- Indya Green and Alayna Kraus were named Preseason MVC Players to Watch.

- Kelowna Ngoyi and Mia Gaines also are back in maroon as the only other two Salukis to play over 200 minutes last season.

IMPACTFUL TRANSFERS

- Southern welcomes a plethora of newcomers to the roster who a set to make an impact this season.
- SIU features no freshman on their roster, with all five newcomers being transfers.
- One such newcomer is Indya Green. The transfer from Georgia Southern started 31 games for the Eagles last season, averaging 12 points-per-game and 8.8 rebounds-per-game which ranked second in the Sun Belt Conference. Her 45.2% field goal percentage was third in the conference. This will be Green's second go-around in the MVC, as she played for Missouri State for two seasons when the Bears where apart of The Valley. Prior to this season, Green was named an MVC Player to Watch.
- Also named an MVC Player to Watch was Alayna Kraus, a transfer from Oral Roberts. The Okwaville native played in 15 games last season as a freshman, averaging 3.3 points-per-game with a 42.4% shooting rate from the field and 38.5% clip from beyond the arc.

road again to visit UAB on December 3. The largely non-conference portion of the schedule closes out on December 6 at home against SEMO.

The final home game of the year takes place on February 28 against Drake before the regular season ends on March 8 at Evansville.
- The 2026 MVC Credit Union 1 Women's Basketball Tournament takes place in Coralville, Iowa, this season at the Xtream Arena.

WHAT'S A SALUKI?

- Salukis are the oldest purebred dogs in the world, with records dating back to 3600 BC. The Saluki is an ancient Egyptian hunting dog and has been known to outrun Greyhounds as the fastest dogs in the world, reaching 43 mph. So why is it SIU's mascot? The southern Illinois region is nicknamed "Little Egypt." The "Little Egypt" moniker came from a 19th-century drought in northern Illinois that led citizens to travel to southern Illinois seeking corn and wheat, a parallel to the biblical story of Jacob's brothers flocking to Egypt during a famine. The names of several southern Illinois towns have Egyptian roots: Cairo, Metropolis, Thebes, Dongola, Palestine, Lebanon, New Athens, Sparta, and Karnak.

Kelly Bond-White is entering her fourth season as the head coach of SIU's women's basketball team in 2025-26. Bond-White was named the 11th women's basketball head coach in program history on March 31, 2022.

In her third season at SIU, the Salukis were 4-26 overall and 2-18 in conference play. In her second season, players such as Laniah Randle, Adrianna Katcher, and Paige Clubb all received postseason honors. Randle was named to the All-MVC First Team and was tabbed as the MVC's Most Improved Player. Clubb was awarded a spot on the MVC Scholar-Athlete Third Team while Katcher was an honorable mention.

The Salukis ranked at or near the top of several MVC categories at the end of the 2023-24 regular season. SIU was fourth in scoring defense (68.5 points allowed-per-game), first in opponent three-

As a team, the Salukis finished the 2022-23 season third in the Valley in points-per-game (73.4) and fourth in field-goal percentage (0.432) under Bond-White. SIU also led the MVC in turnover margin at 2.74 and steals at 9.90.

Bond-White succeeded Cindy Stein, who retired after a 2021-22 season in which the Salukis won their first Missouri Valley Conference championship since 2007 and advanced to the WNIT.

Before SIU, Kelly Bond-White spent 19 season with the Texas A&M women's basketball team, where she served as Associate Head Coach since the 2007-08 season.

During her tenure at A&M, the Aggies won the 2011 NCAA National Championship, made three Elite Eight appearances, won five conference championships and have appeared in the NCAA Tournament each of the last 16 seasons. She has played a part in 444 wins in 18 seasons in Aggieland—an average of 24 wins a year.

In her career, Bond-White has been a part of 516 victories, and has coached 40 first or second team all-conference players in her career. She has coached players to 18 Associated Press All-American honors in her career.

Bond-White has spent the last 21 years on Gary Blair's coaching staff, including all 18 completed seasons at Texas A&M and his last three years at Arkansas. Her teams have made 18 appearances in the NCAA Tournament during those 20 years. During her time at A&M, she has coached 38 first-or-second team all-conference selections and 18 Associated Press All-America selections.

A former student-athlete, she played point guard for the University of Illinois and helped the Illini achieve several milestones during her four-year career including back-to-back NCAA Sweet 16 appearances. Bond-White also led the squad to the 1997 Big Ten Championship. During her junior and senior seasons, the Illini reached the 1997 and 1998 NCAA Tournaments and posted 20-win seasons.
