WILDCATS, WOLVERINES CLASH THURSDAY EVENING

Fresh off a heart-stopping 59-58 victory over intra-state rival Illinois, Northwestern turns around and once again takes on hosting duties, welcoming Michigan to Welsh-Ryan Arena Thursday evening. Tip is set for 7 p.m. and will be streamed live on BTN.com.

The Wildcats have won two of their last three games, with a hard-fought loss at No. 11/13 Ohio State the lone blemish. Michigan enters the contest receiving votes in this week's ESPN/USA Today Coaches' poll and boasts a 14-4 overall record and a 3-2 conference mark.

Next Up...

Northwestern completes its circuit of three games in six days when it travels to Madison for a 2 p.m. game against Wisconsin Sunday.

Last Time Out...

Northwestern maintained control throughout the second half, and sealed the deal with a clutch free throw by freshman Karly Roser with 2.6 seconds left to overcome a pesky Illinois squad, 59-58, Monday evening at Welsh-Ryan Arena. The 'Cats (12-6, 2-3) used a balanced scoring attack, led by junior Dannielle Diamant with 16 points, to hold off the Fighting Illini and pick up their second Big Ten win. Kendall Hackney, Morgan Jones and Roser also scored in double figures for the Wildcats.

Dannielle Diamant has stepped up big for the Wildcats in the past three games, averaging 19.6 ppg.

Opponent Profile

Michigan Wolverines

2011-12 Record: 14-4, 3-2

Series History: Northwestern leads, 36-25

Last Meeting: Jan. 20 2011; in Evanston, Michigan, 76-67

Of Note: Northwestern is 3-2 vs. Michigan since Coach McKeown joined NU in 2008. The Wildcats last beat the Wolverines during the 2009-10 season with a 64-60 victory in Evanston. Northwestern only saw Michigan once during Big Ten play last season and fell 76-67 on January 20, 2011 in Evanston.

Hackney Approaches 1,000-Point Plateau

Junior Kendall Hackney needs just 17 more points to join the 1,000-point club. Hackney would be the 14th Wildcat to reach the milestone. With nine rebounds against Illinois, Hackney is 51 rebounds away from 500 on her career.

By The Slimmest Of Margins...

When looking at Monday night's boxscore, one is treated to a statistical anomaly. The two teams made the same number of field goals (20/60, 20/61), and came within two of each other in three-pointers made, assists, turnovers, blocks and steals. Both squads scored 30 points in the second half. The "largest" margin came in the rebounding category, where NU held a 48-43 edge. Where was the difference, you ask? Northwestern dominated in the paint, outscoring Illinois 26-14, and converted seven Illini turnovers into 12 points. Karly Roser's free-throw with 2.6 seconds on the clock gave Northwestern the lead at just the right time to earn its second Conference win of the year.

One More Look At Ohio State

When the Wildcats left Columbus last Thursday, they departed with nothing to be ashamed of, coming into the lair of the No. 11/13 team in the country who had just been issued their first loss of the year. Looking at the stat sheet, Northwestern shot a season-high 52.9 percent compared to OSU's 50.8 percent and nearly matched them in every other category. The telling number came in the turnover column where Ohio State converted 17 'Cat miscues into 30 points. Amber Stokes and Samantha Prahalis combined for six of those turnovers.

Road Warriors

Though Northwestern dropped a well-played contest at No. 11/13 Ohio State Thursday, it marked just the second time this season the Wildcats lost in true road games (not including neutral site contests). NU is 6-2 away from Welsh-Ryan Arena, having posted several impressive victories including at LSU, a place that had been a safe haven for the Lady Tigers in the past, as they were 155-11 over the last 14 years against unranked teams. The 'Cats proceeded knocked off then-unbeaten Missouri in Columbia 10 days later. Northwestern also has won at Central Michigan, at Loyola, at UNLV and at Indiana a week ago.

No Easy Path

In total, six conference programs are ranked or receiving votes in the latest rankings. Ohio State climbs back into the top 10 of the latest Associated Press (AP) poll, appearing at No. 10, and checks in at No. 12 in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches poll. Purdue climbed four spots in the media rankings to No. 13 this week and jumped two spots in the coaches poll to No. 18. Nebraska appears at No. 20 in the AP rankings and No. 24 in the coaches poll, while Penn State climbs back into the AP rankings at No. 22 and rises four spots to No. 21 in the coaches poll. Michigan State is receiving votes in the AP poll, while tonight's opponent, Michigan, is receiving votes from the coaches.

Trending...

When you talk about the Wildcats this season, freshmen Morgan Jones and Karly Roser will undoubtedly be at the forefront of conversation. The two freshmen have started every game for Northwestern this season, following in the footsteps of another familiar duo, Kendall Hackney and Dannielle Diamant, who also saw significant floor time during their first year in Evanston. Jones and Roser not only contribute in the points column, but also in the assists category. When the two combine to dish out 12 or more assists, the 'Cats are undefeated (5-0). Another fun fact--when Diamant scores 10 or more points, the Wildcats are 9-2.

Dangerous Duo

Kendall Hackney and Morgan Jones have been two busy Wildcats this year. The pair have combined for 46.6 percent (558/1,197) of Northwestern's offensive production and are the team's top rebounders.

2011-12 NORTHWESTERN WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Wildcats In The RPI

In the most recent edition of both the Collegiate Basketball News's RPI (Rating Percentage Index) report as well as the inaugural NCAA RPI, Northwestern ranks 47th in the nation.

Sharing the Wealth

When looking at the Wildcats' leading scorers and rebounders each game, count on seeing a familiar trio. Kendall Hackney has led NU in scoring on a team-high eight occasions while fellow junior Dannielle Diamant has led the team six times and freshman Morgan Jones has been the top scorer thrice. Diamant headlines the rebounding category, leading the 'Cats seven times while Jones has paced NU on five occasions. Karly Roser and Jones have topped the assist category nine and eight times, respectively.

Winning Ways

This year's senior class of Allison Mocchi and Brittany Orban are the winningest group of Wildcats since 1996-97. The two have been an integral part of the Wildcats' renaissance, posting 56 victories since the 2008-09 season. Over the past three seasons (including the current year), head coach Joe McKeown has guided the Wildcats to a combined 49 victories.

Wildcats Shot Out To Best Start Under McKeown

With its 79-49 victory over UNLV on Dec. 18, Northwestern improved to 9-1 on the year; its best record through 10 games in Joe McKeown's tenure. In the two previous seasons, the Wildcats were 8-2 through the opening 10 games. The last time NU went 9-1 to open the season was in the 1995-96 season. The Wildcats dropped the next game to Kansas State, 64-45.

'Tis The Season For Charitable Acts

Northwestern turned in a season-best 20-of-21 (95 percent) effort from the charity stripe against UNLV (12/18/11). For their effort, the 'Cats moved into fifth in the Big Ten and are connecting on 71.4 percent of their attempts.

Roser On The Rise

According to the most recent NCAA statistics, (1.15.12), freshman Karly Roser ranks 19th in the nation in assists per game (5.7). Roser is fourth in the Big Ten in that category. The Canadian turned in a career-best 14 points while adding a pair of assists in the Wildcats' Big Ten opener at Iowa. She now has tallied double figures in five out of the last seven outings.

Double Dipping

Karly Roser is the only Wildcat with two double-doubles on the season. The freshman scored 12 points and 10-assists, complemented by seven rebounds, two blocks and two steals against Western Kentucky (11.15.11). She registered her second double-double against NC State (11.30.11) with 10 points and 10 assists.

Roser is tied for sixth in the League in field goal percentage, connecting on 48.0 percent of her attempts and is 11th in steals, with 1.9 per game.

May I Assist You?

A trademark of Joe McKeown's teams have been their ability to move the ball and rack up assists. This year is no different, as the Wildcats are second in the Big Ten, averaging 16.8 assists per outing. That number also ranks 18th in the nation according to the latest NCAA statistics (1.15.12). Against Morgan State, the Wildcats recorded a season-high 32 helps.

Hello, Kendall Hackney

Junior Kendall Hackney has scored 20 or more points in five of NU's last 12 games, including a career-high 29 points in the Wildcats' win over Morgan State on 12/14. Hackney leads the team with 16.3 ppg and is seventh in the Big Ten in scoring (as of 1/17). She has reached double-figures in 13-straight straight games.

Orban Tears ACL

Senior four-year starter Brittany Orban tore her ACL against NC State on Nov. 30 and will be out indefinitely. Her absence will be felt on several levels, considering she started every game except three in her career in Evanston.

McKEOWN INKS THREE

Head coach Joe McKeown announced today (Friday, Nov. 11) the signing of three players to National Letters of Intent. This year's class features Tennessee native Lauren Douglas (Collierville, Tenn./Briarcrest Christian), Atlanta native Christen Johnson (Powder Springs, Ga.) and local product Maggie Lyon (Wilmette, Ill./New Trier). 2011-12 NORTHWESTERN WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Newcomers Dominate Freshman of the Week Accolades

Morgan Jones and Karly Roser have had somewhat of a monopoly on the Conference's Freshman of the Week honor, winning it in four of the first six weeks of the season. Jones won it on back-to-back weeks (Nov. 28/Dec. 5) and the week of Dec. 19 while Roser made the list first, garnering it on Nov. 21.

Oh, And More About Morgan

Jones is one of two freshmen to appear in the Big Ten's top-15 leading scorers, joining Minnesota's newbee, Rachel Banham in the elite group. Jones also is tied for fifth in the Conference in three-pointers made per game (2.2) and is eighth in assists (3.8 apg).

Spreading The Love

Unlike seasons past when Northwestern's offense centered around one player, this year is shaping up to be one of a more democratic nature. Three of NU's starters are averaging double digits, led by junior Kendall Hackney with 16.3 ppg. Freshman Morgan Jones and fellow classmate Dannielle Diamant and are second and third, averaging 14.7 and 12.6 ppg, respectively. Karly Roser has contributed a pair of double-doubles as well as team-leading 34 steals.

Oh Captain, My Captain

Seniors Brittany Orban and Allison Mocchi are this year's team captains. It is the second year in a row Mocchi has been named captain and the first such nod for Orban.

A Change Is In The Air

Northwestern enters the 2011-12 campaign in search of its third-consecutive postseason appearance, having reached the WNIT in each of the last two seasons. Fourth-year head coach Joe McKeown has led the Wildcats to 18 and 19-win seasons over the past two years, the most wins since the 1995-96 and 1996-97 seasons.

Young 'Cats

Three new faces grace the hardwood for the Wildcats, in Morgan Jones, Karly Roser and Alex Cohen, a class that is arguably the strongest group to come to Evanston under McKeown's tenure. The group was ranked 14th by ESPN's Hoopgurlz.

Welcome, Ms. Jones

When junior Tailor Jones looks to make a slick pass this year, she will have an all-too-familiar face to dish to. Her sister, Morgan, is a member of the outstanding freshman class and was ranked ninth in the nation and third at her position by Hoopgurlz. The sisters have played together on AAU teams in high school. In addition to being the ninth-ranked recruit in the nation and third at her position, Morgan Jones is the first Wildcat since Amy Jaeschke to be named a McDonald's All-American and a WBCA All-American.

Another Year Older...

The 2011-12 season is the 36th year of women's basketball at Northwestern and also marks the 26th year Wildcat mentor Joe McKeown has been a head coach. McKeown has coached at only three schools during that time (New Mexico State, George Washington and Northwestern). For more information on McKeown, please see his bio page.

JOE McKEOWN

26th season overall
Fourth at Northwestern
Overall record: 565-232

On June 9, 2008, Northwestern University Director of Athletics and Recreation Jim Phillips named Joe McKeown the head women's basketball coach at Northwestern. McKeown (pronounced Mick-Q-ann) is the sixth mentor to guide Northwestern's women's basketball program.

In just his first three seasons in Evanston, McKeown has transformed the culture of the women's basketball program. The Wildcats enter the 2011-12 campaign following the best back-to-back seasons in nearly 15 years. Combined, the 2009-10 and 2010-11 campaigns yielded 37 victories, two postseason appearances and milestone wins over nationally-renown Ohio State, LSU and DePaul.

On the individual level, 2010-11 marked the first time a Wildcat was selected in the WNBA draft as Amy Jaeschke was selected as the 27th pick overall by the Chicago Sky. Jaeschke turned in not only one of the best seasons in Wildcat annals, but also one of the most storied careers. In the Northwestern record books, she finished her career ranked first in blocks and second in scoring and in rebounding. Jaeschke also was tabbed an Associated Press honorable mention All-American, marking the first time since 1998 that a Wildcat appeared on the prestigious list.

Northwestern's improvement from 2008-09 (7-23) to 2009-10 (18-15) was tied for the 10th best turnaround in the nation and ranked fourth among BCS schools. In winning percentage comparison, the Wildcats' above-.500 mark (.545) was a 31.2 percent improvement from last season. The success yielded NU's first postseason appearance in 13 years and a ticket to the WNIT, which led to two victories and a trip to the event's round of 16.

McKeown joined the Wildcats following 19 years as the head coach at George Washington University, where he became one of the most respected names in women's college basketball. During the 2007-08 season, McKeown became the 34th head coach in Division I history to pass the 500-victory mark. He brought 509 career victories, a total which ranked 21st on the active Division I list, to Evanston.

Entering the 2011-12 campaign, McKeown's .710 winning percentage (553-226) ranks 23rd all-time among active coaches (minimum five years) and his 553 career victories is tied for 36th among active coaches (minimum five years). He also is tied for 19th in the 20-plus win seasons category (minimum 10 years as head coach). McKeown left George Washington as the winningest coach in school history and in the Atlantic 10 Conference. In 24 seasons as a college head coach, McKeown has guided his team to postseason play 20 times. He coached the Colonials to 14 regular season or postseason Atlantic 10 crowns.

In his 19 seasons at George Washington, McKeown compiled a 441-154 record, with his 1997 squad reaching the Elite Eight. On three other occasions, the Colonials advanced to the Sweet Sixteen—1995, 2007 and 2008. In his 15 NCAA Tournament trips with GW, the Colonials won their first-round tournament game 13 times. McKeown is a five-time Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year (1991, 1997, 2000, 2002, 2007) and two-time National Coach of the Year nominee (1995, 1997).

After spending three seasons as the head coach at New Mexico State, where he went 68-20 and appeared in two NCAA tournaments, McKeown went to George Washington in September of 1989, inheriting a team that went 9-19 a year earlier. After his first squad went 14-14, McKeown quickly turned the Colonials into an elite women's college program with his teams averaging nearly 24 wins per year the next 18 seasons.

At GW, McKeown coached six Atlantic 10 Players of the Year. He also has mentored seven A-10 Rookies of the Year, five Defensive Players of the Year, five Sixth Players of the Year, 14 All-Rookie Team selections and 51 all-conference performers. McKeown has coached 16 players who have gone on to play professional basketball (four WNBA draft picks).

Equally as impressive as GW's success on the court was its outstanding performance in the classroom. During McKeown's tenure with the Colonials, George Washington players received Atlantic 10 Academic All-Conference recognition 17 times and eight players were named CoSIDA academic all-district selections (three Academic All-Americans). Of those eight, one was a Rhodes Scholar nominee and another received a Fulbright Scholarship. Other former student-athletes under McKeown's guidance include a GW School of Business Distinguished Scholar Award, an NCAA Woman of the Year representative and two Atlantic 10 Student-Athletes of the Year.

McKeown also is involved with USA Basketball, as he recently was named an assistant coach for the 2008 USA Basketball Women's U-18 National Basketball Team. He was also a floor coach for the 1992 Olympic team.

Prior to coaching at New Mexico State, McKeown served as an assistant coach at the University of Oklahoma from 1983-86, and at his alma mater, Kent State University, from 1979-80. Oklahoma posted at least 20 wins in each of McKeown's three years on the coaching staff.

As a player, McKeown earned Junior College National Small Player of the Year honors at Mercer College in Trenton, N.J. He helped the team to a 33-1 record and a spot in the NJCAA championship game. McKeown transferred to Kent State the following season, where he was co-captain of the Golden Flashes as a senior and earned honorable mention All-Mid-American Conference honors. His school-record 15 assists in a game still stands after 26 years.

A proud native of Philadelphia, McKeown was inducted into the Father Judge High School Hall of Fame, a prestigious member of the Philadelphia Catholic League, in 1999.

McKeown and his family are heavily involved in the Autism Speaks Foundation, which raises money nation-wide to create awareness and raise money for the fight against autism. McKeown and his wife, Laura, have three children, Meghan, Joey and Ally.
