Summary

The crew slogged through rain, sleet, smoke, and all around IFR conditions again today. We completed three legs, completing Customs in Great Falls, MT. The goal was to make Salt Lake City, but due to weather and time, Bozeman was chosen for overnighting. There is concern for icing and thunderstorms on tomorrow's path and conditions will be monitored with hopes of still arriving in Tucson tomorrow, although not before tomorrow evening.

Concerns

P3 database generates a corrupted Daily Report file when Domain 00 chosen for Transits.

Pictures

Crossing over the US-Canada border into Montana. A faint fence line of the border can be made out.

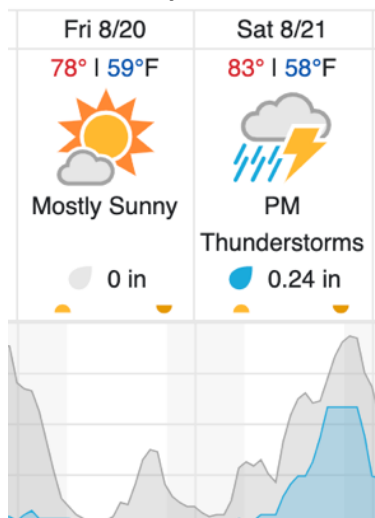

The real scenery was the pilots hard work getting us through the nasty conditions today.
