She explored how careerlife decisions are influenced by internal and external factors, including local and global trends.

ENGLISH STUDIES

Term: EXTENDING

Final: PROFICIENT

Carol Carter

Brittany writing has some good ideas and fun dialogue. She understands first person perspective and is confident to share her stories in the class. She took time to develop her ideas for the quality story, and then ran out of time to do the editing process. Next term, this will be an area of focus for her in writing. She completed what was required in spelling, and showed creative thinking in her study of Hamlet. Brittany should focus on adding details and descriptions to make her writing more interesting for the audience and give herself more time for polishing her stories.

ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE

Term: EMERGING

Dave Donaldson

Brittany dives into all the parts of science: for example, observing the acidification of the shells, to showing how energy is transferred in a food web, and to clipping the adipose fin on the salmon at the hatchery etc. She observes details, uses creative and critical thinking skills and asks great questions. Excellent work this term! Look forward to exploring the oceans and waterways of BC next term.
