FROM OUR HOME TO YOURS

In 1991, two basketball coaches in Pella, Iowa, dreamed of the many the benefits in height-adjustable, regulation-size basketball hoops. Their vision became a reality when they collaborated with Dale Brand, co-owner of Co-Line Welding, Inc., a metal fabrication company based in Iowa. After 12 prototypes Dale helped create the No. 13 hoop, which would later become the MVP Signature Series hoop. Since then, every Goalsetter basketball hoop has been produced at the Co-Line factory in rural Sully, Iowa. Co-Line completes every stage of the assembly process from the cutting, fabricating, and painting of the steel to carefully aligning and pressing the glass backboard into place to welding each fixture.

FAQs

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A GLASS AND ACRYLIC BACKBOARD?

Glass is the backboard material of choice in residential settings. Glass provides better ball response and wears better over time as it does not fade or discolor. Acrylic is the board of choice for non-residential use.

HOW IS A GOALSETTER ANCHORED INTO THE GROUND?

Each Goalsetter System is anchored using our ground anchor hinge system. First, the ground anchor is placed in a 4' deep hole (18" diameter) and secured using concrete. When cured (approx. 48 hours), the hinge system allows complete assembly of the Goalsetter hoop before it is raised upright and bolted to the ground anchor.

IS IT POSSIBLE FOR ME TO INSTALL THE GOAL?

This decision is up to you! The installation and assembly of a Goalsetter inground goal can be accomplished by two or three people without the use of ladders or scaffolds. The patented ground anchor hinge system allows complete assembly of the Goalsetter goal before it is raised upright. The toughest task during the installation of a Goalsetter goal is digging the hole. Most of our dealers also offer professional installation as an option for an additional fee.
