I am using Windows 7 which is 64 bit and have installed different programs. This one has been going on for months. Any kind of help would be appreciated. A: You can manually edit the /etc/apt/sources.list file and comment out the pinned line using # at the beginning of each line. sudo nano /etc/apt/sources.list Then run sudo apt update again.

2014–15 FA Cup qualifying rounds The 2014–15 FA Cup qualifying rounds open the 2014–15 FA Cup at the first round. For the first time in FA Cup history the initial round proper is to be played solely on a first-past-the-post basis, with the losers of those ties going through to the next round. The final 18 clubs in the Premier League and Championship enter at the third round and are joined by the 36 clubs from the Football League First Division and Second Division. A total of 73 teams progress to the fifth round. Extra Preliminary Round The winner of this round entered the First Qualifying round. First Qualifying Round The 23 winners of this round entered the Second Qualifying round. Second Qualifying Round The 20 winners of this round entered the Third Qualifying round. Third Qualifying Round The 13 winners of this round entered the Fourth Qualifying round. Fourth Qualifying Round The 8 winners of this round entered the Fifth Qualifying round.
