of the field position battle, as he averaged 45.4 yards on a career-high 7 punts. He had a 69-yard punt in the 2nd quarter, and also had a 58-yarder in the 1st quarter of play...

• — Two of his punts ended inside the BGSU 20-yardline, and only 1 was returned on the night, with the return going for negative one yard...

Harry took over punting duties in 2008 for the first time, and he averaged a solid 40.7 yards per punt, while Mizzou's net punting average of 37.71 ranked them 16th in the NCAA. That was a huge jump in improvement from 2007, when the Tigers ranked 113th in the NCAA in net punting with a mark of 31.46.

MIZZOU FOOTBALL GAME NOTES

FAST START CREATES BREATHING ROOM IN THE MOUNTAIN AIR

Three weeks ago, Missouri fell behind at home to #3 Texas, 21-0 in the 1st quarter. One week later, the Tigers did a complete 180 and threw a 21-0 blankspot on Colorado in quarter one (after scoring 33 points total in the 1st quarter in its first 7 games), and that fast start propelled Mizzou to its 36-17 win in Boulder, Colo. on Oct. 31st. The fast start was a welcomed sight, because the young Tigers have trended with success when they get up early.

Including the CU result, Mizzou has now outscored its opponents by a 51-17 margin in the 1st quarter of its 5 wins, and the margin has been even wider in the 2nd quarter — 58-9. That's a combined margin of 109-26 in the 1st half of its five wins thus far.

By contrast, in its 4 losses, opponents have outscored MU 37-10 in the 1st quarter (although Texas' 21-point 1st quarter severely skews that), and it's been an MU advantage of 50-38 edge in the 2nd quarter to opponents in the 4 losses for a total 1st-half opponent edge of 75-60 in those games.

TIGERS POST COMEBACK FOR THE AGES TO DOWN BOWLING GREEN

One week after breezing through a smooth-looking 37-9 season-opening win over favored Illinois, the Missouri Tigers were expected by most to do the same in their home opener against Bowling Green. Not much went right for the young Tigers, however, and through a combination of mistakes by MU and solid play from the Falcons, Mizzou trailed 20-6 late in the 3rd quarter before scoring the last 21 points of the game to pull out a 27-20 win and improve to 2-0 on the season.

- — Mizzou's win tied for the 2nd-largest deficit overcome in school history to post a win. The alltime largest deficit overcome for MU was 21 points (vs. South Carolina in the 2005 Independence Bowl), and it marked the 7th time MU has rallied to post a win after trailing by 14 points in a game (the last was in 2001 at Kansas, when MU trailed 14-0 in the 2nd quarter to rally for a 38-34 win)...

- — The comeback was also historic in another way, as it marked only the 3rd time in school history that the Tigers have rallied from a 14-point 2nd-half deficit to get a win. The first occasion was in 1976, when Mizzou trailed at #2 Ohio State, 21-7 in the 3rd quarter. The Tigers rallied for a 22-21 win, getting a TD and 2-point conversion in the final minute of play for the win. The last occurrence of overcoming a 14-point (or bigger) 2nd-half deficit to notch a win was the aforementioned 2005 Independence Bowl, when MU trailed 28-14 to start the 2nd half of play...

DEFENSE CLAMPS DOWN ON BUFFALOES

Mizzou's defense had a stellar day at Colorado recently, as it played a huge role in MU's 36-17 win. Here's just a few of the major highlights...

- — MU allowed just 176 yards of total offense for Colorado, which was the lowest total by a Tiger opponent since 2006, when Mizzou held Mississippi to 162 yards in a 34-7 Tiger win in Columbia. Mizzou's previous opponent low output in 2009 was 263 yards by Nebraska (a 27-12 MU loss on Oct. 8th in Columbia). Mizzou held CU to 135 yards below their total offense average of 301.9 yards per game coming in...

- — Thanks in large part to 8 QB sacks (including 3 alone by redshirt freshman DE Aldon Smith), Mizzou held Colorado to negative-14 yards net rushing on the day. That's right, 24 official attempts for minus-14 yards, or minus 0.6 yards per every attempt. The 8 QB sacks resulted in 73 yards of losses, so even if you backed that out, CU ran 16 times for 59 yards, or just 3.7 yards per carry, with 30 of those coming on one QB scramble, and 15 more coming on a WR reverse. If you back those 2 runs out, then CU carried 14 times for 14 yards...

- — The minus-14 yards allowed rushing was the lowest by a Tiger opponent since 1972, when MU limited California to minus-77 yards rushing in a 34-27 win. Colorado's previous low rushing total for 2009 was 29 yards versus Colorado State, and it was 103 yards below their average of 89.1 rushing yards per game coming in...

- — In addition to the 8 QB sacks, the Tigers forced 4 Colorado turnovers (3 fumbles, 1 interception), and that was nearly half of what MU had forced for the entire season coming in. Prior to the game, while MU's defense had played pretty well all year long, they had struggled in the turnover category, gaining only 9 turnovers in its first 7 games...

2009 GAME RECAPS

GAME #1 • MIZZOU 37, ILLINOIS 9

SEPT. 5, 2009 • EDWARD JONES DOME • ST. LOUIS, MO. • (64,215)

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Blaine Gabbert threw for 319 yards and three touchdowns and ran for a fourth in a stellar starting debut to lead rebuilding Missouri to a 37-9 victory over Illinois, its fifth win in a row in the neutral-site series.

Juice Williams was held in check and failed to convert a crucial fourth-down play for Illinois, which just missed cracking the preseason Top 25 but flopped despite an offense with eight returning starters. The Fighting Illini were 5-7 last year but had been a touchdown favorite against a program replacing 23 seniors, including quarterback Chase Daniel and a Big 12-best six NFL draft picks, including a pair of first-round selections.

Missouri won its eighth straight opener without most of the key skill players from an offense that helped produce 22 victories the past two seasons. Gabbert, a sophomore shining in his hometown after appearing in three games last season as Daniel's understudy, was 24-for-33 and added 54 yards on nine carries for an offense that had no turnovers.

Gabbert had three first-down runs before bulling into the end zone on an 8-yard carry in the fourth quarter

The Tigers led 16-3 at the half and pulled away with touchdowns on two of their first three possessions after the break. Danario Alexander had a career-high 10 receptions for 132 yards, including two catches for 59 yards, on the opening drive of the third quarter, and Jared Perry caught a 46-yard touchdown pass in the third for a 30-3 lead.

Williams was 18 for 28 for 178 yards with a touchdown and an interception. Last year, Williams passed for 451 yards and five touchdowns and set an Edward Jones Dome record with 461 yards of total offense.

Illinois wide receiver Arrelious Benn and running back Jason Ford missed the second half with ankle injuries. Daniel Dufrene, the starter at running back, dressed but did not play due to an ankle injury.

Gabbert was 7 for 8 for 106 yards in the first quarter, leading Missouri to a 10-0 lead after two possessions while Illinois opened with two punts. The big play of the half was a 49-yard scoring pass to Wes Kemp, a sophomore St. Louisian also making his first career start, and the Tigers added field goals of 32, 44 and 41 yards from new kicker Grant Ressel.

Trailing 13-3 late in the second quarter, Illinois failed to capitalize on a roughing the punter call when Williams stumbled just after taking the snap on 4th-and-1 at the Missouri 20. Williams appeared to get his legs tangled with guard Randall Hunt and fell backward for a 4-yard loss.

Missouri has won 11 straight non-conference games, the longest streak in school history, since a home loss to New Mexico in 2005.

2009 GAME RECAPS

GAME #2 • #25 MIZZOU 27, BOWLING GREEN 20

SEPT. 12, 2009 • MEMORIAL STADIUM/FAUROT FIELD • COLUMBIA, MO. • (65,401)

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) - Blaine Gabbert looked like a star in his first college start. In Missouri's home opener, he looked like a sophomore learning on the job.

Gabbert threw two second-half touchdown passes and Derrick Washington scored the go-ahead TD late in the fourth quarter, helping the 25th-ranked Tigers rally from a slow start to beat Bowling Green 27-20.

"It was a gutsy win," Gabbert said. "It really checked what we're made of, and in the end it's going to make our team better."

Washington had 120 yards on 23 carries for the Tigers, who jumped into the rankings after an impressive opening victory over Illinois and needed a strong finish Saturday for any hope of staying there. Missouri (2-0) trailed 13-0 in the second quarter and 20-6 midway in the third before its offense stirred.

Missouri's point total was its fewest in a victory since beating Iowa State 27-24 on Oct. 15, 2005. The Tigers, who have beaten 10 straight non-conference opponents, averaged 42 points last year.

"I wouldn't want to make a living doing that every Saturday," coach Gary Pinkel said. "You can grow tremendously from it. I feel fortunate we're 2-0."

Bowling Green (1-1) was such a handful seldom-used Missouri punter Jake Harry was called upon seven times. Harry punted only 26 times all last season.

Tyler Sheehan was 29 for 46 for 206 yards and a touchdown and Willie Geter had 99 yards on 20 carries with a 1-yard scoring run for Bowling Green, which capitalized on a pair of fumbles for two first-half field goals before fading. Bowling Green, a Missouri nemesis from the Mid-American Conference, is 3-2 against the Tigers.

"I think Missouri stepped it up a little bit, and they made some adjustments," Sheehan said. "I think we played good enough to win. It just didn't happen."

Gabbert, who threw for 319 yards and three touchdowns in his first career start against Illinois, finished 20 for 33 for 172 yards after totaling 44 passing yards in the first half. His lost fumble on a sack led to a 37-yard field goal by Jerry Phillips that put Bowling Green ahead 10-0 late in the first quarter.

Pinkel said his quarterback never lost composure.

"He was under control," the coach said. "One of the greatest things a quarterback can do is learn to forget."

Missouri began its comeback with an 18-yard run by Washington on third-and-10, and Gabbert's 27-yard touchdown pass to Perry on consecutive plays cut the gap to 20-13 near the end of the third quarter. Perry said the ball went right through a defender's arms.

Washington gained 6 yards on 4th-and-2 from the Bowling Green 39 one play before Gabbert and Kemp connected for a 33-yard score for Missouri's first lead.

Washington topped 20 carries for the first time in his career, and his yardage was the third-best. The running game had a major role in the Tigers' rally.

"They really ran the ball well," Bowling Green coach Dave Clawson said. "And we didn't tackle as well as we did in the first half."

Bowling Green outgained Missouri 162-116 in the first half but could have put the Tigers in a deeper hole with touchdowns off the two turnovers at the Missouri 18 and 21.

"With a loss it's always a collective effort, as much as a win is a collective effort," Sheehan said.

2009 GAME RECAPS

GAME #3 • MIZZOU 52, FURMAN 12

SEPT. 19, 2009 • MEMORIAL STADIUM/FAUROT FIELD • COLUMBIA, MO. • (61,617)

COLUMBIA, Mo. - After a bit of a sluggish start, Mizzou exploded with 42 points in less than 20 minutes of the first half, and cruised to a 52-12 win over FCS opponent Furman, to improve to 3-0 on the season. Mizzou is now 9-0 alltime against FCS competition (formerly Division I-AA).

Mizzou's first two offensive possessions ended in punts, and a combined net of zero yards. But a gadget play got things going, when QB Blaine Gabbert lateraled to WR Danario Alexander, and after selling a screen pass, he threw downfield to a wide open Jared Perry for a 40-yard TD pass with 4:47 left in the 1st quarter, and a 7-0 lead.

The Tiger defense forced three straight punts, and the offense responded with three more scoring drives. It started with a Gabbert-to-Perry 48-yard TD pass (giving Perry his first multiple TD receiving game of his career), and continued with a 40-yard TD run by Gabbert on an option keeper. Gabbert became the first Tiger since 2002 to run and throw for a TD of 40 yards or more in a game (Brad Smith vs. Kansas — 62-yd. TD pass, 75-yd. TD run).

Gabbert would throw two more TD passes in the 2nd quarter, as he hooked up with Alexander both times, the first on a 13-yarder with 7:10 to play, and the last from 17 yards out with just :11 seconds left to close out a sharp 3-play, 75-yard drive.

Gabbert would play just three quarters in all, ending with solid passing numbers of 17-of-25 for 256 yards and 3 TDs, plus 44 yards rushing and the 1 TD.

In between those strikes to Alexander, sophomore DE Jacques Smith tipped a Paladin pass to himself, and rambled untouched 43 yards for a touchdown that made it 35-0 with 3:55 left in the 2nd quarter, to give MU its first defensive TD of the 2009 season.

Mizzou called off the dogs in the second half, as it ran 26 times on its 39 offensive snaps after taking a 42-0 halftime lead. Derrick Washington scored on a 1-yard run to make it 49-6, and PK Grant Ressel added a 44-yard 4th-quarter field goal to round out the Tiger scoring.

Mizzou's defense forced two turnovers in all on the day, with the other coming on a fumble forced by LB Sean Weatherspoon at the Tiger 1-yardline. After a reception by a Furman receiver, Weatherspoon caught him from behind, and popped the ball out, causing the ball to roll forward into the endzone, where SS Jasper Simmons picked it up and ran out the other way to prevent the Paladin score.

Furman avoided the shutout when it drove 75 yards midway through the 3rd quarter to score on a 21-yard TD pass from QB Jordan Sorrells to WR Tyler Maples. The Paladins would add a short TD run midway through the 4th quarter against the reserve defense to account for the final score.

Perry finished with 7 receptions for 161 yards and 2 TDs, all totals which represented career highs for the senior wideout. All of his stats came in the first half.

Sophomore LB Will Ebner led the defensive effort, with a game-high 9 tackles, while All-America candidate Weatherspoon added 6 tackles, which moved him into 9th place on Mizzou's career tackles list (331).

The win extended Mizzou's school-record non-conference win streak to 13 games, dating back to MU's last non-Big 12 loss - to Oregon State in the 2006 Sun Bowl.

That game was also the last time that a Tiger player had thrown for and caught a TD pass, when former TE Chase Coffman did the deed. Alexander joined Coffman in that category with his TD daily double.

GAME #4 • MIZZOU 31, NEVADA 21

SEPT. 25, 2009 • MACKAY STADIUM • RENO, NEV. • (18,269)

RENO, Nev. (AP) Blaine Gabbert passed for 414 yards and three touchdowns, including scoring tosses of 74 and 31 yards to Danario Alexander, to help Missouri beat Nevada 31-21.

Alexander finished with nine catches for a career-high 170 yards, and Grant Resel made all four of his field-goal attempts to run his streak to 10 for 10 this season for the Tigers (4-0), who have won a school-record 14 consecutive non-conference games.

Luke Lippincott ran for 114 yards for the Wolf Pack (0-3), who took a 13-12 lead on the first series of the second half on Colin Kaepernick's 11-yard touchdown run and had a chance to regain the lead early in the fourth quarter before Lippincott fumbled on Missouri's 4.

Wes Kemp caught three passes for 99 yards, and Jared Perry added eight receptions for 72 yards and a touchdown for the Tigers, whose last nonconference loss was in the 2006 Sun Bowl against Oregon State.

Missouri went ahead 18-13 in the third quarter on Gabbert's 74-yard hook-up with Alexander. The Tigers put the game away early in the fourth quarter on a 97-yard scoring drive, capped by Gabbert's 4-yard TD pass to Perry.

Turnovers and penalties cost both teams in the first half.

Trailing 12-7, Nevada had a chance to cut into the lead just before the half when Burnett Kaelin forced Derrick Washington to fumble and Jonathan Amaya recovered it at the Tigers' 27 with 23 seconds left. But the Wolf Pack's Nate Agaiava was whistled for a personal foul after the recovery and they had burned all their time outs in the first quarter. Time ran out before the Wolf Pack was able to get close enough for a field-goal attempt.

Nevada squandered another chance to score on Lippincott's fumble on the 4 when Aldon Smith stripped the ball loose and Brian Coulter recovered with 14:29 left in the game.

Nevada's Mike Ball returned the opening kick of the second half 52 yards and Lippincott carried six consecutive times for 34 yards to move deep into Missouri territory. On third-and-7 from the 11, Kaepernick started to roll right then with three Tigers in pursuit, rolled back around the left side to score for a 13-7 lead. Running back Courtney Randall failed to convert a 2-point play.

Missouri answered two plays later from their own 26 when Gabbert lobbed a pass to an open Alexander at midfield and he raced to the end zone. Another failed 2-point try left the score at 18-13 with 10:29 left in the third.

Missouri led 3-0 on Ressel's 22-yard field goal after Vai Tava fumbled a punt at midfield and Andrew Gachkar recovered it.

Nevada's first first-half score of the season came when Kaepernick pitched to Lippincott, who pitched to flanker Chris Wellington on a reverse for a 19-yard gain to set up Randall's 2-yard touchdown run for a 7-3 lead. Ressel added a 31-yard field goal to cut it to 7-6 a minute before the end of the first quarter. He also hit from 27 and 26.

Gabbert, a sophomore, completed 25 of 40 attempts with no interceptions. He was scrambling under pressure on third-and-8 from Nevada's 31, but managed to escape and threw over the middle to Alexander who caught it at the 20 and sprinted to the end zone to put Missouri up 12-7 with 2:09 left in the half.

2009 GAME RECAPS

GAME #5 • #21 NEBRASKA 27, #24 MIZZOU 12

OCT. 8, 2009 • MEMORIAL STADIUM/FAUROT FIELD • COLUMBIA, MO. • (65,826)

Playing in a virtual downpour all night long, the #24 Missouri Tigers managed a to shutout the 21st-ranked Nebraska Cornhuskers through three full quarters. Unfortunately for Mizzou, they could only build a 12-0 lead, and that wasn't enough to withstand a furious 4th-quarter rally by the visiting Huskers, as Nebraska exploded for 27 points in the final 13 minutes of play to escape Faurot Field with a 27-12 win.

Mizzou's defense was outstanding most of the night, as it held the Huskers to a paltry 109 yards of total offense through three quarters of play. But on the third play of the 4th quarter, Nebraska QB Zac Lee found WR Niles Paul open on a post-route and hit him in stride for a 56-yard touchdown with 13:56 to play to pull the Huskers to within 12-7.

That one strike seemed to turn the momentum immediately, as the Huskers intercepted Mizzou QB Blaine Gabbert on the very next snap — marking the first collegiate interception Gabbert had ever thrown (breaking a string of 177 consecutive passes without an interception), as Husker star DT Ndamukong Suh leapt high to bat a pass down over the middle, only to have the ball stick in his mitts for the INT at the Tiger 18-yardline.

Two plays later, Nebraska took the lead as Lee hit Paul again, this time from 13 yards out with 12:59 left, and just like that, the Huskers held a 13-12 lead.

Before those two TD passes, Nebraska's Lee was just 9-of-27 passing for 79 yards.

After Mizzou drove on its ensuing possession to midfield, Gabbert was again intercepted, as Nebraska's Dejon Gomes jumped a sideline route at the 50-yardline, and returned it all the way to the Tiger 10-yardline. The Huskers would capitalize, as Lee hit TE Mike McNeill for an 8-yard TD pass on 3rd-and-goal with 10:34 to play for a 20-12 lead.

In a span of just 3:22 off the clock, Missouri went from a seemingly solid 12-0 lead to a 20-12 deficit. The swing of momentum was too much to overcome, although the Tigers tried valiantly to stage a comeback of their own.

Gabbert led a promising drive that reached as far as the Husker 22-yardline with under six minutes to play, but a holding call — Mizzou's 5th costly holding penalty of the night — derailed the possession and eventually led to a failed 4th-and-20 try from the Nebraska 32-yardline.

The Huskers were able to ice the game as they drove 68 yards in 8 plays for a 5-yard TD run by Roy Helu to account for the final score.

The Tigers had built their lead thanks to a safety on a bad punt snap by Nebraska in the 2nd quarter, followed by a gutsy QB keeper by Blaine Gabbert from one yard out on 4th-and-goal with no time left on the clock to put the Tigers up, 9-0, at half.

The Tigers also got a 33-yard field goal by Grant Ressel with 1:26 left in the 3rd quarter to extend the lead to 12-0, but missed opportunities loomed large in the end, as the 12-point lead could have much more.

Twice Mizzou recovered Nebraska fumbles inside the Husker 35-yardline, only to come away empty both times. Late in the 1st quarter, Mizzou recovered a fumbled punt by Nebraska at the Husker 32-yardline, but the drive netted minus 19 yards, thanks to another holding penalty and 3rd-down sack of Gabbert.

Another key exchange happened early in the 3rd-quarter, as the Tigers recovered a fumbled snap by the Husker offense, at the Nebraska 29-yardline. The golden opportunity to take a big lead went for naught, however, as the Tigers could muster only four yards on a pair of runs, and an incomplete pass, and Grant Ressel couldn't connect on a 43-yard field goal try (his first miss of the year).

2009 GAME RECAPS

GAME #6 • #16 OKLAHOMA STATE 33, MIZZOU 17

OCT. 17, 2009 • BOONE PICKENS STADIUM • STILLWATER, OKLA. • (55,752)

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) – A back-and-forth first half that saw five lead changes abruptly turned south for Missouri, as the Tigers saw a 17-14 2nd quarter lead turn into a 33-17 defeat at 16th-ranked Oklahoma State.

Mizzou buoyed by the right arm of QB Blaine Gabbert, and an improved running game, bolted to a 17-14 lead at the 6:23 mark of the 2nd quarter, as WR Danario Alexander caught a 48-yard TD pass, breaking several would-be tackles on the way to the endzone.

But the Cowboys, playing on their Homecoming, scored 10 points in the final 3:24 of the half to post a 24-17 halftime lead.

The second half was nothing like the first, as the defenses took over and prevented any touchdowns. Three OSU field goals were the only scores after intermission, as the Cowboys took advantage of superior field position and some key 4th quarter stops, to hold on for the win.

Mizzou's defense forced a pair of Cowboy punts on their first two second-half possessions, but the Tiger offense, which rolled to 313 yards in the first half, went 3-and-out on its first possession, and had its second drive ended on the second of three OSU interceptions on the night.

Oklahoma State held the ball for a whopping 10:18 of the 3rd quarter, yet managed only a field goal as it took a 27-17 lead into the final period. A potential game-changing play was wiped out by a Tiger penalty late in the 3rd, when MU's Jasper Simmons busted a kickoff return all the way to the Cowboy 10-yardline, only to have it called back due to a holding penalty on the Tiger 24-yardline.

Mizzou lost the turnover battle, 4-0 on the night, as the Cowboys turned those four miscues into 10 key points to help their cause.

The Tigers outgained OSU on the night by a 393-351 margin, but only 80 yards came after halftime as MU committed three turnovers in the 2nd half and twice turned the ball over on downs, once on the OSU 21-yardline and the last time on the Cowboy 10-yardline.

Alexander was a star on the night for Mizzou as he hauled in 9 catches for a career-high 180 yards and the 1 TD. His 180 yards receiving was the 7th-highest single-game total in MU history, and the most since 2002 when Justin Gage tied his own MU single-game mark of 236 yards against Bowling Green.

Simmons also gave MU a spark midway through the 4th quarter when he took a reverse on a punt return and went 60 yards down to the OSU 17-yardline. But facing a 4th-and-3 from the Cowboy 10, and trailing, 33-17, MU was denied a chance at a comeback when TB Derrick Washington was held for no gain to give the ball back to Oklahoma State.

Washington had 35 yards on 10 carries on the night, including a 1-yard TD plunge with 14:02 to play in the 2nd quarter that put MU on top, 10-7. That capped a brilliant 9-play, 97-yard drive by the Tiger offense.

Field position was a huge advantage for OSU in the 3rd quarter. The Cowboys' average starting position on 4 possessions was its 46-yardline, while MU started all 3 of its 3rd-quarter drives on its 14-yardline. The Tigers couldn't flip the field as it went 0-of-7 on 3rd-downs and 1-of-3 on 4th-downs in the 2nd half, allowing OSU to control the clock for nearly 19 minutes of the 30-minutes after halftime.

Faced with a short field for most of the 2nd half, the Tiger defense held tight, allowing only three field goals by OSU. The Cowboy offense accounted for only 23 points (10 came directly off MU turnovers) and 351 yards, well below their per-game averages of 38.40 points and 424.40 yards coming in.

GAME #7 • #3 TEXAS 41, MIZZOU 7

OCT. 24, 2009 • FAUROT FIELD/MEMORIAL STADIUM • COLUMBIA, MO. • (71,004)

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) – Colt McCoy completed his first 11 passes and produced touchdowns on No. 3 Texas' first three drives, helping to put Missouri away early in a 41-7 victory in front of a sellout Homecoming crowd at Faurot Field/Memorial Stadium which was MU's 10th-largest crowd in history, and the largest overall since 1983.

McCoy matched his season best with three touchdown passes, two of them to Jordan Shipley, while Texas' defense blocked a punt for a score in a nearly flawless first half that produced a 35-7 halftime lead.

The Longhorns (7-0, 4-0 Big 12) beat Missouri for the sixth straight time and Tiger QB Blaine Gabbert was held to 84 yards passing and a touchdown before having to leave the game in the third quarter due to an injured ankle.

The Tigers (4-3, 0-3) fell behind 21-0 in the first quarter before responding with an impressive touchdown drive against the Longhorns salty defense. Gabbert led a 12-play, 81-yard drive that culminated with his 11-yard touchdown strike to WR Jared Perry on 3rd-down that cut the deficit to 21-7 with 5:53 to play in the 2nd quarter.

Mizzou gained 53 yards on the ground during the possession, which was more than Texas' top-ranked rush defense was allowing per game coming in (35.83 average per game, #1 in the nation).

But the Longhorns had no designs of letting Mizzou hang around the game, as they marched right back 87 yards the other way for McCoy's 3rd TD pass that made it 28-7 with 1:49 before half.

The backbreaker came barely a minute later, when a Tiger possession ended deep in its own territory, and a punt was blocked near the MU goalline by Texas' Curtis Brown, with UT's Malcolm Williams falling on the ball in the endzone for a 35-7 lead with just :45 seconds left in the half.

The Tiger defense held its own in the second half, limiting Texas to just 115 yards of offense and a pair of field goals after intermission, but it wasn't enough to offset a tough night for the MU offense, which held Mizzou to a season-low 173 yards and 7 points.

McCoy was 26 for 31 for 269 yards with an interception. Shipley had seven catches for 108 yards, his fourth 100-yard game of the season, with scoring catches of 8 and 13 yards.

Texas is 31-4 against the Big 12 North since 1998 and coach Mack Brown is 6-0 against Missouri, the two-time defending North division champions.

Gabbert was 8 for 16, including a touchdown. He had been hobbled by a sprained right ankle the previous two weeks, but his problems appeared to have more to do with Texas' stifling defense.

Danario Alexander was a bright spot for the Tiger offense, as he had 6 receptions for 74 yards, while the rest of the team combined for 6 catches for 25 yards.

Tiger running backs combined for 101 yards rushing on 24 carries, good for an average of 4.2 yards per carry, much better than what Texas' top-ranked run defense was allowing per game (1.3 avg. against coming in).

Sean Weatherspoon had 11 tackles and an interception of McCoy in the 3rd quarter to lead the defensive charge. Freshman DE Aldon Smith also had a productive night, as he had a career-best 11 tackles (all solo) and notched 4.0 tackles for loss, with 2.0 of those coming on sacks of McCoy, the 2008 Heisman runner-up.

McCoy totaled one touchdown pass the previous two games and had been a bit of a question mark this week due to a bruised right thumb. Instead, Texas led 21-0 late in the first quarter.

McCoy opened 9 for 9 for 106 yards and the Longhorns had a 170-1 advantage in total yards before Missouri got anything going.

2009 GAME RECAPS

GAME #8 • MIZZOU 36, COLORADO 17

OCT. 31, 2009 • FOLSOM FIELD • BOULDER, COLO. • (45,634)

BOULDER, Colo. — In what was considered a must-win game for the Missouri football team to remain in the Big 12 North race, the Tigers exploded for 21 points in the first quarter en route to a 36-17 win over the Colorado Buffaloes.

The win gives put Mizzou at 5-3 on the year and 1-3 in the Big 12, and although you'd be hard pressed to hear anybody on the team say it, the Tigers put them in a better position to remain contenders for a third division crown.

On the first drive of the game, the Tigers wasted no time storming out of the gate, and the offense that had been struggling as of late went on an 11-play, 81-yard drive to draw first blood, as Derrick Washington put Mizzou up 7-0 on a one-yard touchdown run. The drive took nearly five minutes off the clock in the quarter, and was the epitome of balanced with seven of the 11 plays coming from the run game.

The second drive of the game took up considerably less time off the clock, but was exciting still as the combo of Gabbert-to-Alexander connected on a 73-yard score to put the Tigers up 14-0 midway through the first. It was the first time that the duo have hooked up for a touchdown since the game against Oklahoma State two weeks ago.

The defense's first big play of the game came on Colorado's second drive, where after one play Will Ebner got to Buffs quarterback Tyler Hansen causing a fumble that was recovered by Zavier Gooden at the Colorado six-yard line. The Buffs held on downs as the Tigers tried to punch it in on a 4th-and-goal from the two, only to be stopped short.

With the quarter coming to a close, the defense put Colorado deep in its own territory, and gave Mizzou great field position for another scoring drive. After a 31-yard gain by De'vion Moore to the CU 33-yard line, Gabbert connected with Alexander again on a two-yard touchdown pass to go up 21-0.

On the Tigers' first drive of the second quarter, it looked like another scoring opportunity for Missouri, running eight total plays during the drive led by the rushing of Washington who earned 38 yards on that drive alone. Unfortunately, a heads up play by Colorado's Jimmy Smith in the red zone ended the Tiger drive as he intercepted a Gabbert pass at the ten-yard line.

It didn't matter though, because on the very first play by the Buffs, Hansen fumbled the snap and was quickly pounced on by MU's Jacques Smith at the Colorado nine-yard line. The Tigers would run three plays on the resulting drive and resulted in a 29-yard field goal by Grant Ressel to put the Tigers up 24-0.

A penalty by Colorado on the kickoff pushed the Buffs back to their seven-yard line, and on the very next play, the Tiger defense once again got past the Colorado line and dropped Hansen in the end zone for a Missouri safety making the score 26-0. Safety Jarrell Harrison was credited with the sack, while Gooden was also in on the big play.

Tasting blood, the Tigers received the ball on the free kick with the drive beginning on their 40. The team ate up 34 yards on passes of 10 and 14 yards from Gabbert to Jared Perry and Alexander and a 10-yard rush by Kendial Lawrence. Even Gabbert got in on the action, testing out that ankle on a four-yard gain.

But the signature play came on the field goal attempt after the drive stalled out at the CU 24-yardline. With Ressel setting up for the attempt, the snap was quickly picked up by Forrest Shock and pitched to Jacques Smith, who scrambled around the left hand side and into the end zone. The extra point by Ressel put the Tigers up 33-0.

A complete half from the Tigers was evident in the discrepancy in first half stats between the two teams. The Tigers had over 300 total yards in the half while the Buffaloes barely had 100. Colorado had less than ten yards rushing in the half, while Mizzou broke 100 rushing yards in the first quarter. The defense sacked Hansen four times in the first half, one of the reasons the Buffs only scored three points in the entire half.

The Buffs put together their first complete drive of the game to start the third quarter, taking eight plays and more than three minutes to score their first touchdown of the game making the score 33-10 still in favor of the Tigers.

The only miscue of the game that hurt Mizzou came later in the third. At the CU 25-yard line, Gabbert tried a pass to the right flat for TE Andrew Jones, but it was read by Benjamin Burney who intercepted the pass and ran 78 yards the other way to the end zone making the score a little tighter at 33-17.

With the Buffs starting to give Missouri fits on both sides of the ball, the defense gave the Tigers momentum the team needed by stopping Colorado on a fourth-and-one deep in Tiger territory. Although the offense would punt on its next possession, the Tigers came up big again, with Kevin Rutland intercepting Hansen to kill the drive.

The final score for the Tigers came after the defense stopped Colorado on a desperation fourth-and-six at the Colorado 22-yard line. At that point there was a very small chance the Buffs could score and the Tigers just wanted to run clock, running only four plays, allowing Grant Ressel to boot a 33-yard field goal to make the final score 36-17 in favor of the Tigers.

GAME #9 • BAYLOR 40, MIZZOU 32

NOV. 7, 2009 • FAUROT FIELD/MEMORIAL STADIUM • COLUMBIA, MO. • (65,298)

COLUMBIA, MO. - Mizzou lit up the scoreboard with a huge first-half aerial display between QB Blaine Gabbert and WR Danario Alexander, but Baylor outscored Missouri 24-5 in the second half and freshman quarterback Nick Florence threw for a school record 427 yards to lead the Bears to a 40-32 victory at Faurot Field.

The Bears made all the plays offensively and reaped the rewards of some strong second-half defensive play to hold Mizzou to just one offensive score in the final 30 minutes. That offensive score came at the end of the fourth quarter when Grant Ressel connected on his third and final field goal of the game.

Mizzou opened the game with a quick 7-0 lead on a seven-play touchdown drive. Derrick Washington powered in from one yard out to give the Tigers the early advantage, only to have Baylor march 59 yards in just over six minutes to narrow the Tiger lead to 7-3.

Florence handed Baylor its first lead of the game on an eight-yard scoring run near the end of the first period. Florence threw for 60 yards on the drive before capping it off with his legs. Missouri did block the extra point attempt to keep the deficit at 9-7.

To Mizzou's credit the team regained a 10-9 lead on the ensuing drive thanks to a 33-yard field goal from Ressel and extended the advantage to 13-9 on the first of Ressel's two 46-yard boots. After forcing a Baylor punt Missouri finally looked to gain control when Gabbert connected with Danario Alexander on a career long 84-yard scoring pass. Alexander finished the game with 214 yards receiving and that one score. Gabbert finished with 468 yards passing and two TDs.

Unfortunately for Tiger fans Baylor wasn't about to go away quietly as two critical 15-yard penalties allowed the Bears to drive just 42 yards in six plays to make it 20-16 with 1:09 left in the 2nd quarter.

But Kendal Lawrence's kickoff return out to the Tiger 43 did breathe some life back into the MU faithful and Gabbert marched MU 57 yards in just :59 to put his club in front 27-16 at the half. Gabbert passed for 54 yards on the drive, including a seven-yard score to sophomore Wes Kemp with only one second left in the half.

Gabbert was 21-of-27 passing for 322 yards and 2 TDs at the half, with Alexander claiming 11 of those receptions for 171 yards and the 1 score.

Baylor scored 10 consecutive points to open the third quarter and cut Missouri's lead to 27-26, before a Dominique Hamilton safety gave the Tigers a three-point lead, 29-26.

After receiving the free kick, the Tigers appeared to be in prime position to regain momentum and increase their lead, as they drove for a 1st-and-10 situation at the Baylor 29-yardline. But a crucial holding penalty followed by a sack of Gabbert back to the 47-yardline stalled the drive, and all MU could do was punt the ball away, knowing it had missed a golden opportunity to seize control of the game.

That would be about the final highlight of the game for the hosts, as Baylor went in front 33-29 on a 59-yard pass from Florence to Kendall Wright and increased the advantage to 40-29 on a Terrance Ganaway scoring run with 5:46 left.

Mizzou tried to rally late, as it drove for Ressel's second 46-yard field goal to close the gap to 40-32 with 2:55 remaining.

After getting a defensive stop, the Tigers took over on their 24-yardline with 1:48 to play and no timeouts remaining. Gabbert hit Alexander for 36 yards and on the next play Baylor was hit for pass interference to set the Tigers up at the Baylor 22-yardline with a fresh set of downs.

But Baylor forced two straight incompletions, and after a 4-yard pass to Washington on 3rd-down, Gabbert was hurried on 4th-down and his desperation pass fell incomplete to end the chance at a Tiger rally with 0:47 seconds to play.
