GAME NO. 4: HOFSTRA

DOUGLAS DELIVERS IN NU WIN OVER UNLV

Northwestern battled with UNLV Sunday night at Welsh-Ryan Arena and after eight ties and 11 lead changes, the Wildcats emerged the 57-53 victors. Sophomore forward Lauren Douglas provided a spark off the bench for Northwestern with 11 points, including a key 3-pointer late in the game to tie things up at 53-53, and eight rebounds.

Sophomore guard Maggie Lyon led the team with 12 points and chipped in five rebounds. Freshman forward Nia Coffey earned her second-consecutive double-double, posting 10 points and 10 rebounds in just 26 minutes. Alex Cohen also had a solid contribution for the Wildcats, scoring nine points to go along with six rebounds and a team-high four blocks.

Trailing 53-50, Douglas took control, draining a 3-pointer with 1:22 to play to tie things up at 53-53. Lyon added an insurance bucket to put NU up two and Douglas recorded another key play on the defensive end, drawing a charge, erasing any UNLV chance at tying the game up. She then put the finishing touches on the NU victory, draining two free throws with three seconds left.

handling the backcourt in the team's 3-0 start. The 5-foot-4 guard from Flower Mound, Texas, is averaging 5.0 assists per game, which ranks third in the Big Ten, to go along with 6.3 points, 2.7 rebounds and a team-best average of 3.0 steals per game (tied for fourth in the Big Ten). She also is third on the team in minutes, averaging 33.0 per game.

NO LOSS NOVEMBER

Northwestern is out to a 3-0 start so far this year, which continues a streak of quality starts for the Wildcats during the Joe McKeown era. Last year, NU went a perfect 6-0 in the month of November and in 2011-12, posted a 5-1 result. In total, the Wildcats have recorded 27 wins in November over the last six years. Here's a look at the team's record in November during the McKeown era:

2013-14: 3-0
 2012-13: 6-0
 2011-12: 5-1
 2010-11: 6-0
 2009-10: 5-1

'CATS ON THE BLOCK

Northwestern currently leads the Big Ten in blocks, averaging 8.0 per game (24 blocks in three games). Two Wildcats rank in the top five in the conference as Nia Coffey's 3.7 blocks per game are second while Alex Cohen comes in at fourth with 2.3 per game. NU's leading shot blocker last year, Lauren Douglas, has 53 career blocks and needs just eight more to crack the top 10 in NU history. Douglas, who is just a sophomore, had two blocks Sunday vs. UNLV while Cohen and Coffey led the way with four and three swats, respectively.

'CATS HOST KNOCKOUT TOURNAMENT TO RAISE AUTISM AWARENESS

Members of the NU women's basketball team are hosting a Knockout Tournament to benefit Autism Speaks U this Thursday, Nov. 21, at the Henry Crown Sports Pavilion (2311 Campus Dr, Evanston, Ill.).

There is an entrance fee of $5 to play. There will be a first round where everyone gets the opportunity to play and then the winners from each basket will compete for the finals. There will be prizes, raffle prizes, trivia, a hula hoop contest, and food!

ON THE HORIZON...

After starting the season with four-straight home games at Welsh-Ryan Arena, Northwestern travels to Berkeley, Calif., this weekend for its first road test of the year against No. 11 California. Tip is set for Sunday, Nov. 24 at 5 p.m. CT and that game will air live on the Pac-12 Network.

After the first road game of the year, NU then remains in the state of Illinois for six-straight games, five of which are at Welsh-Ryan Arena. NU is back home next week hosting Lafayette on Wednesday, Nov. 27, and then hosts the fifth annual Autism Awareness Game on Sunday, Dec. 1 vs. crosstown rival DePaul.

LYON'S DOUBLE-DIGIT STREAK

Sophomore guard Maggie Lyon has scored in bunches for the Wildcats during her short time in Evanston. Last year, she averaged 12.6 points per game and scored in double figures in 20 of her 25 games played. That included two lengthy streaks of eight-straight games scoring 10+ points and again 12-consecutive games to end the regular season with Lyon scoring 10+ points each game. She has started her sophomore season right where she finished, scoring in double figures in each of the first three games and is tied for second on the team, averaging 13.0 points per game. In total, Lyon has scored double figures in 23 of her 28 games played, or 82.1 percent of her games with the Wildcats.

COFFEY HONORED BY BIG TEN AFTER NORTHWESTERN DEBUT

After leading the Wildcats with 19 points in the squad's 2013-14 season-opening victory against UIC, Nia Coffey (Minneapolis, Minn./Hopkins) has been honored as Big Ten Co-Freshman of the Week, the conference announced Tuesday. Coffey shares the first weekly honor of the year with Indiana's Larry Brooks.

The 6-1 forward made her first career start vs. UIC and scored a game-high 19 points to go along with another game-high of five blocks in 25 minutes. She also added four rebounds and three steals while shooting 58.3 percent from the field (7-of-12).

This is the first weekly accolade for Coffey and continues a lengthy string of Big Ten Freshmen of the Week honors for the Northwestern women's basketball team. Last year, Wildcat freshmen Maggie Lyon and

RARE COMPANY

Freshman forward Christen Inman joined rare company during NU's home-opener against UIC. She went a perfect 10-for-10 from the free throw line, making her just the third freshman in Northwestern history to go at least 10-for-10 from the line. She joins Mary Murphy (10-10, vs. Central Michigan, 3/10/77) and Brittany Orban (13-13, at Ohio State, 2/15/09) on that elite list but separates herself even further as she is the only Wildcat newcomer to go at least 10-for-10 from the line in her debut. Inman's perfect night at the line also is the 11th time a Wildcat has gone at least 10-for-10 from the line.

STRONG SCHEDULE

Northwestern has a strong regular-season schedule this year, playing 14 teams that qualified for the postseason a year ago (California, DePaul, N.C. State, Oral Roberts, IUPUI, Indiana State, Iowa, Michigan, Michigan State, Nebraska, Penn State, Purdue, Minnesota and Illinois), with the possibility of that number increasing to 15 should NU face Tulane in a tournament in late December. Included in that mix is a 2013 Final Four squad as NU visits California on Nov. 24. In total, 18 of Northwestern's 29 regular-season games (with the potential to increase to 19) feature an opponent that made either the 2013 NCAA Tournament or 2013 WNIT. Eight foes reached the NCAA tournament a year ago including Cal, DePaul, Iowa, Michigan, Michigan State, Nebraska, Penn State and Purdue.

In fact, Northwestern only leaves the state of Illinois twice during the nonconference season, traveling to face Cal on Nov. 24 and again to New Orleans to play at the Tulane/DoubleTree Classic, Dec. 28-29. NU also has a nonconference road game at Loyola (Chicago), which is just a short drive south of Evanston.

STREAK SNAPPED

Junior guard Karly Roser had an impressive streak of 60-consecutive games played heading into the 2013-14 season. The All-Big Ten point guard suffered an injury during the preseason, which caused her to miss her first game in her Wildcat tenure as she was not on the court for NU's season-opener vs. UIC. In her first two years as NU's floor general, Roser started all 60 games and averaged 34.5 minutes per contest. Now a junior, Roser is one of three captains on the 2013-14 squad.

DOUG COLLINS SPEAKS WITH THE WILDCATS

Before the Wildcats officially opened the 2013-14 season on Sunday vs. UIC, the team received a special treat on Friday, Nov. 8, when Doug Collins addressed the team (picture at left). Collins had an illustrious playing career as the No. 1 pick in the 1973 NBA Draft, was a four-time NBA All-Star and member of the 1972 U.S. Olympic Team. He then went on to have success coaching in the NBA and coached one of the greatest players of all time, Michael Jordan, during his tenure with the Bulls. Collins is the father of current NU men's head coach Chris Collins and provided an inspirational speech to the Wildcats as they prepared for their opening weekend of competition.

NORTHWESTERN HEAD COACH JOE MCKEOWN • SIXTH SEASON AT NU

Joe McKeown is one of the most successful coaches in NCAA women's basketball history. Now in his 28th season as a head coach, sixth with the Wildcats, he brings 580 career victories with him into the 2013-14 season and ranks amongst the top 15 in career wins amongst active Division I coaches. During his tenure, the Wildcats have established a number of program firsts, including Maggie Lyon's crowning as the 2013 Big Ten Freshman of the Year and Amy Jaeschke becoming the first Wildcat to be selected in the WNBA Draft (2011 WNBA Draft). Additionally, the Wildcats had the best back-to-back seasons in nearly 15 years under McKeown's watch. Combined, the 2009-10 and 2010-11 campaigns yielded 37 victories, two postseason appearances and milestone wins over nationally-renown Ohio State, LSU and DePaul.

Jaeschke, a local product from Wilmette, Ill., turned in not only one of the best seasons in Wildcat annals, but also one of the most storied careers. In the Northwestern record books, she finished her career ranked first in blocks and second in scoring and in rebounding. Jaeschke also was tabbed an Associated Press honorable mention All-American, marking the first time since 1998 that a Wildcat appeared on the prestigious list.

Northwestern's improvement from 2008-09 (7-23) to 2009-10 (18-15) was tied for the 10th best turnaround in the nation and ranked fourth among BCS schools. In winning percentage comparison, the Wildcats' above-.500 mark (.545) was a 31.2 percent improvement from last season. The success yielded NU's first postseason appearance in 13 years and a ticket to the WNIT, which led to two victories and a trip to the event's round of 16.

GUESS WHO'S BACK

Last year's Big Ten Freshman of the Year, Maggie Lyon, is back for her sophomore campaign as the Wilmette, Ill., native also was recognized as an Honorable Mention All-Big Ten pick by the media. Lyon was second on the team in scoring a year ago, and is the team's leading scorer amongst returning players, averaging 12.6 ppg. Point guard Karly Roser returns for her junior season as she is coming off a 2012-13 campaign where she was an Honorable Mention All-Big Ten selection by the media after averaging career highs in points (9.4 ppg), rebounds (4.9 rpg), steals (1.7 spg) and assists (6.3 apg).

NU head coach Joe McKeown begins his sixth season at the helm of the Wildcats. The 28-year coaching veteran brings 580 career wins into the 2013-14 season.

'CATS NAME CAPTAINS FOR 2013-14 SEASON

Seniors La'Terria Taylor (Chicago, Ill./Von Stueben) and Meghan McKeown (Fairfax, Va./Loyola Academy (Ill.)) along with junior Karly Roser (Hamilton, Ontario, Canada/Saint Mary's) have been named tri-captains for the 'Cats.

"I'm really excited about our captains," Northwestern head coach Joe McKeown said. "They bring great leadership, commitment and academic excellence to our program. All three had to overcome adversity during their careers and they have great respect from their teammates, the coaching staff and the Northwestern Community."

MCKEOWN ADDS THREE TO THE WILDCAT FAMILY

Northwestern head coach Joe McKeown announced on Nov. 13 the signing of three players to National Letters of Intent to enroll at Northwestern University and compete for the women's basketball program beginning in the fall of 2014. The Wildcats are excited to welcome Alexis Glasgow (Arlington Heights, Ill./Rolling Meadows), Morgan Green (Santa Cruz, Calif./Pacific Collegiate) and Maya Jonas (Whitefish Bay, Wis./Whitefish Bay) to the Northwestern family.

Glasgow, a 5-11 guard from Rolling Meadows, Ill., was an AP All-State First-Team honoree as well as an IBCA All-State Second-Team selection for Class 4A. A Ms. Illinois Basketball nominee, Glasgow had averages of 17.7 points, 4.0 rebounds and 2.1 steals per game as a junior. She helped lead Rolling Meadows to 30-3 record en route to a Class 4A State Finals appearance during her junior season.

"Alexis is one of the top players in the state of Illinois and we were really excited when she chose Northwestern," McKeown said. "I love her toughness and the fact that she plays in such a high level high school program (Rolling Meadows). Alexis also is a great student-athlete that understands the value of education and what a Northwestern degree can do for her. She also is unselfish and will fit our team concept at NU."

A 5-8 guard from California, Green had a junior season which saw her record impressive numbers of 30.8 points, 7.8 rebounds, 5.3 assists and 6.6 steals per game at Pacific Collegiate High School. She was ranked the No. 5 prospect in the state of California according to NorCalPreps and No. 60 in the country according to ESPN.com. Green also is very active off the court as she was co-vice president of the Model UN Club, student body vice president and enjoys writing poetry along with short stories. She also can speak conversational Chinese and plans to major in biology with a concentration in neuroscience at Northwestern.

"It's great to welcome Morgan Green to the Wildcat Family," McKeown said. "She is a really gifted student-athlete that had many choices in her recruiting process. By leaving California to come to Northwestern, she found a national university, a family atmosphere, and the competition of one of the best conferences in the country in the Big Ten. Morgan will be a great fit in our program, both on and off the court."

Jonas has had an accomplished career at Whitefish Bay High School in Wisconsin. The 6-2 guard has earned all-conference honors each of her three years, including two seasons as a first-team honoree, and was recognized with WBCA Division 2 First-Team All-State accolades. She helped Whitefish Bay advance to the WIAA sectional finals as a sophomore when she averaged 12.5 points, 8.0 rebounds, 2.5 blocks and 1.5 steals.

"We are really excited about Maya's decision to come to Northwestern," McKeown said. "She is one of the top student-athletes in the country and brings a great passion for basketball to our program. All through her recruitment, she emphasized how important a family atmosphere was to her and I think she found that at NU, as well as one of the top academic schools in America. Maya is really unselfish and has the ability to play anywhere on the floor. She has a great future at Northwestern!"

'CATS HOST FIFTH ANNUAL AUTISM AWARENESS GAME DEC. 1

A tradition that began with head coach Joe McKeown, Northwestern will host the fifth annual Autism Awareness Game on Sunday, Dec. 1 when DePaul visits Welsh-Ryan Arena. A cause that is near and dear to the Wildcat women's basketball program, Northwestern will once again welcome the Chicagoland chapter of Autism Speaks and continue to create awareness for the cause. There will be a quiet room available in the arena and other special in-game activities.
