Solutions Across Every Sector

Whether it's collegiate, healthcare, senior dining, hotels, resorts, or corporate dining — OZZI is built to perform in every sector.

"We're saving money and not throwing away containers, an amazing achievement during COVID," Jeff said. "It has absolutely paid for itself, and it's become a part of our culture and geography here on campus. It's really cool to see students walking around with the bright green containers. It's not just about food for us. It's about creating a student experience and supporting student vision for this generation and the next. That's where my passion comes from."

-Jeffery Palmer, University of California San Diego

"Students don't always have time to sit in the dining hall but still want to grab a meal on the go. The OZZI containers make that easy. Students love convenience, especially being able to use their student ID for all container transactions. With the automated return system and straightforward process, participating is simple and hassle-free."

-Corrine Khamphoukeo, Field Marketing Specialist
Sodexo at Providence College

"It's a very visible staff engagement opportunity (the green containers are easily spotted!) and our staff love talking about their participation in our effort to be better environmental stewards. Our program is also a solid cost-reduction opportunity through reduced purchases of our single-use containers along with a bit of a reduction in volumes and costs for our municipal waste sent to landfills."

-Brian Nelson, Peacehealth Southwest Medical Center

"The Simply Reusable program by OZZI was super easy to set up and totally embraced by our team. We've saved a lot of money and the whole program paid for itself in the first five to six months," said Anklam. "And we're doing the right thing. We are protecting the beauty around us." In less than a year, the Grand Hotel has collected close to 13,000 O2GO reusables."
