Summary

A TOIL mechanic arrived late last night and worked through the night in an attempt to ready the plane for flights today, but was unable to resolve the issue with fuel pressure switch in time. After acquiring a different part later in the day, the issue was finally resolved early this evening. The Twin Otter should be ready for flights tomorrow morning.

Concerns

None

Comments

The crew will continue to monitor the timing of upcoming poor weather with possible remaining collection opportunities to determine the best early departure date.
