

6 must-haves when considering a virtual care program

The right virtual care program can lead to better health outcomes while reducing risks and costs for your business as well as the population of people you help stay healthy.

When searching for your next solution, make sure that you have one that delivers:

- 1 Real personalization that's based on the individual, not a generic solution.
- 2 Data-driven interventions that identify potential problems to be addressed before they become severe.
- 3 Access to board-certified physicians, as well as collaboration with the individual's physician when needed.
- 4 Tailored medication optimization, adherence, and management.
- 5 Easy onboarding, targeted communications, and engagement.
- 6 Novel sensing devices.

Want to know more?
Visit us at www.onduo.com
and follow us on

Onduo*, a Verily company, wants to help make "healthy" easy. We've built an incredible data-enabled solution that can understand and stratify populations through digital phenotyping and help ensure that each person is on the right path to "healthy."