SEAHAWKS SQUARE OFF AGAINST LADY MONARCHS THURSDAY

The UNCW women's basketball team returns to action Thursday as it welcomes Old Dominion to Trask Coliseum for a 7 p.m. Colonial Athletic Association contest.

Playing their fifth home game in six outings, the Seahawks will look to return to the win column after suffering a 64-51 setback to visiting Drexel on Sunday.

Senior Karneshia Garrett tallied 11 points to lead a UNCW attack that shot 44.2 percent from the floor and 76.9 percent (10-of-13) from the free-throw line, but the Dragons committed just five turnovers and took advantage of a 26-point performance from Preseason All-CAA selection Hollie Mershon to remain undefeated in league play.

The Seahawks will take a week-long break from competition after its contest against the Lady Monarchs before returning to action Jan. 24 with a 7 p.m. contest at Delaware.

SEAHAWK STORYLINES

► Thursday's contest marks the 45th meeting between UNCW and Old Dominion. The Lady Monarchs have dominated the series since its inception, winning all but one of the previous 44 meetings between the two schools since joining the CAA in 1991-92. The Seahawks picked up their first victory in the series last season, posting a 76-54 win at the Ted Constant Center on Jan. 22 before the Lady Monarchs evened the season series with a 59-57 victory at Trask Coliseum on Feb. 12.

► The UNCW women's basketball program is in its 40th season of competition and has compiled an all-time record of 459-573 (.445) entering today's contest. The Seahawks have recorded four 20-wins seasons (1983-84, 2002-03, 2010-11, 2011-12) and made two post-season appearances (2011 & 2012 WNIT) in that span.

► UNCW has struggled to rebound the basketball this season as it ranks 10th in the CAA in rebounding margin (-4.9). The Seahawks have been out-rebounded by their opponent in all but three of its 14 games this season, but did post a positive rebounding margin (33-to-25) in its victory at William & Mary on Jan. 8.

► The Seahawks have made it hard for the opposition to make shots from the field this season as opponents are making just 38.4 percent (331-of-863) of their tries from the field this season, representing the fourth-best field goal percentage defense in program history. Of UNCW's 14 opponents this season, only five (Liberty, NKU, North Carolina A&T, William & Mary and Drexel) have shot better than 40 percent from the field against the Seahawks.

► UNCW has shot better from the floor in its last two games as it made 42 of 90 attempts from the floor in its contests against William & Mary and Drexel last week, highlighted by a season-best 48.9 percent (23-of-47) effort in its victory against the Tribe on Jan. 8. The Seahawks have struggled to shoot the ball this season as they have made just 35.9 percent (273-for-761) of its field goal attempts in 2012-13, ranking 10th in the CAA in that category.

► Senior forward Karneshia Garrett has been a force to be reckoned with on the glass this season as she enters Sunday's contest 20th in the nation in rebounds per game (10.9). She has grabbed double-digit rebounds in seven of 13 games played this season, highlighted by a pair of 18-rebound performances at Wake Forest (Nov. 14) and against North Carolina Central (Nov. 28). Garrett has led the team in rebounds on nine occasions this season.

► Junior guard Jessica Freeman leads the team in scoring (10.6) and steals (2.3) and ranks second in assists (2.4). Freeman has served as an iron-woman of sorts for the Seahawks this season, having played all 40 minutes in six games, including each of the last five contests, to rank second in the league in minutes played per game (35.9).

► Sophomore transfer Kelva Atkins leads the Seahawks in assists (2.7) and is second in scoring (10.6). Atkins, who ranks 11th in the CAA in field goal percentage (.453), has scored in double figures in six of the last 11 games, including a season-high 20 points in UNCW's matchup with Charlotte on Dec. 5.

DREXEL RECAP

UNCW moved to 2-12 overall and 1-2 in league play with a 64-51 setback to visiting Drexel on Sunday.

► Drexel senior Hollie Mershon poured in a season-high 26 points to lead all scorers as the Dragons were 24-of-58 (.414) from the floor, including 9-of-23 (.391) from three-point range. The 5-10 shooter matched her season high and scored the most points by an opponent this season against the Seahawks, connecting on 10-of-14 from the floor, including 6-of-8 from behind the arc.

► Senior forward Karneshia Garrett was the lone player in double digits for UNCW with 11 points, while senior forward Chelsea McGowen added five points and a team-high 11 rebounds.

► The contest featured a total of just one tie and three lead changes as Drexel took the lead for good at the 17:05 mark of the first half. The Seahawks would pull within one possession on five occasions in the first half, but got no closer than four points over the final 20 minutes.

► The Seahawks shot above 40 percent from the floor for the second straight contest and fourth time this season as they were 19-of-43 (.442) from the field. UNCW's post players combined to make 10-of-13 field goal attempts against the Dragons, but the Seahawk guards were a combined 10-of-30 from the field.

► The Seahawks were just 3-of-15 from three-point range as they shot below 30 percent from beyond the arc for the 12th time this season.

► UNCW also established a new season-high at the charity stripe, shooting 10-of-13 (.769) from the free-throw line.

► The Seahawks finished with a season-low three steals as the Dragons committed just five turnovers in the contest. UNCW ended the game with 13 turnovers, which Drexel turned into 20 points.

► Drexel held a slim 32-30 margin on the glass, but grabbed 15 offensive rebounds that they turned into 18 second-chance points.

HALF-DOLLAR DEFENSE

The Seahawks are 53-0 since the start of the 2002-03 campaign when limiting the opposition to 50 points or less.

►UNCW held its first opponent to 50 points or less during the Adell Harris era with a 59-45 victory over North Carolina Central on Nov. 28. The win also marked the first time the Seahawks had limited its opposition to fewer than 50 points since a 76-47 victory at Towson on Feb. 24, 2011.

►The last time the Seahawks lost a game in which they held their opponent to less than 50 points was a 49-44 setback at rival Campbell on Nov. 17, 2001.

INTERSTATE 70

UNCW is 69-8 (.896) since the start of the 2000-01 campaign when it scores 70 or more points in a contest.

►The Seahawks were 10-1 in 2011-12 and are 23-2 since the start of the 2010-11 season when reaching the 70-point plateau.

►UNCW's last loss when scoring 70 or more points came in a 79-73 setback to Appalachian State in the first round of the Postseason WNIT last March.

GETTING OFF TO A GOOD START IMPORTANT FOR UNCW

The Seahawks are 68-18 (.791) since the start of the 2007-08 season when leading at halftime.

►UNCW is 1-1 this season when holding a halftime advantage. The Seahawks one loss under such circumstances came in a 63-58 setback to Charlotte on Dec. 5, a game in which they led the 49ers, 25-24, at the break.

►On the flip side, the Seahawks are just 21-62 (.253) since 2007-08 when trailing at intermission. UNCW picked up its first win under such circumstances this season with its victory at William & Mary, overcoming a 23-22 halftime deficit to pick up the win.

DOUBLE-DIGIT DOMINANCE

UNCW has benefitted from building big leads in recent years as it is a combined 69-5 (.932) since the start of the 2007-08 season when it holds a lead of 10 points or more during a contest.

►The Seahawks are 2-0 this season under such circumstances. The last time UNCW lost a game in which it led by 10 points or more came in a 63-54 setback to Eastern Michigan in the second round of the Postseason WNIT on March 21, 2011. In that game, the Seahawks lead by as many as 13 before falling by nine to the Eagles.

►The Seahawks have struggled to overcome big deficits in that same timeframe, posting an 12-69 (.148) mark during games in which they have trailed by 10 points or more. Nine of those 12 victories, however, have come since the start of the 2010-11 season, including their 61-52 victory at William & Mary on Jan. 8 that saw the Seahawks erase a 14-point deficit in the second half on their way to victory.

YOUTH MOVEMENT

According to research conducted by the athletic communications department at St. John's University, UNCW Head Coach Adell Harris is one of the youngest Division I head coaches in the country.

►Harris is the 10th youngest head coach in the nation based on birth date, having celebrated her 32nd birthday on May 1, just two days before accepting the head coaching position at UNCW.

►Harris is the youngest coach in the CAA, but not the youngest in the state of North Carolina. That honor goes to High Point Head Coach DeUnna Hendrix. The 28-year-old is in her first season as head coach of the Panthers.

HARRIS, MCGOWEN REUNITED

When UNCW Head Coach Adell Harris took over the Seahawks program last May, she was already familiar with one player on her new roster from her time at Tusculum College.

►Harris coached current UNCW senior Chelsea McGowen at Tusculum during the 2009-10 season.

►Together the duo combined to lead the Pioneers to a 23-10 overall record, the South Atlantic Conference Tournament championship and an appearance in the NCAA Elite Eight.

►McGowen averaged 2.1 points and 1.7 rebounds during her freshman season before transferring to Brunswick Community College for the 2011-12 campaign.

We want good kids that expect to win and who aren't afraid to work really hard to make sure it happens."

The UNCW women's basketball program enjoyed another successful campaign in 2011-12.

► The Seahawks reached the 20-win plateau for the second consecutive season and the fourth time in program history as it finished the 2011-12 campaign with a 20-13 overall mark. It marked the first time in school history that the program had recorded back-to-back 20-win campaigns.

► UNCW made its second straight appearance in the Postseason WNIT as it fell to Appalachian State, 79-73, in first-round action at Trask Coliseum. The loss dropped the Seahawks to 1-2 in two appearances in the 64-team event (2011 & 2012).

UNCW recorded double-figure steals in 19 of their 33 games in 2011-12, including a season-high 17 thefts in their win against East Carolina on Nov. 20.

► UNCW thrived in close contests last season as the Seahawks were 8-1 in games decided by five points or less during the 2011-12 season. Their only loss under such circumstances came in a 59-57 setback to Old Dominion at Trask Coliseum on Feb. 12.

UNCW HEAD COACH ADELL HARRIS 1ST SEASON, WAKE FOREST '02

Former Wake Forest standout and Tusculum College head coach coach Adell Harris became the 10th head coach in UNCW's women's basketball history on May 3, 2012.

Harris, who grew up in High Point, played at Wake and later coached at UNC Asheville, has heavy North Carolina ties as she returns to her home state for her first NCAA Division I head coaching position.

Harris, 32, takes over the Seahawk women's fortunes following a successful three-year stint as head coach of the Pioneers, guiding the NCAA Division II school to a 61-30 overall record, back-to-back Food Lion South Atlantic Conference Tournament championships (2010 & 2011) and three straight appearances to the NCAA Tournament.

In 2011-12, Harris guided the Pioneers to a 17-11 overall mark as the team posted victories over defending DII national champion and top-ranked Clayton State and 2012 NCAA Champion Shaw en route to the school's fifth straight NCAA Southeast Regional berth.

Tusculum opened the 2010-11 season ranked third in the USA Today/ESPN Division II Top 25 Coaches Poll and finished the campaign with a 21-9 record as it captured the SAC regular season crown and repeated as league tournament champions.

In her inaugural season with the Pioneers in 2009-10, Harris guided Tusculum to its first-ever appearance in the NCAA Division II Elite Eight after capturing the program's first Southeast Region Championship. She also led the team to its inaugural post-season ranking, capping the campaign as the ninth-ranked team in the final USA Today/ESPN Top 25 Coaches Poll.

Harris was instrumental in the development of many of the top players in Tusculum history. Guard Jasmine Gunn was named the program's first consensus Division II All-American, Daktronics Southeast Region Player-of-the-Year and SAC Player-of-the-Year after ranking among the top-10 players in the nation in scoring (21.6) during her junior season. Gunn repeated as SAC Player-of-the-Year the following season to finish her career second in school history and third in league history with 2,180 points.

In addition, guard Kendal Baxter set a school and league record with 105 three-pointers during her freshman season on her way to earning SAC All-Rookie Team accolades. Center Catherine Hintz earned MVP honors at the 2011 Food Lion SAC Tournament and was selected to the All-Tournament Team at the 2010 NCAA Southeast Regional.

Prior to taking the reins at Tusculum, Harris spent six seasons at UNCA (2003-09), serving as an assistant and associate head coach. She helped the Bulldogs capture their first Big South Tournament title and NCAA Tournament appearance in 2006-07 and mentored nine All-Big South Conference honorees, including a pair of BSC Rookie-of-the-Year honorees in Brittany Hendley (2004) and Kyla Jones (2007).

Harris was a four-year letter winner at Wake, playing in 106 games during her career with the Demon Deacons from 1998-2002. She paced Coach Charlene Curtis' squad with 108 assists and averaged 4.6 points per game during her senior season as co-captain. Harris, who finished her career in 10th place on the WFU career assists chart, graduated in 2002 with a Bachelor's Degree in Sociology.
