Nikken, the Wellness Company Inspired by Nature

Nikken is a company that is inspired by nature to develop technologies that emulate natural energy sources. Therefore, we seek to project this philosophy throughout all of our products.

Just as nature has evolved over the millennia, finding ingenious solutions to complex challenges, Nikken draws inspiration from Nature's wisdom to create innovative technologies that bring harmony to our mind and body, helping you achieve “Feeling good every day”, which is a state of well-being where you experience positive emotions, optimal physical and mental functioning and a sense of balance and contentment. It is a place where you feel energized, focused and capable of achieving your goals.

Autoship

Never run out again

A brief introduction to Nikken energy technologies

Our product portfolio is inspired by nature. From air and water filtration systems to mattress toppers, from KenkoTherm® wraps to organic nutritional supplements, from marine organic skin care to energy-enhancing magnetics, we believe nature can help us achieve overall total well-being.

Nikken approaches product innovation through biomimicry, which is the practice of learning about ourselves, our purpose and our connectivity to all living things as a way to living well and thriving.

Just as nature has evolved over millennia, finding ingenious solutions to complex challenges, Nikken draws inspiration from nature's wisdom to create innovative technologies that bring harmony to our bodies.

Grounding Technology

The Earth has its own energy in the form of a mild “negative” charge. In our daily lives we build up a “positive” charge in our cells. These products help us reconnect with the Earth’s natural energy and cancel out the positive charge – helping to restore a healthful natural balance.

DynaFlux® Technology

Advanced DynaFlux® Technology further develops Nikken magnetic technologies into increasingly compact form factors, achieving thinner and more powerful configurations for a more intense field strength and increase depth penetration.

Ceramic Reflective Technology

These products use ceramic materials to absorb heat energy and reflect it back as gentle, relaxing warmth.

Advanced Magnetic Technology

These products contain Nikken Magnetic Technology for improved well-being and relaxation.

Tourmaline Technology

When exposed to pressure, heat or motion, the tourmaline in these products gives off electrons which can help create a calming effect like the natural setting of a waterfall.

Smart Hydration

The PiMag Waterfall® gravity water system provides better cellular hydration and gives you clean, filtered water on tap from this multi-stage filtration system.

This compact water system's natural filtration, alkalizing pi minerals and magnetic technology can help balance water pH, to counteract the effect of an acidic environment and assist in fighting against oxidative damage.

The Waterfall operates by a simple gravity process that conserves resources and provides PiMag water at an affordable price.
