Summary

The plane's electrical issue was repaired today by a TOIL mechanic that arrived last night. We also needed to do a pilot swap today which did not allow us to continue the transit until tomorrow morning. The crew will depart the Miami area early tomorrow morning, and we anticipate a midday Thursday arrival back into boulder. We are also tracking a winter storm that looks like it will be moving through Colorado on Thursday, this could delay the arrival to possible Friday.

Concerns

None.

Comments

-Elissa rotated out of the flight crew today, thanks for the hard work in D04 and the transit! Abe rotated in to finish the transit back to boulder. Welcome back Abe!!
