

What is orthodontic treatment with fixed braces?

Metal or ceramic brackets are fitted to the front of your teeth, gentle pressure is applied using a special wire to move your teeth into the desired position, giving precise and accurate results. Once your teeth are straight you will wear a plastic gumshield called a retainer at night times only until your teeth are settled into their new position. Our team of dental professionals will keep you up to date on your progress throughout your treatment, and will answer any questions you might have.
