Subtle Energy Pet Care- May 6-7, 2023

Subtle Energy Pet Care: Spay & Neuter Recovery

To spay or neuter your animal may prevent unwanted puppies or kitties needlessly suffering or dying. But it is a profound change for your pet and forever alters the way they can function as a natural creature.

A neutered male dog or cat may be easier to train and keep as a pet and certainly a spayed female cat or dog is less complex for the owner. But the dramatic impact on the animal is profound.

Female animals are often angry about their loss even though they may never understand what exactly happened, they know something is missing. Male dogs lose a certain power and male cats become disoriented in an extreme need to mark territory but have lost the reason why they need to do it. As a conscious pet owner, it is important to address this event in your animal's life as soon as you can.

Sacred Anatomy Energy Medicine for Animals

Pet Care: Spay & Neuter Recovery

1. Hold your pet in your arms as best you can and stroke them gently talking softly and soothingly to them explaining how sorry you are that this change has befallen them. Tell them how happy you are to have them in your life and how much you love them. Project positive images of you playing with them at a favorite spot.

©2023 Desda Zuckerman All Rights Reserved
www.yoursacredanatomy.com

2. Bring in Balm of Gilead (multicolored green) while you hold them and pet them. Do this for several minutes.

3. Bring in Pet Recovery (green and blue shimmers) continuing to pet and hold them. Direct it into where the dog or cat's testicles or uterus were in their body. Feel the energy filling the empty space and breathing deeply say: Good Boy or Good Girl or whatever praise phrase you like to use. Set the animal down unless they want to stay in your lap a little longer. But feel the energy completely healing the trauma the animal endured.

4. After you are finished. Bring in the energy of Integration (silver white with golden flecks).

©2023 Desda Zuckerman All Rights Reserved
www.yoursacredanatomy.com